REGIONAL SHARING

Tax On Wages Seen As Answer

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — A payroll tax on all wage earners in the Bay Area appeared to be the favored solution to property tax relief yesterday at a meeting here of the Association of Bay Area Governments' property tax relief committee. (Other ABAG Stories, page 14.)

Such a tax would be both more equitable and more feasible than any other regional tax, said Oakland Mayor John H. Reading. Suburban cities simply are not going to share their property tax revenue with the core cities to solve urban problems, he said.

A payroll tax, said Reading, would provide needed new revenue for government as well as easing the property tax burden.

Reading's support of a payroll tax was echoed by San Jose Mayor Ronald James. However, he said, it would be too much to expect property tax relief from a payroll tax.

At best, he said, the new tax would just keep property taxes from rising even more.

Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort noted that school officials should be made part of the committee because school taxes account for about 60 per cent of property taxes.

Both the president of ABAG, Contra Costa County Supervisor James P. Kenny, and the chairman of the special committee, Hayward Mayor John K. Smith, agreed that revenue from a payroll tax should be used only for city and county purposes, not to finance a regional government.

The committee, meeting here in the Hotel Claremont, appointed a group to study the subject of a regional tax, and to report back to the committee within 30 days.

"The subject simply is too complicated and far too broad for us," said the vice chairman of the special committee, Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis.

In addition to a payroll tax, a regional income tax and a regional sales tax are generally regarded as likely sources of new tax revenue.

The committee was formed last month after San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto agreed to postpone any city tax on commuters if "meaningful negotiations" on a regional tax began.

The committee appointed a 10-man "technical advisory group" consisting of city and county finance officers and administrators.

No date was set for the committee's next meeting.

Contamination Found In Apollo's Oxygen

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers found contamination in an Apollo 8 oxygen tank today in the first potentially serious hitch in the final hours of the countdown for tomorrow's launch of three men into orbit around the moon.

A space agency spokesman said the tank will have to be drained, purged and refilled with liquid oxygen but they said they expected this could be done during an afternoon rest period without disrupting the launch schedule.

"Project officials feel that the launch time can be met," said a Space Agency spokesman. "Work in the next few hours will determine this."

Astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are scheduled to begin their $310 million adventure at 4:51 a.m. PST tomorrow.

The liquid oxygen is used to fuel the spacecraft's fuel cell electrical power generators. The contamination was identified as nitrogen, and this could hamper the unit's operation.

Engineers believed the nitrogen got into the tank from a cooling unit on the service structure next to the towering space machine. If this is determined to be the source of the nitrogen engineers planned to replace the cooling unit.

All other aspects of the intricate countdown were reported proceeding without difficulty. Apollo 8 Commander Frank Berman reported, "We're as ready as we can be."

Engineers last night easily overcame the time-consuming snags related to the loading of the oxygen into the spacecraft.

Today was a day of rest for the three astronauts. They took Thursday night off, and Lovell took advantage of the time to visit his wife, Marilyn, and their four children for the second evening in a row. The other astronauts' families are in Houston.

Weathermen predicted cloudy, but satisfactory conditions for launch time. Tracking stations and recovery forces around the world reported they were set. Even solar radiation forecasters gave an all-clear nod to the moon-bound pilots.

They are scheduled to swing into a 69-mile high orbit around the moon Dec. 24, circle it 10 times and shoot back to earth Christmas morning after flashing a special yule telecast a quarter of a million miles back to television viewers around the world.

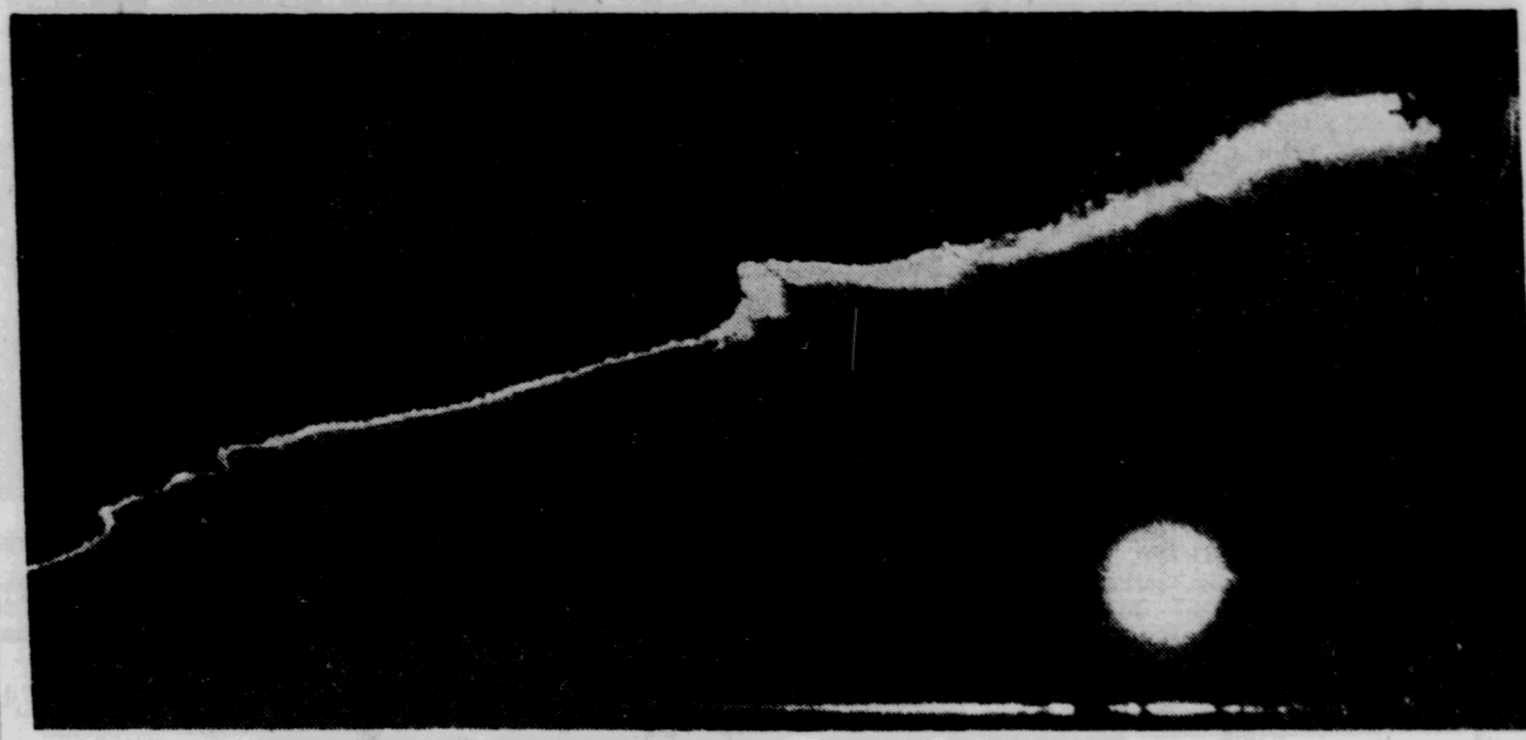
Central Valley Dusted By Snow

FRESNO (UPI)—Most of San Joaquin Valley got a hint of a white Christmas last night with snow reported in the foothills and the southern areas of the valley.

The Weather Bureau in Fresno reported there was one inch of snow on the ground at 4 a.m. and traces of snow clung to rooftops and automobiles until well past dawn.

The Highway Patrol advised it was snowing in the Tehachapi area and over the Grapevine this morning, but chains were not required.



EARLY MORNING SKY SPECTACLE

A Minuteman Man II missile fired from Vandenburg Air Force Base lighted up Marin skies this morning. Ice crystals forming after the exhaust heat caught the early rays of sunlight about 6:30 a.m. causing what is known as a "twilight effect," according to Air Force officials. The round object is a street light shining onto a telephone wire. Lt. Harvey E. Teague of the sheriff's department photographed this view from Novato.

U.S. Sees New Drive On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intelligence officers reported today that the Communist command has launched the first phase of a winter-spring campaign and is moving troops and war materials into position for an assault on Saigon. They expect the attack after New Year's.

The intelligence reports prompted the United States to warn the North Vietnamese in Paris that an attack on Saigon would jeopardize the peace talks.

The Viet Cong, meanwhile, observed the eighth anniversary today of the founding of its National Liberation Front with three grenade attacks and a shooting in Saigon. Seven Vietnamese civilians were killed and 11 were wounded. One grenade hit a U.S. Army jeep but bounced off and exploded in a group of Vietnamese, killing two and wounding six.

All the terrorists escaped.

American intelligence officers, explaining the three-week lull in sustained major ground fighting, said the Communist command is trying to avoid contact and is moving troops in squad-sized units of about 10

Pueblo Agreement Held Very Near

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Twelve American soldiers came out of Vietnam War captivity today, freed by Cambodia. Also agreement was reported near on North Korea releasing the 82 crewmen of the USS Pueblo in time for them too to spend Christmas at home.

In Washington, State Department officials said the United States likely will accept a Viet Cong offer to discuss the liberation of more GIs held prisoner.

Eleven of the 12 Americans freed by Cambodia were heading home. Today they flew from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, to the Thailand capital of Bangkok. They had been held since their landing craft strayed into Cambodian waters from neighboring South Vietnam July 17.

The 12th man, Sp/4 Earl Gurnsey of Sacramento, wounded when his helicopter was shot down Nov. 27 near the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border, was kept in Phnom Penh at doctor's orders, too badly injured to travel yet, diplomatic sources said.

The 12 represented exactly one-tenth of 1 per cent of the 1,200 American servicemen listed as captured or missing in action in the Vietnam War.

In South Vietnam the Viet Cong guerrillas have released seven men in the past, have announced they will release three more "for humanitarian reasons" this Yuletide and are willing to talk about more releases.

In Washington, the State Department officials said they are willing although the Viet Cong may be using the prisoner issue to angle for diplomatic recognition.

In Seoul and in Washington, the word today was that the 11-month-old ordeal of the crew of the intelligence ship Pueblo may be nearing an end.

In Seoul, South Korean government sources said U.S. and North Korean negotiators will meet tomorrow or Sunday at the truce site of Panmunjom to work out final touches on the crew's release.

In Washington, congressional sources said only the wording of a joint announcement and the time of the release remained to be agreed on. They cautioned, however, that a last minute hitch could develope in efforts to gain the release of the sailors caught with their ship Jan. 23 off the North Korean coast.

They said twice before last-minute hitches—of an unexplained natured—fouled release of the Pueblo crewmen.

American sources said they doubted the ship itself ever would come back to American hands.

The daily Chosun Ilbo, one of South Korean's national newspapers, quoted informed government sources as saying the United States and North Korea reached agreement in principle on the release when the two sides met at Panmunjom Tuesday and Thursday.

It quoted the sources as saying it now appeared the men could be released on Monday and that the United States and North Korea will issue separate statements, and not a joint statement, on the release.

The Hankook Ilbo, another nationally circulated paper published in Seoul, also said the Pueblo crew would be released Monday or by the end of the year at the latest. It also reported discussions centering on statements to be issued with the release.

Two Sought In Florida Kidnaping

MIAMI (UPI) —A escaped convict, recently employed as a marine research scientist, and his student girlfriend, were charged today with the kidnaping of pretty Barbara Jane Mackle, 20-year-old daughter of Florida real estate developer Robert Mackle.

The warrants name Gary Steven Krist, alias George D. Deacon, 23, and Ruth Eisemann Schier, 26, a biology researcher. The warrants were issued in Miami last night but released publicly today by FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover in Washington.

RESEARCH ASSISTANT

Krist, a research assistant at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Science, moved to Miami about 7 months ago from Massachusetts where he had a job as an electrode mechanic at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's National Magnet Laboratory.

Married and the father of two children, Deacon was described as a "highly intellectual " type who sometimes clashed with fellow workers because of his penchant for taking on any job "whether he could handle it or not."

In announcing issuance of the warrants Hoover said Krist was reported to be "heavily armed and should be considered extremely dangerous."

STUDENT AT LAB

Miss Schier was described as a 5-foot-3 blonde, and a native of Honduras. She was a student at the marine lab where Krist worked.

Hoover said Krist was an escapee from a California penal institution and used the alias of Deacon.

It was by the latter name that the suspect was known when he worked at MIT. He quit that job May 31—telling associates he wanted to move to Miami to follow his first love, oceanography.

He succeeded in getting a job

Peace Envoys Hold Final Pre-Christmas Conference

PARIS (AP) — Allied negotiators held a final pre-Christmas session today and kept the door open for further U.S.-North Vietnamese meetings during the holiday period.

But prospects for a U.S.-North Vietnamese accord in time to start the long-delayed Vietnam peace conference by the end of the year were dwindling rapidly.

Chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman and his top aide, Cyrus R. Vance, called on South Vietnam's Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. Vance will return to the United States tomorrow for about a week of consultations.

Harriman said the Americans met with the Saigon leader "to get the last word from the vice president" on matters of mutual concern before Vance's departure.

A spokesman said Ky may fly back to Saigon during the yule season, though this has not been definitely set.

Vance made plain, however, that the absence from Paris of some of the senior allied diplomats would not rule out further U.S.-North Vietnamese private sessions during the year-end period if either side wants to try again to break the deadlock holding up the proposed expanded conference on ending the war.

"If there is anything to be said," Vance told newsmen, "the talks will go on over the holiday period."

Vance was expected to see President Johnson and perhaps President-elect Nixon before returning to Paris around Dec. 27. Vance has agreed to stay on for a month after Nixon's inaugural Jan. 20 to help pass the negotiating baton to the man the new president chooses to replace Harriman.

U.S. efforts to start the peace parley envisioned under Johnson's Oct. 31 bomb-halt package have run into rough going ever since he announced it.

Nixon Names Yost To U.N. Envoy Post

Says Shriver To Remain As Ambassador To Paris

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Nixon today named career diplomat Charles W. Yost to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and announced that Sargent Shriver, who had been considered for the job, will remain ambassador to France during the new administration.

Both men are Democrats.

Nixon said he considered it essential to have bipartisanship in the top diplomatic councils of his new government.

His selection of Yost was a surprise, for speculation about the U.N. job had for days centered on Shriver.

Nixon said he and his advisers decided that in this era the United Nations job required "a skilled professional diplomat" rather than a political figure.

CHARLES W. YOST
Career diplomat

Yost holds the rank of career ambassador, but had been retired since 1966, when he left the U.N. as deputy ambassador under Arthur J. Goldberg.

Yost is 61.

Nixon disclosed that he had discussed the U.N. appointment not only with Shriver, but with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. But he maintained that they had not been flatly offered the appointment.

Nixon said he doesn't offer a job until he is certain the man involved is going to take it.

"You do not come to the point where the president-elect offers a person a job and the person on the other side of the table says 'Thank you. I am not going to do it,' " Nixon said.

Nixon said Shriver is doing "a very effective job" as ambassador to France. He said he decided this was not the time to change men in that sensitive post. "I have asked him to continue as ambassador to France, and I am pleased to announce that he has agreed to do so," Nixon said.

Nixon said he considered his selection of Yost "one of the outstanding appointments I have had the privilege of making." He said Yost is one of only five men holding the rank of career ambassador and has more extensive experience at the United Nations than any other man at that level.

Nixon cannot formally submit cabinet nominations until he actually takes office. Custom allows the president-elect to submit names informally to the Senate, so hearings can be held beforehand, and approval can speedily follow the actual formal nominations on inauguration day.

Meanwhile Nixon has assigned each of his cabinet nominees a mimeographed booklet of homework, stressing safeguards against any conflicts of interest, and preparing for January's Senate confirmation hearings.

Nixon men are confident that Cabinet confirmation proceedings will be smooth and largely routine, for none of the 12 men the president-elect appointed is a figure of controversy.

But the Nixon staff isn't taking any chances. The target: Senate confirmation of the entire cabinet on Jan. 20, the day Nixon is to be inaugurated, so that his top administration figures can also take their oaths of office on that day.

Driver Dies In 101 Crash Onto Railing

David Paul Geoffrion, 38, of Sleepy Hollow, was killed early today when his car slammed into a Highway 101 guard rail on Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Geoffrion may have fallen asleep at the wheel. His car veered into the center divider half a mile north of Spencer Avenue at 2:20 a.m. and 30 feet of guard rail pierced the car. Geoffrion was pronounced dead at the scene, Coroner's Investigator Keith Craig said.

Geoffrion, of 1539 Butterfield Road, was a partner in a San Francisco plumbing and air conditioning contracting firm, Anderson, Rowe and Buckley, Inc. He was a 1952 graduate of Santa Clara University and was active in the alumni associaton.

Geoffrion's death brought Marin traffic fatalities to 37 for the year. The death toll was also 37 at this time last year.

Geoffrion was a member of the St. Rita's Church Men's Club, the San Francisco Kiwanis Club, and several professional organizations.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Lou; a son, David P. Jr., and three daughters, all of the home. Funeral is pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

May Britt, Sammy Davis Divorced

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Hollywood's first prominent interracial marriage, that of Sammy Davis Jr. and May Britt, ended in divorce yesterday after eight years.

Miss Britt

"I asked him many times to stay home, but he never did," the blonde Swedish actress testified. "The extremely few times he is home he has not much time for the family. . ."

Superior Court Judge Laurence J. Rittenband granted the divorce to the 31-year-old actress. Davis, 42, did not contest the action.

Miss Britt was awarded custody of the couple's three children, a daughter, Tracy, 7, and two adopted boys, Mark, 8, and Jess, 4. Davis will pay $3,000 monthly in alimony and child support.

Attack Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over the Jordan Valley today to attack Jordan for the second time in three days.

Persons watching from the Israeli side of the cease-fire line said the planes hit a police station at Adasiya which the Israelis claim has been turned into an Arab guerrilla position.

Flames and smoke poured from the building after the planes attacked it. The Arabs opened up on the planes with antiaircraft guns but didn't hit them, the eyewitnesses reported.

Vote Squabble

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — County clerks disagree with Sen. Wayne Morse's charge that he lost the election to the U.S. Senate Republican Robert G. Packwood because of illegal votes.

With all but one of Oregon's 36 counties rechecked, Morse had gained only 61 votes on Packwood. who won by 3,445 votes in the Nov. general election.

Morse said last night he may ask the U.S. Senate's subcommittee on privileges and elections to investigate.

LBJ Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson continues to show improvement in his bout with the flu, but there is no indication when he will leave Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Johnson entered the hospital Wednesday morning on the advice of his doctor, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, who prescribed several days of rest.

Global Honeymoon

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Actress Carolyn Jones and producer-conductor Herbert Greene are planning a round-the-world honeymoon. They were married yesterday.

It was the second marriage for Miss Jones, 38, who starred as the glamorous ghoul Morticia in television's "Addams Family" and won an Oscar nomination in 1957 for her role in "Bachelor Party."

Greene, 47, was married twice before.

Bike Brakes Fail; Youngster Killed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two small brothers riding a bicycle near their home zoomed down a hill, then suddenly found the brakes wouldn't hold.

The bike slid under a front wheel of a municipal bus just turning a corner at a three-way intersection.

Mike Bell, 9, who had screamed "no brakes" just before the accident, was killed. His brother, Timothy, 8, was critically hurt.

Flu Hits Mamie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower has joined the hundreds of thousands of Americans bedridden with the flu and may be forced to miss the wedding Sunday of her grandson David to Julie Nixon.

A Walter Reed Army Hospital spokesman said yesterday the former first lady suffered from a "moderately severe upper respiratory infection with some complications of asthma."

If Mrs. Eisenhower were forced to miss attending the wedding in New York, she would join her husband, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in watching the ceremony on closed circuit television at the hospital.

Joins Husband

Their departure and that of 150 other passengers from New York's Kennedy Airport was delayed four hours and 16 minutes last night by a bomb scare. Police searched the plane from tail to cockpit and each piece of luggage, but nothing unusual was found.

LBJ Expands Air Service In Pacific, The Orient

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major expansion in trans-Pacific air service approved by President Johnson for U.S. airlines has given Americans a second 'round-the-world flight as well as wider choice in service to the Orient.

With only one important modification, the President yesterday approved Civil Aeronautics Board recommendations on expanding commercial air service to Hawaii, Japan, the Far East, New Zealand and Australia.

Under the plan, Trans World Airlines joins Pan American World Airways as the only U.S.-based carriers with around-the-world flights. Trans World was approved to fly from Los Angeles to Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa and the Far East where it will connect with Atlantic flights.

Other airlines getting new routes or extensions were Pan American, Continental Airlines, Northwest Orient Airlines, Braniff Airways and Flying Tiger Lines, an all-cargo carrier.

The only major part of the CAB's recommendations overruled by President Johnson was his denial of American Airlines to have Pacific service.

U.S. officials said the vast expansion should have these results:

Help reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit by increasing tourism from the Orient to United States.

Cause a reduction in Pacific fares through increased competition among the airlines. —More production of American-made jet aircraft.

Produce $50 million a year in revenue for the major trans-Pacific airlines.

In turning down American Airlines for service to Japan and other Pacific nations, Johnson said his decision was "based primarily on foreign policy considerations."

This was an apparent reference to pressure from Tokyo to keep new flights to a minimum and keep competition down against the government-owned Japan Air Lines, which has major revenue producing routes serving the trans-Pacific.

Johnson did express hope the CAB will eventually allow American Airlines to fly from the mainland to Hawaii.

Here are the new routes and the airlines that will operate them:

1. From the Los Angeles area to Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa and the Far East: Trans World Airlines.

2. From the Los Angeles area and several other U.S. cities to Hawaii, the South Pacific and New Zealand and Australia: Continental Airlines.

3. From New York and from Seattle and Portland, two new routes by way of Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Orient: Pan American World Airways.

4. From Hawaii to the Orient, a route extension for Northwest Orient Airlines. Northwest Orient also receives an expansion of its current route to the Orient by way of Anchorage, Alaska, to provide direct service from a number of additional U.S. cities.

5. Between six U.S. mainland cities in the Southeast and Hawaii by way of Mexico City and Acapulco: Braniff Airways.

6. A five-year certificate for all cargo service to Japan and the major Orient cities: by Flying Tiger line.

Johnson Predicts Federal Budget Surplus; First Since Ike's Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the federal budget will show a surplus for the current fiscal year, the first time since the Eisenhower administration that the government's books will be written in black ink.

And there will be more money on hand than spent in fiscal 1970 as well, the President indicated yesterday in a brief statement from Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from the flu.

The President said the effect of a surplus should help ease the problem of inflation now troubling the nation's economy. "It is needed to curb excessive pressures on demand," the statement said.

Although the President's statement didn't say how much of a surplus is expected for this year, sources indicated it would be in the neighborhood of $1 billion.

This compared with Johnson's original budget projection issued last January of an $8 billion dollar deficit for the 1969 fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

The President's estimate was cut steadily during the year and in November government officials said the deficit probably would be $3 billion.

Budget Director Charles J. Zwick, commenting on Johnson's announcement, said that federal expenditures are now expected to match a government estimate issued in September of about $184.4 billion, or $1.7 billion less than the original January figures.

Since the administration expects to have a $1 billion surplus, tax receipts should run about $185.4 billion, or $6 billion higher than the September forecast.

The last time the budget showed a surplus was in fiscal 1960 when the government books showed $213 million more taken in than spent.

Speaking of the 1970 fiscal budget, Johnson said that "Ia year later.

hope it will be possible to submit a budget in January which will continue this small surplus.

For fiscal 1970, which will be the first full year for President-elect Nixon to work at controlling the economy, President Johnson is expected to submit a budget of between $195 billion and $200 billion.

Officials figure, on the basis of this estimate, that the Johnson administration expects Nixon to continue the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. This, along with a general business boom, is given much of the credit for producing the extra money that resulted in the predicted current surplus.

Whether Nixon wants to extend the surtax is unknown. He has made little comment on the matter since winning election last November. However, Nixon's commerce secretary, Maurice Stans, said Thursday it is his personal hope that the surcharge can be cut in half by mid-1969 and eliminated entirely a year later.

Mental Health Board Given Draft Report

The Marin Mental Health Advisory Board last night received a preliminary draft of a citizen's committee report on mental health planning after 18 months of study.

The report included recommendations that service for local residents be provided locally and that family responsibility for the mentally ill be strengthened, reported Dr. Clyde G. Miller, director of community mental health services.

He said the citizens committee emphasized they had merely reviewed and weighed recommendations of staff and experts and had not added new plans of its own.

Dr. Miller said the final version will be received next month and the board has planned two meetings to discuss it further and to begin studying the 1969-70 budget in relation to the report. Dates for the meetings have not been set.

Election of a new chairman, scheduled for last night, was postponed until January until two vacancies on the board are filled.

Motorized Trails Plan Gains Support

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Riding and Hiking Trails Advisory Committee has approved a 1969 legislative program that would include trail provisions for bicycles and motorized recreational vehicles such as "dune buggies."

The committee, in a meeting yesterday, decided to put more emphasis on regional trails near population centers. Efforts to establish a border-to-border 3,000-mile trail system have been thwarted by the lack of eminent domain in acquiring land or right of way for the trails.

LEGISLATURE – 1969

Most Lawmakers Want To Help Finance Completion Of BART

By ARTHUR HUTCHINSON
(Last of five articles)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A majority of legislators want to help the Bay Area Rapid Transit district complete its system, but they view the fledgling California Exposition as a stepchild that should earn its own living.

But BART has the same problem in the 1969 legislature it faced in 1968. While there was near unanimity on the need to complete the 75-mile, three-county rail system, there was a wide divergence of opinion on the best way to raise the $150 million needed.

NO OBLIGATION

By contrast, a large majority of the lawmakers who responded to a UPI poll felt no similar obligation to Expo. The legislators indicated Expo's chances of getting general fund money to pick up its initial year operating deficit of $1.5 million are nil.

All but a handful of legislators—and those mostly from the Sacramento area—said the partially built successor to the old state fair must operate on a pay-as-you-go basis. A couple of lawmakers suggested that if Expo cannot become self-sufficient, it should be abandoned.

Opinion was divided on whether new legislation was needed to curb abuses of the Medi-Cal program. An attorney general's investigation said nursing homes, drugstores and other providers of services overcharged the program by $6 million to $8 million a year.

SLOPPY ADMINISTRATION

A slight majority of legislators said new legislation would help but a substantial minority felt abuses could be curbed simply by administrative changes.

"It may be just sloppy administration," one said. Another lawmaker opposed new legislation "unless the medical profession fails to act."

Assemblymen Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, and LeRoy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, said a flat fee schedule should be established for services provided by Medi-Cal. Physicians are now paid their "usual" fees so charges vary from doctor to doctor.

Some conservative lawmakers called for new laws to halt what they said were abuses of the system by the 1.5 million needy Californians who rely upon it for medical care.

Legislators polled by UPI were undaunted by voters rejection in the Nov. 5 election of the second part of a three-step revision of the outdated state constitution.

By a wide margin, they said work on revising the third part of the 19th Century document should continue.

Lawmakers agreed the controversial parts of the revision should be changed or dropped and the second stage resubmitted to the voters while a blue ribbon committee continues work on the final stage.

The poll showed more wrangling on BART can be expected. Several legislators said they would vote for any plan that the bay area delegation can agree upon.

A majority of the delegation still favors an increase in bridge tolls.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has thrown his weight behind a sales tax increase and this drew some support. Reagan said he would veto a bridge toll increase.

Two assemblymen suggested putting the question to voters in the three BART counties and let them choose the method.

Although Expo's plight received little sympathy, one lawmaker pointed out it could not become self sufficient until enough money was spent to make it attractive to the public.

A minority answering the poll said they would go along with giving Expo a helping hand from the general fund—but only on a temporary and limited basis. There also was a scattering of support for extending the state's credit to secure private loans or float revenue bonds for the needed funds.

Chamber Backs Town On Merger

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce board voted Wednesday to write a letter to the Town Council endorsing the council's proposed merger of the town and the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

The Council Dec. 7 adopted a resolution to proceed with a merger.

The chamber board also agreed to raise membership fees, effective Jan. 1. The increase for sustaining members — businesses and corporations which pay additional money to support the chamber — will be from $125 to $135 a year. Other corporations and large businesses will pay $65 instead of $50. Small businesses and professional members will pay $35 instead of $25. Individual memberships will be raised from $6 to $10.

To List Invitees

John W. Rakow of Ross, county chairman of the Nixon campaign, and Charles Michals of Greenbrae, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, have been named co-chairmen for Marin of the California Inaugural Committee. They are submitting to the state committee the names of Marin citizens who should receive invitations to attend the inauguration of the new administration.

New Industry Drive Voted For Novato

The Novato Chamber of Commerce will start a national advertising campaign to try to draw new business and industry to the city, chamber directors said last night.

The board voted $2,000 for the campaign, according to President George Barnwell. Details will be worked out later.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

FINANCES — Received a report that $6,108 has been spent from the current budget, leaving $14,292 for the remainder of the year.

EXPENSES — Approved the payment of $42 for the secretary's expenses; $50 for the shoplifting clinic for merchants; $47 for the deficit on the Christmas pageant, and $25 for the Novato Advance-chamber of commerce sponsored lighting contest which will be judged Sunday night.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of a $395 Addressograph, $175 electric typewriter and a $17 typewriter table.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Walter Del Rose from the board of directors because of business reasons. No replacement was named.

WESTERN WEEKEND — Voted to approve the concept of a Western Weekend country fair for this year's annual celebration.

BROCHURE — Heard an announcement from Barnwell that David Lindsey and the D'Carlin publishing co. would not put out a community brochure and that other arrangements for a brochure would be made later.

BIRTHDAY — Approved the request of Roger Hillman of the Jaycees to co-sponsor a city birthday dance. Proceeds would support the candidacy of Paul Dock, who is running for president of the state Jaycees. The dance will be held Jan. 18 at the Moose Lodge.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to a luncheon meeting Jan. 9 at the Lodge, when the new city manager, Charles W. Brown, will speak.

Pair Facing Court Hearing

Walter Kevin Crane, 22, of no fixed address, and George Arthur Ehrig, 25, of San Francisco, were held to answer in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on two counts each of concealing stolen property and one each of car theft.

Crane was held on an additional charge of possessing methamphetamine, a dangerous drug.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the pair to appear in Superior Court Monday to answer the felony charges with pleas.

They were arrested in San Rafael Dec. 11, saying they were in a stolen car loaded with stolen goods.

The stolen property Judge Smith found them guilty of concealing consisted of jack and some license plates.

men to get them in desired positions.

The major movement was detected from the Cambodian border toward Saigon, they said.

Intelligence reports say that four North Vietnamese divisions previously strung along the Cambodian border north of Saigon have drawn in closer to the capital.

One highly placed officer said the Communist command has 65 main force North Vietnamese and Viet Cong maneuver battalions plus about 20 local force battalions to commit to the campaign, or about 25,000 troops.

Against this, the allies have about 80,000 troops in 120 maneuver battalions, including 50 American, 64 South Vietnamese and six Australian and Thai.

"We have no indications the enemy has changed his plans," the source said.

In the continuing American campaign to blunt the expected assault, 18 Air Force B52s yesterday dumped more than 500 tons of bombs on the jungled approach corridors 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

American paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Brigade sweeping the outer perimeters of Saigon seized 200 rounds of mortar shells and bazooka-type rockets 11 miles from the capital.

In other action, eight allied bases and three provincial capitals were shelled during last night, with four Vietnamese civilians reported killed and 25 wounded.

Only one American base came under fire. North Vietnamese firing from two positions inside the demilitarized zone slammed 10 rounds of mortar shells at U.S. Marine positions but caused no casualties or damage, U.S. headquarters said. The Marines returned the fire.

No major ground fighting was reported across the country.

Jury Convicts On Drug Sales

A Marin Superior Court jury deliberated two and a half hours yesterday before convicting Jan Daniel DeBruyn, 24, of 114 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito, of two counts of selling marijuana.

DeBuyn was accused of selling a small quantity of the weed to narcotics agents Nov. 24, 1967, for $10, and almost four and a half pounds of it for $200 Jan. 24.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner ordered DeBruyn jailed and set bail at $10,000. He was still in jail today. DeBruyn is to return to court Jan. 10 for sentencing.

Novato Woman Hurt In Driving Mishap

Karen D. Barrett, 23, of 55 Clausen Court, Novato, received a minor forehead cut yesterday when her southbound car hit a parked auto belonging to Rennie J. Horvath of 782 Clausing Drive, Novato, in front of the Horvath home at 9:34 a.m., police reported.

Mrs. Barrett was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Adele Alpers Resignation Is Accepted

The Marin County Board of Education last night accepted the resignation of Trustee Adele J. Alpers and established procedures for selecting a replacement.

Mrs. Alpers, 74, of Bayside Acres, San Rafael, submitted her resignation Monday because of ill health. Se had served on the board since 1956.

The board commended Mrs. Alpers for her many years of service, Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, reported.

Spain said the board agreed to accept written applications for the post until Jan. 3. Applications should be sent to Counyt Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, 201 Tamal Vista Avenue, Corte Madera.

Applicants must be registered voters in either the San Rafael or Dixie elementary school districts. Individuals or organizations may nominate candidates by letter, not petitions, Spain said.

Candidates will be interviewed by a board committee at 8 p.m. Jan. 8 at the Marin County Schools office and the appointment will be made at a special board meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 at the county schools office.

Sanitary District Pay Raises Set

Six employees of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will get salary raises of about 5.5 per cent next year.

District directors last night raised the salary of Mrs. Lelia Sayers from $560 to $625 per month. The pay for plant supt. Leo Hericks will go from $900 to $950, and other plant employees will get raises averaging $40. The total cost of the pay raises will come to $3,240 per year.

Director Sesto Lucchi presided last night because Chairman John E. Duckett was absent. Directors approved a $24,000 contract with Rodding-Cleaning Machines Inc. of Los Angeles to clean and maintain the district lines for the next four years.

NIXON

linois, the Republican leader, already has sought to arrange speedy confirmation of the Nixon men. Dirksen said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., promised cooperation in that effort.

Nixon said today that Yost is one of the nation's top experts on the troubled Middle East.

"I have a sked him to assume the post for the duration," Nixon said. "He has agreed to remain for as long as the current administration is in office."

Nixon said he not only wanted a Democrat at the United Nations, but a man who had actively supported Vice President Humphrey during the presidential campaign. Yost was a Humphrey adviser on peace-keeping and international organization.

Nixon said Yost will participate in cabinet and National Security Council meetings on all matters under United Nations consideration.

He said the new ambassador will have great influence in foreign policy. Nixon said the U.N. can be particularly effective in dealing with situations which do not directly involve the vital interests of the United States and the Soviet Union.

In matters of vital national security the great powers will make their own decisions, said Nixon. But in the so-called "third world" of smaller, less developed nations, where conflict is always possible, the United Nations should play a decisive role, he said.

He said such a U.N. role could head off situations that might put the two super-powers in a position of confrontation, which neither seeks.

Nixon also said that he hopes to see as many world leaders as possible early in his administration, possibly including French President Charles de Gaulle.

"Our schedule will be very heavy diplomatically in the first six months," he said.

Yost, a native of Watertown, N.Y., was appointed to the foreign service in 1930. He was present at the San Francisco conference which founded the United Nations in 1945.

He later was director of the State Department Office of European Affairs, ambassador to Laos and ambassador to Syria. Yost was a deputy U.S. ambassador at the United Nations from 1961 to 1966. In June 1966, he joined the Council of Foreign relations as a senior fellow.

Teen Gets Probation On Drug Possession

Wade George Gibson, 19, of San Francisco, was placed on probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday and ordered to spend the first weekend of every month in jail next year for possessing marijuana Feb. 29 in Sausalito.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner told Gibson the marijuana conviction will go on his record as a felony. He sentenced the youth to prison, but suspended the sentence.

Fire Board Slates Annexation Hearing

The Tamalpais Fire Protection District board will hold a public hearing on annexation of the heliport area at Waldo Point at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Station No. 1, 309 Poplar Street.

Following the annexation hearing, the board will discuss the proposed $580,000 bond election for a new station, improved hydrants and mains, and new fire equipment.

Gun Accident Wound Fatal To Woman

Mrs. Martha E. Hunt of San Rafael, shot accidentally by her 13-year-old grandson Aug. 15, died in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit yesterday after many operations.

Mrs. Hunt, 57, who lived at 3 Jones Place, kissed her grandson, Jeffrey Allen Ciocca, and stepped back the night of Aug. 15 to receive a blast to the midsection from the "unloaded" 12 gauge shotgunu he had been cleaning.

The grandson was visiting her home the night of the shooting. He told police he did not know the gun was loaded.

The coroner's office today listed the cause of Mrs. Hunt's death as an accidental gunshot wound.

A native of South Dakota, Mrs. Hunt had lived 21 years in Marin and 29 years in the state. Her husband, Louis J. Hunt, is the owner of Lumar Construction Co. of San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, and daughter, Mrs. Sharon Smatana of San Jose; a sister, Cora Padgett of Honolulu; and a brother, Edwin F. Shock of Lewiston, Idaho.

Funeral will be Monday at 1 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Inverness Man, Hounds Search For Lost Indian

An Inverness man and his two bloodhounds were flown yesterday to Humboldt County to search for an 82-year-old Indian missing since Wednesday.

Donald J. Colbert and his dogs were taken by the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base. To the airport at Arçata. The Humboldt county sheriff's men met him and took him to the search area about 30 miles northeast of Eureka, according to base officials.

James Holster, a Hoopa Indian, walked away from the Hoopa Hospital about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

When it started snowing yesterday, the sheriff put out a call to the Charles Mel Search and Rescue Foundation in Oakland for bloodhounds. The foundation assigned the job to Colbert.

The weather was expected to improve today, according to base officials.

Jury Returns Death Verdict

FRESNO (UPI) — A five-man, seven-woman jury yesterday recommended the gas chamber for Weldon Lee Hathcock, 36, convicted of two counts of murder and two counts of kidnaping.

The verdict was returned following four hours of deliberation concluding a two and one-half week penalty trial.

Hathcock was found guilty of the charges in a jury trial Oct. 31.

Superior Judge Leonard Meyers will impose sentence Dec. 26.

Hathcock was accused of the kidnap-murders of Albert S. Owens and Mrs. Barbara Simon last Jan. 31.

Queen Isabella of Spain enjoyed hunting wild boars.

KIDNAP

at the University of Miami Marine Lab, located on Rickenbacker Causeway, a short distance from where the kidnap victim's father left a suitcase containing $500,000 yesterday morning in an attempt to ransom his daughter.

The payoff was botched when two Miami policemen, unaware of the ransom attempt, stumbled upon two suspects at a parked car and they fled into some nearby woods and escaped.

Miss Mackle, a student at a university in Atlanta, was abducted last Tuesday morning from a motel where she was staying with her mother.

Mrs. Mackle, who was bound and gagged by the kidnapers, said she thought one of the abductors was a child about 12-years-old. Police later said, however, that the persons likely was a diminutive man or woman. Miss Schier is only 5-foot-3.

The FBI said Krist was born in Aberdeen, Wash., April 29, 1945 and graduated from high school in Sitka, Alaska in 1963. He has been sought by the FBI since Dec. 13, 1967, when he was charged with interstate flight after escaping from the Deuel Vocational Institution at Tracy, Calif. in November, 1966 while serving a term for auto theft.

The FBI said Krist and two other men had placed dummies in their beds and sawed through window bars and the sash of their cell.

He was described as white, 6 feet tall, weighing 185 pounds with an athletic build, brown eyes and brown hair.

He has been employed as an aircraft and marine mechanic, an electronic technician, a fisherman and in various other jobs.

Miss Schier was born Nov. 8, 1942, at El Hatillo, Honduras. She claims to have graduated from the National University of Mexico in March, 1967, with a degree in chemistry.

The FBI said she worked for the Pan Amrican Union in Washington as a biology researcher in 1967 and the first part of 1968.

The woman enrolled in the Marine Science Institute of the University of Miami for the 1968 fall term.

The FBI had hinted earlier in the day that a new contact had been made with the kidnapers and that Miss Mackle possibly would be safely back with her family by nightfall.

While refusing to either confirm or deny a report that arrangements had been made for the girl's return, a FBI spokesman said the report was "not far off base."

Mackle, a friend of President-elect Richard M. Nixon and a man who has made millions in Florida real estate has made it clear that he is interested in "doing business with the kidnapers," to obtain his daughter's safe return.

Following the abortive ransom attempt Thursday, he asked that the FBI publicize the fact that he had nothing to do with the intrusion by police.

Probation Denied On Marijuana Count

William H. McInerney, 19, of Sonoma, was sentenced to an indefinite term with the California Youth Authority in Marin Superior Court yesterday for possessing marijuana and striking a Marin County jailer.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson denied the youth's request for probation. The CYA will set the length of McInerney's sentence.

OBITUARIES

John H. Shelly Dies At 74

John H. (Jack) Shelly of Santa Rosa, former San Rafael assistant city manager, died yesterday in Santa Rosa following a short illness. He was 74.

A native of Mississippi, Shelly lived in Marin County from 1932 to 1963, when he retired and moved to Santa Rosa.

He joined the Navy when he was 17 and served as a Naval supply officer during World War I. When he retired from the Navy in 1945 after 34 years of service, he had achieved the rank of lieutenant.

Shelly worked for the state employment office in San Francisco as a veterans' representative from 1945 to 1949, when he retired because of ill health. After a brief recouperation, he worked as a real estate salesman and in 1950 became assistant city manager in San Rafael. In 1957 he resigned from the city staff to return to real estate work.

While with the city, Shelly was in charge of civil defense and taught courses in Geiger counter reading and other civil defense procedures.

He was a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108.

He is survived by his wife, Teresa Shelly of Santa Rosa; a daughter, Rosemarie Martignolli of Santa Rosa; a son, John Shelly of Corte Madera and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Eggan and Lance in Santa Rosa.

THERESA FLETCHER

Theresa J. Fletcher, 88, longtime San Rafael resident, died yesterday at her home at 255 D Street after a long illness.

Mrs. Fletcher was born in Nevada but had lived in Marin County 82 years.

Her husband, Charles H., is retired owner of the Marin Furniture Co. in San Rafael. They had been married about 70 years.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Fletcher is survived by a daughter, Evelym T. Fletcher of San Rafael.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.. tomorrow at the family home. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

JOHN FAUSTINE

John Faustine, 50, of 70 Sierra Vista, Novato, a maintenance worker, died yesterday of an apparent heart attack in San Francisco.

He was stricken on the job and pronounced dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital.

A native of Olema, Faustine served in the Army in World War II. He lived in San Francisco and Daly City prior to moving to Novato seven years ago. He had worked for the Commercial Building Maintenance Co. of San Francisco for 23 years.

Faustine was a member of the Daly City American Legion Post and the Window Cleaners Union Local 44 of San Francisco.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mark Gale of Munich, Germany, and Nancy Faustine of San Francisco; a son, William P. Faustine of the home; and four brothers, Frank and Joseph, both of San Rafael, and Harry and George, both of Novato.

A memorial service will be held at 7:45 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Funeral will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel in Novato. Burial will be in Marin Memorial Gardens.

Cleared Of Charge

William Carl Smith, 19, of San Rafael, was cleared in Marin Municipal Court yesterday, of a charge of stealing a car Sept. 20 in San Rafael when the district attorney reported insufficient evidence to prosecute.

MARIE LAIDLAW

Private funeral was held today for Maree G. Laidlaw of Tiburon, a Marin County resident the last five years.

Mrs. Laidlaw died yesterday at her home at 25 Corinthian Court following a short illness.

She was a life-long resident of California.

Surviving are her husband Alan, at home; her mother, Mrs. Matthew Lee Gillogly of Alamo; her sons, Scott Laidlaw of Yorba Linda and James Laidlaw of Hong Kong; two sisters, Mrs. Donald Perry of Kentfield, and Mrs. Katherine Shamblin of Cupertino, and a brother, Lee Gillogly of Alamo.

School Building Is On Schedule

Construction is on schedule at the addition to La Tercera School, Petaluma, Old Adobe Union School District directors heard last night.

Supt. Dean Magowan said recent heavy rains had not hampered construction. He reported cement had been poured and some steel put into place. The new classrooms are scheduled to open in April.

The board approved a plan to have two sixth grade classes at the Bernard Eldredge School attend Camp Cazadero in the Russian River area for outdoor education from April 6 to 11.

The Jan. 2 meeting of the board was canceled because of the New Year holiday. The next meeting will be Jan. 16.

Scorpions have an ancient history, extending back perhaps 400 million years. Over a period of time that witnessed the rise and fall of dinosaurs and the comings and goings of many other life forms, scorpions have undergone little change.

More Teeners Held In Hub Burglary Ring

Two more teen-agers were arrested yesterday on suspicion of being involved in recent San Anselmo burglaries brought the arrest of six persons Wednesday.

Cited to juvenile authorities were Timothy Cronin, 14, of 29 Rowland Court, and Lee Michael Brumett, 15, of 149 San Francisco Boulevard, both of San Anselmo.

Arrested earlier were Anthony Gibson and Kathleen M. Porter, 18, both of 14 Sentinel Court, San Rafael, who were arraigned yesterday in Marin Muncipal Court on charges of concealing stolen property. They were to enter pleas today.

Juveniles arrested earlier on suspicion of burglary were two brothers of Timothy Cronin, Joseph, 15, and Patrick J., who both live at the 29 Rowland Court address, and Christopher H. Hammond, 15, of 183 Scenic Avenue.

Sgt. Al Howenstein of the San Anselmo police said that in addition to the three burglaries allegedly committed by the youths, they also have been linked to a burglary of a garage on San Anselmo Avenue on Dec. 13 and two burglaries last summer.

Bolinas School Panel Put Off

A scheduled panel discussion at Bolinas School was postponed last night because of sparse attendance and will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 23 at the school, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The discussion is one of a series started this fall to develop between parents, staff and administration a philosophy of education for the district.

Panelists will be Craig Hansen, Larry Bauer, Gene D'Accardo, Mrs. Grace Gray and John Barrow. Larison will be moderator.

Federal Cuts Hit Larkspur School Buying

Purchases of new books and audio-visual equipment for Larkspur School District next fiscal year either will have to be trimmed or additional tax funds appropriated, Supt. Milton Cohen reported last night to district trustees.

The reason, he explained, was that the district's applications for federal grants totaling $60,800 have been trimmed by the government by $20,900 to $39,900.

The cuts also reduced from $4,000 to $2,700 the federal matching grant for a district phsychologist, and Cohen recommended against cutting this service.

Trustees also received a report from Cohen that the state Department of Education had commended the district's after school reading and mathematics remedial program as "an outstanding project" to be used as a model statewide. The program, started this year, is funded by a $14,000 grants, and is offered to students who volunteer to take it.

About 35 students in all grades are in the program, said Cohen, and results "have been excellent."

District trustees also approved an agreement with the county schools office to install two portable classrooms at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. They will be used by the county schools office for educationally handicapped students from throughout Southern Marin.

Exposure Denied

Herbert Charles Sawyer of 101 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge that he exposed himself to a 5-year-old girl in his garage Oct. 27. His case was continued until Thursday to set a date for a jury trial.

Chief Helps In Arrest At Sausalito Break-In

Two youths, suspected of burglary, got top-level service when they were arrested yesterday by Sausalito police at the scene of a reported burglary attempt.

Chief Edward S. Kreins arrested one 16-year-old suspect and Capt. James D. Wright nabbed another youth of 18. A third youth escaped.

Kreins, Wright and two other officers went to 62 Glen Drive, residence of David Campbell, when a neighbor reported a burglary attempt at 1:50 p.m. They found Natalis Kit-Yan Leng, 18, of Daly City, outside the house and Kreins took him into custody. Wright and Detective Kevin Sharp entered the house by separate doors and found Gary Pang, 16, of San Francisco, inside. While Wright arrested Pang a third youth ran down the outside stairs and escaped.

Wright said nothing appeared to be missing from the house, but Pang wore one wristwatch and had another in his pocket. Pang was cited to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of burglary.

Leng was booked at Marin County —ail on suspicion of burglary and posted $1,250 bail to appear at 2 p.m. Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

Lakeville Road Crash Hurts Two

Two persons were injured yesterday in a two-car collision at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Celia T. Cahill, 46, of Sacramento, a former Mill Valley resident, was reported good condition at Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, with scalp cuts. Mrs. Alexandria Feller, 74, of San Francisco, was treated at Hillcrest for bruises.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. when a car driven by Arno H. R. Feller, 70, of San Francisco, started to turn left onto Lakeville Hihway and was hit by the oncoming Cahill car.

Liver Transplant Survived By Seven Patients

DENVER (SS) — Seven patients whose livers failed are still living as a result of transplantations done by Dr. Thomas E. Starzl and his coworkers here.

The British Medical Journal reports still another case in which a 41-year-old man survived a liver transplant at a London hospital and is working full-time.

An editorial in the same issue points out that "fatal liver disease differs throughout the world, being much less common in Europe than in the Far East." But even in Britain there are between 200 and 300 deaths each year from this cause in persons under the age of 50.

One difficulty that faces surgeons considering a liver transplant is the length of time the organ can be preserved. Eight hours of preservation, as described by the Denver team, "provides sufficient time for tissue-typing, preparation of the recipient and transportation of the organ from one hospital to another."

Cotati Keeps Same Utility Hookup Fees

Cotati City Council last night extended current sewer and water connection fees through July 1.

If the council had not taken action, the charges would have reverted to an older ordinance which set higher rates.

A resolution to exempt four residences on Commerce Boulevard from payment of the connection fees was approved because the property owners installed the lines at their own expense.

County approved the request of 19 property owners to be included in the city utility district. Boundary lines and special zones were enlarged to include the new customers.

The Cotati City Council also:

DOG LICENSES — Raised fees for dog licenses from $3 per year to $3.50.

IMPROVEMENTS — Introduced an ordinance waiving the installation of curbs, gutters and sidewalks. City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe said many areas of the city have roads that crest too high to permit improvements without causing severe drainage problems. The ordinance was referred to the planning commission for study and a public hearing.

TWO VETERANS AND A ROOKIE

The Moon Shot—How They Plan It

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Man's greatest adventure, a trip to the vicinity of the moon, is about to start from this spaceport which has been the jumping off place for so many historic flights into the strange and fascinating new world of space.

Tomorrow three finely tuned astronauts will ride the thundering power of a Saturn 5, the mightiest rocket ever built, on a journey that is to take them a quarter of a million miles away from earth and into orbit around the moon on Christmas Eve.

"We'll be blazing the trail for future astronauts, making it easier for them to land safely and with confidence on the lunar surface," said Air Force Col. Frank Borman, commander of the Apollo 8 mission.

With Borman will be Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

Borman and Lovell spent 14 days in space together in 1965 in the Gemini 7 spacecraft that rendezvoused with Gemini 6. Lovell also orbited the earth for four days as commander of Gemini 12 in 1966. Anders will be making his first flight.

The two veterans and the rookie are scheduled to blast off at 7:51 a.m. EST atop the 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 — the first time this monster has been used to boost men into space.

Apollo 8, with the rocket's third stage still attached, is to be hurled initially into an orbit 115 miles above the earth. For two orbits, lasting 2 hours 50 minutes, the astronauts will check out all their systems.

If all are working well, the third stage will be restarted to increase the ship's speed from 17,500 to 24,500 miles an hour and fling it outwards toward the moon.

For 66 hours, Apollo 8 will coast toward its distant target with the pilots making key navigation checks and adjusting their course when necessary.

Early Dec. 24 they'll zip behind the moon and fire their spaceship engine to inject Apollo 8 into an orbit ranging from 69 to 196 miles above the surface. Their speed in lunar orbit will be about 3,300 miles an hour. For two orbits, each lasting two hours, they'll again verify their systems and prepare for the main assignment, which is to evaluate tracking and navigation procedures.

Then Borman will trigger the engine to circularize the path at 69 miles above the moon and the craft will follow a course that passes almost directly above the lunar equator, moving from right to left as the frontside of the moon is viewed from earth. The moon at the time will be nearing first quarter.

Lovell's prime job will be to evaluate the navigation equipment by "shooting" lunar landmarks such as well-known craters with his sextant, telescope and computer. He'll pay particular attention to an area in the eastern part of the Sea of Tranquility near the crater Censorinus which is considered a likely spot for the first Americans to land on the moon next year.

"I'll be looking for boulders the size of our landing craft," Lovell reported, "to see if the navigator can pick out the landing site as he flies by in orbit.

Anders will concentrate on taking up to 1,200 photographs of the moon, particularly the hidden backside. He said he would be able to snap stereo effect pictures over a strip extending roughly 30 miles north and south of the equator. All target zones for proposed astronaut landings are in this band.

All the while, ground tracking stations will follow Apollo 8 and compare their data with Lovell's navigation information.

Anders said ground trackers are not certain of the precise orbit path of Apollo ships because the moon, like the earth, is not perfectly round, which could lead to landing errors of as much as 45 miles.

"The more we learn about the moon's gravitational field and how to navigate in it," he said, "the less will be our error when astronauts try to land."

Early Christmas morning, after 10 circuits of the moon lasting 20 hours, Berman will ignite the engine to take Apollo 8 out of orbit and start it on the 58-hour return trip, which is to end with splashdown in the Pacific Ocean south of Hawaii after a voyage of slightly more than six days.

Borman calls that engine firing the most critical part of the mission.

"Our engine simply has to work at that point," he said. "We have no other way of getting out of moon orbit."

He noted there are "elements of danger all along the way" on a moon flight but said he had confidence in the hardware which he termed "the best American technology can produce."

"I wouldn't get in the thing unless I knew it was a safe vehicle."

Foundation Sets Goal Of $30,000

The College of Marin Foundation board has set a $30,000 goal for a new student fund drive and named three men as co-chairmen of the drive.

The campaign, for grants and loans to be used by Marin County resident students at the college, will be from Feb. 15 to March 15. Ernest N. Kettenhofen, second vice president, said chairmen are J. Galen Foster, manager of the North Bay Division of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; Edwin Johnson, vice president and manager of Wells Fargo Bank, San Rafael and the North Bay District and Donald L. Johnson, Marin district manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The bext board meeting will be Jan. 15 at a time and place to be announced.

Third Unit To Duplex Wins Panel Approval

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee Wednesday night approved a plan by Andrew Stafford to add a third unit to a duplex at 188 Tunstead Avenue.

The city council rejected an earlier plan because sufficient off-street parking was not available. The new plan provides parking for four cars, with one space at the property's rear.

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee also:

LANDSCAPING — Asked St. Nicholas Church at 102 Ross Avenue to resubmit at the 8 p.m. meeting Jan. 8 at city hall a landscaping application showing less outdoor concrete worked.

SIDEWALK — Approved smooth-finish sidewalks for an 11-unit apartment building owned by John Komo at 166 Tunstead Avenue.

SIGNS — Approved a directional free-standing sign for Sunny Hills at Sonoma Avenue and Sir Francisco Drake Boulevard, but took under study an application by Essex properties for two free-standing signs at 412 Red Hill Avenue.

141 Hijacked Passengers Fly Back To States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker who said he had nitroglycerin forced an Eastern Airlines jet with 151 persons aboard to fly him to Cuba late yesterday. He apologized as he left the plane.

"I'm sorry, captain," the tall, slender hijacker said on arrival in Havana where six soldiers escorted him off the aircraft. "I wouldn't have hurt anybody."

It was the fifth consecutive week that an airliner had been hijacked to Cuba. Six commercial planes have been hijacked to Cuba during that time and 20 this year.

NO HESITANCY

Capt. Orris F. Firth, 56, a veteran of 30 years with the airline, said he had no hesitancy about flying to Cuba when the man listed as "C. Washington" on a nonstop flight from Philadelphia to Miami handed a note to a stewardess to divert the plane.

"The threat was enough for me," Firth said after returning to Miami with his crew of seven. "I had 142 (other) people on board."

"I was in the galley when this man came to me," said Uta B. Risse, 23-year-old German-born stewardess. "He asked what time we would get to Miami.

"He threw down a note and said, 'Tell the captain we won't get there. Tell him we're going.' "

SOMETHING IN BAG

Miss Risse said the man occupied a seat in the last row with his daughter, Jennifer, aged 20.

"He had something in a bag and held it in his hand. He said it was a cap pistol," Miss Risse said. "I asked him to come to the cockpit. He said he wasn't moving. The note said he had a bottle of nitroglycerin."

Miss Risse said the hijacker never exposed the gun and she sat with an empty seat between them.

"He was shaking and once he cried and said he was doing it for his daughter," the stewardess said. "The girl was crying and I cried and she used some tissue I'd given her to wipe my tears."

The 141 remaining passengers went by bus from Havana to Varadero and returned to Miami today aboard two Electra propjets flown to Cuba by Eastern.

Class Registering During Holidays

Registration will continue during the holiday weeks at College of Marin for winter quarter adult classes scheduled to begin Jan. 6.

Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with offices closed Dec. 24, 25 and 31 and Jan 1.

Mail registrations should be received by Jan. 3, ccording to Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, assistant community education dean.

Brochures listing the complete class schedule are available in the evening college office at Room 2, Harlan Hall.

Cleaver Faces Income Tax Lien Of $59,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The federal government filed a $59,715.12 income tax lien yesterday against Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, who has been sought since Nov. 27 for failing to surrender as a parole violator.

The lien, filed in the county recorder's office by Internal Revenue agent Virgil Harvey, indicated that the militant author of "Soul on Ice" earned $100,000 or more this year.

Charles E. Kingman, acting district director of the IRS, said the lien was filed long before the national income tax deadline of April 15 because Cleaver is a federal fugitive and the IRS wants to determine what assets he has here to insure payment of taxes.

The FBI concluded last week that Cleaver has left California. The federal agency said his wife, Kathleen, flew to New York City with some $33,000 she withdrew from the couple's joint bank account.

Cleaver was ordered to surrender on Nov. 27 for return to San Quentin Prison as a parole violator. He became involved in a shootout between Black Panthers and Oakland police while on parole after serving nine years of a 13-year sentence for assault with intent to commit rape.

The Black Panther is scheduled to go on trial in Oakland next Monday on charges of assault to commit murder and assault on police officers in connection with the April 6 shootout, during which he was wounded and a young panther was killed.

If Cleaver fails to appear in court Monday, his bail of $50,000 would be forfeited.

AEC Claims Nevada Test Not So Bad

PAHUTE MESA, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says its one-megaton test yesterday demonstrated the tests "aren't so bad after all when proper precautions are taken."

The underground blast, equal to a million tons of TNT, had been opposed by several groups on the grounds that it might cause property damage contaminate water supplies or trigger large earthquakes.

Newsmen at the control point 12 miles from ground zero had trouble keeping their footing as ground swells raced outward from the explosion in ocean like waves. The floor rocked for five to six seconds.

But no significant damage was reported anywhere.

A 15-ton boulder, jarred from a stony ridge, bounced toward the instrumented trailers at the control point but stopped short of a fence.

An AEC spokesman who observed the detonation of the hydrogen-type device over closed-circuit television said, "Now you know what it's like. That wasn't so bad was it?"

It was the first time newsmen had been allowed on the test site to observe a detonation since 1958.

Thirty minutes after the shot an official said instruments near ground zero showed no release of radiation. Towering clouds rising from the ground apparently were just surface dust jarred loose as the earth bulged upward 20 to 30 feet.

There have been several tests in the megaton or near megaton range in Nevada. The AEC has declind to say which was biggest.

Seismographs recorded the explosion as a moderately strong earthquake with a magnitude of 6.5, about the same as a similar blast last April.

Bats sing for their supper, the National Geographic Society says. Their squeaks hit food and echo back, helping them zero in on a morsel.

Teen Is Suspect In Mill Valley Burglary Probe

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of committing seven burglaries in Mill Valley during the past month.

Steven Pope Coleman of 27 West Blithedale Avenue was booked into Juvenile Hall for burglary investigation and on suspicion of marijuana possession.

Mill Valley police said marijuana was found on the youth when he was arrested.

Police said physical evidence found at the scene of the burglaries connected Coleman to the crimes.

Burglaries at 26 Woodbine Drive and 424 Eldridge Avenue on Nov. 18, 211 Helens Lane on Nov. 30, 233 Elinor Avenue on Dec. 6, and 740 Summit Avenue on Dec. 9 were cleared by Coleman's arrest, police said.

Police also claimed Coleman committed two other unreported burglaries at 116 and 175 Cascade Drive.

Santa To Pay Visit Sunday To Children

Santa Claus will visit homes in Gallinas Village Sunday to distribute candy canes to children, community services district directors announced last night.

On Sunday at 3:30 p.m., a large community Christmas tree will be lighted at Cliff Cameron's Chevron station at North San Pedro Road and La Pasada Way, and a program of Christmas carols and dancing will be presented.

The CSD will supply the tree, which will be decorated by the Junior Improvement Association members, who have been knocking on doors to collect outdoor lights.

Director John Miller presided last night in the absence of David Banfield, chairman.

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board also:

NEW CHAIRMAN — Elected Walter Rudolph as chairman for 1969.

HEADQUARTERS — Decided to explore the possibility of using the Presbyterian Church property on Adrian Way near Littleman's market as headquarters for the district. The CSD, having no office, has been meeting at Mac Phail School.

PARKS — Heard from William Toba, park maintenance supervisor, that a tree had been broken at Rosal-Adrian Park, some tree bracings pulled out at Pueblo Park and a camphor tree toppled by winds on La Pasada Way.

Some Diabetes Blamed On Virus

BURLINGTON, Vt. (SS) — A virus that causes lesions in the insulin-secreting cells in the pancreas, induces diabetes mellitus in mice.

Infection has never been established as a cause of diabetes, though cases have been described in man after mumps and in cattle after hoof-and-mouth disease. Drs. John E. Craighead and Mary Frances McLane of the University of Vermont report that a variant of encephalomyocarditis (EMC) virus caused diabetes in experimentally infected mice.

The EMC virus apparently acts on the insulin-secreting islets, reducing the mass of functional cells. Because the affected cells no longer secreted insulin normally, levels of blood sugar rose markedly, and remained high for periods ranging from a few days to several months after the animals recovered from the virus infection.

The Texas Highway Department maintains more than 800,000 acres of grass, trees and wildflowers along the right of way of Texas highways.

Marinwood Employees Voted 5 Pct. Raise

Marinwood's firemen and recreation employees will get a 5 per cent salary raise and other fringe benefits next year.

Community services district directors granted the pay hike Wednesday night.

Raises were: acting fire chief Harvey Rapp, from $680 to $714; Fireman Ronald Christiansen, from $631 to $663; Fireman Kenneth Fowler, from $601 to $631; Fireman James Jackson, from $572 to $631 (including step raise); Recreation Director William A. Gordon, from $808 to $849; Alan Horobin, park maintenance supervisor, from $697 to $732; David Williams, park caretaker, from $572 to $586; and Genevieve Bolding, business manager-secretary, from $318 to $362.

Fringe benefits approved included eight paid holidays per year for firement, and a revised vacation allowance, with one week of vacation permitted to be carried over from one year to the next.

A total of 32 applications have been received for the fire chief's job, Mrs. Bolding reported.

The applications will be screened by Donald A. Duerr, chairman of the Marinwood CSD, and Larry D. Newman, chairman of the fire commission, during January. Oral interviews have not been set. Among the applicants are acting chief Rapp and Fireman Christiansen.

The Marinwood CSD Directors also:

CITIZENS — Appointed three more representatives to a citizens committee studying joint use of park and school facilities. They are John Hodge of the Marinwood Association, Charles Wolter of Little League, and Raymond Riley, principal of Miller Creek School.

SALARY — Set 7:30 p.m. Dec. 30 as the time for the salary and fringe benefits committee to meet with employees to discuss the raises approved Wednesday night.

COST — Decided that Lucas Valley will pay 40 per cent and Marinwood 60 per cent of the cost of employees' salaries and group insurance. Under the present contract, Lucas Valley pays $19,318 to Marinwood for services provided, but under the revised allocation, the cost will go up to about $22,000, Mrs. Bolding reported.

Pharmacologists are turning increasingly to the ocean as a source of new drugs. Marine algae produce antibiotics that inhibit the growth of terrestrial organisms. The octopus produces serotonin, a potent histamine releaser.

New Treatment Averts Surgery

EUGENE, Ore. (SS) — Dilating clogged arteries led to improvement in about 80 per cent of patients treated for narrowing of leg arteries in the general area of thighs and knees, a University of Oregon professor reports.

Dr. Charles T. Dotter, chairman of the department of radiology, worked with approximately 175 patients since Jan. 16, 1964. His youngest patient was 42; the oldest 87.

Dotter puts his patients under local anesthesia and uses a needle to enter the grion area of the artery. The putty-like core of the clogged vessel is entered with a tightly wound coilspring guide about three feet long and the width of a pencil. The guide is manipulated downstream through the narrowing core to the clear arterial passageway beyond.

Four-Minute Session By Councilmen

In what was believed to be the shortest meeting in the Larkspur City Council's history — a four-minute session — an ordinance was adopted Wednesday night to prezone 69.5 acres of the Hutchinson quarry as a prelude to annexation of the land.

The vote was 3-0, with Councilmen Neil R. Brixon and William G. Fleckles absent.

The parcel, prezoned light industrial, is located east of Highway 101 and is also being sought for annexation by the Town of Corte Madera. The Corte Madera Town Council Monday agreed to contest any petition Larkspur may file with the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission for annexation.

The Larkspur council last night also adopted a resolution accepting the deed to a small parcel at Magnolia Avenue and College Court for the Magnolia widening project. The land was purchased Dec. 4 from Mrs. Betsy Michelson for $2,200.

A public hearing scheduled last night on a zoning ordinance amendment to allow cluster housing development was continued until the next council meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 8.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Uncle Vayna' Has Clarity Of Lines

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — Anton Chekhov's subtle use of rambling, seemingly disjointed speeches, which forces both actors and audience to grope for his meaning, can destroy a production, and often does.

So it is delightful to report that Henry Stein's Playhouse Repertory Theater at the Encore, 422 Mason Street, makes the great Russian's intent in "Uncle Vanya" quite clear in its current production, despite a tendency to uneven acting. And for some reason, Doctor Astroff's passion for conservation made me realize for the first time how terribly concerned Chehkov was (in 1899) with man's prodigal destruction of forests and wildlife.

Jim Stewart has designed sets built minimally around furniture pieces. I am told to understand that they have been minimized since the opening, and they are quite effective as now used. Daphe Shaull's costumes are authentic and pleasing, aside from a plastique-appearing gown which does nothing for Stefani Priest's considerable charm in the first act. Dale Altvater lights the show with taste, and Stein has an obvious affinity for Chekhov, directing with simple understanding, and an eye to the undercurrents.

In spite of finding fault with almost all the cast, I enjoyed the show hugely, and Billie Jo Burns brought me to tears with the closing speech, a little gem that can either wring your heart or evoke memories of Pollyanna, depending upon the caliber of the actress. Miss Burns tops an almost flawlwss performance with it. She is warm and involved as Sonia, literally brimming with passion for Astroff and compassion for Vanya.

Miss Priest's Elena is properly troubled with boredom and dawning desire for Astroff, but tends to use eyes and Rs a bit too dramatically at times. Astroff as played by Barry Meehan is often boring, as he falls into a repetitious and mannered speech pattern. In the scene during which he gives Elena an impassioned pitch for conservation (and should arouse her latent interest in him as a man) he is such a bore that we fully believe her when she says, "I didn't really have my mind on it," or words to that effect.

Frederick Romagnolo makes a handsome and appealing Vanya until he allows the character to drown in a sea of petulance and loses sympathy thereby. Tom Kelly as the ailing and very petulant Alexander gives us an intriguing portrait, but slides in and out of an accent and plays in a style totally different from the rest of the cast.

The rest of the company is excellent, topped by Joyce Lancaster as Vanya's mother and Keith Reagan's pitiful Telegin. Florence Larios deserves mention for her easy portrayal of the nurse.

This is certainly not a stylish production, but Stein has given it honesty. And in a theatrical age when many are struggling with wholly new forms and concepts in their efforts to be honest, it's good to see that honesty can still be achieved without removing any clothing.

"Uncle Vanya" is scheduled for an indefinite run, playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Mobil Abandons Economy Race

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Mobil Oil Co. has discontinued its annual Mobil Economy Run, a transcontinental road test of fuel consumption of stock American passenger cars.

The company announced yesterday the cancellation of the run was due to changes in emphasis on automotive performance factors, in the attitude of motorists and in Mobil's advertising strategy.

The Gilmore Oil Co. began the run as a two-day affair in 1936. Mobil took over sponsorship in 1950 and expanded it to a cross-country competition.

Farm Income Up In India

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's current agricultural boom is expected to raise this country's national income in 1967-1968 by 8 per cent.

Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai, who also is finance minister, told Parliament the industrial sector's contribution to this rise would be nil.

Nerly 14 differtent units of the industrial sector showed a significant decline in production, he said.

IKE'S HOLIDAY GREETING

Convalescing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower uses this huge sign to convey his holiday wishes from Washington's Walter Reed Hospital. Ike was to make an appearance yesterday at his window, but canceled it due to the death of his brother, Earl. He was also to have pushed a button to light the Christmas tree in front of the hospital. Judge Places Restrictions On Kaiser Picket Lines

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New restrictions were imposed on picketing at strike-bound Kaiser Foundation hospitals and clinics in Northern California after a clash in which two policemen were roughed up.

The order was obtained from Santa Clara County Superior Court Judge Stanley R. Evans yesterday following a scuffle between pickets and police in San Francisco and activity at Santa Clara where Kaiser claimed an administrator was intimidated.

It restrains the 3,400 member AFL-CIO Hospital and Institutional Workers Union Local 150—which went on strike last Sunday—from putting more than two pickets at any exit or entrance of the 26 affected Kaiser medical facilities.

The court directed they must walk single file at intervals of at least 20 feet. It also set the number of pickets permitted at each facility—with a maximum of 14 at San Francisco and Oakland hospitals.

The San Rafael hospital may have no more than six pickets and the clinic at 1930 Fourth Street was limited to four pickets.

Four persons were arrested as the result of the trouble at San Francisco. Police said pickets smashed windows of a laundry truck attempting to pick up a load of dirty linen.

Police said Capt. Mortimer McInerney, in plain clothes, and Patrolman Thomas O'Flanagan were roughed up, with the patrolman requiring hospital treatment.

Arrested on charges of felony assault on an officer were: Victor Theusen, 27, union business agent from Berkeley; Vincent Davis, 28, a union business agent from Burlingame; Marcario Sarmiento, 28, of San Francisco, and Margorie Cesh, 43, San Francisco.

The wage dispute involves 15 Kaiser clinic sand 11 hospitals. Kaiser spokesmen say the facilities are providing medical care to all who need it emmediately.

The union wants 50 cent an hour increases in their average $2.10 to $2.97 hourly pay. The non-professional striking workers earlier rejected an average 30 cent raise which their leaders had suggested be approved.

Representatives of 170 union locals arranged a meeting in Oakland to consider means of putting a financial squeeze on Kaiser.

However, Einar Mohn, director of the Western Conference of Teamsters, sent telegrams to 15 Teamster locals who have contracts with employers doing business with Kaiser hospitals.

It said: "All contracts with our employers must be fully observed. We do not desire to share any responsibilities for any patient's being denied any services or procedures necessary for their health or well being."

The secretary of the hospital workers local, Tim Twomey, said pickets would be sent out in the near future to 60 industrial plants and other non-medical and medical facilities operated by Kaiser.

Kaiser attorneys called the plan to elicit support from the 23,000 other workers illegal, but union spokesmen said their attorneys say it's legal.

Union officials are considering urging other unions to hold up their payments to Kaiser from union health and welfare funds because of curtailed services.

Kaiser estimates that 50 per cent of its 850,000 health plan members are union members and their families.

Mother Is Not Surprised Son Is Being Kept

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The mother of a wounded GI left behind in Cambodia while 11 fellow prisoners were freed in time for Christmas with their families said today she was disappointed but not surprised.

Mrs. Leroy Gurnsey had hoped S/p 4 Earl F. Gurnsey, 20, a helicopter crewman captured by Cambodians last month when his aircraft crashed, would be home for Christmas.

Diplomatic sources indicated Gurnsey remained in Phnom Penh because his wounds needed additional treatment at a hospital there.

Teacher Reports Narcotics Suspect

A 17-year-old Novato High School student was cited to juvenile authorities yesterday for possession of dangerous drugs for sale after his shop teacher found a plastic bag containing a white powder in his possession.

Cited was Rodger Gregory Cooper of 20 Balra Drive. The powder, thought to be some type of stimulant, was found by his shop teacher. Christopher Radovan, according to police.

Violence Panel Hits TV's Diet Of Murder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of a presidential commission raked television executives over the coals today for what they said is a steady stream of murder, rape, mayhem and sadism in TV entertainment programs.

"Your reply is totally inadequate," Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., told Leonard H. Goldenson president of American Broadcasting Companies Inc., who said his network is trying to reduce the number of violent programs.

"There has been no change at all," Boggs said, citing figures showing numerous incidents of violence in almost every hour of television programming.

Goldenson said ABC is planning to switch from some of Saturday morning's adventure cartoons for children to comedy shows.

Goldenson said ABC has been working to cut down on gory TV shows because the public has become oversensitive to violence since the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The testimony was before the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence in a series of hearings on the impact of mass media portrayals of violence on the public.

Boggs, a commission member said youngsters, including his own grandchildren, are exposed to a steady diet of violence, aggression and sadism on television.

Commission member Walter W. Menninger, a psychiatrist, said TV networks should study the effect of the programs on the public, much as drug companies are obligated to know the impact of their products.

"Is there any reason your industry cannot do the same thing?" he said.

Goldenson said such a study by ABC would be suspect but pledged cooperation in any such research project set up by the White House commission for a similar responsible group.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., criticized the reluctance of Goldenson and Elmer St. Lower, president of ABC News, to concede that the presence of television news cameras have a sometimes dramatic effect on how people act.

"When those things (cameras) move in, everybody acts different, including me," Hart said.

"That camera influences me tremdously. Why don't you admit it?"

Hart added he was not advocating the elimination of TV coverage but was urging wiser handling by network newsmen and executives.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said neither the commission nor any other government agency should interfere with TV news handling because it would violate a constitutional guarantee of a free press.

As to violence in entertainment programs, "Television must not pander to a taste of violence" but "must reflect the often violent and disjointed character of the contemporary world."

Kuchel Offers Help To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., winding up 16 years in the Senate and 10 years as the chamber's assistant Republican leader, said he has offered to do all he can to help assure the success of the incoming Nixon administration.

Kuchel conferred with President-elect Nixon in New York yesterday at Nixon's invitation.

The senator, defeated for renomination in California's primary last June, said he prepared for Nixon a memorandum dealing with Interior Department problems and appropriations, and that his conversation with the president-elect dealt with these and other subjects.

Petaluman Faces Novato Charges

A Petaluma resident was arrested yesterday for failure to show his driver's license and resisting arrest when Novato police said they stopped him on Davidson Street for not having a brake light on his car.

Free on $625 bail was Christian Gingher, 25, of 219 Vallejo Street. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that, when stopped, at 3:15 p.m., Gingher was very belligerant and refused to show his license. It took force to arrest him, police said. Police said Gingher's license had expired 11 months ago.

Girl Booked In Drowning Death

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A 15-year-old girl is in San Diego Juvenile Hall in connection with the 1967 drowning of a 19-month-old child.

Booked on suspicion of murder yesterday was Jo Ann Deville, who had been attending the Santa Rosa Girls School. Her parents whereabouts was not known.

Oceanside police say they arrested the girl Wednesday after she allegedly told officials at the school she had drowned Kathleen Connelly in the San Luis Rey River nearly two years ago.

PERFORMING DUET

Buffy Ford and John Stewart, both of Mill Valley, will sing and play the guitar at 9 p.m. tomorrow in a benefit performance at the Festival Theater, San Anselmo, for the theater's 1969 endowment fund. They will perform compositions written by Stewart, who belonged to the Kingston Trio.

Dr. Mead Urges Congress To Remold Hunger Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anthropologist Margaret Mead, claiming that federal food assistance programs are geared to financial rather than human needs, urged Congress to offer the nation's poor something better than the current surplus food distribution system.

Dr. Mead, professor of anthropology at Columbia University, said millions of Americans "on the verge of starvation" need a new aid program — one divorced from the Agriculture Department and "concerned with people rather than products."

"It is hopeless to expect the solution to come from the distribution of surplus commodities when the details and politics of a financial program are put above the needs of living men, women and children," she said.

Dr. Mead, who is also curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, expressed her views in testimony before a special congressional committee that is investigating hunger in the United States. The committee adjourned yesterday after three days of hearings until Jan. 8.

The anthropologist testified that there are almost 10 million Americans getting inadequate nourishment every day and that the problem is most acute for persons with little education who live in poverty areas. "Their need is urgent," she said.

Noting that 30 years ago the nation was able to tackle a malnutrition problem affecting about one-third of the population, Dr. Mead deplored present-day efforts to feed the hungry.

"Today we seem unable to deal with a 20th of the nation in spite of our greatly increased productivity and far greater technical resources," she said.

While Dr. Mead testified on Capitol Hill, a private nonparitsan organization formed to fight hunger in the United States announced yesterday that it would "monitor" government programs to make sure the needy get fed.

Dr. Jean Mayer, a professor at Harvard University, was named chairman of the new National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition. Among the board members of the organization are Rev. Ralph Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers of America.

Mayer held a news conference to say he had talked with some representatives of the Nixon administration and found them "very responsive to the food problem."

Portugal's Birth Rate Still High But Declining

LISBON (AP) — The annual number of births in Catholic Portugal has been steadily declining in this decade, but the birth rate remains one of the highest in Europe.

In 1961, there were 217,916 live births in continental Portugal. In 1965, the figure was 210,290. During last year live births dropped to 202,061. That was roughly the figure 20 years ago, when Portugal had 1.2 million fewer inhabitants than the nearly 10 million it has today.

But the birth rate, at 21.4 per thousand, trails in Europe only those of Albania — 34 per thousand — and Ireland — 21.6 per thousand.

Specialists attribute the drop in births to continuing heavy emigration abroad and the rising cost of living.

The easternmost city in the United States is Lubec, Maine.

Crash Program Going To Produce Flu Shots

ATLANTA (UPI)—Six drug manufacturers are on an around the clock "crash program" to produce vaccine to meet the nation's Hong Kong flu epidemic, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association said yesterday.

The association said the firms are working their employees 24 hours a day and will stay open through the Christmas holidays to produce 20.8 million doses of vaccine by Feb. 1.

The Hong Kong flu, meanwhile, apparently has spread from the United States to Britain.

In Atlanta, the National Communicable Disease Center said it was checking health departments in all 50 states to determine exactly how much of the nation was experiencing influenza, and how much of it was the Hong Kong strain.

"We want to find out if it has spread any more than we have reports on, how much of it is the Hong Kong strain and how much is flu-like illness," a spokesman said,

The symptoms of the Hong Kong flu are similar to those of the Asian flu, a common ailment in the United States, and it can only be determined if the illness is the Hong Kong flu after tests are run. Results are reported to state authorities.

According to the NCDC's latest report, influenza activity has been reported in 40 states, outbreaks of the Hong Kong variety have been reported in 23 states, while seven states have recorded isolated cases of the Hong Kong flu, and another 10 reported flu-like illnesses.

Dr. Robert Sharrar, an epidermiologist with the NCD warned against letting the body get chilled, noting that the best defense against the illness was keeping the body in good condition.

Cook County Hospital in Chicago today began enforcing an order that no visitors would be allowed, except to see seriously ill patients or children because of the Windy City's flu outbreak.

Baltimore health officials reported that nearly 20 per cent of the population was affected by its flu epidemic.

The Colorado Health Department, in one of the first states hit by the Hong Kong flu, said the epidemic there was beginning to slacken.

Pack Of Boys Hits Woman In Rob Try

A group of 10 boys, the oldest about 14 years, attacked a Stinson Beach woman and her three small children in Marin City last night, pelting them and their car with rocks and bottles, sheriff's officers said today.

Mrs. Madeline R. Kreuter, 27, told officers she and her three children, all under age 4, were leaving a Project Head Start party at the Marin City Community Center at 9:30 p.m., when the attack occurred.

The pack of Negro boys surrounded her car. Sone of them opened the doors and demanded money, she said.

Mrs. Kreuter told deputies she replied she had no money and pulled the doors shut. The boys then moved out in a circle and started bombing the car with rocks and bottles, she said.

Some of the boys started lifting the front wheels of the small foreign vehicle off the ground, she added.

Mrs. Kreuter said she then climbed from the car and tried to make her way into the building for help and to draw the attackers away from her children, who stayed in the car with a friend, Mrs. Virginia Malcher.

The boys surrounded her, she said, pelting her with more rocks. As one of them struck her with a board, she said, she noticed a man standing under a nearby tree, watching the beating but not helping.

As the barrage continued, Mrs. Kreuter told deputies, she felt her knees begin to buckle and thought she was going to faint. She ran back to the car and drove off, out of range of the thrown objects.

Deputies who examined her said she had bruises on her arm and back and a black eye. She said she would see her own doctor.

Civil Defense Sirens Blamed On A Short

Mechanical difficulties caused most of San Rafael's civil defense sirens to whine at 10:29 a.m. today and frightened citizens flooded the police department and city hall with telephone calls.

San Rafael police said they thought an electrical short caused the sirens to go off. The main one at the courthouse did not sound, however. The sirens were turned off after about 15 minutes.

Enrollment Dilemma For Fall Transfers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some junior college students may not be able to transfer to the state college of their choice next spring.

The California Community College Board of Governors was so advised yesterday by the system's chancellor, Dr. Sidney Brossman.

Despite assurance that junior college students will be given priority in admission, he said, they may not be able to go to a school in their own areas.

"A person at a junior college in San Diego may be told that he can go to Stanislaus State College in Turlock in the north, he said.

Twelve state colleges said recently they are so crowded they would not take new students in spring.

Brossman said he fears high caliber students will no longer enroll in junior college if they think they can't transfer to a four-year school.

He added: "We've been telling students who are eligible to go to a four-year school to attend junior college first, then transfer. Many who were eligible did that and now they cannot transfer. What do you think will happen?"

Several board members criticized colleges that admit pre-enrolled high school graduates before admitting transfers. The board voted to have representatives of the junior colleges and colleges meet to try to find a solution.

Better Teacher Education Urged In Easing Racism

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — The methods used today in the nation's classrooms to eradicate racial prejudice will fail if they concentrate on presenting Negroes as "Tan Dick and Janes," says the head of a team which has a new curriculum to combat discrimination.

"Unless immediate attention is given to preparing teachers in American schools to confront the sensitive issues of racial prejudice in the classroom, little progress can be made through such programs as busing, decentralization, desegregation, and new school facilities in the ghettoes," Dr. John S. Gibson said yesterday.

Gibson, director of the Lincoln Feline Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University, wrote a report containing the new Intergroup Relations Curriculum.

The curriculum was drawn up after a five-year study with 350 teachers and 9,000 pupils in a federally-sponsored, $200,000 research project. It is used in 21 communities in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and goes into New Jersey's public schools in February.

"Even well-integrated classrooms will not be able to fulfill their promises if the children are exposed to bigoted teachers, al material an inflexible curriculum," Gibson said.

An example of the new method, he said, is a student who says, "My father says that all blacks are lazy." The teacher trained to the center's institute might reply, "Is Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics lazy?" and then let the students discuss it, Gibson said.

51 Arrested In Narcotic Raids

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Fifty-one persons have been arrested in a narcotics roundup that began with a series of pre-dawn raids yesterday in San Diego County.

Police say 43 adults and eight juveniles were arrested Thursday, including 24 persons indicted by the grand jury after a seven-week investigation.

Lt. Darrell La Motte, head of the police narcotics bureau, said 30 of 45 grand jury indictments have been served. He said six persons already were in jail when the indictments were issued.

Officers say one of those arrested insisted he could not be prosecuted because he sold baking soda instead of narcotics to an undercover agent. But police say selling baking soda in lieu of a narcotic is a law violation.

Students Bid To Conclave On Violence

SACRAMENTO AP) — Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, today invited leaders of the California Association of Student Councils to meet with him in San Francisco in March to discuss violence on high school campuses.

Rafferty made the invitation in a letter to Don Segerstrom of Sonora High School, president of the association.

He said the object would be to find ways in which the state Board of Education might be able to prevent "the type of violence on our high school campuses which has been so distressingly frequent of late on our college campuses and which is now apparent in our California high schools."

"The state board and I both feel that we should get the advice and counsel of the only group of students in our state who are responsible through the elective process to many thousands of high school undergraduates," he said.

He proposed the meeting for San Francisco March 12, when the association is scheduled to meet with the state board.

Fire Cuts Into Bolinas Classes

Three classes at Bolinas School got a half-day holiday today when an electrical fire broke out at 9:17 a.m., Supt. Clarence B. Larison reported.

The fire, which started in connections to a portable unit housing fourth and fifth grades, was limited to the electrical system. Larison had no estimate of damage.

Larison said seventh grade pupil Fritz Meyer was the hero of the event, seizing the proper extinguisher for electrical fires and wielding it until the Bolinas Fire Department arrived.

The fire knocked out electricity for third, fourth and fifth grades and those students were sent home at 10 a.m., Larison said.

Today was the last class day before holiday vacation, so the district has until Jan. 6 to make repairs.

YELLOW-ROBED SANTA — Despite the fact he's not wearing a red suit, it's Santa anyway — that is Baba Santa. In his African robes of yellow, black and gold Henri Umbaji King of Detroit — who calls himself Baba Santa — is holding court in Detroit. Sharing her Christmas secrets with the new version Santa is 4-year-old Trina Arrington of Detroit. (AP Wirephoto)

AFRO VERSION

Baba Santa On Scene In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — There's a new Christmas vision being presented to black children in Detroit — giraffes not elves; tigers instead of reindeer. He's a Santa in a yellow robe with a black and gold shirt and he calls himself Baba Santa.

There's even some fanciful talk of moving the North Pole to Nigeria.

Baba Santa, otherwise known as Henri Umbaji King of Detroit, shares ownership with his brother of an Afro clothing shop in downtown Detroit.

King has been greeting children on his throne, set up in the front of the store. But if his line is classical Santa Claus — 'What is your name?" "What do you want for Christmas?"—his language and Christmas objects are vastly different. Swahili, Yoruba and occasional English fill the air.

King tells children that they will get lions and tigers for Christmas, and that presents will be delivered by giraffes.

Like the guy who wears a red suit, Baba Santa takes the children on his knee and communicates... but differently:

"Would you like a tiger to bring the doll to your house?" he asked.

She nodded yes.

"Well, if you hear scratching on the door, that'll be my tiger," Baba Santa stated. "You let him in and be good to him. And then let him go to sleep under your bed."

King says, it's "telling it like it is" to black children.

He said that so many blacks reject their African heritage that he was amazed recently when a little girl specified that she wanted a black doll.

Detroit area stores have reported wide pre-Christmas sales of black dolls to whites as well as Negroes. One white customer said she hoped a doll with a black face would avert or overcome any prejudice her child might be exposed to.

King says that there are Christmas symbols in the African tradition and "We've been studying part of our past heritage and we'd like to pass it along."

S.F. State Teachers, Trustees Eye Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State college trustees met with mediators and teachers' union representatives in preliminary efforts to avert a teachers' strike at San Francisco State College.

The three groups discussed an agenda for a planned grievance session between administration officials and the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers Local 1352, representing about 300 of the college's 1,100 instructors.

"We'll be discussing what's legally permissable for the trustees to talk about and, within that, what the union specifically wants to discuss," said Herman Epstein, general counsel for the trustees.

The teachers threaten to strike Jan. 6—the day classes are to resume after holiday vacation—unless there are "meaningful negotiations" about their demands for higher pay, shorter hours and more control over their workload.

Another demand is that the violence-spawning strike by militant students be settled by the time school reopens.

The Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front, representing the leadership of the student activists, have repeatedly stated their demands are non-negotiable. There appeared to be no developments on that front.

In the background, the Academic Senate's presidential selection committee continued interviews of nominees for permanent president to take over from acting President S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley.

San Mateo College Closes Early To Avoid Turbulence

SAN MATEO (AP)—A Christmas pause has been invoked in efforts to quell turbulence on the College of San Mateo campus.

With a community march on the embattled junior college arranged for today, officials canceled all classes yesterday afternoon until after the holidays.

The march was planned by Negroes to protest an alleged downgrading of financial and tutorial aid to minority students.

Another controversial point was the recent removal of Robert Hoover, a Negro, as director of the project—called the College Readiness Program—along with his assistant.

The dismissal, ordered by college president Robert Weigleben, came after two days of violent outbreaks on the hilltop campus.

The disturbances were climaxed by a rampage last Friday in which a mob of 150 ran across the campus swinging steel pipes, injuring a dozen of students and professors.

Wilson Cancels Try To Negotiate Peace

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson offered to fly to Lagos to make a personal bid for a Christmas cease-fire in Nigeria's civil war but gave up the idea when told he had little chance of success, the prime minister's office announced today.

A spokesman said Col. Odumedgwu Ojukwu, Biafra's leader, made it clear the rebels would accept a cease-fire only if their independence from the Lagos government was acknowledged. The spokesman added that this and an equally tough reply by Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the former leader, caused Wilson to change his mind about the trip.

New Technique Will Capture Charcoal Art

AMSTERDAM (SS) — A new technique, infrared reflectography, is being used to detect the original charcoal sketches or drawings underneath oil paintings in a way not previously effective with conventional infrared photography.

The new method uses longer infrared wavelengths than those heretofore tried by art historians. The longer wavelengths penetrate the layers of oil paint to make the original design on wooden panels visible.

Dr. J. R. J. van Asperen de Boer, affiliated with the Central Research Laboratory for Objects of Art and Science in Amsterdam, says the method showed that in the famous medieval painting representing the adoration of the Magi in the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam, a camel in the final version replaced the head of a horse in an earlier charcoal drawing.

Martin N. Hanzlik is president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club.

Richmond Seeks Court Nod To Mix Schools By Busing

RICHMOND (AP) — A plan to integrate the 44,000-pupil Richmond public school system through busing will go to Superior Court Judge Richard Arnason Monday for consideration.

The Richmond Board of Education voted for the plan 3-2 Wednesday night before an audience of nearly 3,000 who mixed applause and boos during the lengthy debate.

The board action followed an earlier ruling by Judge Arnason that a plan of integration should be proposed by Monday for the Verde school, which has 100 per cent Negro enrollment.

A suit by the Contra Costa Legal Services Foundation last month attacked de facto segregation at Verde school.

The plan for integration by busing calls for limiting enrollment in each school to 700, with no more than 38 per cent Negro pupils. For the system as a whole. The Negro pupils make up 23 per cent.

Beginning with Verde, Dover and Broadway schools next September, the integration would be carried out over a three-year period.

If you plan to call Long Distance this Christmas
We know how enjoyable it is to call relatives and loved ones at Christmastime. That's why we will have every available Operator on duty and all circuits in operation to handle an expected record number of calls. But just as freeways often become crowded during rush hour traffic, our telephone lines sometimes become overloaded during the Christmas rush and calls may be delayed. To help you avoid the disappointment of a delayed Christmas call, we suggest the following:

CALL EARLY
You'll have a much better chance of getting your call through if you call before Christmas Day. In fact, why not take advantage of the low rates this weekend by placing your out-of-state calls anytime after 7:00 pm Friday.

DIAL DIRECT
Your call will go through faster if you dial it yourself, using the Area Code and number. If you get a busy signal, hang up and try again. Another hint: traffic is usually lighter in the afternoon.

LATE NIGHT-EARLY RISER SPECIAL
Any night from midnight to 7 am, you can dial direct station-to-station anywhere outside of California in the Continental U.S. (except Alaska) for 75¢ or less for the first three minutes. (You can call when it's 6:30 am here, but 8:30 am in Chicago or 9:30 am in New York.)
We will be doing all we can throughout the holidays to help you and your family have the Merriest Christmas ever.
We're here to help.

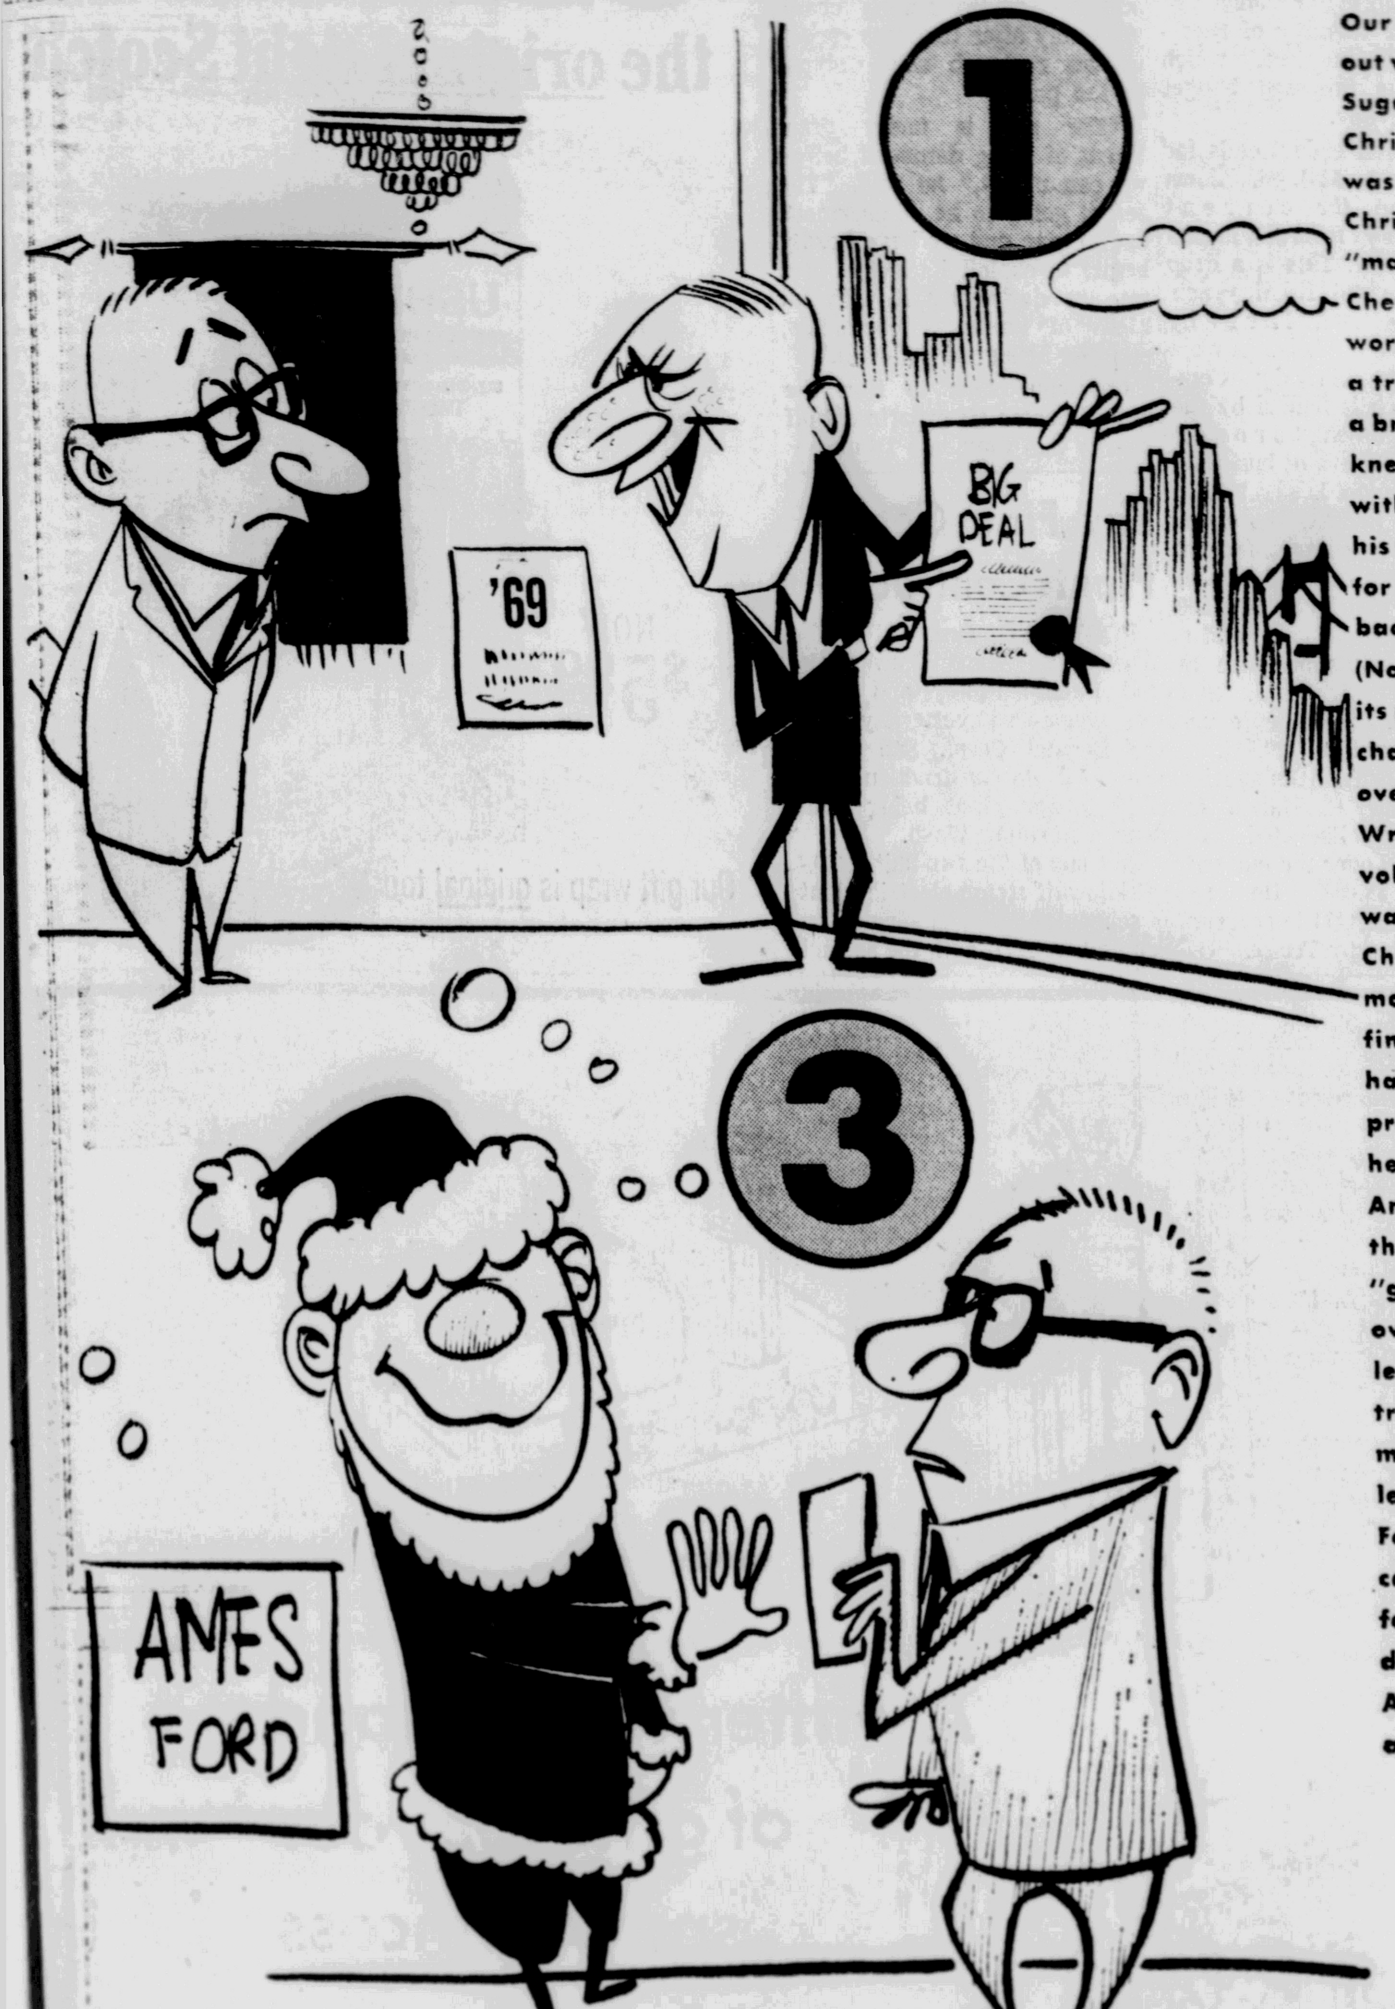
"SAVE YOUR CASH" -- AN AMES FORD PRODUCTION

Or . . . "How to get a new Ford and end up with money in your pocket for Merry Christmas gifting!"



Our Merry Mr. Marin started out with real "visions of Sugar Plums." He had a big Christmas list but figured he was loaded . . . he had his Christmas Club Check, some "mad money" and his old Chev-Fury XVI which had to be worth hundreds of dollars on a trade-in. He secretly wanted a brand new Ford but he knew he had to come back with a new refrigerator for his wife and bikes and toys for the kids . . . or not come back at all! So . . . he went to (No. 1) Bigtown Motors with its plush carpets, gleaming chandeliers (trans. "high overhead") and to (No. 2) Wrongway Motors with its low volume, seedy selection. Both wanted everything he had: Christmas Club check, mad money, trade-in, etc. to finance the high prices they had to get in order to make a profit. He ran like crazy until he stumbled into (No. 3) Ames Ford, where he found that Santa Claus was full of "good cheer"—the Ames' low overhead, high volume deal let him save his cash—his trade-in even put MORE money into his pocket so he left (No. 3) with the brand new Ford of his choice AND enough cash to buy loads of goodies for his wife and family. Why don't YOU check the Ames Deal? Assure yourself a Merry, Merry Christmas.

ABAG Unhappy With Knox Regional Government Idea

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, which would lose all its power under a legislative committee's proposal for regional government in the Bay Area, last night showed it did not like the proposal. (Another ABAG story, page 1.)

The matter came up when Oakland Councilman Felix F. Chialvo suggested that the author of the proposal, Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, discuss it before ABAG's general assembly here on Feb. 28.

The suggestion, however, drew sharp fire from Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, who declared he did not want the semiannual general assembly "used as a forum to destroy us."

Chialvo, reminding committee members that general assembly meetings have a hard time attracting a quorum, noted that inviting Knox "will get us a full house."

Several committee members suggested that Knox be invited to appear, but that he be barred from making a speech, and instead be questioned from the floor.

Finally, it was agreed to invite Knox "and a ringer" to speak. The "ringer," the committee agreed, will have to be a strong proponent of ABAG's own proposal for regional government.

ABAG's favors a regional government to be run by city councilmen and county supervisors appointed to its board of directors by city councils and county supervisors. This is much the way ABAG is run.

Knox is chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization. In the proposal he unveiled Tuesday, he called for a regional government run by directors elected directly by the voters. He did not mention ABAG in his detailed proposal, but did say that all federal funds for reegional planning should go through the new regional government. At present, this is a major function of ABAG.

Electrosleep Success Told By Israelis

TELAVIV (SS) — A group of Israeli doctors reports encouraging results in treating insomnia and asthma with electrosleep therapy.

After 10 to 20 electro sleep treatments — in which a mild current is passed through the brain — 15 of 20 insomniacs regained normal sleep habits and have not relapsed in a year following treatment.

Six scientists at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center are doing the work, and believe their results are promising, though the number of patients was small.

All 20 patients — six men and 14 women, ranging in age from 28 to 71 — were suffering from long-term insomnia. All were resistant to conventional therapy and most were addicted to sleeping pills. Such symptoms as anxiety, depression and agitation diminished with restoration of sleep, according to the Israeli report.

It also states that electrical therapy stopped asthmatic attacks in three of nine children and improved two other.

Electrosleep therapy has not so far won much scientific attention in the United States, but it is popular in the Soviet Union.

ABAG Executive Panel Adopts $918,815 Budget—Slight Drop

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, attesting to the association's recovery from the theft last year of $511,000 of its money, last night adopted a $918,815 budget for fiscal 1969-70, down $244,316 from the current budget.

Federal grants, which make up about half of ABAG's revenue, were frozen for almost nine months during the past year after the theft was discovered, but the federal government has turned on the faucet again. The money was stolen by ABAG's assistant director, Thomas N. Truax, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to prison.

One of the conditions set by the federal government for renewing its grants, however,' was that all ABAG funds be handled by an outside fiscal agent. Alameda County has taken on this job, and only about $1,200 actually will reach the ABAG office here in the Hotel Claremont, said Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, chairman of ABAG's finance subcommittee.

Turning to ABAG's new executive director, J. Julien Baget of Novato, Bort said, "He never gets his clean hands on the filthy loot."

Bort added "it isn't easy living without that half million dollars," but again predicted chances of recovering the money through negotiations with banks and others were good.

The new budget will go before the association's general assembly for adoption at its next meeting here on Feb. 28. The 17 executive committee members present voted unanimously to adopt the budget.

Dues for the new budget will be about the same as during the current fiscal year, Bort said, except for minor changes to reflect changes in the population in cities and counties in ABAG. Marin County's dues this year are $5,275, and the dues of cities in Marin vary from $81 in Belvedere to $1,068 in San Rafael. Dues will be set next month.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis is a member of Bort's finance subcommittee, which prepared the proposed budget earlier yesterday.

The proposed budget calls for dues totaling $231,306, down slightly from the current $232,875, and federal grants totaling $405,452. This is a drop from the current fiscal year's figure of $641,402, largely because the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, which is funded by the federal government through ABAG, is going out of business. Its current budget is $355,250.

The new budget, however, almost doubles current federal funding of for a regional airport study, which would cost $202,500 in the coming fiscal year, and a community shelter program in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco and San Mateo counties, which would get $29,682.

Legal fees for ABAG's special counsel, Arthur C. Harris of Berkeley, are budgeted at $18,000, a jump over the current budget of $3,000. He is negotiating for ABAG to recover the money stolen by Truax.

Motorist And Dog Are Found Drowned

UKIAH (UPI) — A Eureka man and his dog, missing since Nov. 14, were found drowned in a car yesterday under 12 feet of water is Lake Mendocino.

Sheriff's deputies said the victim, Marvin Olaf Edd ,55, apparently drove his car into the lake accidentally.

Sea Explorer Decries Pollution

LONG BEACH (AP)—Underwater explorer Jacques-Yves Cousteau says pollutants threaten to destroy the sea before man can tap its natural resources.

The French oceanographer addressed a welcoming crowd yesterday after fireboats escorted his research ship Calypso to the port.

"The sea is under great threat of being damaged before we can use it," he said. "The sea is going to be of enormous use to man and we have hardly begun to exploit its riches. But we are destroying it with all kinds of waste — chemicals, oils and biological pollution."

Cousteau plans to film the navy's Sealab III experiment off nearby San Clemente Island.

Bay Firm Gets Plant Contract

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Washington Water Power Co. and Pacific Power and Light Co. announced yesterday that the Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, will do construction work on a power plant being built near Centralia, Wash.

Unit one of the two-unit 1,400,000 kilowatt steam-electric plant is scheduled to be in service by September, 1971, with the second unit scheduled for completion a year later.

The work will include the erection of electrical and mechanical equipment, the formation and placement of concrete, and the erection of a boiler which will rise as high as a 23-story building and contain approximately 260 miles of piping.

Pope Warns Of Perils In Somber Talk

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope Paul VI warned in his annual Christmas message today that peace on earth and the very existence of man are in peril.

In one of the most somber speeches of his pontificate, the Pope voiced sorrow at the spectacle of humanity endangered by the nuclear powers of science, torn by rebellion against the values and institutions of the passed and oppressed by poverty and dictators.

Referring to the wave of student disorders and indirectly to the growing challenge to his own authority within the Roman Catholic Church, the pontiff lamented that "contestation became the fashion with the temptation of degenerating into rebellion, violence and anarchy."

"In this social and ideal field, too," the pontiff said, "human hope is being degraded and extinguished. With sorrow do we see that because of these ill-advised collective confusions historical, cultural, moral values which are still valid and worthy are being lost, with consequent damage to the entire civilized community.

We see with amazement how many sane and honest citizens, even wise and heeded teachers, and responsible public men cannot find in themselves the energy to defend and revive intelligently a patrimony of civilization won by immense sacrifices . . . the energy to save society and especially future generations from the consequences of useless and ruinous material and moral destruction."

In an obvious allusion to political repression under dictatorships in various parts of the world, the pointiff added:

"With regret also de we see that often the presumed remedy for these disorders, real or anticipated, is nothing more than a recourse to heavy-handed repression of lawful freedoms . . ."

New York's deSapio Indicted On Bribery

NEW YORK (AP) — Carmine G. De Sapio, former leader of Tammany Hall and one-time major power in the Democratic Party in New York State, was indicted today with two other men on bribery conspiracy charges.

A federal grand jury charged that De Sapio conspired in the bribing of the city's former water commissioner, James L. Marcus, already jailed in a kickback scandal that rocked the present administration of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Named with De Sapio in the indictment were Antonio (Tony Ducks) Corallo and wealthy contractor Henry Fried.

The three were accused of bribing Marcus, whose department also had control of electricity and gas supplies, to get contracts from the Consolidated Edison Co. for one of Fried's firms.

De Sapio and Corallo were to share in the profits from the contracts, the indictment alleged.

Fried also was involved in the earlier bribe case against Marcus, in which Marcus was accused of taking part of a $40,000 kickback from Fried for an $800,000 reservoir-cleaning contract.

De Sapio, long-time head of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, was deposed in 1961 after a long fight by reform Democrats and lost his seat on the Democratic National Committee in 1964.

Marcus and Herbert Itkin, an attorney who says he has been an FBI informer, were named as co-conspirators in today's indictment, but were not made defendants in the action.

The indictment charges that De Sapio gave Itkin about $5,000 during a meeting Dec. 4, 1967.

It also describes an alleged meeting Nov. 10 that year in a fashionable East Side restaurant, during which De Sapio met with Max Ulrich, a Con Edison vice president, and public relations man Sydney Baron.

Judy's Ex-Spouse Faces Charges

FREEHOLD, N.J. (UPI) — Sid Luft, business manager and former husband of singer Judy Garland, was indicted yesterday on charges of passing more than $3,000 in worthless checks during a summer appearance here by Miss Garland.

The indictment charged Luft, 52, West Los Angeles, with issuing a check for $1,000 on June 25 and another for $2,639.68 on June 29 of this year to the Berkeley Carteret Hotel.

The couple stayed at the hotel while Miss Garland was appearing at the Garden State Arts Center in nearby Holmdel.

Republican Central Committee Cancels

The December meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, scheduled Christmas Eve, has been canceled, chairman Charles Michals reported.

The committee's next meeting, at which new members elected in the June primary will be sworn in, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 6 in the County Courthouse, San Rafael. New officers also will be elected.

State Asks Cash For Steam Buses

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly has applied for a $450,000 federal grant to test four steam-powered buses in the San Francisco, announced today.

Foran, chairman of the Assembly Transportation Committee, said he is confident the application will be approved by the Federal Department of Transportation.

Two of the buses would be in San Francisco and two in the East Bay region, Foran said.

Foran said steam buses would be virtually noiseless, smogless and would be far more efficient than diesel-powered buses.

General Promoted

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Brig. Gen. George W. Edmonds, chief of staff of the California Air National Guard, has been promoted to the rank of major general.

W. Germany Names New U.S. Envoy

BONN, Germany (AP) — Rolf Pauls, Bonn's first ambassador to Israel, was announced today as the new West German Ambassador in Washington to succeed Karl Heinrich Knappstein.

The Foreign Ministry said Pauls, 53, would take up his Washington post early in 1969. It said Knappstein, who has served in the U.S. capital since 1962, is retiring "for health reasons."

SPECIAL CLASS

Grooming And Skills For Secretaries

By JOANNE GRANT

A balanced combination of secretarial training and feminine polish have been blended into an unusual course designed to turn Marin City high school girls into competent, attractive secretaries.

The girls, an enthusiastic group of 20 teen-agers, love it — and with reason.

The secretarial courses, held on Tuesday and Thursday nights at San Domenico School for Girls, are aimed directly at providing them with skills they will need on the job.

The auxiliary course, an informal charm class held on Wednesday nights in Marin City, is covering everything from make-up to how to apply for a job, with practical applications highlighting each class.

Joyce Brewer, a member of the Education Corps which helped start the course, volunteered to teach the charm classes as "icing to encourage them to complete their skills."

"Employers have said they've had girls come in that don't know how to apply for a job, and girls who are not well groomed," she explained.

Miss Brewer, a social worker in San Francisco, had definite ideas on what she believes the girls need to be successful on the job, and she combined her ideas with suggestions from the girls.

They are covering how to stand, sit, walk and bend, exercises, hair care and styling, make-up, grooming and proper attire on the job.

But more important, she believes, is attitude — "How to get along with your boss, how to relate to the public, how to carry on your own positive identity," she said.

For these reasons, she does not, for example, encourage the girls to straighten their hair if they prefer the natural look.

To some employers, Miss Brewer said, the natural look suggests militancy or association with the Black Panthers. "This need not be," she said firmly.

The girls who wear the natural look say they do so because they are proud of being black. "It's me. I feel more natural this way," said Sherri Evans.

Miss Brewer is using skits as a teaching tool and the girls are learning fast. Recently, a College of Marin student assisted her with a skit on how to apply for a job.

The next week, she called on

Marin Girl Also To Bow At Cotillion

By MOLLY MARIN

When the 29 girls bow at the Cotillion in San Francisco Monday evening the Edward D. Bullards of Ross will be on hand to see their daughter Elizabeth's presentation. Escorted by Noble Hamilton III, she will actually be making her second bow, as Elizabeth is also among the Marin girls who will be presented at the Marin Debutante Ball Saturday.

Two of the Cotillion debs are students at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow — Tess Kok and Dee Dee Wilson, both of San Francisco. The Cotillion, of course, will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel as always, while the Marin Ball will be given for the first time at the St. Francis Hotel two nights before.

A NUMBER of those attending the champagne Christmas party at San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere tonight are planning to stay on for dinner.

Hosting large tables will be the Irving Sugarmans, Thomas Woodwards, Don Carlbergs, E. M. Witzels and C. M. Petersons. Dr. and Mrs. H. Corwin Hinshaw will share a table with Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Millzner. The Robert Davieses, Russell Dicksons, and G. D. Arntzes have also made reservations.

Serving canapes in Christmas red aprons will be hostesses from the women's auxiliary, the Mmes. William Healy, Paul Duggan, John De Witt, J. E. Madrigali, Herbert-Ross, Dorothy Shemanski, Benjamin Ballard and L. W. Colby.

A LARGE dinner dance at the World Trade Club in San Francisco will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Levison of Belvedere on Dec. 28. About 150 guests have been invited to the black tie holiday party.

RESIDENTS OF Florence Avenue in San Anselmo have their homes decorated and are planning a Christmas celebration to begin at sundown tomorrow.

Santa Claus will visit with gifts for the children; carols will be sung and refreshments served.

This will be the 14th annual Florence Avenue block party.

MARY ANN Schubert became the bride of Randolph Scott Keller in a ceremony Nov. 27 in the Epworth Methodist Church in Tacoma, Wash. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Schubert of Tacoma, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Keller Jr. of Ross.

TWO MARIN families are aboard the Lurline on their way to Hawaii. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moresco and their children of Corte Madera and Mrs. Maidie O. Kane of Kentfield and her children.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Stearns are planning a buffet supper at 6 p.m. Sunday following the final performance of the Nutcracker Suite ballet for members of the cast, their parents and others who have worked on the ballet.

MMES. JOHN A. Wilson, Walker K. Langer and Robert L. Holman of San Rafael had lunch at Oreste's Restaurant Thursday before attending the matinee performance of the San Francisco Symphony.

ANTHONY RICCI, commodore of the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club, and Mrs. Ricci will entertain at a cocktail party at their home tonight for the executive board of the yacht club. Messrs. and Mmes. William Gross and Theron Newell, who will be judges for the Christmas lighting contests, both on the lagoon side of the homes and on the street side, will also be guests at the party.

THE BEL MARIN Keys Yacht Club will have a New Years' Eve party beginning at 9 p.m. in the pavilion with dancing to be followed by a champagne toast at midnight and a hot buffet supper. Mmes. Ben Kamp and Jack Sarin are cochairmen for the party.

Marin Debutante Ball Set Tomorrow In San Francisco

Twenty girls will make their bows tomorrow at the seventh Marin Debutante Ball at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, with the Marin Charitable Foundation as the sponsor. Some 500 family members and guests have been invited to the presentation, which will be held in the Mural Room. Judge Jordan Martinelli will introduce each girl.

The 1968 Marin debutantes are:

MARGARET AIROLA, daughter of Mrs. Maccoun Airola of Carmichael and Dr. Virgil Airola of Sacramento.

LORI BARSOCCHINI, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Kentfield.

ELIZABETH BULLARD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bullard Jr. of Ross.

JOANNE CIERI, daughter of Mrs. Salvatore Cieri of Larkspur and the late Dr. Cieri.

ROBIN CLUTE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Clute of Belvedere.

D'ARCY DETTNER, daughter of Mrs. David Zec of Kentfield and Arthur Dettner Jr. of San Francisco.

KATHLEEN ENGLISH, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. English of Kentfield.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Are Fairy Tales More Grim Than Nightly Grim Television Shows?

DEAR HELEN:

I wanted to get our grandchildren a book of fairy tales for Christmas, but my daughter-in-law had a fit. She says they are filled with sex and violence, as in "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Hansel and Gretel," — and think of the hidden meaning in "Little Red Riding Hood." Nursery Rhymes? Also out. Mother Hubbard starves. The Old Woman in the shoe is mean to her children. Those poor little blind mice with their tails chopped off; and Cock Robin killed.

I crept away, feeling like a sadist, through a crowd of kids in front of the television set. They were watching a biff, bam, zowie cartoon that mowed down people right and left.

Which is worse? Grimms' Fairy Tales, or grim TV? — GRAMMA

DEAR GRAMMA:

About the same — and a little of each won't hurt. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a bachelor going steady with a married woman. For almost three years, she has said she'd leave her husband for me, but now she tells me she loves us both.

I have given her many things, including my time. I want to give her my name, but she prefers this arrangement. Her husband has considerable money. She spends it freely, on me as well as herself.

My father always said women are not to be trusted, but my mother told me that women are never the takers.

Tell me, Helen, is it possible I am being taken? — STANLEY

DEAR STANLEY:

You're being "kept." The husband is being taken. Break the leash now, before you become known as the available pet for bored married women. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please tell me why a boy of almost 20 would take a bath, then put back on the same dirty clothes he has worn all day? He works in a factory, so they're anything but clean. Then about two hours later, he puts on pajamas, and when he's asleep, I sneak out the clothes and put them in the wash. — HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER:

Why don't you put clean clothes in the bathroom? And tell him why? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My problem concerns my girl friend. When just the two of us are together, she is wonderful, but as soon as our husbands come on the scene, she seems to hate me. If he directs a question at me, she freezes. She watches every move I make around him.

I can't believe she is jealous of me as I have a very happy home, and I am not a flirt.

I have stopped talking to him almost entirely, but this makes a very strained atmosphere. What should I do? —HURT

DEAR HURT:

Your friend might appreciate a frank discussion of jealousy, woman to woman. —H.

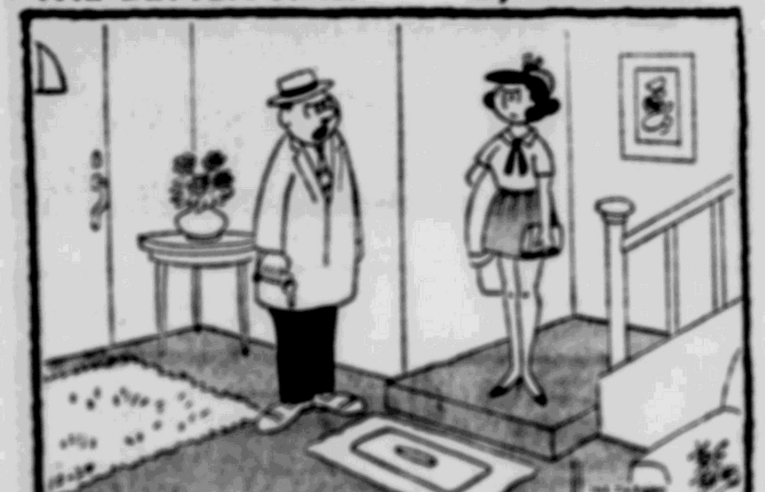
THE BETTER HALF

By Bob Barnes



"You forgot your lollipop and Shirley Temple doll!"

CHIN UP — Miss Joyce Brewer, director of the charm course, works on posture with Debbie Perry, left, and Sherri Evans. Miss Brewer and the students have designed the course to cover everything from posture to proper dress to attitude.

Secretarial Training Class

Debbie Perry to pretend she was applying for a job and the Tamalpais High School junior played her part well.

Debbie said she finds practicing valuable. She said she had applied for a job in September and hadn't known just what to expect. "I was embarrassed to ask some of those questions" such as what the pay would be, she said.

She said she has also learned what information the prospective employer will expect.

It was just two months ago that the idea of the school was suggested at a meeting of county human rights groups. It gained so much momentum that first night it was ready to open three weeks later.

The charm class was added last month, in the same spontaneous way.

Instrumental in the program were the Education Corps, a group of Greenbrae women, mostly housewives, who wanted "to do something besides sit around and talk:" San Domenico School and Horace White, human rights department youth worker who acts as coordinator.

White, a 20-year-old San Francisco State College student who lives in Marin City, was present at the first meeting and quashed the initial suggestion of getting donations to start the secretarial school in Marin City.

Calling the idea "ridiculous" White pointed out there are many schools in Marin County which were already well equipped.

Sister Dorothea, dean of San Domenico, was also present and volunteered use of the school's facilities.

White agreed to find students and transportation and came up with about 20 young people and a bus.

Volunteering as teachers were Joseph Scott and Mrs. Carol Ellis of the Dixie School District, Mrs. Dorothy Kinkade of College of Marin, Miss Sally Nious of Marin Catholic High School and Mrs. Shirley Wilkerson, a business woman. Mrs. Judy Shillinger and two nuns from San Domenico serve as teachers aides.

The transportation is being furnished by Herbert Wade's Marin City bus company. The only funds involved in the project so far have gone to Wade for expenses. A special fund raising project, planned by the students and the Education Corps, and held Sunday, provided about $100.

Why are the girls willing to give up three nights a week for extra study?

Debbie, who has taken business courses since she was a freshman, said simply "to improve my skills." She explained the night courses are more oriented to actually becoming a secretary.

Vivian Adams, a Tam High Senior, tried typing when she was a freshman and didn't do so well. She still wanted to learn, however, and enrolled in the night course. She said it is much easier now, due primarily to the individual help given by the teachers.

Planned as supplements to the training are talks by businessmen on what they expect in a secretary and by working secretaries on what is expected of them.

The girls' job chances look bright.

Already, two employers have indicated interest in hiring girls when they finish the course. The human rights commission employment committee, Miss Brewer and members of the Education Corps are also working on job prospects for the girls.

Last Minute Gift Ideas For The Teen-agers On Your List

By GRACE HENDERSON

With Christmas shopping days down to the last few, there are those who are yet struggling with the problem of what to buy for teen-agers. It is easy to shop for clothing, records, cosmetics, auto accessories, toiletries or jewelry but what if you would like to give something a bit different this year?

In hopes of assisting mothers, dads, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, grandparents and friends, ideas were found for the teen crowd.

Some unusual gift items were discovered, nothing completely new and unknown but some novel. These are not for those with unlimited amounts to spend for gifts but for those suffering the Christmas pinch. All items are under $20, many under $10.

For the girls there are new photo albums, antique replica pins, jewelry travel folders, pinking shears or plain sewing scissors for the budding seamstress, a mod watch band or one of the outsize wrist watches, and as one suggestion was made: Take a suit or dress box and fill it with an assortment of small items pertaining to that person's particular interest.

For the artistically inclined there could be acrylic crayons, glue, sketch pad, etc.; for the seamstress, pattern, material, thread, book of sewing hints, etc.; for the outdoor girl it could be a head scarf, colorful gloves, carryall pouch, etc.;

and for the social butterfly the box might contain a pass to the movies, a kooky calendar, etc. and a note pad complete with a promissory note stating "mother will keep all incoming telephone messages accurately."

Young men on your list might like a groovy gong alarm clock, false mustache, paperback books, travel shoe shine kit that is of fake fur for polishing shoes and inside has a pocket for storing the polish, a small chess set, a soldering iron, hi-intensity desk lamp, ship or patio bell for his room, a microscope, pet monkey or reptile or fish or bird, a movie pass, sports equipment, psychodelic switch plate cover or paisley car mats.

For either, there are luggage tags with special eye-catching windows, stuffed animals, puzzles that are small and easily carried, new wide ties, and posters. In fact, posters were suggested as a substitute for greeting cards throughout the year giving the receiver a complete collection in all.

There are numerous new designs in key ring-flashlight combinations that would come in handy plus many small items to be used in connection with their favorite hobby.

And if all else seems not quite the thing, how about a one of the new piggy banks — just in hopes they will save their pennies for college?

Leanne Bertram Bride In Larkspur Ceremony

Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur was the setting Wednesday for the marriage of Leanne Bertram and Donald Lee Bly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George August Bertram of Kentfield. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Bly of Menlo Park, formerly of Greenbrae, are the bridegroom's parents.

Carole Bertram was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Ed Bauche of Sacramento and Elene Johnstone of Pasadena were bridesmaids.

Thomas J. Bly of Los Angeles was his brother's best man, and the bride's brother, George Bertram, and Nick Kerry of Greenbrae ushered.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Leanne and Donald are both graduates of Redwood High School. Leanne was graduated from Scripps College in Claremont, and Donald was graduated from Harvey Mudd College, also in Claremont. He is in graduate school at Stanford University.

The bride is also the sister of Bonnie and Sarah Bertram, and Mrs. H. A. Norman of San Francisco is her grandmother. She is employed as a programmer with Fireman's Fund Insurance Company.

The couple's first home is Palo Alto.

Silent Auction Is New Feature Of Sunny Hills Bargain Box

A new feature of the Sunny Hills Bargain Box has been the silent auctions, held the last Saturday of each month. These enable the public to view, for a week in advance, some of the articles for sale. Many are collector's items, antiques from older homes and beautiful hand made articles. There is a wide variety suitable for Christmas gifts.

This innovation is the brain child of Mrs. Douglas Dwyer, assistant manager, who loves antiques and takes these articles home to clean and mend before each sale.

For the convenience of Christmas shoppers, this month the sale will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at 607 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

Items are a large, completely decorated Christmas tree, an old wicker cradle, two bisque head dolls, a hand made black lace mantilla, some old daguerreotypes, a bamboo book case, and a wide variety of other articles.

Mrs. Cecil Norton is manager of the Bargain Box, and Mrs. Edward Boero is president of the Bargain Box Council.

THE SAUSALITO Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary is preparing for the ninth annual Christmas children's party to be held Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Sausalito Yacht Club. Highlight will be the arrival by boat of Father Christmas, Bob Miller, at the yacht club dock.

Santa's elves, who will distribute gifts to the children and refreshments to yacht club members, will be Stacy and Brad Thomson, Virginia and Roseanne Sargent and Kent Delahay.

Chairman Mrs. Frederick Delahay has named Mrs. R. W. Whitaker mistress of ceremonies. She will introduce Lewis Mahlmann, director of the Puppet Theatre at the Children's Fairyland in Oakland. Twice president of the Puppeteers of America and vice president of the International Puppet organization, Mahlmann has a puppet in the largest collection of puppets in the world in the Munich Museum in Germany.

Mrs. George Bock will distribute children's prizes. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Jerome Vaeth, Howard Harker, S.C. Stapp and J. David Mauerman.

A GROUP from St. Stephens Church, Belvedere, will be singing Christmas carols throughout the Tiburon Peninsula from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Refreshments for the carolers will be served by St. Stephens Guild in Whitaker Hall.

CHAIRMEN FOR the Marin Civic Ballet Association's performances of "The Nutcracker" have been announced by the group. Mrs. Caesar Taverna is general chairman for the three performances, set for tomorrow and Sunday at College of Marin Theater.

Mrs. Lloyd Gill is chairman for backstage activity, and Mrs. Luciano Sabella is hospitality chairman. Mrs. Mac Thelen, president, and Mrs. Kirk Frederick will design the posters and program. Mrs. Alan Gizzi and Mrs. T. E. McCormick have sent pamphlets to the Marin schools on the production.

Mrs. Gizzi is a chairman for group ticket sales and Mrs. Paul Lucas is box office chairman from the performances. Mrs. Louis Prysetak is ticket chairman.

The ballet will be given at 2:30 p.m. both days and at 8 p.m. Dec. 21.

THE GERMAN Language School of Marin will have its Christmas party for students, parents and friends tomorrow from 11:15 to 12:15 at the Santa Venetia Middle School on San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

A program, presented by the students, ages 3 through 15, will include action stories, poems, songs and an original play written by Dr. Martha Bruckner, faculty member. German carol singing will be led by Mrs. F. M. Sorensen, vice president, and Santa Claus will make an appearance.

Home-made Linzer Tortes, traditional German Christmas cakes, will be sold to raise funds for the non-profit organization.

TAMAR CHAPTER B'nai B'rith Women will hold their fourth annual children's Hanukah party Sunday at the Terra Linda Recreation Center beginning at 2:30 p.m. Each Jewish child is asked to bring a non-Jewish child is his guest.

To celebrate the holiday, also known as the Festival of Lights, the children will witness the traditional blessing and lighting of the Hanukah menorah.

MRS. FRANK SAMPIETRO of San Rafael, chairman of the Marin County Orphans of Italy, announced $462 was realized from a dinner dance at the Marin Golf and Country Club for that group. Father William Porter Corbani is associated with the project in Italy and visited in Marin County earlier this year.

Assisting with the project were Burt Mollo, Dismo Scatena, Ed Bettini, Frank Carbone, Frank Sampietro, Jim Regalia, Sil De Maestri, Hector Rubini and the Nave brothers.

Iran gave women the vote in 1963.

Mrs. John McBeath To Head Sunny Hills Guild

Bridge, sewing, gardening, camping, hiking and fishing are among the varied interests and pasttimes of Mrs. John K. McBeath, president of Novato Guild I of Sunny Hills.

MRS. JOHN K. McBEATH

The wife of a teacher at Novato High School, Awilda McBeath, or Willy as she is called, has served as vice president, secretary, candy chairman, Grape Festival chairman, walnut chairman and rummage sale co-chairman, during her seven years membership in the guild.

Projects for the year include a rummage sale in the spring, sale of shelled walnuts and participation in the grape festival.

The new president and her husband have four children. They are Mrs. John Howard of Arlington, Va., Robbie, 19, and Christine, 18, both students at College of Marin, and Carolyn 16.

She was graduated from Walla Walla, Wash. High School and attended the University of Washington in Seattle. She is presently taking courses at San Francisco State College and College of Marin.

A resident of Marin County for 17 years, Willy is also a member of the Novato Presbyterian Church and the Novato Community Ambassadors.

Officers to serve with Mrs. McBeath are Mmes. Chester Kiesel, vice president; Stanley Ormond, secretary; and Robert Weber, treasurer.

Miss Sparrow Is Married

The San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere was the setting for the reception following the wedding of Barbara Susan Sparrow and Johnny Van Youngs, both of Novato, yesterday.

The couple were married at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sparrow chose as her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Timothy Gallagher of Sacramento and as maid of honor, Carol Kokjer of Oakland. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne A. Russell and Barbara Weber of Novato and Mrs. William Call of Corte Madera.

Robert Youngs of Las Vegas was best man for his brother, and ushers were Tom Corder, Everett Fritze, Bob Saunders and Wayne Lint, all of Novato.

The couple will reside in Corvallis, Ore. following a wedding trip to Southern California and Lake Tahoe.

Barbara was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Louis B. Sparrow of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Healey of Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Youngs of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is also the brother of Mrs. Douglas Anderson of Fairfield. The bridegroom was graduated from Novato High School and is a junior at Oregon State University.

ALAN KENNETH Burton wed Nancy Jeanne Purvis Saturday at Mission San Rafael Arcangel. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Purvis of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burton of Hampshire, England. (Faulkner photo)

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Children, says Marin Magazine editor Don Keown, aren't the only age group for whom Christmas has special significance. Its observance can also have great meaning for senior citizens. In tomorrow's pre-Christmas issue of the I-J's weekend supplement, he tells you why. And how one Marin County home for elderly persons makes certain that the holidays are a time of joy rather than a time of loneliness for its resident guests.

Thousands of Christmas cards and parcels Marinites have been placing in the mails bear colorful little seals that are a symbol of man's fight against one of his most dreaded foes, tuberculosis. There's a Marin man, Dr. Corwin Hinshaw, who has played a special role in that conflict. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine reports on Dr. Hinshaw's contribution, and offers his views on how man stands today in that still continuing war against TB.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

Don't Raise the Bridge, Lower the River — Made in England. Jerry Lewis in a refreshingly straight comic role as an irresponsible wheeler-dealer.

Dr. Dolittle — A beguiling excursion into a delectable world of fantasy. He is a Victorian physician who communicates better with animals than with people.

Head — Adventure of the musical group "The Monkies."

Magnificent Men and Their Flying Machines — Planes of 1910 vintage are stars in this humorous, farcical adventure, comedy extravaganza.

Mrs. Brown, You've Got a Lovely Daughter — Lighthearted comedy with music by Herman's Hermits. Mrs. Brown is a prize greyhound.

Shakiest Gun in the West — Amusing western comedy about a timid young dentist who heads west (1880) to seek his fortune.

Sound of Music — A joyous happy film filled with breathtaking beauty and music and the enchantment of Julie Andrews.

BORDERLINE

Rough Night in Jericho — Into slim plot is woven much sadistic violence — a very brutal western.

ADULTS ONLY

Blue Max — Exploits of famous World War I German Ace. Photography is magnificent, spectacular and dramatic. Intimate sex scenes make film unsuitable for youth.

Stay Away, Joe — A wild-eyed, tasteless comedy which caricatures the Indian community as a group of drunken delinquents. Film is an insult to the American Indians.

Valley of the Dolls — Word "dolls" in the title refers not to girls but to the pills to which they are addicted. A corny soap opera.

Traffic Light Not In Time At Bad Spot

An accident-prone intersection in Lucas Valley was the scene of another wreck Wednesday while a traffic light was being installed to make the intersection safer.

Cars driven by Tressa R. Kern, 26, of 94 Glen Drive, Sausalito, and Ruth P. Kilby, 47, of 1085 Las Ovejas, Terra Linda, collided at the intersection of Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Kern's car flipped into the air and overturned and then damaged a pickup truck owned by the L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael, parked near the intersection while the firm installed a traffic light, the patrol said.

Miss Kern was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple bruises. Mrs. Kilby, unhurt, was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Installation of the traffic lights is expected to be completed within two weeks if good weather remains, according to the county public works department.

Unification Timetables To Be Drawn

Time schedules to study unification of elementary school districts in the San Rafael and Tamalpais high school districts were asked Wednesday night by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee is studying the possible unifications only informally, and its members felt they were not ready to act, said Robert E. Spain, administrative services director for the county schools office and the committee's assistant secretary.

Chairman Rachel Conner and two committee members are to draw up a time schedule for the committee's study of the two high school districts. They are to present their schedule to the committee's next meeting at 8 p.m. on Jan. 15 in the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Spain explained that state law requires the committee to adopt such a schedule before it begins to study a proposed unification.

Tentative Date Is Selected For Chamber Awards

March 1 has been set as the tentative date for the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce "man and woman of the year dinner."

Chamber directors asked residents Wednesday to submit nominations. Selected as co-chairmen of the selection committee were Leslie Rosen and Bart C. Mitchell. Committee members are Maurice Fredericks, John Henman and Dr. Lauren D. Anderson, chamber president.

Rohnert Park Chamber directors also:

ELECTED — Chose John Kauffman to fill the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of High Codding.

UNITED FUND — Reported that teams soliciting for the United Fund had reached their goals. Participating were Mrs. Reba Roberts, Richard Day, Edward Capocy, R. Allan Forsyth, Harry Cummings, Maurice Fredericks, John Kauffman, Bart C. Mitchell, John Henman and Anderson.

LEGISLATIVE — Appointed Richard Day to report on state legislative activities.

MEETING — Voted to cancel the Jan. 1 meeting and to hold the Jan. 15 meeting at the Sonoma State College cafeteria to promote discussions with students.

Black Panther Photo Display

"The Black Panthers: A Photographic Essay," by a Mill Valley couple, is on display in the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco through Jan. 19.

The essay, of the Black Panther Party in the Bay Area, is by Ruth-Marion Baruch and her husband, Pirkle Jones, of 663 Lovell Avenue.

A total of 123 photographs, taken from July to October, are included in the exhibit.

Clay's Farmhouse Inn At Olema In Line For Ownership Change

There is a change of ownership coming up for the popular Clay's Farmhouse Inn at Olema some time after the first of the year.

Clay and Emma Wright plan to sell out to Jerry and Agnes Bunce, who previously had Jerry's Cafe at Point Reyes Station. The Bunces are already working at the Farmhouse to get acquainted with the operation. Eventually the name will be changed to Jerry's Farmhouse Inn.

Meanwhile the day of closing has been changed from Tuesday to Monday, and the restaurant is open Tuesdays through Sundays for lunches and dinners from noon to 10 p.m. It will be closed Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but reservations are now being taken for New Year's Eve dinner.

After the transfer, Clay and Emma will take a vacation. Later plans are still to be made. I am glad to hear that he is out of the hospital after being attacked at the restaurant.

And at Point Reyes Station, Jerry's Cafe has been taken over by Mrs. Edna Ball. The name here will probably be changed after the first of the year.

A NEW CHINESE RESTAURANT, that was to open at 306 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo yesterday, is called the Golden Palace.

Owner Hing Lung, formerly an interior decorator, will serve both Chinese and American food for lunches and dinners. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. He will be open six days a week but has not yet decided on his day of closing.

CHRISTMAS DAY does not ordinarily find many restaurants open for business. Most people prefer to eat at home or with relatives. The total business would be "poorpickings" if there were no shutdowns, so the majority of restaurant owners take advantage of the occasion to spend their own time at home with their families.

There are exceptions, but so few out of so many around the county that we do not make a complete survey. Some let us know ahead of time and in such cases we pass along the information.

ONE WHO HAS REPORTED in the affirmative, is Matts Mattson of the Old Viking in Lagunitas. He and his wife Phyllis plan to serve Christmas Day from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. This Swedish restaurant will also be open on New Year's Eve and on New Year's Day with its full menu. Make reservations for all three times.

LAST WEEK I reported Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate Shopping Center as planning to open Christmas Day. This was wrong. It will be open Christmas Eve but will close the next day.

IN TIBURON, El Borro Restaurant plans to be open Monday, Dec. 23 — its usual day of closing. It will then close Tuesday and Christmas Day, but be open every day after that through the balance of the month. Make reservations for the New Year's Eve celebrations here.

El Borro will close during the first three days in January.

LA PETITE AUBERGE in San Rafael will close Monday through Thursday next week, opening again Friday evening, Dec. 27.

There will be a New Year's Eve celebration but I believe reservations have closed for the late dinner. There may be some space for the early dinner period, but phone to be certain.

YOUNG RON BISSON has completed Christmas decorations and lighting at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, and it's a pretty sight to see.

This restaurant will be open Christmas Eve, but not on Christmas Day. On New Year's Eve there will be two separate dinner periods, with the big party starting at 10 p.m. Reservations will be needed for both periods.

THE GROTTO in San Rafael, which has become very popular for its seafood specialties, will close on Christmas Day. It will be open New Year's Eve but probably close well before the midnight hour. On New Year's Day it will be open from 4 p.m.

There will be another period of closing there after Sunday, Jan. 5, for vacation and redecorating the restaurant. A reopening is planned for Jan. 23.

ONE OF THE FEW OCCASIONS on which the San Geronimo National Country Club throws open its dining room for something besides a large group affair for dinner is New Year's Eve. This New Year's is no exception and the club has already picked up a number of reservations. It should be quite an affair, with Bob Olney's Orchestra supplying the music for dancing. Reserve your table as far ahead of time as possible.

ALSO IN SAN GERONIMO, the Oak Tree Inn is taking reservations for New Years Eve dinner and merriment. Price is $15 per couple.

ANNUAL CHAMPAGNE DINNER on New Year's Eve at Rubini's in Fairfax is slated for 10 p.m. As in bygone years, Lowell Hawk at the piano and Frank Stitt at the organ will team up for the musical program. Make reservations early.

ENTERTAINMENT at San Francisco's Kuo Wah Restaurant in Chinatown is now featuring vocalist Cora Beloy with organist and pianist Alan Cheng.

She is the winner of a talent search two months ago for someone to sing in the restaurant's Flower Drum Lounge. Quite versatile, she sings in English, Japanese, Tagalog, Spanish and Malayan. Alan is teaching her Chinese.

She is a recording star on the Tri-World label and has appeared at a number of top night spots as well as aboard the President Rooesvelt and President Cleveland. She and Alan perform nightly from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. except on Sundays.

FOUR NEW RESTAURANTS are planned to open at Playland-at-the-Beach in San Francisco by the first of the year. One will be a German-style hof brau with its entrance on the Great Highway.

THE MIDORI ROOM, new addition to Suehiro Restaurant in San Francisco's Japanese Cultural and Trade Center at Post and Laguna Streets, is now open for banquets, private parties and luncheon and dinner meetings.

The new room accommodates up to 100 persons. Movable partitions allow it to be divided for smaller groups. Seating can be arranged for either western or Japanese-style tables. Make bookings with sales manager Yoshimi Akuhara. Suehiro is open daily for lunch and dinner.

THOSE BIG restaurant-style gas ranges are becoming more and more popular in homes.

Gourmet hosts like these features: Two extra-large ovens, six burners, a large griddle and a broiler with heavy radiant ceramics. If you do a large amount of entertaining you might look them over.

Models are available at dealers today with oven doors colored avocado, coppertone, yellow or turquoise. Other exterior surfaces are light gray, blue gray or dark gray to simulate the appearance of stainless steel. Some models cost little more than many deluxe residential units.

Citizen's Flying Tackle Stops Theft Suspect

A 24-year-old man was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of entering a San Rafael house after a breaking window aroused neighbors, police said.

The suspect, William E. Hutton of 55 Upper Fremont Drive, San Rafael, was clad only in shorts about 1:30 p.m. when he entered the 1536-A Third Street home of Josephine Lake just after telling a neighbor he had to get into the house to reclaim his clothes, police said.

Several minutes later, Hutton was wearing dungarees and a sweater when he was seized on Third Street with a flying tackle by Charles A. Dickinson of 11 Miramar Avenue, San Rafael, a passerby who heard the breaking glass, encountered the suspect in the Lake house and pursued the fleeing Hutton into the street.

Police took the suspect to Marin General Hospital for treatment of a cut hand before booking him at County Jail on bail of $1,250.

Nothing was missing from the Lake home, police said.

Petaluma Has Bad Year In Fire Losses

Petaluma suffered its worst year in history in fire loss during 1967-68, fire officials reported.

Fires destroyed $644,043 in building and contents and took one life. Lillian Yochim, 47, of 300 Sixth Street, died Feb. 9 when fire destroyed the apartment house in which she was living.

Chief Roscoe A. Benton said two major fires caused damage totals to run high. They were at the Golden Eagle Milling Co., which was destroyed on July 4, 1967, at a loss of $417,000 and the Continental Hotel, which was wrecked on May 5, 1968, at a loss of $121,276.

Loss during 1966-67 was estimated at $49,417. In recent years, loss has been kept at that level, except for 1963-64, when the total was estimated at $380,810.

Petaluma firemen answered 225 fire calls last year, with 39 of them false. The ambulances answered 1,001 calls, of which 328 were emergencies.

High Tide Hits Building Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Excavation for a 45-story office building, part of the planned $150-million Rockefeller Center West, has been halted by the appearance of a small lake.

Engineers said yesterday the large pool was the result of high tides and the fact that the construction site is on the waterfront land scantily filled in over the bay many years ago.

A tide reached seven feet yesterday, the highest in several years and the bay moved into the construction site through pipes of the city's combined sewer and storm drain system.

Produce Seller Gets Nixon Wedding Invite

REDONDO BEACH (AP) — Johnnie Musante, who's been delivering produce to Los Angeles families for 20 years, says he's "humbled, flattered and happy" to have been remembered by his most distinguished customers — the Richard M. Nixons.

Musante, 49, received one of the scarce invitations to Sunday's wedding of the President-elect's daughter Julie and David Eisenhower in New York.

His delivery route runs from Beverly Hills to Malibu. He delivered his vegetables to the Nixons for about three years—from 1960 when Nixon was defeated by John F. Kennedy for the presidency, until the Nixons moved to New York City.

"I was referred to Mrs. Nixon by Nancy Reagan, Gov. Ronald Reagan's wife," Musante recalled. "The Reagans have been my customers since they were first married, about 15 years ago. In fact, they still are."

Musante said when he first started servicing the Nixons, they lived on Bundy Avenue in Brentwood. When the family moved to Beverly Hills, that too fell along the vegetable man's route.

Musante said members of the Nixon family, especially Julie, came out to meet him when he'd bring the vegetables by.

"They were all so nice," he said, "really wonderful people."

What kind of vegetables did the Nixons order? "All kinds," said Musante. "Mostly California produce, everything from tomatoes to avocados. They eat very, very well."

He said he was "completely surprised" when he received the invitation to the wedding, which will be a private ceremony restricted to friends of the Nixons and Eisenhowers.

"The only contact I've had with the family since they moved to New York," he said, "was a Christmas card each year."

Musante plans to leave for New York late Saturday. A widower, he will leave his two boys at home.

Carnival Site Is Explored

Lions Park at Stafford Dam will be the site of the carnival and booths for Western Weekend, if the City of Novato and adjoining property owners agree, directors of the event have decided.

The board, at a meeting Wednesday night, voted to call it the Western Weekend Country Fair and abolish the parade.

Dorothy Merla was named to the board and elected secretary. She replaced Gae MacPherson, who resigned.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Jan 20 at Cloud Five.

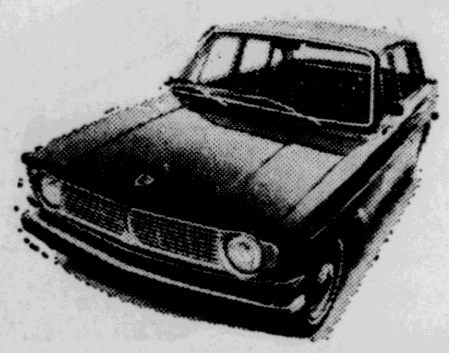
THANK YOU FOR A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS

AND A PROSPEROUS 1968

GEORGE DEXTER

We owe a lot to the people of Marin . . . and we want you to know that we appreciate it. This year we expanded our operation extensively, to include the finest cars (we thought) in the American and Import market, and to sell them to you in a responsible, neighborly manner—never stinting on service and assistance. Apparently you agree with us for this past year has been most rewarding. We thank you and we want you to know that we will try even more in the coming year to give you the best of everything when you buy an automobile at any of our agencies.



WE WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS

ACCIDENT VICTIM — William F. Brandt, 14, is carried from the scene of a five-car accident in San Rafael last night. Six others also were injured. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Rafael Chain Crash Hurts Seven

Seven persons were injured last night in a five-car crash triggered when a motorist hit the accelerator of her car while counting some change in her possession, police said.

Police said a car driven by Carol M. Brandt of 16 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, lurched forward on Fourth Street and rammed a car stopped for a red light at Irwin Street and driven by Thomas King, 49, of 23 Rollingwood Drive.

That set off a chain reaction crash involving cars driven by Melanie A. Brusati, 24, of 218 Forbes Street; Michael L. Peele, 24, of 44 Alta Vista Way, and Pauline M. Scott, 38, of 524 Las Colindas Avenue, all San Rafael.

Miss Brandt's brother, William, 14, suffered scalp and face cuts and was admitted to Marin General Hospital. His condition was reported as fair today.

King and his wife, Lavonne, 46, were released after treatment at the hospital, and Mrs. Scott, Carolyn J. Majliulo, 24, of 132 Solano Street, and Diane L. Pratt, 22, of 11 Laurel Place, also San Rafael, told police they would see their physicians.

Ex-Convict Is Given Jail Time

Lee Allen Miller, 32, of San Rafael, was given a suspended state prison sentence yesterday in Marin Superior Court for forging a check in San Rafael in April.

Judge Harold J. Haley placed the ex-convict on five years of probation and ordered him to serve a year in jail in lieu of the prison sentence.

He also ordered Miller to stay away from liquor and persons of ill repute and to follow programs, suggested by the probation department, of treatment for an alcoholic problem and of psychological treatment.

Study To Increase Novato College Classes Wins Nod

Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved a study of the feasibility of offering more classes in Novato prior to the opening of the north campus there.

Acting college president Louis H. Herkenhoff reported that the district's service in the area is now restricted to evening classes at Novato High School.

Among the possibilities that could be studied would be the use of portable buildings at the north campus site or use of a commercial building in downtown Novato, Herkenhoff said.

The study will determine the education soundness and economic feasibility of expansion in the Novato area, and the eventual recommendation may be that nothing more be done, Herkenhoff explained.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested that there be similar studies covering other areas of Marin, but the board agreed to limit the study to the Novato area at this time.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said the district may find it necessary to expand in Novato to accommodate student enrollment "before we have another campus."

The current timetable is for the north campus to open in the fall of 1972.

Trustees approved preliminary plans for site development at the Kentfield campus next year including demolition of the campus landmark, Harlan Hall, and demolition of the Austin Science Building, Communications Center and old boiler plant.

The proposed projects include relocation of utilities, rerouting of the gas line, new sanitation lines expanded electrical distribution system, new storm drain lines and new water lines, landscaping, walkways, and paving.

The total cost was estimated at $243,900.

Marin Junior College District Board Also:

TEMPORARY — Advised Dale Fleming, planning director, to investigate all possibilities of acquiring temporary space for faculty, administration and health office during construction at the Kentfield campus, including lease-purchase of the Ross Valley Medical Clinic or nearby apartments or purchasing portable buildings of trailers.

STUDENTS — Received a report that students from other districts attending the College of Marin number 408 while students from the district attending other junior colleges number 262, and agreed to consider placing restrictions on out-of-district enrollment.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Katherine Loveland, counselor, effective Jan. 31, because her husband has been transferred to Rhode Island.

CALENDAR — Adopted the college calendar for the 1969-70 school year with 175 teaching days from Sept. 18 to June 18.

POLICY — Approved a revision to the Board Policies and Administrative Procedures Manual, which would "under very special and unusual circumstances" allow a student to enter a building without the presence of an employee or faculty member if he had authorization from a faculty member and the dean of students. Another revision would permit soliciting on campus by students or staff.

POLICE — Authorized purchase of a patrol car for campus police through the state at a cost of $2,062.

LABELING — Authorized purchase of a labeling machine from the Avery Label Co. of San Francisco, the only bidder, at a cost of $4,719.

NEW JOB — Hired Robert Clark as student personnel assistant, vocational information and placement, a newly created job, effective Jan. 1 at a salary of $644 a month.

MINORITY — Received a letter from the Redwood Presbyterian Church of Larkspur urging the district to recruit and employ Negro teachers.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Jan. 16 at the physical education building.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy was absent because of illness.

Key Witness Has Remarks Tossed Out

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The testimony of a key witness was thrown out yesterday in the trial of two men accused of killing a labor leader.

Carl Black, 48, an Oakland accountant, and Thomas Hanley, 51, former head of the Gaming Union, are charged with shooting to death Plumbers' Union boss Ralph Alsup Jan. 19, 1966. Also charged is Norman Call of Sacramento, who is serving two life sentences in California.

Alphonse Bass, the only witness the prosecution said could place Hanley and Black in Las Vegas on the day of the slaying, testified yesterday at Black's preliminary hearing.

Justice of the Peace Herman Fisher said there were inconsistencies in Bass' statements and "the testimony is untrustworthy and I am not going to accept it."

Hanley's lawyer, Harry Claiborne, said he would seek a writ to free Hanley of the murder charge.

Trustees Worried By Cars, Crowding

A plan to create more parking spaces at the College of Marin campus came under fire last night from a Marin Junior College District trustee.

Trustees were discussing whether the campus should be designed for a maximum enrollment og 5,000 daytime credit students, when Trustee Charles W. Gray challenged proposed parking space allocations.

A report by Management and Economics Research Inc. of Palo Alto said an enrollment of 5,000 would require a minimum of 1,977 parking spaces. The campus now has 1,305 spaces.

" This is dedicating an immense amount of valuable land to the concept that the privately owned automobile is a sacred kind of cow." Gray said. "Land use should be dedicated to concerns of education rather than parking cars."

He asked whether the district is obligated to provide parking for students.

Planning Director Dale A. Fleming said "parking is secondary," and could be kept to a minimum, but there is a point where lack of parking has a negative effect.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman said the surrounding community has to be considered and merchants and residents have complained about students parking throughout the area.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers said perhaps cars could be parked out of the campus area and a shuttle bus system started.

Wellman said when campus land is needed for the educational program, there could be multilevel parking. "One of the problems is that there is no good public transportation. If we had a good one we wouldn't have to worry about so much parking."

Gray mentioned the proposal to apply for federal matching funds to acquire land primarily for parking at a cost of $300,000. "It suggests $300,000 to get land, destroy houses, remove people and offend neighbors," he said.

"We're in the parking business and the proposal is to expand our investment in the parking business," he said. "I think it's a self-defeating kind of thing. I really don't know what addiction to the automobile does to the community college concept."

Trustee Harry Moore said the proposed 5,000 student maximum was too high, and other choices should be considered, such as building in Southern Marin.

"The people that live here are congested," and a 5,000 enrollment "would jam this one corner of the area tremendously," Moore contended. "I think if we go to 5,000 it would be detrimental to the college district."

Trustee Robert E. Oliver said, "We can plan less, but they'll be here. Let's say the best we can do is to limit to 5,000."

Wellman noted that the present enrollment is 4,355 and is expected to exceed 5,000 before the district can opens its north campus in Novato, scheduled for the fall of 1972.

"It's too large now, let's not enlarge it," Moore commented.

"I look at this as a resolution not to impose anymore on the community, and I don't see how we can do anything less," said Oliver.

Wellman said "students want a place to go. My great concern is that we aren't going to be able to take care of all students who come here."

Trustees agreed to continue the discussion on enrollment maximum and accompanying campus design at later sessions.

They are scheduled to act at their next session Jan. 16 on applying for federal matching funds for construction projects during the 1970-71 school year at both the Kentfield and north campus.

Stab Death Suspect Is Denied Bail

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday denied a request for bail by David Vaughn Busdieker, 19-year-old Corte Madera youth accused of stabbing his father death early Wednesday.

Busdieker, through is attorney Roger Garety of San Rafael argued he should be released on bail because facts of the case indicate he should be charged with manslaughter, not first degree murder.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued against releasing the youth, saying he still does not know enough about the case to tell if he will seek the death penalty.

Garety told the judge young Busdieker graduated from Redwood High School in 1967 and has been working for a Corte Madera rastaurant.

He has one misdemeanor conviction as an adult and once was in the California Youth Authority for juvenile offenses, Garety said.

His father was drunk and assaulted him before the stabbing, Garety said.

Busdieker was to return to court today to plead to the murder charge.

Guilty Plea Entered On Marijuana Count

Ronnie M. Almada, 21, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to being in a place where marijuana was used Aug. 17.

Almada, who originally faced a felony charge of marijuana possession, was told to return to court Jan. 17 for sentencing.

Hearing Set On Worker's Rehire Plea

William Yahraes, a road maintenance worker, complained to the Marin County Personnel Commission yesterday that he had been fired without justification and wants a hearing for reinstatement.

Yahrae's letter of appeal was presented by Randall M. Prevo, manager of the Marin County Employees Association.

Bella Aaron, chairman of the personnel commission, set 7:30 p.m. Jan. 8 to hear Yahraes' appeal.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported that Yahraes, a county employee since August 1967, was dismissed because of several unauthorized absences and his inability to get along with his supervisors.

The Marin County Personnel Commission also:

RULES — Received a draft of new rules and regulations to govern commission operations. Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott explained that existing rules were adopted in 1951, long before the personnel staff was set up, and many provisions no longer apply. Commissioners decided to review the new rules before approving them.

REDUCTION — Got a report from Elliott that the board of supervisors had agreed to give employee organizations six calendar weeks' notice and individual employees four calendar weeks' notice in case the county decides to lay off personnel because of cutbacks.

Drunken Driving

Sam Edward Hall Jr., 49, of 1 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, was fined $150 and placed on a year of probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving Dec. 10 and Highway 101.

TEACHER-TRUSTEE RIFT SMOOTHED?

Tam Board Agrees To Talk With Faculty Regularly On District Controversies

A momentary truce was declared yesterday in the rift between the Tamalpais District Teachers Association, unhappy over recent policy decisions, and the district board.

Association president William D. Wilkinson said that a "positive note" came out of a meeting yesterday among 240 of the distrrict's teachers and two board members, as well as Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Board members Frank L. Miller and Bette Wallace agreed that a "lack of communication" and appointment of two new members on the board (David D. Ring and Miller) had caused problems to arise.

It was agreed that representatives of the teachers association, staff members and board representatives would plan regular meetings to hash out differences, but no dates were set.

The teachers had called an "emergency" session yesterday, angered over a number of recent decisions as well as the board majority's reportedly hostile attitude against Carlisle.

Monday night's board meeting, at which the board reacted with disfavor to reports on an opportunity school and sensitivity training, "was the crowning blow," according to teachers.

The meeting yesterday, which was preceded by marathon sessions between teachers, staff and board members, turned into a "love fest," according to one observer.

Although teachers held firm on their demands that the board stay out of policy-making on curriculum, the atmosphere was one of cooperation, he added.

In addition to the board's attitude toward Carlisle and toward curriculum, the teachers have said they are disturbed by reports that some of the board favors a splitting of the Tamalpais district into three parts, with the elementary districts in each attendance area unified with a high school district.

Market Holdup Suspects Held

Two Marin City men were arrested today on suspicion of robbing about $50 from a clerk at the Short Stop Market, 141 Bellum Boulevard, San Rafael, police said.

Booked into Marin County Jail were Mac H. Page, 20, of 26 Eureka Street, and Terry A. Thompson, 18, of Apt. 21, 69 Cole Drive.

Rodney W. Genter of Novato, a Short Stop employee, telephoned police reporting that the men, one of them armed with a short-barrel, .22-caliber semi-automatic pistol, took cash and fled in a black and white Lincoln Continental about 2:24 a.m. a.m.

Police spotted the car outside an apartment building at 45 Woodland Avenue about 6:30 a.m. While police were checking the building, the suspects were arrested while fleeing from an apartment.

Welfare Youngsters' Clothing Plea Vetoed

A request for extra money for children's winter clothes, being made in a statewide campaign of the Welfare Rights Organization, is neither legally nor fiscally possible, according to John C. Montgomery, head of the state Department of Social Welfare.

Montgomery, in a prepared statement, pointed out that money for clothing is already included in assistance to families with dependent children, Betty Presley, director of the Marin department of social services, reported.

The Marin chapter of the Welfare Rights Organization joined the statewide campaign and sent messages to Montgomery, Miss Presley and the board of supervisors, Mrs. Mary Brooks, president, reported.

She said the group is asking a one-time extra payment of $35 per child to buy warm clothes for them.

If the request is not granted, she said, WRO members plan to keep their children home from school beginning Jan. 2.

Mrs. Brooks said regular clothing allotments are not sufficient to cover all neeeds. Current allotments include $10.85 per month for females 13 and over; $12.85 a month for males 13 and over; $9.70 for children 7 through 12; and $6.75 for infants through 6 year olds, according to Miss Presley.

Miss Presley said Montgomery reported that the special need provision of the state welfare and institutions code is for use on an individual basis and for emergencies only and cannot be applied on a general basis.

The Welfare Rights Organization is a national pressure group advocating basics such as adequate income, dignity and justice for persons receiving public assistance.

Ex-Nazis Given Prison Terms

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A court today convicted two former Nazi officials of helping send 100,000 mentally and physically handicapped persons to "mercy killing" deaths and sentenced them to prison at hard labor.

Reinhold Vorberg, 64, a Bonn businessman, was sentenced to 10 years and Dietrich Allers, 58, a Hamburg lawyer, to eight years.

Both were officials of the secret T4 agency attached directly to Nazi dictator Adolf Hitler's office. The agency operated a program to rid Nazi Germany of people Hitler considered "unworthy of life and useless mouths to feed."

BART Pay Raise To All But Three

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District —beset with financial woes —voted pay increases averaging about 5 per cent to all employees except the top three executives.

Excluded by yesterday's action were: General Manager B. R. Stokes, who gets $38,808 annually; William Goelz, who on Jan. 1 will advance from assistant finance director to treasurer at $21,612, and R. W. Nelson, controller, who gets $27,576.

Secretary Richard J. Shephard was given an increase from $17,772 to $19,500.

The raises will add $13,163 per month to he payroll of $232,806 for 240 employees.

The district has a $146 million deficit.

State Camps Set For Reservations

SACRAMENTO (AP) —The State Parks and Recreation Department will begin taking reservations Jan. 1 for camp spots in most state parks, Director William Penn Mott Jr. said today.

The department took more than 50,000 reservations last year, the first year of the program. Easter week camp spots in one park were all reserved by Jan. 7 last year, Mott noted.

Reservation forms and information can be obtained by writing to the department's offices in either Sacramento or Los Angeles.

Marin 1968: Dope, Death In News

By FRANK FARRARA

Marijuana and murder grabbed a share of the headlines in Marin during 1968 while the peace movement gained momentum and voters continued their reluctance to pass bond issues.

There was countywide debate about gun registration laws, action in Marin City toward local control and opposition in Southern Marin to a proposed Army antimissile site.

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District started an experiment in one-way toll collection, and commuters got trapped in the worst traffic jam in Marin County history because of construction work at Puerto Suello hill.

Three members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, were ending their terms, Peter H. Behr, who didn't seek re-election, and Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer, who were defeated at the polls.

Public indignation arose over the firing of a Redwood High School physical education teacher because she was too fat and the firing of a sheriff's deputy because he had once posed in the nude.

Construction began on a $2.25 million Veterans Memorial Auditorium, and the Hall of Justice was near completion, but the County Courthouse site in San Rafael remained unsold.

It was the last year for several prominent Marin residents, including James V. Kehoe, former supervisor, and Harry M. Lutgens, former publisher of the San Rafael Daily Independent, and a former resident, Mrs. Caroline S. Livermore, known as the county's champion of conservation.

Some of the highlights of the year were:

JANUARY

Twenty-five inmates of San Quentin Prison's Death Row went on a hunger strike to protest alleged poor quality and insufficient preparation of food served them.

Wesley L. Marshall, 68-year-old San Rafael gun collector, died at Marin General Hospital of head injuries suffered in a beating and Claude (Frenchy) LeBas of Long Beach and Dennis Charles Novotny of San Rafael and John Arceo of Fairfax were accused of his murder.

Sp/5 Ronald Lee Washburn, an Army cook, was discovered slain in a vacant lot in San Rafael, and Joaquin Antonio Herrera, an El Salvador immigrant, was charged with the murder.

A Santa Venetia couple, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis O. Ackley, were found slain in their house trailer beside Smith Ranch Road and two members of a Santa Rosa motorcycle gang, Kenneth A. Preston and Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, were held on suspicion of murder.

Novato voters rejected a $5.75 million street bond proposal and a $2.25 recreation bond proposal and Ross voters approved a 50-cent increase in the tax rate to relieve the town's financial squeeze.

One thousand reservists in the Bay Area were called to active duty at Hamilton Air Force Base with the 349th Air Force Wing because of seizure of the Navy intelligence ship Pueblo by North Korea.

FEBRUARY

Mrs. Caroline S. Livermore, Marin County's champion of conservation, died in her sleep in her San Francisco apartment at the age of 84.

Claude (Frenchy) LeBas was sentenced to life in prison for the fatal stomping and beating of San Rafael gun collector Wesley L. Marshall.

The state Board of Education approved a proposal for the unification of all school districts in Tomales High School District, which it previously had rejected five times.

Local, state and federal law enforcement officers conducted the biggest narcotics roundup in Marin's history, nabbing 47 suspects in raids aimed at peddlers and large scale suppliers.

MARCH

The Mill Valley City Council unanimously passed a resolution urging President Johnson to seek peace in Vietnam and start an "orderly withdrawal" of U.S. troops.

Wealthy Marin County rancher Carlos August Silveira was found shot to death near his family's ranch near Marinwood.

Elizabeth M. Blodgett, physical education teacher at Redwood High School, was notified that she wouldn't be rehired for the 1969-70 school year because she was too fat.

Marin County supervisors declared that San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposed commuter tax was illegal and potentially damaging to Bay Area cooperation.

A predawn fire gutted the Himco Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael, a ladder company, with the loss estimated at more than $500,000.

The state completed purchase of 2,141 acres of the Brazil and Souza ranches for $3 million as an addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park.

APRIL

Mill Valley voters approved 1,863 to 1,433 a resolution asking President Johnson to seek a political solution to the Vietnam war.

William K. Ramstad resigned as superintendent of the Marin Junior College District after the Academic Senate voted 80 to 3 to ask for his resignation, and Louis H. Herkenhoff was named acting college president, effective July 1.

About 300 students gathered in front of the Marin County Selective Service office in San Rafael to protest the draft.

MAY

Flower power struck in Richardson Bay when someone planted a 30-foot daisy on the wall of one of the drydocks floating offshore from Sausalito.

Elizabeth M. Deedy and Theodore C. Wellman withdrew their resignations and returned to their seats on the Marin Junior College District Board.

Lt. Cmdr. Marcus Arnheiter of San Rafael testified that he was relieved of his ship's command because of conspiracy by three junior officeres.

Ada M. Fusselman of San Anselmo was named Senior Citizen of the Year in Marin.

A crowd of about 200 persons, most of them mothers with babies, marched on the Marin Civic Center and won assurance that their welfare aid would not be slashed.

JUNE

Five metal fabricating plants in Marin County, with a total of about 800 employees, were shut down by a machinists strike involving working conditions and optical care benefits.

Fairfax City Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. scored an upset victory over incumbent Ernest N. Kettenhofen to win the Second District supervisorial seat.

Scores of hippies swarmed over Mount Tamalpais to reach the summit for a midnight end-of-the-world party.

Marin County supervisors voted 3-2 to begin proceedings to dissolve the Bolinas Harbor District.

Supervisors passed a gun registration law covering the unincorporated area of Marin County.

JULY

The Army eyed Angel Island and Wolfback Ridge, west of Sausalito, as sites for an antiballistic missile base aimed at knocking down nuclear missiles from China.

Hubert B. Scudder, who served Marin and six other North Coast counties in Congress for five terms, died at 79 in a Sebastopol hospital.

Marin County supervisors adopted a budget of $29,785,001 for fiscal 1968-69, up about $2 million from the past year.

Marin City elected a 13-member council in a move to establish a representative political voice for the community.

North Vietnam released three American airmen, including Maj. James F. Low of Sausalito and Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, whose family lived in Ignacio.

Nine AWOL servicemen, chained to clergymen, were hauled off by military police after a 12-hour retreat at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

California Highway Patrol officer Robert Espagnolle, in a daring rescue, saved a trapped construction worker from a flaming drainage tunnel along Highway 101 in Terra Linda.

Kenneth Allen Preston, 20-year-old Santa Rosa motorcycle gang member, was sentenced to death for the double murder of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ackley of Santa Venetia.

Retiring Air Force Col. Dale W. Luehring was named general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to succeed the controversial James Adam, who had reached the mandatory retirement age, 70.

AUGUST

Construction began on a $2.25 million Veterans Memorial Auditorium and fair office at the Marin County Civic Center.

The state Public Utilities Commission granted Greyhound Lines commuter fare hikes ranging from 6 to 18 per cent on runs between Marin and San Francisco.

Marin officials bristled and threw up a legal challenge to a tax law passed by San Francisco, which would tax commuters 1 per cent of their earnings.

John Julien Baget, Novato city manager for eight years, was hired as executive director of the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Clessie L. Cummins of Sausalito, inventor of an automotive diesel engine, died at his home at 79.

Eldridge Cleaver, presidential nominee of the Peace and Freedom Party, and Stokely Carmichael, prime minister of the Black Panthers, spoke of black revolution in a rally at Marin City.

Gov. Ronald Reagan signed a bill adding four Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors, including one from Marin. That gave the county a total of three directors.

SEPTEMER

Sausalito observed its 75th anniversary.

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, an El Salvador immigrant, was sentenced to life in prison for the slaying of Sp/5 Ronald Lee Washburn, an Army cook, in January.

Student activists at the College of Marin petitioned the Marin Junior College District board to cease plans for a $522,000 football field and track and begin construction of a new library.

A roaring fire, visible for miles, swept through apartment buildings under construction in southern Novato, destroying 43 units with the loss estimated at $300,000.

An early morning fire gutted an antique gllaery and threatened two other buildings in the heart of Tiburon's Main Street, causing damage estimated at $250,000.

OCTOBER

Sausalito Associates proposed a $25 million high-rise project including convention center, restaurant and motel complex in Richardson Bay near Waldo Point.

Johnny Sommerhalder, president of a Santa Rosa motorcycle gang, was sentenced to death for the murders of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ackley in Santa Venetia Jan. 12.

Sheriff's deputy Weldon C. Travis of San Geronimo Valley was fired because he posed nude while a College of Marin student. He was later reinstated with full rights and back pay.

Frank N. Werber, the promoter who rose to riches as manager of the Kingston Triop was arrested after narcotics agents confiscated a $500,000 cache of marijuana at his home on Richardson Bay.

Marin County supervisors declared war on illegal houseboats in Richardson Bay and houseboat tenants at Waldo Point fought back.

James V. Kehoe, Marin County supervisor for 15 years, ex-rodeo cowboy and rancher, died at his Inverness home after a short illness.

Two unidentified men tried to blow up the sheriff's Marin City substation with seven sticks of dynamite, but were thwarted by a 19-year-old Humboldt State college student.

Harry M. Lutgens, 75, former publisher of the San Rafael Daily Independent, died of a heart attack in San Francisco.

NOVEMBER

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, San Rafael councilman, defeated incumbent Thomas T. Storer of Point Reyes Station and Michael Wornum, former Mill Valley councilman, defeated Donald J. O'Leary, Tiburon attorney, to win seats on the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Voters rejected Marin County's gun registration law while voters in the Tamalpais High School District defeated a $10. million bond pgoposal and Novato voters defeated a $3 million street bond measure.

Byron W. Leydecker, former chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, was charged with possession of marijuana, but later exonerated when his 16-year-old daughter claimed the marijuana aa her own.

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled that the Tamalpais High School District must rehire former Redwood High School physical education teacher Elizabeth M. Blodgett, fired last spring because she was too fat, or show cause why it cannot.

Restaurant owner Luciana A. Sabella and his wife, Diane, were terrorized by three masked gunmen who invaded their Peacock Gap home anf forced Sabella to open the safe at his Mill Valley restaurant.

S. I. Hayakawa, Mill Valley semanticist, was named acting president of San Francisco State College after weeks of turmoil and the resignation of Robert R. Smith.

Edward Warren McGuire of Kentfield was appointed as Marin's fifth Superior Court judge.

Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 25-year-old member of a Santa Rosa motorcycle gang, was sentenced to death for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ackley in Santa Venetia in January.

DECEMBER

Construction on Highway 101 just north of San Rafael caused a traffic jam that caused a 14-mile tieup and slowed homeward bound commuters by up to three hours.

The Marin County Transit District voted to contract with the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to finance and operate a new bus system.

Charles A. Brown, former city manager of Sausalito, was chosen city manager of Novato.

Dr. Catherine H. Leicester, 70, of San Rafael, was kidnapped by two teen-age girls at the Northgate Shopping Center, but managed to escape in Albany.

Striking and nonstriking students clashed at Sonoma State College, and outgrowth of the strike at San Francisco State College.

John Arceo of Fairfax and Dennis Charles Novotny of San Rafael were sentenced to life in prison for the murder of Wesley L. Marshall, 68-year-old San Rafael gun collector, in January.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Oldsters Often Adjust Fairly Well To Brain Damage Troubles

VAN DELLEN

Many oldsters hindered by serious brain impairment manage to stay alive because they gear their activities, interests, and usefulness to their limited capabilities.

Knowing their limitations, these people are content to sit on the sidelines, avoiding complicated situations that require more assertive behavior.

But their mental status may change rapidly with additional brain damage due to hardening of the arteries. Physical illnesses such as infection, another stroke, or a fracture may induce further deterioration.

SOME MAY BE so disoriented that they cannot dress, toilet, or feed themselves. Others become depressed, fearful, suspicious, untidy, or immoral.

At this stage the outlook is not necessarily hopeless, because with proper care many can be restored to normalcy in keeping with their age. This means the ability to get about and maintain personal hygiene.

Not all will respond, especially those with extensive brain damage or those suffering from marked physical disabilities.

TENDER, LOVING CARE is most important. Drugs that improve circulation and elevate the mood are helpful.

Now and then relief is obtained by prescribing a stimulant, such as petrazol. By the same token, it may be necessary to stop certain medicines, especially those that hasten deterioration.

These include barbiturates, tranquilizers, amphetamines, and too much alcohol.

RECENTLY a Pennsylvania psychiatrist gave an anticoagulant to 13 individuals with senile dementia. A definite improvement occurred in 11. In his opinion, the drug eliminated the sludged blood that blocked the narrowed arteries leading to the brain.

Apparently there were vital areas that were not functioning because they did not get enough blood.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

STILL GROWING AFTER 30

L. G. writes: I am 37, give or take a couple of years. In the last few years, I have grown two inches. I thought a person ceased to grow by age 21. I'm tall anyway and just heartsick over this. What can be done?

REPLY

I'll not worry about a few inches if you can give or take a few years. But if you are correct, see your physician because growth at this time of life may be of glandular origin. Growth is controlled by the secretions of the pituitary gland and careful studies will demonstrate whether there is any need for concern.

PLUGGED ARTERIES

P.A. writes: Does hardening of the arteries cause pain?

REPLY

Plugged arteries never hurt but the tissues complain bitterly when robbed of blood. Angina pectoris or coronary thrombosis, for example, follows obstruction of the coronary arteries; and stroke is due to blockage of an artery bringing blood to the brain.

MONILIA IN SPUTUM

Miss M. writes: What does monilia in the sputum indicate?

REPLY

These yeastlike fungi are capable of producing lesions in almost any part of the body, particularly the respiratory tract. They cause thrush in the mouth and persistent bronchitis in the lungs. Sputum tests often are made to find the cause of coughing.

NAIL INFECTION

A reader writes: My doctor is treating me for onychonycosis, a fungal infection that involves the nails. Will you please tell me what causes it?

REPLY

Invasion by a fungus. The oral anti-fungal agents are most helpful.

Today's Health Hint — Discarded gift wrappings are a fire hazard.

Roman Students Lash At New Government

ROME (AP) — Rome's restless high school and university students quit classes today in a citywide demonstration, blocked traffic for two hours and battled with police in one of the main squares.

Several students were injured and at least 20 were taken into custody.

Five thousand students started the demonstration in mid-morning, despite a last-minute decision of many others to wait and see whether the new center-left government of Premier Mariano Rumor goes ahead with promised school reforms.

The demonstrators marched through downtown Rome, chanting and blocking Christmas shopping traffic.

Shortly after noon demonstrators massed in the large square of St. Mary Major. They carried placards reading "no to the school reform proposals" and "No to police repression."

The Communist-led Italian General Confederation of labor passed out pamphlets telling the students that labor backed them in their protests.

Trouble began when 50 students broke into two closed schools nearby. Police blocked them inside the buildings and formed a cordon preventing other students from forcing their way in to join them.

Stones were hurled and clubs wielded in the fray. Finally police drove all the demonstrators out of the square.

While the demonstration was going on Education Minister Fiorentina Sullo met with the State Commission of Public Instruction to discuss the countrywide student demonstrations throughout the country.

Sullo said many of the demands for reform were justified. He added he was in favor of granting the students' demands for assemblies in their schools "provided these are not allowed to come under outside political influence."

Justice's Wife Talks Of Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Abe Fortas says her husband was never "very anxious" to become chief justice of the Supreme Court and that he has no plans to leave the court because the Senate refused last fall to confirm his nomination to the post.

Mrs. Carolyn A. Fortas made the statements yesterday in reaction to rumors that Fortas would resign as an associate justice and a magazine article that quoted her as saying her husband did not want to be chief justice when President Johnson nominated him.

46 Building Permits Issued In November

Forty-six building permits were issued in Petaluma in November, down 13 from October.

Including 30 single family residences, total valuation of the building was estimated at $708,325. A total of 214 permits have been issued during the first five months of the fiscal year, for a total valuation of $2,322,530. In the same period last year, 267 permits were issued at a total valuation of $3,360,683.

Guitar Lessons To Begin Thursday

Guitar lessons for beginners will start Thursday at the Marin Co-op Center, 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera, with William Steele of Corte Madera the instructor.

The first lessons in a series of 10 for children under 12 will begin at 3:30 p.m. and for teen-agers one hour later. It will be repeated after the holidays, Steele said. Classes are open to Co-op members and non-members.

Canadian Denies Forgery Counts

A 23-year-old Canadian, who had a system for swindling banks, according to police, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on four charges of passing forged checks.

Ronald Victor MacWilliams, who said he has been staying with friends while in this country, denied each of the charges and was granted a preliminary hearing for Thursday in Municipal Court.

The charges state that MacWilliams cashed the bad checks, involving $1,000 swindles each, in San Anselmo and San Rafael banks last Friday.

Police said MacWilliams would deposit a large, fraudulent check in a new account one day, then return to make a large withdrawal before bank officials could discover the check was bad.

Officers say they suspect MacWilliams of being part of a forgery gang which has swindled California banks of nearly $50,000.

Explosion Hits Apartment Unit

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A gas explosion blew the roof of a Munich apartment building today, killing one man and injuring 15 persons, police reported.

Hermann Schler, 30, was found dead in the wreckage, close to the explosion in the four-story building. Police said 10 of the injured were hospitalized and one woman was in serious condition.

Firemen rescued 17 persons from the badly damaged building.

Cycle Stolen

Robert Hansen of 164 Janes Street, Homestead Valley, told Mill Valley police that someone stole his 1965 Yamaha motorcycle while it was parked in front of El Marin Florist, 27 Miller Avenue, between 5:30 and 6:40 p.m. yesterday.

Relay Satellite Jockeys Into Place Above Atlantic

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The world's most powerful communications satellite, Intelsat 3, was kicked into a near-stationary orbit high above the Atlantic Ocean today.

The firing of a satellite motor shifted Intelsat 3 out of a looping orbit into the almost standstill position 22,300 miles above the equator in mid-Atlantic.

The motor was triggered by a radio signal sent from a ground station at Andover, Maine.

The Communications Satellite Corp. Comsat, announced that the 27-second firing was successful and a spokesman said "everything looks good."

Comsat, a U.S. agency, acts as manager of the 63-nation international telecommunications consortium, which paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $4.7 million to launch the $6-million satellite on Wednesday.

Intelsat 3 had been rocked into an initial orbit ranging from 165 to 22,700 miles.

A Comsat spokesman said small jets will be fired over the next several days to adjust the satellite's orbit into a fixed position 22,300 miles above the equator just off the coast of Brazil.

The satellite, first of a new series intended to form a global communications network by mid-1969, is scheduled to go into commercial operation in January. It is five times more powerful than any of the four smaller satellites now operated by the consortium. It can handle 1,200 simultaneous two-way telephone calls or four television programs.

Safety Rules For Christmas

The Marin County Fire Chiefs' Association has asked Marin County residents to observe fire safety rules during the Christmas holiday season.

Christmas trees should be kept in water or wet sand, away from heating outlets and doors and decorated only with flame proofed or noncombustible material, according to the association.

Tree lights should be checked for loose connections, broken sockets, frayed insulation, lights should not be left on when no one is home. Christmas gift wrappings should be disposed of promptly and trees should not be burned in the fireplace, the association said.

Cost Of Living

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—It costs diplomats more to live in 17 world capitals than it does in New York City, the United Nations said yesterday and the most expensive of all is Nouakchott in the West African nation of Mauritania. The survey said Paris was the only major city more expensive than New York.

Drunken Driving Fines For Three

Three persons were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday for drunken driving.

Layton Joseph Thorn, 24, of 105 Piper Court, Fairfax, was fined $300 and placed on six months of probation for his offense Sunday on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

David A. Eiseman, 29, of 27 Woodland Avenue, Apt. 3, San Rafael, was fined $75 and placed on six months of probation for the same offense Monday on Highway 101.

Terry Lee Chandler, 24, of 155 Novato Street, San Rafael, was fined $200 and placed on six months of probation for drunken driving Dec. 7 on Highway 101.

The world's longest fence, a 3,500-mile dingo barrier, encloses the central sheep-raising country in Queensland, Australia, National Geographic says. Six feet high and buried a foot underground, the sturdy wire netting protects sheep from marauding wild dogs.

Resolution No. [illegible]
RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO ORDER VACATION OF PARTS OF PUBLIC STREETS

WHEREAS, it appears that the parts of McCoy Road and Bret Harte Road hereinafter described are unnecessary for present or prospective public purposes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. That the City Council of the City of San Rafael hereby elects to proceed under the provisions of the STREET VACATION ACT of 1941 of the State of California.

2. That the City Council of the City of San Rafael hereby declares its intention to vacate the parts of McCoy Road and Bret Harte Road which are hereinafter described.

3. That Monday the [illegible] day of [illegible], at eight o'clock p.m., in the Council Chambers at the City Hall, in the City of San Rafael, State of California, is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing all persons interested in or objecting to the said proposed vacation.

4. That the Department of Public Works of the City of San Rafael shall post conspicuously notices of street vacation along the lines of the parts of said public streets proposed to be vacated, which notices shall be posted not more than three hundred feet apart but at least three notices shall be posted on said parts of streets proposed to be vacated. The said notices shall state time and place of hearing as hereinabove provided, and the adoption of the within resolution of intention.

5. That said parts of streets proposed to be vacated are described on Exhibits "A" and "B", which are attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference, as though set forth in full.

6. That a map or plan showing said parts of streets proposed to be vacated are on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, at the City Hall, San Rafael, California.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order . . . since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" . . . delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 7:30 p.m. — "The Nutcracker" by Tchaikovsky, one of the most popular and perennial of all ballets, will be rebroadcast as a full-hour Christmas special. Dancing the leading roles are Edward Villella as the Prince, Melissa Hahden as the Sugar Plum Fairy and Patricia McBride as Klara from the New York City Ballet.

KGO (7), 7:30 p.m. — Country-western singer Jimmy Dean hosts Dana Valery, Richard Pryor, Fifth Dimension, comedian Richard Dawson and western singer Buck Owens and the Buckaroos on "Operation Entertainment." The show orginates from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "An Evening's Journey to Conway, Mass.," a play by Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Archibald MacLeish.

KPIX (5), 9 p.m. — Bob Hope stars in the comedy-movie "A Global Affair." Lilo Pulver, Michele Mercier, Elga Andersen, Yvonne De Carlo and Miko Take are among the cast.

KGO (7), 9 p.m. — Don Rickles, as a reluctant Santa Claus, goes to Hollywood to pay a Yuletide visit to Agnes Moorehead, Don Adams, Carl Betz, Rosey Grier, Bob Newhart, Louis Nye and Mickey Rooney.

KPIX (5), 10:45 p.m. — CBS News offers a special on "The Flight of Apollo 8," a pre-launch report on Apollo 8 by Walter Cronkite.

NEARLY 36 YEARS

Don McNeil To Bid Farewell To Radio

CHICAGO (AP) — Don McNeill got his last call for breakfast on radio today.

He arranged to tape the final "Breakfast Club" show for broadcast Dec. 27 on ABC.

McNeill and the show have been going for 35 and one-half years, and they have staked a claim to a record for a continual Monday-through-Friday daytime network feature.

It lived to an extraordinary age on a plain diet of lively band music, homespun humor, songs, chats with folks from the audience and a silent prayer, "each in his own words, each in his own way."

How did they do it?

"We try to have a program like a Sunday newspaper," McNeill once said. "Something in it for everybody."

Why is McNeill stepping out now at the age of 61? "Why not quit when you're ahead," he said.

The show started on NBC at "The Pepper Pot." It switched later to ABC.

The premier was June 23, 1933.

On the air then were James Melton, Stoopnagle & Bud, Jack Benny (Friday nights), Captain Henry's Showboat, and Arthur Tracy, the street singer.

On grocery shelves: a pound of coffee, 37 cents.

On "Breakfast Club's" 20th anniversary a reported asked master of ceremonies McNeill how it kept going.

"Each morning we have a new show," he replied. "We have no script. It's a challenge each day."

That, he theorized, sustained the interest of audience and cast.

Tokyo Students Go On Rampage

TOKYO (AP) — Fifty leftist students armed with steel pipes vandalized temporary buildings of Nihon University, 20 miles west of Tokyo today to back up their demand for a say in the administration of the university.

The students broke 700 window panes and damaged telephones and lighting fixtures after arriving in a bus and two automobiles, police said. Ten professors and university officials on the scene were unable to stop the rampaging students.

Nihon, Japan's biggest university with an enrollment of 100,000 students, set up temporary prefabricated classrooms in Kawasaki after the college's buildings in Tokyo were barricaded following student demonstrations and riots.

Five Inducted Into Service

Five present or former Marin County residents were inducted into the Army in December by the Marin Selective Service Board.

Drafted were Ronald Dean Hahne of Santa Cruz; Barney Francis Hope of Elk Creek; Joseph Boyde McBride of Richmond; Sammie Homer Raygor of Santa Rosa, and Robert Paul Sterrs of Novato.

The county draft call quota for January is 23, the local board reported.

Raiders Don't Mind Being Underdogs Sunday

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders don't mind being the underdogs for their big Western Division American Football League playoff against Kansas City Sunday in a jam-packed Oakland Coliseum.

"It takes the pressure off us," says big Ben Davidson, the mustachioed defensive end.

The game will determine who represents the division against Eastern champ New York at Shea Stadium Dec. 29. The winner of that one meets the National Football League's best in the Super Bowl.

Sunday's game will go into sudden death should it wind up in a tie. Everybody will be paid 1-14th of his salary for the extra Sunday of effort.

Oakland is about a one field goal underdog after staggering through three cliff-hangers in a row to join Kansas City atop the standings with a 12-2 mark. The Raiders hit a clunker Thanksgiving in beating lowly Buffalo, winner of the O. J. Simpson derby, by a 13-10 count. Things didn't go much better against Denver or San Diego as the Raiders staggered to 33-27 and 34-27 wins.

But the Raiders still have the league's best offense—one that has averaged 407 yards and 33 points per game.

Rookie Charlie Smith carried the running load when guys like Hewritt Dixon, Pete Banaszak and Larry Todd came up hurt. Big fullback Dixon, at least, is back at full speed to join Smith in a good one-two running backfield.

And quarterback Daryle Lamonica has found a new blue chip receiver to throw to in Kansas City castoff Warren Wells, who has caught 53 passes for 12 touchdowns. He caught four for 113 yards and one tally in last Sunday's key conquest of San Diego.

The Raiders also hold a decisive win over the Chiefs in their last meeting. They lost a strange 24-10 affair at Kansas City as the Chiefs went to a full-house T attack and threw only three passes. But the Chiefs played it more conventional at Oakland and the Raiders took the 38-21 verdict.

But Kansas City has shown it is ready for Sunday's game by splattering San Diego 40-3 and Denver 30-7 over the last two weeks in marked contrast to Oakland's squeakers over the same two teams.

Kansas City boasts the league's best defense—one that has yielded only 170 points to 14 foes.

Davidson sees the key to the game how well Oakland's defenders can contain the running of rookie flash Bob Holmes, number two ground gainer in the league, and veterans such as Mike Garrett, Curtis McClinton and Bert Coan.

Kansas City quarterback Lennie Dawson is the league's number one passer, but Oakland's secondary feels it can stifle any air attack when there is no running to counterbalance it.

Oakland defensive backs Willie Brown, Rodger Bird, and league interception leader Dave Grayson have all earned post-season honors. If injured Kent McCloughan, another all-star performer, can't start, rookie George Atkinson will go at cornerback. Enemy passers have been trying to complete in his area for three straight weeks and have gotten nowhere. He could turn out to be the best Raider defender of the bunch.

SMILES ALL AROUND — One big smile deserves another as East offensive guard George Kunz of Notre Dame draws a pleased smile from Laurie.

ENGROSSING TOY — East center Jack Rudney of Northwestern and 7-year-old Vicky seem engrossed in a toy Rudney gave Vicky yesterday.

Raiders Boosters Club Feeling Pretty Smug

JIM SHORTS:

Members of the Marin County Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club are feeling pretty smug today.

While the average fan of the American Football League club is having one heckuva time getting tickets to Sunday's championship playoff with the Kansas City Chiefs, Marin Boosters President Shaun Wiltshire has come up with 60 of the precious pasteboards for his members. Shaun also has the tremendous traffic problem licked as he will transport his "Solvent Sixty" to the Coliseum aboard his double-decker London bus.

"So, next time," said Shaun, "join the Raiders Boosters Club, take the double-decker bus and leave the driving to us, by jove.

PAUL HARTMAN and Mike Dolan of General Travel Service, San Rafael, have put together a tour for duffers, football fans, sun worshippers and just plain sports buffs.

Super Bowl, Then Golf

Scheduled Jan. 10-18, it will take in the Super Bowl at Miami Jan. 12, thence to the King's Inn and Country Club on Grand Bahama Island where former Marinite Harry "Jake" Obitz will host the group for five days of golf and relaxation. Obitz is director of golf at the King's Inn. Several Marinites already have signed for the tour, according to Hartman.

COLLEGE OF MARIN'S team of basketball yell leaders is up against a financial hurdle. Head yell leader Chuck Maltzahn reports the executive council of the Student Government has cut off all funds for his group. Which means, if the Tar Tonsils are to follow their team on the road, they have to pay their own way — which is pretty tough on some college kids.

Anyone who'd like to help out can mail contributions to Maltzahn at his home, 143 Riviera Circle, Larkspur. "Any amount, large or small, will be greatly appreciated," said the head yeller feller.

They'll Pay For A Coach

SPEAKING OF FINANCES, the Student Council of Novato High School was dipped into its treasury for $180 to pay for the services of a water polo coach. Mentors for all other sports are paid by the school district, but water polo wasn't included in the budget, although the sport has gained in popularity up there in the wilds of northern Marin. Congrats to the kids for keeping it alive.

SEVEN MARIN COUNTY netters have been listed in the tentative adult rankings announced today by the Northern California Tennis Association, including: Mike Machette, Belvedere, 16th, and John Zwieg, Kentfield, 18th in men's singles; Pete Werner, Mill Valley, 9th in men's 35 singles; Bob Seymour, Mill Valley, 9th in senior 45 singles; Earl Kissinger, Corte Madera, 9th, senior 55 singles; Zwieg and Roy Orlando of Stockton 8th in men's doubles; Howard Morehouse of San Rafael and Bill Hoogs of Berkeley 2nd in senior 45 doubles; and Howard Biethan of Tiburon and Terry Masterson of San Mateo 3rd in senior 55 doubles.

OOPS! A typographical error in Wednesday's I-J listed former College of Marin star Vince Tringali's won-lost-tied football coaching record at St. Ignatius

Gridders Say Hello To Kids

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "All season long I'm taking care of these big monsters," said Stanford University trainer Dick Melhart, "then I come in here and choke up."

His gaze swept around a ward filled with chattering football players and children at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children—the institution partially supported by football's finest hour, the annual East-West Classic on Dec. 28.

"This really grabs me," Melhart said as he watched Leroy Keyes, Purdue's All-American halfback, talk with Dottie, 10.

"Will you score a touchdown for me?" she asked, wiggling her legs under a blanket.

Keyes looked down at her a moment, then glanced out a window.

"I'll sure try," he murmured.

Northwestern center Jack Rudnay found himself with a tough mechanical problem. Vickie, 7, wanted to know about the workings of the battery-driven boats the players had brought as presents.

Cheerfully, Rudnay borrowed a penknife from a newsman and took the gadget apart quickly. He made slower progress, however, getting it back together.

"Your hands are too big," Vickie taunted, giggling.

Army tight end Gary Steele, found a genuine fan in Patricia, 10.

"I watched you on television in the Army-Navy game," she chirped. "You were wonderful."

SURPRISE MOVE

Three Saints' Coaches Resign

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Coach Tom Fears' assistants—Three of New Orleans Saints' including his two top lieutenants—have resigned unexpectedly.

Jack Faulkner, the team's chief defensive coach, announced the resignations yesterday in telephone calls to sportswriters and sportscasters from the home of General Manager Vic Schwenk.

Joining Faulkner were Bob Dickson, the chief offensive coach, and Bob Shaw, coach of the receivers. A fourth assistant, Walt Yowarsky, previously told Fears and Schwenk that he would quit at the end of the season.

FOUR OF SEVEN

It means Fears is losing four of his seven assistants from a staff which won four games this season, equalling the best second-year performance for any NFL expansion team.

Faulkner sounded extremely distressed when he announced the decision in a telephone call to The Associated Press. He said he didn't want to elaborate but might have something more to say later.

"I'm just sorry as hell about this because I really like it down here," said the husky Faulkner, a onetime Sid Gill-protege who was the American Football League Coach of the Year in 1962 after guiding the Denver Broncos to their only winning season.

OPTIMISTIC

Faulkner was talking optimistically about next season with the Saints on Monday, the day after New Orleans beat Pittsburgh 24-14 in the season finale. Faulkner master-minded the sophisticated defense alignments which gave New Orleans the pass defense title in the NFL this season.

Fears would not talk to newsmen nor return any telephone calls made to his home or office.

Schwenk was upset by the sudden resignations and said he was "personally distressed." He said he didn't want to elaborate and would have publicity man Ed Staton make an official announcement later.

Staton's announcement merely said: "It is true three assistant coaches have tendered their resignations effective today."

Playboy millionaire John W. Mecom Jr., the 29-year-old owner of the team who has distressed the proprietors of other NFL clubs by frolicking around the sidelines with his players during games, was reported en route from New York to Houston, Tex., his home.

Ten days ago Mecom, apparently upset when his team lost to the lowly Philadelphia Eagles sent an emissary to Green Bay, Wis., to try to lure Vince Lombardi here as head coach and general manager, it was learned. Lombardi turned down the offer.

Sources close to the coaching staff say Mecom's failure to either deny the report about Lombardi or to publicly give his coaching staff a vote of confidence was one of the prime reasons behind the unexpected resignations.

More may be in the offing, the sources said.

Negro Grant-In-Aid, A South Carolina First

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The University of South Carolina signed its first Negro scholarship athlete to a football grant-in-aid yesterday.

Carlton Haywood, a 6-1, 174-pound halfback from Lanier High School in Macon, Ga., was signed by Gamecock assistant coach Jackie Powers.

Grid Writer Picks Cowboys, Colts, Chiefs To Triumph

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — If everything goes according to form the Dallas Cowboys will be playing the Baltimore Colts for the National Football League title Dec. 29 and the Kansas City Chiefs will be playing the New York Jets for the American Football League crown.

Form has a way of flip-flopping in these playoff games and it could very well do a somersault tomorrow at Cleveland or Sunday at Baltimore or Oakland.

The NFL weekend program calls for Dallas (12-2) at Cleveland (10-4) for the Eastern Conference championships tomorrow and Minnesota (8-6) at Baltimore (13-1) Sunday for the Western Conference title.

In the AFL it will be Kansas City (12-2) at Oakland (12-2), Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title and the right to play the Jets in New York the following Sunday.

NFL

Dallas 24, Cleveland 20 (Saturday)—The Cowboys beat the Browns in September 28-7 when Frank Ryan was pitching for Cleveland and Dan Reeves still was healthy and running for Dallas. When they met last year for the Eastern title in Dallas, the Cowboys really poured it on, 52-14 with Boy Hayes running wild on punt returns.

Both teams have explosive attacks but Dallas has the sounder defense, giving up only two touchdowns on the ground all year. If Jethro Pugh is sub par from last Sunday's knee injury in New York, watch the Browns send Leroy Kelly into Dallas' left side.

Both were dull last week, the Cowboys in a 28-10 win over New York, the Browns in a 27-16 defeat by St. Louis.

Baltimore 20, Minnesota 16 (Sunday)—Colts held off the flu-stricken Vikings 21-9 on Nov. 24 after opening up 21-3 halftime lead.

The Vikes really took out after Earl Morrall in the second half, intercepting two and forcing a fumble but Baltimore dug in and stopped Bill Brown twice on the one-yard line in a tense goal line stand.

Minnesota offense can't compare with Colts, especially in air, where erratic Joe Kapp will oppose Morrall.

Baltimore probably will try for the bomb early because injury to Terry Cole and doubtful condition of Jerry Hill hurts their ground game. Return of Dave Osborn in last two games after knee surgery gives Vikings big plus.

This can be a real war, perhaps the best game of the season.

AFL

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 (Sunday)—The past performance book is confusing. The Chiefs went to the old tight-T and whipped the Raiders 24-10 on Oct. 20 and two weeks later were bombed by Daryle Lamonica 38-21. In a pre-season game Kansas City won 31-21.

Hank Stram's club closed strong and Oakland has won last eight.

Against common foes in last two weeks, Chiefs bombed San Diego, 40-3. Raiders squeaked home 34-27. Chiefs clubbed Denver 30-7. Raiders rallied for 33-27 edge.

Oakland has better running but Lamonica passed them Silly Nov. 3. No love lost on either side in this one.

Redwood Cagers Win Tournament Opener

I-J Special Report

YUBA CITY — Redwood High School's little Giants socked it to Vacaville High School at the Yuba City Invitational Christmas Basketball Tournament yesterday, grabbing a 69-41 opening round victory.

The double whammy of guards Jerry Piro and Roger Smith combined for 43 points on great outside shooting as the Giants of Larkspur rolled to a 42-25 halftime lead before the reserves gave up 26 points in the final period to account for the deceptive close score.

Piro pumped in 23 points and Smith had 20 while Jim Peters added 12 for the Giants, now 6-2 on the season.

Redwood meets Livermore High School, a 50-26 winner over Oroville, tonight at 8 o'clock. In other games yesterday, Mission San Jose topped Marysville, 65-55, and host Yuba City clipped Mira Loma, 39-36.

Redwood	20	22	10	17—69
Vacaville	11	14	11	26—41

Redwood Scoring — Corsini, 4-1-9; Piro, 9-5-23; Smith, 8-4-20; Carew 1-0-2; Peters, 5-2-12; Simpson, 1-1-3. Totals: 28-13-69.

Ref Stops The Fight On Old Jess Willard

Well, I see where the referee stopped the fight on old Jess Willard the other day. As usual, he was still on his feet and groping for his opponent at the time.

I don't know whether Dempsey loaded the gloves on poor old Jess, but history did. History kicked him, gouged him, held on the break, hit him when he was down — and then, whenever he won, yelled "Fake!"

Jess had a role in history you wouldn't give to John Wilkes Booth. He was the most pathetic of athletic figures — he was, God help him, "The White Hope." When Dempsey got through with him he was the white heap.

THEY HAULED old Jess off a wheat thresher in Kansas when he was almost 30 years old and told him it was his patriotic duty to restore the heavyweight championship to the white race. Jess was an amiable giant at the time who hated no one and the only man he ever hit hard, he killed. A gentle troglodyte, he never made that mistake again.

Jack Johnson sort of deeded the title over to him in a peculiar minstrel in Havana where the fight was held since Johnson's sexual exploits had been saluted by the Congress of the United States, no less, which passed a law in his honor, forbidding interstate traffic in women.

THE MOTION pictures of that fight, banned in this country as suitable for mature audiences only (none of which were available at the time, presumably), were recently uncovered in Australia. They show that the overweight, dissipated Johnson was soundly thrashed by the stronger, better-conditioned Willard. Unlike L'il Arthur, Jess never needed but one woman, or one suit at a time, and the only thing he took on long trips with him was his Bible.

When Jess beat Frank Moran in the Old Garden in New York shortly thereafter, the state promptly banned boxing. His life was like that. Society was constantly tying a can to his tail, and poor Jess, who was part Cherokee, ran off with a cowboy-and-Indian show for a few years, where he rode out, waved his hat, then went back and helped with the shoveling.

HE LOST his title on the banks of Maumee Bay on an Independence Day so hot (112 degrees at ringside) that the lumber in the arena smouldered, ice cream stocks melted, and musicians on the rim blistered their lips on white-hot metal of cornets.

I caught up with Jess 42 years later in a bar in Montrose, at a meeting arranged by a mutual friend, the newspaperman, Bevo Means. Jess was still bitter about that hot afternoon in Toledo. "Here," he said, snatching my hand and putting it in a dynamite-sized hole in his left temple. "Does that look to you like it was made by a gloved fist? Dempsey put that hole there with the first punch of the fight."

FLOORED EIGHT times in the first round, his cheekbone crushed, his ribs caved in, unconscious at the bell, Willard, nevertheless, never again went down in the two succeeding rounds. He had to quit when his bruised ribs threatened to puncture his lungs. He couldn't breathe. His seconds and his manager had deserted him by that time, and his eyes were swollen so shut a spectator had to lead him to the dressing room.

Willard bitterly assailed Dempsey's manager, Doc Kearns, the day I met him. Kearns, he said, kept pulling false fire alarms outside his training quarters in Toledo at all hours of the night, awakened him with phony phone calls, bribed his handlers, and even tried to doctor his food.

NO GESTURE of appeasement ever abated his wrath. Dempsey even hired him once to push Dempsey's brand of liquor in a series of Florida bars. After Jess would set up a round for the house (on Jack), he would then proceed to denounce his boss and rehash the story of the loaded glove.

He never forgave nor forgot. He died as he had lived. Stubborn, fierce, suspicious — an orphan of sports. Dying, he broke out of the hospital, doubtless feeling the medics were loading their punches.

They're saluting Jack Johnson on Broadway in a play sardonically called "The Great White Hope." Even posthumously, old Jess still gets to play the antihero, a man betrayed by history, caught between two legends, a man who didn't know life loaded the gloves.

Pistons, Knicks In Trade

DETROIT (AP) — The Pistons traded an institution yesterday in a National Basketball Association move designed to get the Pistons back on the winning track.

The Pistons announced 6-foot-6 Dave DeBusschere, a college star at the University of Detroit and a Piston since 1962, had been traded to the New York Knicks for Howard Komives and the big man the Pistons have needed, 6-foot-11 Walt Bellamy.

DeBusschere served at one point as player-coach for nearly three seasons before giving way to recently replaced Coach Donnis Butcher.

The players will face each other tonight when the Knicks and Pistons tangle in Detroit.

"It's not the end of the world," DeBusschere, 28, noted after learning of the trade. "I knew the Pistons would have to do something to start winning.

"I knew they'd have to give up (Dave) Bing or me to get a big man, so I wasn't particularly surprised.'

Detroit Coach Paul Seymour explained, "I know we gave up a lot, but the name of the game is win and we weren't winning. I don't know if I'll start Bellamy (tonight), but I imagine that I will."

The Pistons dropped eight straight contests after Seymour took over from Donnis Butscher about two weeks ago.

Komives, 27, a relative midget in the NBA at 6-foot-1, is not expected to start with the Pistons as he did with the Knicks. But Seymour said, "He (Komives) gets the ball moving, and not moving the ball has been one of our big problems."

Komives, a native of Toledo, Ohio, was a college player at Bowling Green.

Bellamy, 29, a standout at Indiana, has been averaging about 24 points per game this season. He had his best year as a rookie in 1961 with the now defunct Chicago Packers when he carried a 31.6 points-per-game average.

Alcindor May Be Sidelined

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lew Alcindor, college basketball's most famous player, has suffered a pulled tendon in his left foot and may not play for UCLA against Minnesota in Los Angeles tonight when the national champions return to action after a layoff of nearly two weeks.

The towering 7-foot-2 All-American suffered the injury in the Ohio State game at Columbus, Ohio, on Dec. 6, a team spokesman said, but it did not become public until late last night.

The mishap recalled the eye injury Alcindor suffered last season, leading to his sub-par game against Houston in the Astrodome Jan. 20, 1968 when UCLA's 47-game winning streak was broken 71-69.

"His foot is better now than it was earlier in the week," said Johnny Wooden, UCLA coach. "But we've told him to let us know if it begins hurting again."

Alcindor has been excused from practice early to have his foot treated and Wooden disclosed he planned to keep his star out of action until the Pacific—8 Conference games next month unless the injury healed.

That would mean Alcindor would miss not only tonight's Minnesota game, but also the West Virginia game Saturday and the Holiday Festival games in New York next week.

Disclosure of Alcindor's pulled tendon overshadowed last night's action on the courts in which 14th-ranked New Mexico State, the only team in the Associated Press Top 20 to play, made it seven in a row by whipping Evansville 98-64 at Las Cruces, N.M.

Calvin Murphy, the nation's second leading scorer, ran his season total to 231 points in six games with 31 points for Niagara as the Purple Eagles rallied to beat Bowling Green at Cleveland 100-92.

Big Bob Lienhard tossed in 36 points and grabbed 25 rebounds to lead Georgia over Furman 97-71 at Athens, Ga. Illinois crushed Tulane 105-71 at Champaign and Clemson downed Alabama at Tuscaloosa 96-74.

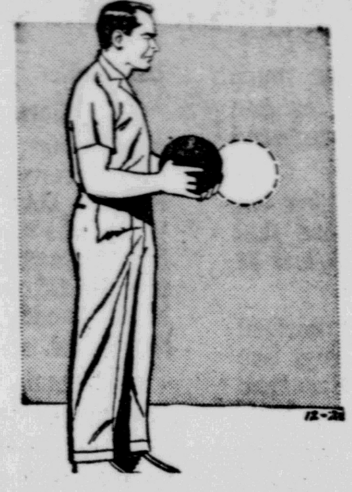
Wisconsin-Milwaukee upset Creighton 79-74 while, in other home court triumphs, Tulsa downed San Jose 89-84, Iowa whipped North Dakota 91-59, Northwestern took Ohio U. 89-80, Colorado edged Arizona 70-69, Utah upended Oregon State 86-54 and Seattle beat Denver 84-64.

On the road, Drake defeated Iowa State 81-71, Boston College beat Fairfield 81-69, Southern California edged Oklahoma 48-46 and Oklahoma State nipped Trinity, Tex., 65-63.

Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 1 in the AP small college poll, won its 28th straight by crushing San Diego State 86-63 at Owensboro, Ky.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Your push-away should be a fairly slow movement, just as your first step should be. Never merely shove the ball out and start galloping to the foul line. The delivery should be a graceful, easy action from start to finish, with your speed building up as you get closer to the foul line.

Marin Cage Teams Take To Road

It's a mass exodus.

All but two of Marin County's basketball teams are heading away from home and hearth in a heavy basketball schedule tonight and tomorrow.

San Marin High School, in a 3:30 p.m. game against St. Patrick's of Vallejo at Novato, and Novato High School, in a 7 p.m. battle against the College of Marin frosh team, are today's stay at homes.

College of Marin's varsity seeks to break a three-game losing streak at Yuba Junior College at 8 p.m. today. The Tars are 2-5 on the season. They'll go to Santa Cruz tomorrow to battle Cabrillo at 8 p.m.

Redwood High School, with an opening-round victory over Vacaville under its belt, goes into the second round of the Yuba City Tournament tonight against Livermore at eight o'clock.

Tamalpais, looking for its second win of the season, gets two cracks at it in San Mateo with games against Jefferson High (Daly City) tonight at seven o'clock and Cabrillo High School tomorrow at 7 p.m.

In other 7 o'clock games tonight, San Rafael High School is at Vallejo High, Drake travels to Richmond to meet highly-rated Salesian High School, winless Marin Catholic goes to San Francisco to meet the Catholic Athletic League's Riordan High School, and Terra Linda is at Rancho Cotate in Rohnert Park.

Happy Camp: Latest Reports

By RALPH STEVENS

Jim Roads, Klamath River Guide Service at Happy Camp reports: "Fishing has been on the slow side this past week. A recent warm rain muddied up the river for several days. This could encourage new runs of fish to enter from the ocean. However, I have produced good results on two and three-day trips for my parties. River in fine shape now. But a call to me will get you the latest information."

The above report was written and posted on Friday, Dec. 13th. So it is advisable to make that phone call. We have had a couple stormy days since.

FROM NOW until the end of the season weather and water will control matters. I suggest you make contact with someone on the scene before jumping in the car and hightailing it for your favorite hole on your favorite stream. As of right now, the only news of steelhead fishing is mainly bad news. "Dirty water!" is the common phrase at present. Prospects are poor on most streams. But remember, it is the consensus of old-timers that very seldom in steelhead fishing is it really good until after the new year begins. There have been periods of clear, clean water, in late December in the coastal waters, but such periods are extremely rare.

Mike Crean of Spanish Flat, Lake Berryessa reports: "Lake Berryessa continues to provide good topline trout action. The trout are on the move due to the rains and the ganging up of the threadfin shad.

"The creeks and streams are beginning to receive rain runoff, and the lake has risen about two feet. The action spots for successful trolling have been Capell Creek, Steel Canyon, Spanish Flat Harbor area and Putah Creek. Trollers are still picking up trout on the surface and letting out around 140 feet of line. Both trophy trout and native trout have been taken. The native trout are hitting larger lures then the trophy trout. For example: the No. 6 Okiedokie, X-4, and U20 Flatfish, while trophy trout are hitting one-quarter ounces Kastmaster, No. 2½ Rebel and numbers 20 and 21 Oakiedokie. Trollers are sticking around 35 feet off shore and concentrating on mouths of all creeks, harbors and major stream inlets, as well as the steep shorelines leading into them. Average size — 3 to 5 pounds per fish."

No Solution To Golf Problem

SUNOL, Calif. (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association failed yesterday to come up with a solution to the problem created by the scheduling of conflicting golf tournaments Jan. 9-12.

The PGA had set up a $50,000 tournament at a course here for those dates to compete with the $100,000 Los Angeles Open, which had been scheduled by a rival players group, the American Professional Golfers.

The two groups have since settled their dispute, but both tournaments are still scheduled.

Yesterday, local PGA officials Lyle Wehrman had a conference call with Bill Rogers, a PGA attorney, and Sam Gates, of the defunct APG.

Wehrman suggested that some top name golfers be assigned to the Sunol tournament and that the PGA donate $50,000 to the prize money. The PGA rejected both offers. Further meetings have been scheduled.

Two Kids From Brooklyn Make Oaks Interesting

OAKLAND — Unable to resist temptation, I joined two thousand other secretive souls the other night to watch two kids from Brooklyn via North Carolina play basketball for a guy who used to be with Oshkosh in an Oakland arena against several fellows from New Orleans.

PLACE DROPPING, Aside, I was curious about the abilities of the Oakland Oaks, specifically their Larry Brown and Doug Moe, the Brooklyn sorts.

The Oaks, as yours truly indicated weeks ago, are destroying the American Basketball Association. After the game I witnessed against New Orleans, Oakland had been defeated only four times in 26 games. They may come around eventually.

COULD, ONE wondered, the Oaks be this good? I mean a real team, not just the best of a ragged lot. A good team, not yet. An interesting one, definitely. Not to mention an awfully, awfully expensive organization.

Forgetting for a moment Rick Barry's salary of 75 grand, I was stunned to learn the Oaks' poorest basket maker earns $13,000. Stunned I tell you.

IN BETWEEN Barry and Mr. 13 thou, are Brooklynites Larry Brown and Doug Moe. Between them, they take about $50,000 from owners Ken Davidson (insurance) and Pat Boone (chords).

Brown is my favorite kind of basketball player, not solely because he wears a mezuzah inside his tunic while at play. Larry is a little guard — really little, like 5-9. He doesn't, ever, make mistakes. At least not important one.

THIS NIGHT the Oaks were protecting a slim lead in the final moments. G.M.-coach Alex Hannum (erstwhile Oshkosher) shouted to Brown, "Keep it out(side). Take your time."

So Larry called a time out.

"I thought," said Larry upon arrival at the bench, "you wished a time out." Hannum smiled, patiently, at what might be a good idea anyway.

Alex needs much patience for this raw team, and indulges it. Far more than Barry, who, of course, has been around. At the far end of the court, a technical foul had been called against New Orleans — so Barry ran down quickly to take the free throw.

HANNUM, AND a few Oaks on the bench, hadn't noticed the technical. Someone asked Barry what he was doing at what seemed to be the wrong end of the court. "It's our free throw line, isn't it?" peacocked SuperJunior, who made his usual underhanded free throw.

With this, too, Hannum is patient.

Brown and the larger (6-5), older (30 to 28) Moe played together at North Carolina for a season, although not at the same Brooklyn High School. But their Flatbush roots give them obvious camaraderie.

BROWN IS driving down the middle, seeking a mate. And Moe streaks down the left side, shouting, "Much later, Larry, much later." In Brooklynese, this meant Larry should lob, softly, a pass to Doug under the bucket. Brown led Moe perfectly for two points.

And several Oaks on the bench laughed aloud over the "much later" dictum.

"THOSE TWO guys played by themselves for New Orleans last year; that's why they were traded to the Oaks," said someone who seemed to know the ABA.

After the game, I asked New Orleans coach Babe McCarthy if his player personnel budget were eased by the trade.

"By half," he smiled. "But I'm not sorry."

Neither, one should add, are the Oaks.

Seals To Get Another Shot At St. Louis

OAKLAND (UPI) — Whoever gave the St. Louis hockey team the nickname of the Blues must have had the Oakland Seals' attitued toward them in mind.

Oakland has been singing the blues over their games with St. Louis for two seasons. The Seals were 0-7-3 last season and are 0-2-0 this time around against the Blues, finest team in the Western Division.

St. Louis comes to call tonight, 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena, with their great one-two goalie punch of Glenn Hall and Jacques Plante. The Seals would like to win one against St. Louis at least, but will probably wind up singing the blues again.

Novato, Tam Soccermen Tie

The unbeaten soccer teams of Tamalpais and Novato high schools battled to a 1-1 tie at Novato yesterday, keeping Novato on top of the Marin County Athletic League standings.

Novato has two victories and a tie for five points under soccer scoring while Tamalpais of Mill Valley is 1-0-1 for three points. Marin Catholic is 1-1 for two points and Redwood is 0-1 and Drake 0-2. Two points are given for a win and one point for a tie.

Forward Mark Costello scored for Tamalpais on a yard goal while Novato tied it up with a 20-yard angle shot by the school's student body president, Kevin McDowell.

Coach Finds Way To Snap Loss Streak

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) — Want to break a basketball losing streak?

Simple. Just have your players carry a basketball around. Everywhere.

That's what Pfeiffer College Coach Francis Essie did recently after his Carolinas Conference Falcons dropped three of their first four games.

After they'd lost their third straight, to Campbell, Essic called a late night practice session.

He explained later, "We weren't doing many things right that night and lacked teamwork. So, after practice I ordered each player to take a basketball with him.

"I thought if they carried a basketball around for awhile they would be reminded they were basketball players."

Eleven players toted basketballs everywhere — to class, meals—even to bed.

They were embarrassed by the kidding of classmates, but they followed Essic's orders.

Their next game, two days after the therapy, they beat Appalachian. Then came victories over Carson-Newman, Guilford and Presbyterian.

Now the record is 5-3 and the Falcons are free to enjoy the holidays before resuming play Jan. 6 at Atlantic Christian.

Warriors Vs. Lakers In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers and San Francisco Warriors renew their National Basketball Association feud tonight and both teams will have stars moving in and out of the lineup.

Elgin Baylor of the Lakers, who missed two games with a groin muscle pull, is scheduled to return. Jim King of the Warriors, whose stomach problems have kept him out nearly a whole season, is also set to play.

But Tom Hawkins of the Lakers has the flu and probably won't suit up. And San Francisco's Nate Thurmond reinjured a thigh muscle last week and might not play.

BOWLING NOTES

Red-Hot Scores In 905 Classic

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Bowlers in the 905 Classic League Tuesday night at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael really had the hot hands.

Twenty of the 60 bowlers in the league had series scores of 600 or better, with Dick White leading the way with a 693, games of 219, 248 and 226.

Among the other high scorers in that league were Mike Weddell, 692; Lou Eastland, 660; Ray Miller, 647; Jack Lundahl, 644; Ron Reagan, 643, and Ron Baccei, 634.

Franchini's team in the 905 Classic had games of 1,055, 1,082 and 979 for a 3,116 series.

WELCOME WAGON — Dick Helmold is the new manager and Bob McAdam the assistant manager at Greenbrae Lanes after Brunswick Corp. transferred manager Fred Riesenman to Pueblo, Colo. Helmold was assistant manager at Land Park Bowl in Sacramento before his move to Marin, while McAdam comes from Lido Lanes in Newark.

THIS AND THAT — Nancy Wurz, 150 average, rolled a 231 game in the Wednesday Blue Chip League at Country Club Bowl. . . Togetherness was the theme of the Perry's Delicatessen team in the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes, Dave Gottlieb, Vern Chaon, Jack Lagomarsino and Ernie Moeckel each rolling 504 series — And Chaon did it the hard way, three 168s for a dandy triplicate. . . In the Novato Unified Bowlers League at Nave Lanes, Don Clifford rolled a 242, high game of that league. . . Also in the Novato Unified Bowlers, Karma Raymond converted the difficult 3-4-7-10 split. . . In the Marin County Mixed Travel League at Nave's, Lil Scotto missed a 158 triplicate by just one pin, and Dave Moorehouse had high score, 243. . . In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Club, it was Carl Adams with a 621 series and Bonnie Bradford with her first 200, a 203.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Marilee May, 126 avg., rolled a 204 game and 520 series in the Toppers at Country Club. . . First time over the 600 mark were Larry Alpert of the Mixed Mates, 619, and Mitch Mitchell of the Twilite Twirlers, 600 even, both at Country Club Bowl. . . Tom Williams of the TGIF League at Country Club has a 150 average, but it didn't stop him from rolling a 601 series and 244 line. . . Other big scores came from Will Harris (158 avg.), 615 in the Toppers; Milt Larsen (150 avg.), 621 in the Lutheran Late, and Chris Kirk, (160 avg.), 626 in the 670 Scratch. . . But high score in the 670 Scratch came from Mike Curry, manager at Country Club Bowl who has really been hitting the pins this season. This time it was a 643 series.

Raiders Dominate UPI Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Quarterback Joe Namath who led the New York Jets to the Eastern Division title was named today for the first time on the 1968 United Press International's American Football League All-Star team.

Namath, elected the Jets' captain on offense, completed 187 of 380 passes for a 49.2 percentage and overcame the public razzing which followed his failure to throw a touchdown pass during a six-game stretch.

Two other New York players were named to the 1968 AFL's first team All-Stars. George Sauer gained recognition at one of the wide receiver berths and Gerry Philbin drew two-thirds of the 30 votes cast by a panel of league experts to secure a defensive end post.

Oakland, the 1967 AFL champion, placed seven players on the 22 man squad to dominate the elite selections. The Raiders, who meet the Kansas City Chiefs Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title, have three men on the offensive squad and four on defense.

Jim Otto, at center, guard Gene Upshaw and hard driving back Hewritt Dixon collected the most votes for their positions. On defense, the writers picked tackle Dan Birdwell, middle linebacker Dan Connors, cornerback Willie Brown and safety Dave Grayson.

Also chosen for the first team offense were San Diego's Ron Mix at tackle and Lance Alworth as a wide receiver, Jim Tyrer of Kansas City at tackle, Jim Whalen of Boston at tight end and fabulous rookie Paul Robinson of Cincinnati at a running back slot. Robinson rushed for over a thousand yards, only the second AFL freshman to accomplish this ground gaining milestone.

Three Kansas City defenders were elected to the team—tackle Buck Buchanan, linebacker Bobby Bell and safety John Robinson. Others were end Rich Jackson of Denver and Houston's George Webster at linebacker and Miller Farr at cornerback.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 20, the 355th day of 1968 with 11 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1803 the American government officially took over from France the land bought in the Louisiana Purchase,

In 1864 Gen. William Sherman completed his march to the sea and arrived in Savannah, Ga.

In 1922 the 14 Russian republics combined to form the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

In 1952 an Air Force Globemaster crashed at Moses Lake, in Washington, killing 87 servicemen.

A Thought for the Day: Walt Whitman said, "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

About 71 per cent of Texas' population resides in the state's 23 metropolitan areas.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Response To One No-Trump Sometimes Flounders Player

Most players flounder after partner's opening bid of one notrump. A response of two of a suit is weak, inviting partner to pass. A jump to three of a suit usually stirs the notrumper to trot out the Blackwood Convention. How then can the responder force to game without getting too high?

Opening lead — ♣ J

FIRST MOVE

The opening no-trumper should not get beyond game unless the responder makes the first move toward slam. In today's hand, for example, after South's jump to three hearts, North may not bid anything higher than four hearts.

If North had 18 points (maximum for his opening bid) he might bid four clubs or four diamonds at his second turn. This would confirm heart support (in this position, any bid except three notrump promises heart support) and shows about 18 points with the ace of the suit he bids.

In the actual hand North can raise only to four hearts since he has only 16 points. Moves toward slam must come from South.

BEST CHANCE

South's best chance is to take the first trick with the ace of clubs and draw three rounds of trumps, ending in the dummy. He then ruffs a low club to see if the king drops, a slim chance but not to be neglected.

South may lead another trump to encourage a diamond discard, but must then tackle the diamonds himself.

TAKE ACE

Declarer should take the ace and then the king of diamonds, planning to lead a third diamond toward dummy if the queen does not drop. This develops a third diamond trick not only when West has the queen but also when the suit breaks 3-3 and when East has the doubleton queen.

Since the queen of diamonds drops, South has no problem. If South had taken an ordinary diamond finesse, he would have gone down.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ Q J 8 3
♥ 5 3 2
♦ Q 5
♣ K 7 6 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he can.

If partner bids two spades, you will raise to three spades; otherwise your next bid will be two notrump.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Read Tax Book, Consult Your Tax Adviser For Best Returns

Wikel

These columns are intended to help you in a general way with the questions about your income and deductions and to give information of a general nature so you will be aware of the savings that may be open to you. Each taxpayer has individual circumstances and individual problems.

Get a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax 1968 Edition for Individuals from your office of the Internal Revenue Service and look up every item of income and expense you had in 1968. You may have an unexpected deduction.

If you have a specific problem you should consult your tax man as early as possible so that he will have plenty of time to prepare your tax return properly.

MANY AREAS

You are taxed on wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses, tips and fees for services, including director's fees. If you are paid in goods or services, the fair market value of the goods or services is taxed.

Amounts deducted from your pay for union dues, taxes, insurance, vacation, contributions, etc., are taxed to you in the year deducted.

Vacation allowances paid to employees from a vacation fund are taxed.

Amounts paid by your employer for a reconditioning, health restoring or executive rehabilitation program for you are taxed.

Serverance pay is compensation for services and is taxable.

CONTRACT TAX

A lumpsum payment for cancellation of an employment contract is taxed.

Practically everything you receive is taxable income, with few exceptions.

If your income was from self-employment and was $400 or more you are required to file a federal income tax return and report and pay your self-employment tax even though you do not owe income tax.

You must file a federal income tax return for 1968 if you are under 65 and had gross income of $600 or more, or over 65 and had gross income of $1,200 or more.

MUST FILE

If you meet the above conditions, then you must file a federal income tax return regardless of whether you owe tax or not, and it does not matter whether you are a man, woman or child; you are required to file a return by Tuesday, April 15, 1969.

It may be that you had income of less than $400 or $600 or $1,200 and income tax was withheld from you paychecks. In this case, you should file a tax return and Uncle Sam will refund the withheld tax.

You are required to file a California income tax return if you are:

Single and have a gross income of $6,000 or more or an adjusted gross income of $2,750 or more; or married and have a gross income of $6,000 or more or an adjusted gross income of $5,500 or more.

SEVERE PENALTIES

The law imposes severe penalties for failing to make a return, or for making a false or fraudulent return, or for failing to file a return on time.

If you are required to file, it is better to file the return even though no tax may be due. Then you are sure.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Two Sales Can Balance Widow's Good Portfolio

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a working widow, two years away from retirement. My pension will be adequate so I am interested in growth stocks. Three years ago I inherited shares of 15 listed issues. I have since purchased six OTC and American Exchange issues and have taken a $1,000 loss. Do you have any advice on my holdings? — H.H.

A. I have very few changes to suggest; your list is unusually well suited to your investment goals. Since you have a rather extended list to follow, capital from sales could be used to build up your position in selected issues. I would also prefer to see your overinvestment in the health-care field reduced.

Genovese Drug Store, which has doubled since it was issued last June, has probably expended its near-term potential. I would accept the fine profit now available.

Costs, competition and a sizeable dilution factor will continue to restrict Trans World Airlines' earnings. Sale is advised.

Shares of International Telephone should be added to, as should those of Mobil Oil.

Air Milage Up

NEW YORK (BW)—Pan American Airways flew 943 million revenue passenger miles during November, up 13.4 per cent over the same month last year.

Market On Low Side At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today after erasing an early advance. Trading was active.

Profits were taken on gains of many blue chips in Thursday's turbulent, up-and-down market.

Prices near the close included:

Pan American World Airways, up 1⅛ at 29¼; Continental Air Lines, off 1½ at 24⅜; INA Corp., up 1½ at 53; American Telephone, off ⅜ at 54¼; Xerox, off 4¾ at 275¼; IBM, off 4¼ at 321¾; Republic Steel, up 1⅛ at 51; Eastern Air Lines, off 1⅞ at 29½; and Johns-Manville, up 2 at 84.

A million-share trade of Pan American World Airways pushed that stock far ahead as the most-active stock. Pan Am held a gain of about a point, backing away from its rise of 1⅞ on the block. The company was one of the chief beneficiaries of the transpacific air route awards.

Another, Northwest Airlines, held a 2-point gain. Profits were taken on advances of other airline stocks made Thursday in advance of the route news. American and Eastern airlines each dropped 2 in disappointment that no action was taken helping them on domestic routes.

Steels were mostly higher. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel rose more than a point each.

BUSINESS WEEK

Columbia Eyes Marin Cable Firms

Clear View Cable Systems, Inc. and Marin Cable Television, Inc., both operating in Marin, may become part of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

Columbia has reported reaching a tentative agreement to acquire all the outstanding stock of the two companies. Terms have also been discussed by Columbia and Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., which operates community antenna television systems in California and Washington.

INTERNATIONAL INDUSTRIES, INC. reported a 62 per cent increase in net earnings and a 50 per cent increase in earnings per share for the first quarter of its 1969 fiscal year. Revenues for the first three months ended Dec. 1 were up 40 per cent over the comparable period a year ago. First quarter earnings totaled $1,425,500; per share earnings were 33 cents; revenues amounted to $11,720,000.

BANK OF AMERICA shareholders have approved increasing the bank's capital stock by the declaration of a 20 per cent stock dividend, payable Dec. 30. The number of authorized bank shares will be increased from 28.98 million to 35 million. Authorized capital will increase from $181,125,000 to $218,750,000, based on a par value of $6.25.

Population Pressures Blamed For Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mass media does not cause violence in society, a psychiatrist has told the President's commission on violence, but its portrayal of violent behavior tends to increase tendencies toward criminal behavior.

Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie told the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence yesterday that "the twin evils of population explosion and population density" are main causes leading to violence.

"When real estate interests are allowed to make more and more money by crowding more and more hapless human beings on the head of a pin, they are cannibalizing our society," he said.

"The media did not create this," he went on, "but they accelerate the pace in this direction, giving us less time to find any solutions as they turn the power to destroy over to the least mature elements in the population . . . to those who are most compulsively driven, most noisy and clamorous in their demands for immediate gratification of the need for raw sex and murder."

Dr. Kubie said the media, which he defined as ranging from comic books to newspapers to television, does this by its portrayal of "diseased and uncontrolled sexual behavior, bodily mutilation, torture, hate and destruction."

"If this skillful technology were used in a different way, it could be health-giving," he told the commission.

More Reds Killed

SEOUL (UPI)—South Korean troops killed 10 more North Korean commandos who landed on South Korea's east coast Oct. 30, military spokesmen said today. The announcement said the latest were killed yesterday and brought to 89 the number slain.

Plane Crash Kills Pilot, Student

FREMONT (AP) — A flight instructor and his student were killed then their Cessna 150 crashed into shallow water just south of the Dumbarton Bridge yesterday afternoon.

The dead were Philip M. Benson, 27, and Michael M. Milewski, 18, a student at Foothill College. Both were from Mountain View.

Benson was an instructor for San Jose Flight School.

Apprentice Force: 5 Per Cent Negro

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Negroes make up 5 per cent of all new apprentices in the California labor force between January and September, according to the state Department of Industrial Relations.

The department announced on yesterday that a survey, the first conducted under a 1967 state law requiring the department to maintain ethnic date on registered apprentices, showed Mexican and Spanish Americans comprised 8.2 per cent.

Shotgun Killer Is Latest On FBI's 'Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI added the name of Richard Lee Tingler Jr., 28, charged with six gunshot murders in Ohio, to the list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" today.

Tingler has been charged with murder in the deaths of three men and a woman in Cleveland, Ohio. The bodies of the victims were found in a park there last Sept. 16.

Tingler also has been charged in the deaths of two teen-age employees of a Columbus, Ohio, dairy store during an armed robbery Oct. 20, 1968.

A federal warrant charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and armed robbery was issued at Columbus Oct. 24.

On the most wanted list Tingler replaces Levi Washington, who was wanted for bank robbery and was located in local custody at Jackson, Mich., on Dec. 9.

Tingler was described as a white American, 5 feet 8 inches tall, 145 pounds in weight, with blue eyes, blond hair and a slender build.

He has a tattoo "RT" on his left forearm. The FBI said he could be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

To Leave Hospital

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Ex-Prime Minister Antonio Salazar will leave a hospital for home in three or four days, his personal physician said today.

31 Killed In Flaming Crash

IGUALA, Mexico (UPI)—A bus carrying 48 persons sideswiped a car yesterday, hurtled 1,000 feet over a mountain cliff and burst into flames.

The government said at least 31 persons were killed.

A survivor of the wreck of the Mexico City to Acapulco bus told police the car apparently righted itself and sped away.

The bus swerved from side to side along the narrow mountain highway and finally burst through a guard rail and over the edge, the passenger said.

India Bureaucrats Try Speed-up Idea

PATIALA, India (AP) — Employees of a state government department have decided to work with top efficiency for one week. They will dispose of any business referred to them in 10 minutes during that week.

They feel this would be a better way to earn public sympathy for their grievances than the usual go-slow methods.

Nixon Buys A $127,000 Hideaway

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon has purchased a $127,000 home on this island retreat off Miami that has become Nixon's favorite vacation hideaway.

The deed to the home at 516 Bay Lane was signed and recorded yesterday.

Nixon's purchase of the home further increased local speculation that the president-elect intends to make Key Biscayne his "Little White House."

Since his election in November, the president-elect has made several trips to Key Biscayne, a small island of fashionable homes in Biscayne Bay south of dowtown Miami.

Thomas Wakefield of the Miami law firm of Wakefield and Underwood represented the president-elect at the closing.

The home was purchased from Emanuel Arca Jr.

The warranty deed on Nixon's new home carried $383.43 worth of Florida documentary stamps, which are sold at the rate of $3 per $1,000 value of property.

Policemen Face Trial On Shooting

OAKLAND (UPI) — Alameda County Superior Court Judge Folger Emerson ruled yesterday two white police officers must face trial on charges of shooting up the Black Panther headquarters.

Officers Robert Farrell, 26, and Richard Williams, 28, wert accused of firing "into an occupied building" last September —24 hours after Black Panther Huey Newton was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of a policeman.

No one was injured in the gunfire, which shattered the main window and shot up a huge photo of Newton.

Defense attorney Alfred Chiantelli argued Thursday for dismissal of charges on grounds the headquarters of the militant black organization was not occupied. Asst. Dist. Atty Lowell Jensen said the storefront office was situated below apartments, and therefore was technically occupied.

Chiantelli immediately filed a denial of the charge. Judge Emerson said he would rule on the demurer Jan. 17, and if the court denies it, will require the arraignment of the two officers.

Congressman To Aid Pentagon Transition

NEW YORK (AP) —Rep. Glenard P. Lipscomb, R-Calif., will be chief transition officer for President-elect Nixon's designate as secretary of defense.

Lipscomb will continue in the post until Melvin Laird is confirmed as secretary of defense by the Senate, Laird said last night. Lipscomb, 53, is ranking minority member of the House Defense Appropriation Subcommittee and has represented Los Angeles County in Congress since 1953.

Baar, Jensen Both Right On Golf Course Project

We find ourselves in agreement today with two members of the San Rafael City Council who differed Tuesday night.

Before the council was a proposal to contract with San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a non-profit organization, for city lease-purchase of an 18-hole golf course on the Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Louis H. Baar, sitting for the last time as a city councilman, urged that no contract be signed until an independent study of the financial aspects of the venture had been made by a consultant firm with no vested interest.

We agree.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, however, declared no pact should be entered into until the proposal is put to a vote of the people.

We agree — although Councilman Baar did not.

BAAR'S PROPOSAL for an independent study won unanimous council approval. Jensen was alone in urging the people vote on the project. But we think both proposals are correct.

The golf course plan sounds very enticing, as presented. Figures worked out for the non-profit corporation promise a return to the city which will enable it to acquire the golf course without dipping into tax funds, and to realize a profit for benefit of the taxpayers after the 40-year lease-purchase is completed.

The city council should not act on the basis of these figures alone, however. A study by a disinterested and reliable consultant firm is called for, as protection to the taxpayers. The council did right in authorizing it.

After such a study has been made, its findings should be thoroughly publicized and the issue then placed before the voters. There is time enough to put it on next April's municipal election ballot, so no special election need be involved.

Financing such projects by the non-profit corporation lease-purchase route is too often only a dodge to keep from putting an unpopular bond issue before the people.

If the golf course fails to produce enough revenue to make the lease payments plus its own maintenance costs, the tax payers will have to make up the loss — exactly the same as they would if it were financed by a bond issue. They therefore are entitled to the same control over whether the money is committed.

The city council should not use the device of lease-back from a corporation which is in effect its own creation to thwart the control of the people over possible commitment of tax funds for 40 years to come.

WE ARE REMINDED, in this connection, of another city project which was approved by the people but never came into being.

Several years ago, at urging of then-Councilman Charles W. Aby, the council agreed to build city-owned housing for the elderly on property the city already owned. In an excess of caution quite in contrast to their eagerness (except for Jensen) regarding the golf course, councilmen put this on the ballot. A majority of voters approved.

But the housing was never built. The money earmarked for it out of the city's surplus eventually went to other uses.

A golf course may be a better revenue producer than housing for the elderly. Whether it is more needed is certainly questionable. There is no observable shortage of golf courses in Marin, and there certainly is a shortage of low-rent housing. Besides, the housing project would not have committed future tax revenues.

Christmas Gifts For Campuses Call For Special Buying List

By JAMES K. WOODWORTH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Christmas is a time for giving and receiving. It might be well to note some of the "special gifts" which some members of our society are hoping they will get this year.

Some of those who participated in the Chicago and San Francisco riots may be singing that old refrain, "All I want for Christmas is my two front teeth."

Top sales might have been realized had someone thought of a boomerang type of rock, which, when thrown at a college window, would return to the tosser, thus saving him the trouble of having to look for another.

Militants, and possibly the police, might find some use for a handy-dandy soft rubber billy club, completely equipped with self-breaking blood capsules. Thus when the police whacked a rioter over the noggin with the club, the capsules would break and a blood colored, washable, substance would trickle down the face of the injured party and the TV cameramen would have a field day.

SUGGESTED GIFTS for TV cameramen include such items as hard hats, with identifying station call letters, complete with mobile first aid kit and camera repair kit. Also enclosed should be simple instructions for temporary repair of cracked skulls and smashed noses, as well as a small mirror so the injured party can practice facial expressions including terror, the hurt look, and deadly determination, before the camera is swung around to him.

College presidents and university officials could find use for a pocket-sized four-letter word dictionary, so they would know what the militants were calling them. Also suggested would be a quickly attached jet-rocket jacket, capable of propelling the pilot out of mob scenes at the touch of a trigger. Landing might create a problem.

For legislators who find it advantageous to mix with the demonstrators, we suggest a "duck-call" contraption, which, if blown loud enough, will bring all TV cameramen running on the double. Each of these packages should contain real, life-like photos of injured participants (shot previously in a studio for the best lighting) and torn shirts, trampled hats and other necessary items to show what has occurred on campus.

GIFTS ESPECIALLY for the riot policemen create a little more of a problem since, according to the militants, they have everything. Perhaps individual squirt gun weapons, which they can take home to their youngsters, with diluted mace, or perhaps special leather jackets, much like the Hell's Angels wear, with a large target painted on the back and the words "I am a COP" painted in the center target area.

Of special interest might be the Hayakawa dolls, which, when stuck with pins, screech out a screaming "Banzai." Thus the militants can play with something equal to their intelligence and still make their point.

Special American Flags, made of gasoline-saturated paper ready to burn, would find a wide acceptance, and could be offered at a cut-rate price to those who could not afford the real thing.

Blue Ribbon Boost For S. I. Hayakawa

Wouldn't it be nice to show this brave man, S. I. Hayakawa, that we are solidly behind him here in Marin County, by wearing a blue ribbon on our right sleeves? I think he really deserves this, and for his Merry Christmas here in Mill Valley I'd like to suggest for us older folks who can't go to college a wave of hundreds of blue ribbons.

Let's show we are behind him. Speaking for myself, I think he's a very brave man and a wise one.

Sensitivity Training Industry's 'Baby'

Games indeed! How did Synanon get into your Dec. 16 editorial on the proposed sensitivity training in our local high schools?

At a talk given recently in Mill Valley by Dr. Walter Lee, on the subject, the information which impressed me the most was that industry had pioneered the field of sensitivity training and encounter groups. Top executives in many of our major corporations are given such training as a matter of company policy, the intent being to free them from personal hangups so that they may more objectively deal with the problems they will encounter in the business community. It apparently pays off.

If ever a lack of communication existed it would appear to be here, between the school district "team" advocating such training and the parent group opposing it. Could this be where the experiment should begin?

Has Bombing Halt Cost Us In Lives?

A widely-published cartoon during World War II showed a dead American soldier on a battlefield in Europe. The caption was "The Price of a Third Term."

You should now publish a picture of a jungle trail in Vietnam, littered with the bodies of American boys. The caption should be "The Price of a Democrat Victory — It Almost Worked."

How many of those dead would now be living if the bombing of North Vietnam had continued to inhibit the transport of men and weapons to the south?

Campus Militants Resort To Ugly Blackmail

(Reprinted from Chico Enterprise-Record)

Prominent among the weapons being used by lawbreaking black militants in their efforts to destroy California's higher education system is one of history's oldest and dirtiest instruments of evil — blakmail.

Taking advantage of the sensitive nature of people in general — and of top educators and public officials in specific — the black militants have created a circumstance under which they have twisted wholesome and positive trends toward "equality for all" into a sorry and negative system of "special treatment" for blacks. Here is how they work their blackmail:

MOST CITIZENS and educators and public officials honestly believe that all races should be treated alike and that all should be accorded equal educational opportunity. These attitudes are manifested in the tremendous strides forward which have been made in California's state college and university systems in the making of education available to Negroes and other ethnic minorities, even to the extent of establishing reduced qualifications. Having approved and participated in these strides forward, the citizens and educators and public officials do not consider themselves as "racists" and do not like to be referred to by that title.

But the black militants stand by with their brush to smear them with the "racist" slur time after time after time.

FOR EXAMPLE, the UC regents were termed "racist pigs" because they oppose they ruled against granting credit for lectures delivered by Black Panther and convicted felon Edridge Cleaver.

The State College trustees are termed "racist pigs" because they called for the suspension of San Francisco State teaching assistant George Murray, Black Panther minister of information who urged Negroes to carry guns on the campus, who participated in the assault and "pigs" by the militants because beating of members of the campus newspaper staff and who urges the machine gun killing of white leaders.

The trustees, unsympathetic fellow students, the governor, Speaker Unruh and the people in general are termed "racist campus violence by black militants at SF State and because they disagree with the black militant manner of shutting down the college.

IN SHORT, the black militants have established a situation in which every person who does not agree with every black militant goal, tactic or act of violence is by nature a "racist pig."

"If you don't approve of our actions, if you try to stand in our way, you are a racist pig!" That is blackmail, pure and simple; blackmail with a price tag of "special treatment."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A BIG LONDON Sunday newspaper announced a contest for aspiring young writers, offering substantial cash prizes for stories submitted. George Bernard Shaw, who considered the judges incompetent, sent in a new story under an assumed name. Sure enough he got it back forthwith, marked, "Mediocre. You will never be a professional writer."

H. Allen Smith tells of the day his Uncle Fred climbed a tall mountain and found a huge rock poised at its crest. He worked with might and main for hours and finally dislodged it. It went hurtling down the mountainside, headed straight for town, crashed through the supermarket and the First National Bank, and finally came to rest against an oak tree in the rear of that institution.

Folks came rushing from all sides to see what all the excitement was about, but Uncle Fred, arriving on the double, pushed them aside to scrutinize the rock carefully through a magnifying glass. Finally he straightened up, and announced, "Nope. No moss."

Voters Want, Deserve Greater Voice In Choosing Candidates

WASHINGTON — If those who want to strengthen our political system, which is government by the consent of the governed, focus wholly on reforming the electoral college, they will, I think, be making a great mistake.

Much more is needed.

What is required is a full-scale reform of the whole process by which the American people participate — or are denied participation — in choosing the delegates to the national party conventions, in influencing the presidential nomination, and in electing the President.

IMPROVEMENT of just the final stage of this process is not enough. Improvement of all three stages is urgent — for two important reasons:

The first is negative. The need is to change the electoral process to remove all possibility of electing a President with the lower popular vote (it has happened) and avert the disaster of the election going into the House of Representatives where an even smaller majority could dictate the choice.

The second and more important reason is positive. The need is to open up to fuller, easier and more visible voter participation the whole decision-making process by which our political parties transact the public business.

It seems to me that only by enabling voters to share more fully, more easily and more visibly in choosing the nominees for elective office can we achieve government by consent of the governed.

THAT IS THE CRUCIAL decision-making process, and Congress and the party leaders better realize that more voters want in — and are going to get in or else.

These are the reasons why a three-front electoral reform should be started now so it can take effect not later than 1972. It could be along these lines:

THE CONVENTION — Since the political parties have their moorings in the state, we should first turn to the states for reform. The crux of the matter is that the delegates to all party conventions — county, state and nation — Should be democratically chosen by the voters of each party. This is where the decision-making process begins. If it doesn't begin there, then democratic, voter-participation politics is stunted at birth.

A uniform statute could be presented to every state legislature and if the states fail to act then Congress has the power to require that the parties observe this process as it affects the Senate, the House and the presidency.

NATIONAL PRIMARY — The national conventions shouldn't be lightly abandoned. A national presidential primary should not be allowed to make the final decision on nominations until we experiment with it to see how well it works. This is why I believe a national advisory primary would be desirable. It would have two great assets:

One, it would enable the American people to show to each party convention the relative voter support which the possible nominees have.

Two, no runoff would be needed because it would not be the final decision.

As a further asset, such a primary could allow voters to vote a second as well as a first choice for for the nomination and this could be especially valuable and revealing. The final choice would be made by the domocratically elected delegates to the national convention and it is a certainty that the conventions would not lightly ignore the advisory primaries.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE — Something needs to be done, that's for sure. I am inclined to favor the view of the American Bar Association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Senate leaders Everett Dirksen and Mike Mansfield and others that the election of President and Vice President by direct popular vote is best. But Congress should study all possibilities — and soon.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Blushing Violet Congress Finds Way To Hike Pay

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Senators and House members, who would not like to take a close look at those executive pay raises to be proposed by President Johnson, can blame their sly and timid colleagues for their present plight.

The expected January quadrille with respect to top-echelon federal pay shapes up as a travesty on the legislative process. Like mischievous little boys (and girls), however, the lawmakers brought this on themselves.

As matters stand, President Johnson will propose large pay raises for cabinet members, the Supreme Court, top federal executives — and Congress — early in January. Unless Congress demurs, by voting to kill the raises, they become effective 30 days later.

THIS REVERSAL of the legislative process is no accident. Congress jiggered it this way when the federal pay act of 1967 was approved.

The raises, for some 2,000 "executives" in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government have been recommended to the President by a 12-member commission headed by Frederick Kappel, former chairman of the A T & T board of directors. The commission was established by the 1967 pay act.

The jiggering came about because the Kappel Commission was charged with recommending congressional pay increases, among others. Members of the House and Senate have always been less than bold about voting to raise their salaries.

The Constitution prevents members of the House and Senate from raising their pay and then collecting the higher salaries during a given Congress. Even so, many lawmakers shy away from all votes to increase congressional pay on grounds that the voters back home won't like it.

SO IT IS NOW the President who can act, in January, and Congress which contents itself with a veto. Under the 1967 law this inverted pay-raise process will be repeated, with the appointment of a new commission, every four years.

The Kappel Commission has marked Congress down for a raise from $30,000-a-year to $50,000 nearly doubling the present salary. Other representative recommendations:

Chief justice — $40,000 to $75,000, up $35,000.

Associate justices — $39,500 to $65,000, up $25,500.

Cabinet members — $35,000 to $60,000, up $25,000.

Though it was not officially directed to do so, the commission has proposed an increase for the President ($100,000 to $150,000), as well as the vice president and speaker of the House ($43,000 to $75,000). Those increases lift the pay ceiling at the very top.

THE CABINET level pay increases would serve to increase a ceiling on the top classified civil service positions, and a variety of bureau chiefs, ambassadors, general counsels and the like in federal agencies would get a smaller pay increase for that reason.

President Johnson could effect changes in the commission recommendations, but there has been no indication that he will do that. He is expected to forward the Kappel recommendations to Congress early in January.

Seeking Unusual Christmas Gift? How About A Hunk Of Trestle?

Christmas is less than a week away and unles you (unlike the rest of us) are superorganized, you, too, are casting desperately about for that last-minute unusual gift idea.

Well, relax. The Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society has a treasure trove of goodies for you and your hard-to-please relatives and friends.

At the top of its holiday list the landmarks society is offering spikes from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle in Tiburon in natural, unpolished chrome or polished chrome shades. The society managed to salvage only 250 of the spikes, so the rush is on.

ALSO OFFERED by the society is Old St. Hilary's note paper with a black line drawing of the historic church by Marin artist Hazel Stitt and the historical photo album of the peninsula, "glimpses of Belvedere and Tiburon, the Early Decades," containing 50 photographs of the early Tiburon-Belvedere days.

Books for sale include "Tiburon Peninsula Wildflower Handbook" for wildflower enthusiasts or those seeking a new diversion. The society is also offering rare books, including 18 copies of "Godey's Lady's Book" from 1850 to 1876 and "The Perennial Adventure, a Tribute ot Alice Eastwood, 1859 to 1953" by Susanna Bryant Dakin.

For those of you who are newcomers and have to ask, as I do, who Alice Eastwood was—well, she was a famous lady botanist and wildflower enthusiast.

NOT TO BE outdone by the prestigious landmarks society, the new and very active Belveron Association has also latched onto the trestle which for many years was its close and beloved neighbor.

New association members now receive a polished piece of the trestle as a memento of the organization. And members are busily building a long-awaited bus shelter for the area out of old trestle lumber.

OVERHEARD at a recent Mill Valley City Countil meeting: While city fathers and civic leaders were debating the shipping of bay mud overland to the ocean at Tennesse Cove (Saucelito Canal dredging project), Supervisor-Elect Michael Wornum suggested that the city make a community project of the mud and have everyone in Marin County take home two cubic yards of the stuff.

According to Wornum, you could dispose of it gradually down the bathtub and while you're waiting it might make a great body and mud pack, or children would use it for mud huts in the backyard, or you could dry it out in your oven and take some to San Francisco each day, where it could be deposited in trash cans for shipment to garbage country up north in Lassen County.

Thus, no unsightly fill, no expensive barging of the spoils to the ocean's depths and a lovely deep water channel for Mill Valley's yacht harbor.

It's ideas like that that won Wornum the election.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Administrator Enters Territory Reserved For Grand Jury

Fusselman

This is not the best time of year to write the type of column I offer each Friday. Our thoughts are just naturally on the holidays now, and there is a tendency to sort of skip over any consideration of things economic or politic, that can just wait until after the next two weeks.

Nevertheless, as my underlying objective is to, perhaps, induce more concern about our county affairs, I will put down some thoughts that may catch the eye, even though fleetingly.

In the I-J on the 12th of this month, after the heading, "Supervisors Salary Hike Is Due Study," comes this first paragraph: "Should the salaries of Marin County supervisors, now $9,600 per year, be raised to $15,286 in 1971?" This was one of the things to be discussed last Monday with our state legislators. It was stated that it had been included in a list of proposed legislation for 1969, compiled by the county administrator.

Any discussion of this was kept very quiet. I saw nothing of it in the paper. You know the grand jury has recommended a raise of just $100 a month. I have seen nothing of this being discussed last Monday either.

WHAT A GALL this fellow has to insolently presume, with a recommendation for an increase of any sort, much less one that exceeds the one of the grand jury for his bosses — or are they? I have been calling attention, for some time, to who is making policy and who is rubber stamping.

This is not the first time he has moved into the field occupied by grand juries. One year he was brazen enough to recommend a course of action the current body should follow. He had his pants burned for that one. They didn't like his nerve even a little bit and wrote him an open letter telling how much so. Did this cause him to take it easy? Not a bit. He is reported to be determined to run this county and that he doesn't want anyone to forget it.

I guess there is something more in a name than remoteness. Brasilia and all of Brazil has a dictator, too, now. A correction of the local situation would be a mighty fine start for the new upcoming board of supervisors.

THAT $100 MILLION Marin Transit Center proposal, reported by Paul Peterzell on page 10 of the Wednesday issue, could be the answer to a maiden's prayer. San Rafael architect David Elliott Stovel's plan is a very attractive concept, I think you will agree. If you didn't have time at the moment to go over it on Wednesday, you owe it to yourself to save the issue or get another for a careful reading the first thing next year.

There could be a pulling of hair and a gnashing of teeth over it though. More on that later.

Now, go and have yourselves a good Christmas, you hear.

Ninth Victim Of Crash Dies

HOLTVILLE (AP) —A ninth person died last night of injuries suffered in a highway collision involving two cars taking farm workers to their jobs.

Juan Vasquez, 19, of Mexicali, Mexico, succumbed in Brawley Pioneers Memorial Hospital. He was the seventh person in a car bound for Blythe from Mexicali in which all were injured fatally Wednesday.

The only survivor of the accident, Vernon Schafer, 19, of Fremont, was listed in fair condition in the Brawley hospital. Two other youths died in his car, bound for Yuma agriculture fields.

Thieves Too Noisy

MANILA (UPI)—Thieves who worked with more energy than stealth dug a tunnel beneath a warehouse in attempt to steal $3.2 million worth of merchandise but they made so much noise guards foiled the plot, police said today. They were 11 inches from the warehouse wall when a guard heard the clink of tools and frightened them away.

Is Childhood Leukemia A Disease More Common To The Wealthy?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The latest of many scientific efforts to understand acute childhood leukemia showed the children of the poor were less susceptible than the children of the well-to-do.

Factually, it applied to Cuyahoga County in Ohio, which includes Cleveland and its economically and socially variegated suburbs. But to the extent it is typical of American metropolitan complexes, (on the surface it appears representative), it has wide implications.

Drs. Diane Browning and Samuel Gross of Cleveland's Case Western Reserve University gathered the Cuyahoga County facts. The base ones were 168 cases of acute leukemia in children 14 years old or younger in a 10-year period and among 489,240 children in that age group. Fortunately, this fatal blood cancer has a low incidence everywhere.

Each case was pinpointed on a county map at the precise place it occurred. This map was then overlaid with a census tract map which assigned each trace to one of four economic groups on a basis of home value and the annual incomes of their occupants.

Group "A" tracts, economically and socially the richest, had a statistically significant higher incidence of acute childhood leukemia than group "D" tracts, economically and socially the poorest. This defied easy explanation and Drs. Browning and Gross said they could only speculate.

The well-to-do seek and so get better medical care than the poor, both in prevention and treatment of illness, they said in reporting to a technical journal of the American Medical Association. Then could it be "good medical care may leave the well-protected host more vulnerable in other as yet poorly defined areas"?

That could be only if leukemia is caused by a virus or viruses. The medically "well-protected" do not in general build up natural immunities to viruses as the medically unprotected do, and so they can have greater susceptibility to a specific virus.

There is no proof that human leukemia is caused by virus although a viral cause is widely suspected in cancer science. The Cuyahoga County cases did not "cluster" either in places of occurrence or in time, as they would be expected to if viruses were involved. However, Drs. Browning and Gross said this finding was inconclusive.

They also found a statistically significant higher incidence among white children than among Negro children, and a higher incidence among suburban children than city children. Statistically they demonstrated that the differences were not entirely due to the generally lower economic and social status of Negroes and of city dwellers. But they couldn't explain them.

REGIONAL SHARING

Tax On Wages Seen As Answer

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — A payroll tax on all wage earners in the Bay Area appeared to be the favored solution to property tax relief yesterday at a meeting here of the Association of Bay Area Governments' property tax relief committee. (Other ABAG Stories, page 14.)

Such a tax would be both more equitable and more feasible than any other regional tax, said Oakland Mayor John H. Reading. Suburban cities simply are not going to share their property tax revenue with the core cities to solve urban problems, he said.

A payroll tax, said Reading, would provide needed new revenue for government as well as easing the property tax burden.

Reading's support of a payroll tax was echoed by San Jose Mayor Ronald James. However, he said, it would be too much to expect property tax relief from a payroll tax.

At best, he said, the new tax would just keep property taxes from rising even more.

Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort noted that school officials should be made part of the committee because school taxes account for about 60 per cent of property taxes.

Both the president of ABAG, Contra Costa County Supervisor James P. Kenny, and the chairman of the special committee, Hayward Mayor John K. Smith, agreed that revenue from a payroll tax should be used only for city and county purposes, not to finance a regional government.

The committee, meeting here in the Hotel Claremont, appointed a group to study the subject of a regional tax, and to report back to the committee within 30 days.

"The subject simply is too complicated and far too broad for us," said the vice chairman of the special committee, Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis.

In addition to a payroll tax, a regional income tax and a regional sales tax are generally regarded as likely sources of new tax revenue.

The committee was formed last month after San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto agreed to postpone any city tax on commuters if "meaningful negotiations" on a regional tax began.

The committee appointed a 10-man "technical advisory group" consisting of city and county finance officers and administrators.

No date was set for the committee's next meeting.

Contamination Found In Apollo's Oxygen

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers found contamination in an Apollo 8 oxygen tank today in the first potentially serious hitch in the final hours of the countdown for tomorrow's launch of three men into orbit around the moon.

A space agency spokesman said the tank will have to be drained, purged and refilled with liquid oxygen but they said they expected this could be done during an afternoon rest period without disrupting the launch schedule.

"Project officials feel that the launch time can be met," said a Space Agency spokesman. "Work in the next few hours will determine this."

Astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are scheduled to begin their $310 million adventure at 4:51 a.m. PST tomorrow.

The liquid oxygen is used to fuel the spacecraft's fuel cell electrical power generators. The contamination was identified as nitrogen, and this could hamper the unit's operation.

Engineers believed the nitrogen got into the tank from a cooling unit on the service structure next to the towering space machine. If this is determined to be the source of the nitrogen engineers planned to replace the cooling unit.

All other aspects of the intricate countdown were reported proceeding without difficulty. Apollo 8 Commander Frank Borman reported, "We're as ready as we can be."

Engineers last night easily overcame the time-consuming snags related to the loading of the oxygen into the spacecraft.

Today was a day of rest for the three astronauts. They took Thursday night off, and Lovell took advantage of the time to visit his wife, Marilyn, and their four children for the second evening in a row. The other astronauts' families are in Houston.

Weathermen predicted cloudy, but satisfactory conditions for launch time. Tracking stations and recovery forces around the world reported they were set. Even solar radiation forecasters gave an all-clear nod to the moon-bound pilots.

They are scheduled to swing into a 69-mile high orbit around the moon Dec. 24, circle it 10 times and shoot back to earth Christmas morning after flashing a special yule telecast a quarter of a million miles back to television viewers around the world.

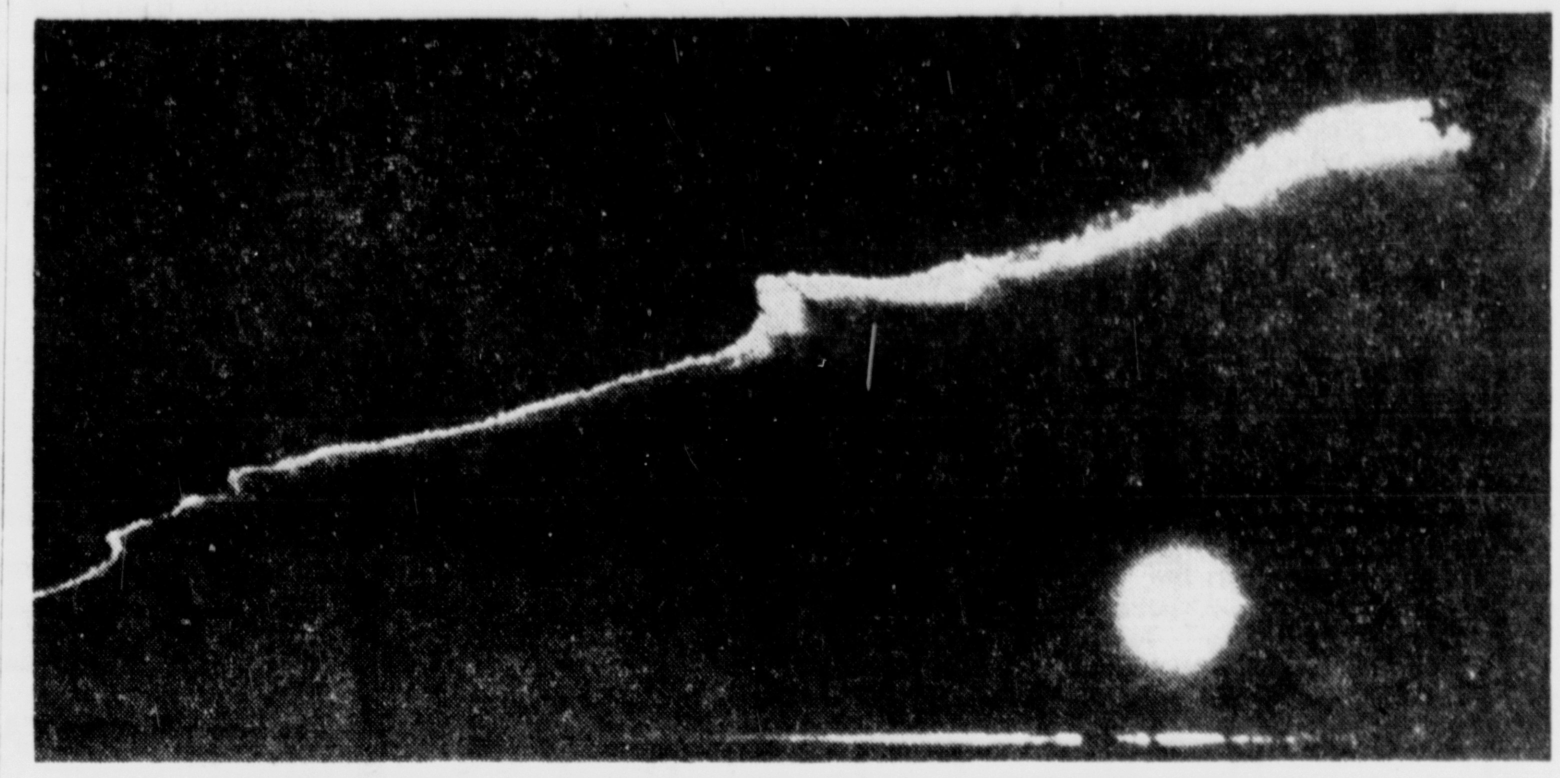
Central Valley Dusted By Snow

FRESNO (UPI)—Most of San Joaquin Valley got a hint of a white Christmas last night with snow reported in the foothills and the southern areas of the valley.

The Weather Bureau in Fresno reported there was one inch of snow on the ground at 4 a.m. and traces of snow clung to rooftops and automobiles until well past dawn.

The Highway Patrol advised it was snowing in the Tehachapi area and over the Grapevine this morning, but chains were not required.



EARLY MORNING SKY SPECTACLE

A Minuteman Man II missile fired from Vandenburg Air Force Base lighted up Marin skies this morning. Ice crystals forming after the exhaust heat caught the early rays of sunlight about 6:30 a.m. causing what is known as a "twilight effect," according to Air Force officials. The round object is a street light shining onto a telephone wire. Lt. Harvey E. Teague of the sheriff's department photographed this view from Novato.

U.S. Sees New Drive On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intelligence officers reported today that the Communist command has launched the first phase of a winter-spring campaign and is moving troops and war materials into position for an assault on Saigon. They expect the attack after New Year's.

The intelligence reports prompted the United States to warn the North Vietnamese in Paris that an attack on Saigon would jeopardize the peace talks.

The Viet Cong, meanwhile, observed the eighth anniversary today of the founding of its National Liberation Front with three grenade attacks and a shooting in Saigon. Seven Vietnamese civilians were killed and 11 were wounded. One grenade hit a U.S. Army jeep but bounced off and exploded in a group of Vietnamese, killing two and wounding six.

All the terrorists escaped.

American intelligence officers, explaining the three-week lull in sustained major ground fighting, said the Communist command is trying to avoid contact and is moving troops in squad-sized units of about 10

Pueblo Agreement Held Very Near

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Twelve American soldiers came out of Vietnam War captivity today, freed by Cambodia. Also agreement was reported near on North Korea releasing the 82 crewmen of the USS Pueblo in time for them too to spend Christmas at home.

In Washington, State Department officials said the United States likely will accept a Viet Cong offer to discuss the liberation of more GIs held prisoner.

Eleven of the 12 Americans freed by Cambodia were heading home. Today they flew from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, to the Thailand capital of Bangkok. They had been held since their landing craft strayed into Cambodian waters from neighboring South Vietnam July 17.

The 12th man, Sp/4 Earl Gurnsey of Sacramento, wounded when his helicopter was shot down Nov. 27 near the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border, was kept in Phnom Penh at doctor's orders, too badly injured to travel yet, diplomatic sources said.

The 12 represented exactly one-tenth of 1 per cent of the 1,200 American servicemen listed as captured or missing in action in the Vietnam War.

In South Vietnam the Viet Cong guerrillas have released seven men in the past, have announced they will release three more "for humanitarian reasons" this Yuletide and are willing to talk about more releases.

In Washington, the State Department officials said they are willing although the Viet Cong may be using the prisoner issue to angle for diplomatic recognition.

In Seoul and in Washington, the word today was that the 11-month-old ordeal of the crew of the intelligence ship Pueblo may be nearing an end.

In Seoul, South Korean government sources said U.S. and North Korean negotiators will meet tomorrow or Sunday at the truce site of Panmunjom to work out final touches on the crew's release.

In Washington, congressional sources said only the wording of a joint announcement and the time of the release remained to be agreed on. They cautioned, however, that a last minute hitch could develope in efforts to gain the release of the sailors caught with their ship Jan. 23 off the North Korean coast.

They said twice before last-minute hitches—of an unexplained natured—fouled release of the Pueblo crewmen.

American sources said they doubted the ship itself ever would come back to American hands.

The daily Chosun Ilbo, one of South Korean's national newspapers, quoted informed government sources as saying the United States and North Korea reached agreement in principle on the release when the two sides met at Panmunjom Tuesday and Thursday.

It quoted the sources as saying it now appeared the men could be released on Monday and that the United States and North Korea will issue separate statements, and not a joint statement, on the release.

The Hankook Ilbo, another nationally circulated paper published in Seoul, also said the Pueblo crew would be released Monday or by the end of the year at the latest. It also reported discussions centering on statements to be issued with the release.

Two Sought In Florida Kidnaping

MIAMI (UPI) —A escaped convict, recently employed as a marine research scientist, and his student girlfriend, were charged today with the kidnaping of pretty Barbara Jane Mackle, 20-year-old daughter of Florida real estate developer Robert Mackle.

The warrants name Gary Steven Krist, alias George D. Deacon, 23, and Ruth Eisemann Schier, 26, a biology researcher. The warrants were issued in Miami last night but released publicly today by FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover in Washington.

RESEARCH ASSISTANT

Krist, a research assistant at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Science, moved to Miami about 7 months ago from Massachusetts where he had a job as an electrode mechanic at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's National Magnet Laboratory.

Married and the father of two children, Deacon was described as a "highly intellectual " type who sometimes clashed with fellow workers because of his penchant for taking on any job "whether he could handle it or not."

In announcing issuance of the warrants Hoover said Krist was reported to be "heavily armed and should be considered extremely dangerous."

STUDENT AT LAB

Miss Schier was described as a 5-foot-3 blonde, and a native of Honduras. She was a student at the marine lab where Krist worked.

Hoover said Krist was an escapee from a California penal institution and used the alias of Deacon.

It was by the latter name that the suspect was known when he worked at MIT. He quit that job May 31—telling associates he wanted to move to Miami to follow his first love, oceanography.

He succeeded in getting a job

Peace Envoys Hold Final Pre-Christmas Conference

PARIS (AP) — Allied negotiators held a final pre-Christmas session today and kept the door open for further U.S.-North Vietnamese meetings during the holiday period.

But prospects for a U.S.-North Vietnamese accord in time to start the long-delayed Vietnam peace conference by the end of the year were dwindling rapidly.

Chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman and his top aide, Cyrus R. Vance, called on South Vietnam's Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. Vance will return to the United States tomorrow for about a week of consultations.

Harriman said the Americans met with the Saigon leader "to get the last word from the vice president" on matters of mutual concern before Vance's departure.

A spokesman said Ky may fly back to Saigon during the yule season, though this has not been definitely set.

Vance made plain, however, that the absence from Paris of some of the senior allied diplomats would not rule out further U.S.-North Vietnamese private sessions during the year-end period if either side wants to try again to break the deadlock holding up the proposed expanded conference on ending the war.

"If there is anything to be said," Vance told newsmen, "the talks will go on over the holiday period."

Vance was expected to see President Johnson and perhaps President-elect Nixon before returning to Paris around Dec. 27. Vance has agreed to stay on for a month after Nixon's inaugural Jan. 20 to help pass the negotiating baton to the man the new president chooses to replace Harriman.

U.S. efforts to start the peace parley envisioned under Johnson's Oct. 31 bomb-halt package have run into rough going ever since he announced it.

Nixon Names Yost To U.N. Envoy Post

Says Shriver To Remain As Ambassador To Paris

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Nixon today named career diplomat Charles W. Yost to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and announced that Sargent Shriver, who had been considered for the job, will remain ambassador to France during the new administration.

Both men are Democrats.

Nixon said he considered it essential to have bipartisanship in the top diplomatic councils of his new government.

His selection of Yost was a surprise, for speculation about the U.N. job had for days centered on Shriver.

Nixon said he and his advisers decided that in this era the United Nations job required "a skilled professional diplomat" rather than a political figure.

CHARLES W. YOST
Career diplomat

Yost holds the rank of career ambassador, but had been retired since 1966, when he left the U.N. as deputy ambassador under Arthur J. Goldberg.

Yost is 61.

Nixon disclosed that he had discussed the U.N. appointment not only with Shriver, but with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. But he maintained that they had not been flatly offered the appointment.

Nixon said he doesn't offer a job until he is certain the man involved is going to take it.

"You do not come to the point where the president-elect offers a person a job and the person on the other side of the table says 'Thank you. I am not going to do it,' " Nixon said.

Nixon said Shriver is doing "a very effective job" as ambassador to France. He said he decided this was not the time to change men in that sensitive post. "I have asked him to continue as ambassador to France, and I am pleased to announce that he has agreed to do so," Nixon said.

Nixon said he considered his selection of Yost "one of the outstanding appointments I have had the privilege of making." He said Yost is one of only five men holding the rank of career ambassador and has more extensive experience at the United Nations than any other man at that level.

Nixon cannot formally submit cabinet nominations until he actually takes office. Custom allows the president-elect to submit names informally to the Senate, so hearings can be held beforehand, and approval can speedily follow the actual formal nominations on inauguration day.

Meanwhile Nixon has assigned each of his cabinet nominees a mimeographed booklet of homework, stressing safeguards against any conflicts of interest, and preparing for January's Senate confirmation hearings.

Nixon men are confident that Cabinet confirmation proceedings will be smooth and largely routine, for none of the 12 men the president-elect appointed is a figure of controversy.

But the Nixon staff isn't taking any chances. The target: Senate confirmation of the entire cabinet on Jan. 20, the day Nixon is to be inaugurated, so that his top administration figures can also take their oaths of office on that day.

Driver Dies In 101 Crash Onto Railing

David Paul Geoffrion, 38, of Sleepy Hollow, was killed early today when his car slammed into a Highway 101 guard rail on Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Geoffrion may have fallen asleep at the wheel. His car veered into the center divider half a mile north of Spencer Avenue at 2:20 a.m. and 30 feet of guard rail pierced the car. Geoffrion was pronounced dead at the scene, Coroner's Investigator Keith Craig said.

Geoffrion, of 1539 Butterfield Road, was a partner in a San Francisco plumbing and air conditioning contracting firm, Anderson, Rowe and Buckley, Inc. He was a 1952 graduate of Santa Clara University and was active in the alumni associaton.

Geoffrion's death brought Marin traffic fatalities to 37 for the year. The death toll was also 37 at this time last year.

Geoffrion was a member of the St. Rita's Church Men's Club, the San Francisco Kiwanis Club, and several professional organizations.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Lou; a son, David P. Jr., and three daughters, all of the home. Funeral is pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

May Britt, Sammy Davis Divorced

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Hollywood's first prominent interracial marriage, that of Sammy Davis Jr. and May Britt, ended in divorce yesterday after eight years.

Miss Britt

"I asked him many times to stay home, but he never did," the blonde Swedish actress testified. "The extremely few times he is home he has not much time for the family. . ."

Superior Court Judge Laurence J. Rittenband granted the divorce to the 31-year-old actress. Davis, 42, did not contest the action.

Miss Britt was awarded custody of the couple's three children, a daughter, Tracy, 7, and two adopted boys, Mark, 8, and Jess, 4. Davis will pay $3,000 monthly in alimony and child support.

Attack Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over the Jordan Valley today to attack Jordan for the second time in three days.

Persons watching from the Israeli side of the cease-fire line said the planes hit a police station at Adasiya which the Israelis claim has been turned into an Arab guerrilla position.

Flames and smoke poured from the building after the planes attacked it. The Arabs opened up on the planes with antiaircraft guns but didn't hit them, the eyewitnesses reported.

Vote Squabble

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — County clerks disagree with Sen. Wayne Morse's charge that he lost the election to the U.S. Senate Republican Robert G. Packwood because of illegal votes.

With all but one of Oregon's 36 counties rechecked, Morse had gained only 61 votes on Packwood. who won by 3,445 votes in the Nov. general election.

Morse said last night he may ask the U.S. Senate's subcommittee on privileges and elections to investigate.

LBJ Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson continues to show improvement in his bout with the flu, but there is no indication when he will leave Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Johnson entered the hospital Wednesday morning on the advice of his doctor, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, who prescribed several days of rest.

Global Honeymoon

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Actress Carolyn Jones and producer-conductor Herbert Greene are planning a round-the-world honeymoon. They were married yesterday.

It was the second marriage for Miss Jones, 38, who starred as the glamorous ghoul Morticia in television's "Addams Family" and won an Oscar nomination in 1957 for her role in "Bachelor Party."

Greene, 47, was married twice before.

Bike Brakes Fail; Youngster Killed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two small brothers riding a bicycle near their home zoomed down a hill, then suddenly found the brakes wouldn't hold.

The bike slid under a front wheel of a municipal bus just turning a corner at a three-way intersection.

Mike Bell, 9, who had screamed "no brakes" just before the accident, was killed. His brother, Timothy, 8, was critically hurt.

Flu Hits Mamie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower has joined the hundreds of thousands of Americans bedridden with the flu and may be forced to miss the wedding Sunday of her grandson David to Julie Nixon.

A Walter Reed Army Hospital spokesman said yesterday the former first lady suffered from a "moderately severe upper respiratory infection with some complications of asthma."

If Mrs. Eisenhower were forced to miss attending the wedding in New York, she would join her husband, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in watching the ceremony on closed circuit television at the hospital.

Joins Husband

ATHENS (AP(— Jacqueline Onassis arrived by plane from New York with her two children to spend Christmas with her husband, Aristotle, on their Greek hideaway island of Skorpios.

Their departure and that of 150 other passengers from New York's Kennedy Airport was delayed four hours and 16 minutes last night by a bomb scare. Police searched the plane from tail to cockpit and each piece of luggage, but nothing unusual was found.

LBJ Expands Air Service In Pacific, The Orient

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major expansion in trans-Pacific air service approved by President Johnson for U.S. airlines has given Americans a second 'round-the-world flight as well as wider choice in service to the Orient.

With only one important modification, the President yesterday approved Civil Aeronautics Board recommendations on expanding commercial air service to Hawaii, Japan, the Far East, New Zealand and Australia.

Under the plan, Trans World Airlines joins Pan American World Airways as the only U.S.-based carriers with around-the-world flights. Trans World was approved to fly from Los Angeles to Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa and the Far East where it will connect with Atlantic flights.

Other airlines getting new routes or extensions were Pan American, Continental Airlines, Northwest Orient Airlines, Braniff Airways and Flying Tiger Lines, an all-cargo carrier.

The only major part of the CAB's recommendations overruled by President Johnson was his denial of American Airlines to have Pacific service.

U.S. officials said the vast expansion should have these results:

Help reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit by increasing tourism from the Orient to United States.

Cause a reduction in Pacific fares through increased competition among the airlines. —More production of American-made jet aircraft.

Produce $50 million a year in revenue for the major trans-Pacific airlines.

In turning down American Airlines for service to Japan and other Pacific nations, Johnson said his decision was "based primarily on foreign policy considerations."

This was an apparent reference to pressure from Tokyo to keep new flights to a minimum and keep competition down against the government-owned Japan Air Lines, which has major revenue producing routes serving the trans-Pacific.

Johnson did express hope the CAB will eventually allow American Airlines to fly from the mainland to Hawaii.

Here are the new routes and the airlines that will operate them:

1. From the Los Angeles area to Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa and the Far East: Trans World Airlines.
2. From the Los Angeles area and several other U.S. cities to Hawaii, the South Pacific and New Zealand and Australia: Continental Airlines.
3. From New York and from Seattle and Portland, two new routes by way of Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Orient: Pan American World Airways.
4. From Hawaii to the Orient, a route extension for Northwest Orient Airlines. Northwest Orient also receives an expansion of its current route to the Orient by way of Anchorage, Alaska, to provide direct service from a number of additional U.S. cities.
5. Between six U.S. mainland cities in the Southeast and Hawaii by way of Mexico City and Acapulco: Braniff Airways.
6. A five-year certificate for all cargo service to Japan and the major Orient cities: by Flying Tiger line.

Johnson Predicts Federal Budget Surplus; First Since Ike's Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the federal budget will show a surplus for the current fiscal year, the first time since the Eisenhower administration that the government's books will be written in black ink.

And there will be more money on hand than spent in fiscal 1970 as well, the President indicated yesterday in a brief statement from Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from the flu.

The President said the effect of a surplus should help ease the problem of inflation now troubling the nation's economy. "It is needed to curb excessive pressures on demand," the statement said.

Although the President's statement didn't say how much of a surplus is expected for this year, sources indicated it would be in the neighborhood of $1 billion.

This compared with Johnson's original budget projection issued last January of an $8 billion dollar deficit for the 1969 fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

The President's estimate was cut steadily during the year and in November government officials said the deficit probably would be $3 billion.

Budget Director Charles J. Zwick, commenting on Johnson's announcement, said that federal expenditures are now expected to match a government estimate issued in September of about $184.4 billion, or $1.7 billion less than the original January figures.

Since the administration expects to have a $1 billion surplus, tax receipts should run about $185.4 billion, or $6 billion higher than the September forecast.

The last time the budget showed a surplus was in fiscal 1960 when the government books showed $213 million more taken in than spent.

Speaking of the 1970 fiscal budget, Johnson said that "I hope it will be possible to submit a budget in January which will continue this small surplus.

For fiscal 1970, which will be the first full year for President-elect Nixon to work at controlling the economy, President Johnson is expected to submit a budget of between $195 billion and $200 billion.

Officials figure, on the basis of this estimate, that the Johnson administration expects Nixon to continue the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. This, along with a general business boom, is given much of the credit for producing the extra money that resulted in the predicted current surplus.

Whether Nixon wants to extend the surtax is unknown. He has made little comment on the matter since winning election last November. However, Nixon's commerce secretary, Maurice Stans, said Thursday it is his personal hope that the surcharge can be cut in half by mid-1969 and eliminated entirely a year later.

Mental Health Board Given Draft Report

The Marin Mental Health Advisory Board last night received a preliminary draft of a citizen's committee report on mental health planning after 18 months of study.

The report included recommendations that service for local residents be provided locally and that family responsibility for the mentally ill be strengthened, reported Dr. Clyde G. Miller, director of community mental health services.

He said the citizens committee emphasized they had merely reviewed and weighed recommendations of staff and experts and had not added new plans of its own.

Dr. Miller said the final version will be received next month and the board has planned two meetings to discuss it further and to begin studying the 1969-70 budget in relation to the report. Dates for the meetings have not been set.

Election of a new chairman, scheduled for last night, was postponed until January until two vacancies on the board are filled.

Motorized Trails Plan Gains Support

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Riding and Hiking Trails Advisory Committee has approved a 1969 legislative program that would include trail provisions for bicycles and motorized recreational vehicles such as "dune buggies."

The committee, in a meeting yesterday, decided to put more emphasis on regional trails near population centers. Efforts to establish a border-to-border 3,000-mile trail system have been thwarted by the lack of eminent domain in acquiring land or right of way for the trails.

LEGISLATURE – 1969

Most Lawmakers Want To Help Finance Completion Of BART

By ARTHUR HUTCHINSON
(Last of five articles)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A majority of legislators want to help the Bay Area Rapid Transit district complete its system, but they view the fledgling California Exposition as a stepchild that should earn its own living.

But BART has the same problem in the 1969 legislature it faced in 1968. While there was near unanimity on the need to complete the 75-mile, three-county rail system, there was a wide divergence of opinion on the best way to raise the $150 million needed.

NO OBLIGATION

By contrast, a large majority of the lawmakers who responded to a UPI poll felt no similar obligation to Expo. The legislators indicated Expo's chances of getting general fund money to pick up its initial year operating deficit of $1.5 million are nil.

All but a handful of legislators—and those mostly from the Sacramento area—said the partially built successor to the old state fair must operate on a pay-as-you-go basis. A couple of lawmakers suggested that if Expo cannot become self-sufficient, it should be abandoned.

Opinion was divided on whether new legislation was needed to curb abuses of the Medi-Cal program. An attorney general's investigation said nursing homes, drugstores and other providers of services overcharged the program by $6 million to $8 million a year.

SLOPPY ADMINISTRATION

A slight majority of legislators said new legislation would help but a substantial minority felt abuses could be curbed simply by administrative changes.

"It may be just sloppy administration," one said. Another lawmaker opposed new legislation "unless the medical profession fails to act."

Assemblymen Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, and LeRoy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, said a flat fee schedule should be established for services provided by Medi-Cal. Physicians are now paid their "usual" fees so charges vary from doctor to doctor.

Some conservative lawmakers called for new laws to halt what they said were abuses of the system by the 1.5 million needy Californians who rely upon it for medical care.

Legislators polled by UPI were undaunted by voters rejection in the Nov. 5 election of the second part of a three-step revision of the outdated state constitution.

By a wide margin, they said work on revising the third part of the 19th Century document should continue.

Lawmakers agreed the controversial parts of the revision should be changed or dropped and the second stage resubmitted to the voters while a blue ribbon committee continues work on the final stage.

The poll showed more wrangling on BART can be expected. Several legislators said they would vote for any plan that the bay area delegation can agree upon.

A majority of the delegation still favors an increase in bridge tolls.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has thrown his weight behind a sales tax increase and this drew some support. Reagan said he would veto a bridge toll increase.

Two assemblymen suggested putting the question to voters in the three BART counties and let them choose the method.

Although Expo's plight received little sympathy, one lawmaker pointed out it could not become self sufficient until enough money was spent to make it attractive to the public.

A minority answering the poll said they would go along with giving Expo a helping hand from the general fund—but only on a temporary and limited basis. There also was a scattering of support for extending the state's credit to secure private loans or float revenue bonds for the needed funds.

Chamber Backs Town On Merger

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce board voted Wednesday to write a letter to the Town Council endorsing the council's proposed merger of the town and the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

The Council Dec. 7 adopted a resolution to proceed with a merger.

The chamber board also agreed to raise membership fees, effective Jan. 1. The increase for sustaining members — businesses and corporations which pay additional money to support the chamber — will be from $125 to $135 a year. Other corporations and large businesses will pay $65 instead of $50. Small businesses and professional members will pay $35 instead of $25. Individual memberships will be raised from $6 to $10.

To List Invitees

John W. Rakow of Ross, county chairman of the Nixon campaign, and Charles Michals of Greenbrae, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, have been named co-chairmen for Marin of the California Inaugural Committee. They are submitting to the state committee the names of Marin citizens who should receive invitations to attend the inauguration of the new administration.

New Industry Drive Voted For Novato

The Novato Chamber of Commerce will start a national advertising campaign to try to draw new business and industry to the city, chamber directors said last night.

The board voted $2,000 for the campaign, according to President George Barnwell. Details will be worked out later.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

FINANCES — Received a report that $6,108 has been spent from the current budget, leaving $14,292 for the remainder of the year.

EXPENSES — Approved the payment of $42 for the secretary's expenses; $50 for the shoplifting clinic for merchants; $47 for the deficit on the Christmas pageant, and $25 for the Novato Advance-chamber of commerce sponsored lighting contest which will be judged Sunday night.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of a $395 Addressograph, $175 electric typewriter and a $17 typewriter table.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Walter Del Rose from the board of directors because of business reasons. No replacement was named.

WESTERN WEEKEND — Voted to approve the concept of a Western Weekend country fair for this year's annual celebration.

BROCHURE — Heard an announcement from Barnwell that David Lindsey and the D'Carlin publishing co. would not put out a community brochure and that other arrangements for a brochure would be made later.

BIRTHDAY — Approved the request of Roger Hillman of the Jaycees to co-sponsor a city birthday dance. Proceeds would support the candidacy of Paul Dock, who is running for president of the state Jaycees. The dance will be held Jan. 18 at the Moose Lodge.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to a luncheon meeting Jan. 9 at the Lodge, when the new city manager, Charles W. Brown, will speak.

Pair Facing Court Hearing

Walter Kevin Crane, 22, of no fixed address, and George Arthur Ehrig, 25, of San Francisco, were held to answer in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on two counts each of concealing stolen property and one each of car theft.

Crane was held on an additional charge of possessing methamphetamine, a dangerous drug.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the pair to appear in Superior Court Monday to answer the felony charges with pleas.

They were arrested in San Rafael Dec. 11, saying they were in a stolen car loaded with stolen goods.

The stolen property Judge Smith found them guilty of concealing consisted of jack and some license plates.

men to get them in desired positions.

The major movement was detected from the Cambodian border toward Saigon, they said.

Intelligence reports say that four North Vietnamese divisions previously strung along the Cambodian border north of Saigon have drawn in closer to the capital.

One highly placed officer said the Communist command has 65 main force North Vietnamese and Viet Cong maneuver battalions plus about 20 local force battalions to commit to the campaign, or about 25,000 troops.

Against this, the allies have about 80,000 troops in 120 maneuver battalions, including 50 American, 64 South Vietnamese and six Australian and Thai.

"We have no indications the enemy has changed his plans," the source said.

In the continuing American campaign to blunt the expected assault, 18 Air Force B52s yesterday dumped more than 500 tons of bombs on the jungled approach corridors 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

American paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Brigade sweeping the outer perimeters of Saigon seized 200 rounds of mortar shells and bazooka-type rockets 11 miles from the capital.

In other action, eight allied bases and three provincial capitals were shelled during last night, with four Vietnamese civilians reported killed and 25 wounded.

Only one American base came under fire. North Vietnamese firing from two positions inside the demilitarized zone slammed 10 rounds of mortar shells at U.S. Marine positions but caused no casualties or damage, U.S. headquarters said. The Marines returned the fire.

No major ground fighting was reported across the country.

Jury Convicts On Drug Sales

A Marin Superior Court jury deliberated two and a half hours yesterday before convicting Jan Daniel DeBruyn, 24, of 114 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito, of two counts of selling marijuana.

DeBuyn was accused of selling a small quantity of the weed to narcotics agents Nov. 24, 1967, for $10, and almost four and a half pounds of it for $200 Jan. 24.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner ordered DeBruyn jailed and set bail at $10,000. He was still in jail today. DeBruyn is to return to court Jan. 10 for sentencing.

Novato Woman Hurt In Driving Mishap

Karen D. Barrett, 23, of 55 Clausen Court, Novato, received a minor forehead cut yesterday when her southbound car hit a parked auto belonging to Rennie J. Horvath of 782 Clausing Drive, Novato, in front of the Horvath home at 9:34 a.m., police reported.

Mrs. Barrett was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Adele Alpers Resignation Is Accepted

The Marin County Board of Education last night accepted the resignation of Trustee Adele J. Alpers and established procedures for selecting a replacement.

Mrs. Alpers, 74, of Bayside Acres, San Rafael, submitted her resignation Monday because of ill health. Se had served on the board since 1956.

The board commended Mrs. Alpers for her many years of service, Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, reported.

Spain said the board agreed to accept written applications for the post until Jan. 3. Applications should be sent to Counyt Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, 201 Tamal Vista Avenue, Corte Madera.

Applicants must be registered voters in either the San Rafael or Dixie elementary school districts. Individuals or organizations may nominate candidates by letter, not petitions, Spain said.

Candidates will be interviewed by a board committee at 8 p.m. Jan. 8 at the Marin County Schools office and the appointment will be made at a special board meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 at the county schools office.

Sanitary District Pay Raises Set

Six employees of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will get salary raises of about 5.5 per cent next year.

District directors last night raised the salary of Mrs. Lelia Sayers from $560 to $625 per month. The pay for plant supt. Leo Hericks will go from $900 to $950, and other plant employees will get raises averaging $40. The total cost of the pay raises will come to $3,240 per year.

Director Sesto Lucchi presided last night because Chairman John E. Duckett was absent. Directors approved a $24,000 contract with Rodding-Cleaning Machines Inc. of Los Angeles to clean and maintain the district lines for the next four years.

linois, the Republican leader, already has sought to arrange speedy confirmation of the Nixon men. Dirksen said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., promised cooperation in that effort.

Nixon said today that Yost is one of the nation's top experts on the troubled Middle East.

"I have a sked him to assume the post for the duration," Nixon said. "He has agreed to remain for as long as the current administration is in office."

Nixon said he not only wanted a Democrat at the United Nations, but a man who had actively supported Vice President Humphrey during the presidential campaign. Yost was a Humphrey adviser on peace-keeping and international organization.

Nixon said Yost will participate in cabinet and National Security Council meetings on all matters under United Nations consideration.

He said the new ambassador will have great influence in foreign policy. Nixon said the U.N. can be particularly effective in dealing with situations which do not directly involve the vital interests of the United States and the Soviet Union.

In matters of vital national security the great powers will make their own decisions, said Nixon. But in the so-called "third world" of smaller, less developed nations, where conflict is always possible, the United Nations should play a decisive role, he said.

He said such a U.N. role could head off situations that might put the two super-powers in a position of confrontation, which neither seeks.

Nixon also said that he hopes to see as many world leaders as possible early in his administration, possibly including French President Charles de Gaulle.

"Our schedule will be very heavy diplomatically in the first six months," he said.

Yost, a native of Watertown, N.Y., was appointed to the foreign service in 1930. He was present at the San Francisco conference which founded the United Nations in 1945.

He later was director of the State Department Office of European Affairs, ambassador to Laos and ambassador to Syria. Yost was a deputy U.S. ambassador at the United Nations from 1961 to 1966. In June 1966, he joined the Council of Foreign relations as a senior fellow.

Teen Gets Probation On Drug Possession

Wade George Gibson, 19, of San Francisco, was placed on probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday and ordered to spend the first weekend of every month in jail next year for possessing marijuana Feb. 29 in Sausalito.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner told Gibson the marijuana conviction will go on his record as a felony. He sentenced the youth to prison, but suspended the sentence.

Fire Board Slates Annexation Hearing

The Tamalpais Fire Protection District board will hold a public hearing on annexation of the heliport area at Waldo Point at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Station No. 1, 309 Poplar Street.

Following the annexation hearing, the board will discuss the proposed $580,000 bond election for a new station, improved hydrants and mains, and new fire equipment.

Gun Accident Wound Fatal To Woman

Mrs. Martha E. Hunt of San Rafael, shot accidentally by her 13-year-old grandson Aug. 15, died in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit yesterday after many operations.

Mrs. Hunt, 57, who lived at 3 Jones Place, kissed her grandson, Jeffrey Allen Ciocca, and stepped back the night of Aug. 15 to receive a blast to the midsection from the "unloaded" 12 gauge shotgunu he had been cleaning.

The grandson was visiting her home the night of the shooting. He told police he did not know the gun was loaded.

The coroner's office today listed the cause of Mrs. Hunt's death as an accidental gunshot wound.

A native of South Dakota, Mrs. Hunt had lived 21 years in Marin and 29 years in the state. Her husband, Louis J. Hunt, is the owner of Lumar Construction Co. of San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, and daughter, Mrs. Sharon Smatana of San Jose; a sister, Cora Padgett of Honolulu; and a brother, Edwin F. Shock of Lewiston, Idaho.

Funeral will be Monday at 1 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Inverness Man, Hounds Search For Lost Indian

An Inverness man and his two bloodhounds were flown yesterday to Humboldt County to search for an 82-year-old Indian missing since Wednesday.

Donald J. Colbert and his dogs were taken by the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base. To the airport at Arcata. The Humboldt county sheriff's men met him and took him to the search area about 30 miles northeast of Eureka, according to base officials.

James Holster, a Hoopa Indian, walked away from the Hoopa Hospital about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

When it started snowing yesterday, the sheriff put out a call to the Charles Mel Search and Rescue Foundation in Oakland for bloodhounds. The foundation assigned the job to Colbert.

The weather was expected to improve today, according to base officials.

Jury Returns Death Verdict

FRESNO (UPI) — A five-man, seven-woman jury yesterday recommended the gas chamber for Weldon Lee Hathcock, 36, convicted of two counts of murder and two counts of kidnaping.

The verdict was returned following four hours of deliberation concluding a two and one-half week penalty trial.

Hathcock was found guilty of the charges in a jury trial Oct. 31.

Superior Judge Leonard Meyers will impose sentence Dec. 26.

Hathcock was accused of the kidnap-murders of Albert S. Owens and Mrs. Barbara Simon last Jan. 31.

Queen Isabella of Spain enjoyed hunting wild boars.

at the University of Miami Marine Lab, located on Rickenbacker Causeway, a short distance from where the kidnap victim's father left a suitcase containing $500,000 yesterday morning in an attempt to ransom his daughter.

The payoff was botched when two Miami policemen, unaware of the ransom attempt, stumbled upon two suspects at a parked car and they fled into some nearby woods and escaped.

Miss Mackle, a student at a university in Atlanta, was abducted last Tuesday morning from a motel where she was staying with her mother.

Mrs. Mackle, who was bound and gagged by the kidnapers, said she thought one of the abductors was a child about 12-years-old. Police later said, however, that the persons likely was a diminutive man or woman. Miss Schier is only 5-foot-3.

The FBI said Krist was born in Aberdeen, Wash., April 29, 1945 and graduated from high school in Sitka, Alaska in 1963. He has been sought by the FBI since Dec. 13, 1967, when he was charged with interstate flight after escaping from the Deuel Vocational Institution at Tracy, Calif. in November, 1966 while serving a term for auto theft.

The FBI said Krist and two other men had placed dummies in their beds and sawed through window bars and the sash of their cell.

He was described as white, 6 feet tall, weighing 185 pounds with an athletic build, brown eyes and brown hair.

He has been employed as an aircraft and marine mechanic, an electronic technician, a fisherman and in various other jobs.

Miss Schier was born Nov. 8, 1942, at El Hatillo, Honduras. She claims to have graduated from the National University of Mexico in March, 1967, with a degree in chemistry.

The FBI said she worked for the Pan Amrican Union in Washington as a biology researcher in 1967 and the first part of 1968.

The woman enrolled in the Marine Science Institute of the University of Miami for the 1968 fall term.

The FBI had hinted earlier in the day that a new contact had been made with the kidnapers and that Miss Mackle possibly would be safely back with her family by nightfall.

While refusing to either confirm or deny a report that arrangements had been made for the girl's return, a FBI spokesman said the report was "not far off base."

Mackle, a friend of President-elect Richard M. Nixon and a man who has made millions in Florida real estate has made it clear that he is interested in "doing business with the kidnapers," to obtain his daughter's safe return.

Following the abortive ransom attempt Thursday, he asked that the FBI publicize the fact that he had nothing to do with the intrusion by police.

Probation Denied On Marijuana Count

William H. McInerney, 19, of Sonoma, was sentenced to an indefinite term with the California Youth Authority in Marin Superior Court yesterday for possessing marijuana and striking a Marin County jailer.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson denied the youth's request for probation. The CYA will set the length of McInerney's sentence.

OBITUARIES

John H. Shelly Dies At 74

John H. (Jack) Shelly of Santa Rosa, former San Rafael assistant city manager, died yesterday in Santa Rosa following a short illness. He was 74.

A native of Mississippi, Shelly lived in Marin County from 1932 to 1963, when he retired and moved to Santa Rosa.

He joined the Navy when he was 17 and served as a Naval supply officer during World War I. When he retired from the Navy in 1945 after 34 years of service, he had achieved the rank of lieutenant.

Shelly worked for the state employment office in San Francisco as a veterans' representative from 1945 to 1949, when he retired because of ill health. After a brief recouperation, he worked as a real estate salesman and in 1950 became assistant city manager in San Rafael. In 1957 he resigned from the city staff to return to real estate work.

While with the city, Shelly was in charge of civil defense and taught courses in Geiger counter reading and other civil defense procedures.

He was a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108.

He is survived by his wife, Teresa Shelly of Santa Rosa; a daughter, Rosemarie Martignolli of Santa Rosa; a son, John Shelly of Corte Madera and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Eggan and Lance in Santa Rosa.

THERESA FLETCHER

Theresa J. Fletcher, 88, longtime San Rafael resident, died yesterday at her home at 255 D Street after a long illness.

Mrs. Fletcher was born in Nevada but had lived in Marin County 82 years.

Her husband, Charles H., is retired owner of the Marin Furniture Co. in San Rafael. They had been married about 70 years.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Fletcher is survived by a daughter, Evelym T. Fletcher of San Rafael.

Funeral services will be at 11 a., tomorrow at the family home. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

JOHN FAUSTINE

John Faustine, 50, of 70 Sierra Vista, Novato, a maintenance worker, died yesterday of an apparent heart attack in San Francisco.

He was stricken on the job and pronounced dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital.

A native of Olema, Faustine served in the Army in World War II. He lived in San Francisco and Daly City prior to moving to Novato seven years ago. He had worked for the Commercial Building Maintenance Co. of San Francisco for 23 years.

Faustine was a member of the Daly City American Legion Post and the Window Cleaners Union Local 44 of San Francisco.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mark Gale of Munich, Germany, and Nancy Faustine of San Francisco; a son, William P. Faustine of the home; and four brothers, Frank and Joseph, both of San Rafael, and Harry and George, both of Novato.

A memorial service will be held at 7:45 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Funeral will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel in Novato. Burial will be in Marin Memorial Gardens.

MARIE LAIDLAW

Private funeral was held today for Maree G. Laidlaw of Tiburon, a Marin County resident the last five years.

Mrs. Laidlaw died yesterday at her home at 25 Corinthian Court following a short illness.

She was a life-long resident of California.

JUST CALL ME 'HUD'

The press corps at Lansing, Mich., surprised retiring Gov. George Romney yesterday with this poster at the governor's final Christmas party before moving to Washington as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The face on the poster is Romney's, but the body belongs to actor Paul Newman who starred in the movie "Hud." (AP Wirephoto)

School Building Is On Schedule

Construction is on schedule at the addition to La Tercera School, Petaluma, Old Adobe Union School District directors heard last night.

Supt. Dean Magowan said recent heavy rains had not hampered construction. He reported cement had been poured and some steel put into place. The new classrooms are scheduled to open in April.

The board approved a plan to have two sixth grade classes at the Bernard Eldredge School attend Camp Cazadero in the Russian River area for outdoor education from April 6 to 11.

The Jan. 2 meeting of the board was canceled because of the New Year holiday. The next meeting will be Jan. 16.

Scorpions have an ancient history, extending back perhaps 400 million years. Over a period of time that witnessed the rise and fall of dinosaurs and the comings and goings of many other life forms, scorpions have undergone little change.

More Teeners Held In Hub Burglary Ring

Two more teen-agers were arrested yesterday on suspicion of being involved in recent San Anselmo burglaries brought the arrest of six persons Wednesday.

Cited to juvenile authorities were Timothy Cronin, 14, of 29 Rowland Court, and Lee Michael Brumett, 15, of 149 San Francisco Boulevard, both of San Anselmo.

Arrested earlier were Anthony Gibson and Kathleen M. Porter, 18, both of 14 Sentinel Court, San Rafael, who were arraigned yesterday in Marin Muncipal Court on charges of concealing stolen property. They were to enter pleas today.

Juveniles arrested earlier on suspicion of burglary were two brothers of Timothy Cronin, Joseph, 15, and Patrick J., who both live at the 29 Rowland Court address, and Christopher H. Hammond, 15, of 183 Scenic Avenue.

Sgt. Al Howenstein of the San Anselmo police said that in addition to the three burglaries allegedly committed by the youths, they also have been linked to a burglary of a garage on San Anselmo Avenue on Dec. 13 and two burglaries last summer.

Bolinas School Panel Put Off

A scheduled panel discussion at Bolinas School was postponed last night because of sparse attendance and will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 23 at the school, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The discussion is one of a series started this fall to develop between parents, staff and administration a philosophy of education for the district.

Panelists will be Craig Hansen, Larry Bauer, Gene D'Accardo, Mrs. Grace Gray and John Barrow. Larison will be moderator.

Federal Cuts Hit Larkspur School Buying

Purchases of new books and audio-visual equipment for Larkspur School District next fiscal year either will have to be trimmed or additional tax funds appropriated, Supt. Milton Cohen reported last night to district trustees.

The reason, he explained, was that the district's applications for federal grants totaling $60,800 have been trimmed by the government by $20,900 to $39,900.

The cuts also reduced from $4,000 to $2,700 the federal matching grant for a district phsychologist, and Cohen recommended against cutting this service.

Trustees also received a report from Cohen that the state Department of Education had commended the district's after school reading and mathematics remedial program as "an outstanding project" to be used as a model statewide. The program, started this year, is funded by a $14,000 grants, and is offered to students who volunteer to take it.

About 35 students in all grades are in the program, said Cohen, and results "have been excellent."

District trustees also approved an agreement with the county schools office to install two portable classrooms at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. They will be used by the county schools office for educationally handicapped students from throughout Southern Marin.

Exposure Denied

Herbert Charles Sawyer of 101 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge that he exposed himself to a 5-year-old girl in his garage Oct. 27. His case was continued until Thursday to set a date for a jury trial.

Chief Helps In Arrest At Sausalito Break-In

Two youths, suspected of burglary, got top-level service when they were arrested yesterday by Sausalito police at the scene of a reported burglary attempt.

Chief Edward S. Kreins arrested one 16-year-old suspect and Capt. James D. Wright nabbed another youth of 18. A third youth escaped.

Kreins, Wright and two other officers went to 62 Glen Drive, residence of David Campbell, when a neighbor reported a burglary attempt at 1:50 p.m. They found Natalis Kit-Yan Leng, 18, of Daly City, outside the house and Kreins took him into custody. Wright and Detective Kevin Sharp entered the house by separate doors and found Gary Pang, 16, of San Francisco, inside. While Wright arrested Pang a third youth ran down the outside stairs and escaped.

Wright said nothing appeared to be missing from the house, but Pang wore one wristwatch and had another in his pocket. Pang was cited to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of burglary.

Leng was booked at Marin County —ail on suspicion of burglary and posted $1,250 bail to appear at 2 p.m. Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

Lakeville Road Crash Hurts Two

Two persons were injured yesterday in a two-car collision at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Celia T. Cahill, 46, of Sacramento, a former Mill Valley resident, was reported good condition at Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, with scalp cuts. Mrs. Alexandria Feller, 74, of San Francisco, was treated at Hillcrest for bruises.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. when a car driven by Arno H. R. Feller, 70, of San Francisco, started to turn left onto Lakeville Hihway and was hit by the oncoming Cahill car.

Liver Transplant Survived By Seven Patients

DENVER (SS) — Seven patients whose livers failed are still living as a result of transplantations done by Dr. Thomas E. Starzl and his coworkers here.

The British Medical Journal reports still another case in which a 41-year-old man survived a liver transplant at a London hospital and is working fulltime.

An editorial in the same issue points out that "fatal liver disease differs throughout the world, being much less common in Europe than in the Far East." But even in Britain there are between 200 and 300 deaths each year from this cause in persons under the age of 50.

One difficulty that faces surgeons considering a liver transplant is the length of time the organ can be preserved. Eight hours of preservation, as described by the Denver team, "provides sufficient time for tissue-typing, preparation of the recipient and transportation of the organ from one hospital to another."

Cotati Keeps Same Utility Hookup Fees

Cotati City Council last night extended current sewer and water connection fees through July 1.

If the council had not taken action, the charges would have reverted to an older ordinance which set higher rates.

A resolution to exempt four residences on Commerce Boulevard from payment of the connection fees was approved because the property owners installed the lines at their own expense.

County approved the request of 19 property owners to be included in the city utility district. Boundary lines and special zones were enlarged to include the new customers.

The Cotati City Council also:

DOG LICENSES — Raised fees for dog licenses from $3 per year to $3.50.

IMPROVEMENTS — Introduced an ordinance waiving the installation of curbs, gutters and sidewalks. City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe said many areas of the city have roads that crest too high to permit improvements without causing severe drainage problems. The ordinance was referred to the planning commission for study and a public hearing.

TWO VETERANS AND A ROOKIE

The Moon Shot—How They Plan It

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Man's greatest adventure, a trip to the vicinity of the moon, is about to start from this spaceport which has been the jumping off place for so many historic flights into the strange and fascinating new world of space.

Tomorrow three finely tuned astronauts will ride the thundering power of a Saturn 5, the mightiest rocket ever built, on a journey that is to take them a quarter of a million miles away from earth and into orbit around the moon on Christmas Eve.

"We'll be blazing the trail for future astronauts, making it easier for them to land safely and with confidence on the lunar surface," said Air Force Col. Frank Borman, commander of the Apollo 8 mission.

With Borman will be Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

Borman and Lovell spent 14 days in space together in 1965 in the Gemini 7 spacecraft that rendezvoused with Gemini 6. Lovell also orbited the earth for four days as commander of Gemini 12 in 1966. Anders will be making his first flight.

The two veterans and the rookie are scheduled to blast off at 7:51 a.m. EST atop the 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 — the first time this monster has been used to boost men into space.

Apollo 8, with the rocket's third stage still attached, is to be hurled initially into an orbit 115 miles above the earth. For two orbits, lasting 2 hours 50 minutes, the astronauts will check out all their systems.

If all are working well, the third stage will be restarted to increase the ship's speed from 17,500 to 24,500 miles an hour and fling it outwards toward the moon.

For 66 hours, Apollo 8 will coast toward its distant target with the pilots making key navigation checks and adjusting their course when necessary.

Early Dec. 24 they'll zip behind the moon and fire their spaceship engine to inject Apollo 8 into an orbit ranging from 69 to 196 miles above the surface. Their speed in lunar orbit will be about 3,300 miles an hour. For two orbits, each lasting two hours, they'll again verify their systems and prepare for the main assignment, which is to evaluate tracking and navigation procedures.

Then Borman will trigger the engine to circularize the path at 69 miles above the moon and the craft will follow a course that passes almost directly above the lunar equator, moving from right to left as the frontside of the moon is viewed from earth. The moon at the time will be nearing first quarter.

Lovell's prime job will be to evaluate the navigation equipment by "shooting" lunar landmarks such as well-known craters with his sextant, telescope and computer. He'll pay particular attention to an area in the eastern part of the Sea of Tranquility near the crater Censorinus which is considered a likely spot for the first Americans to land on the moon next year.

"I'll be looking for boulders the size of our landing craft," Lovell reported, "to see if the navigator can pick out the landing site as he flies by in orbit.

Anders will concentrate on taking up to 1,200 photographs of the moon, particularly the hidden backside. He said he would be able to snap stereo effect pictures over a strip extending roughly 30 miles north and south of the equator. All target zones for proposed astronaut landings are in this band.

All the while, ground tracking stations will follow Apollo 8 and compare their data with Lovell's navigation information.

Anders said ground trackers are not certain of the precise orbit path of Apollo ships because the moon, like the earth, is not perfectly round, which could lead to landing errors of as much as 45 miles.

"The more we learn about the moon's gravitational field and how to navigate in it," he said, "the less will be our error when astronauts try to land."

Early Christmas morning, after 10 circuits of the moon lasting 20 hours, Berman will ignite the engine to take Apollo 8 out of orbit and start it on the 58-hour return trip, which is to end with splashdown in the Pacific Ocean south of Hawaii after a voyage of slightly more than six days.

Borman calls that engine firing the most critical part of the mission.

"Our engine simply has to work at that point," he said. "We have no other way of getting out of moon orbit."

He noted there are "elements of danger all along the way" on a moon flight but said he had confidence in the hardware which he termed "the best American technology can produce.

"I wouldn't get in the thing unless I knew it was a safe vehicle."

Foundation Sets Goal Of $30,000

The College of Marin Foundation board has set a $30,000 goal for a new student fund drive and named three men as co-chairmen of the drive.

The campaign, for grants and loans to be used by Marin County resident students at the college, will be from Feb. 15 to March 15. Ernest N. Kettenhofen, second vice president, said chairmen are J. Galen Foster, manager of the North Bay Division of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; Edwin Johnson, vice president and manager of Wells Fargo Bank, San Rafael and the North Bay District and Donald L. Johnson, Marin district manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The bext board meeting will be Jan. 15 at a time and place to be announced.

Third Unit To Duplex Wins Panel Approval

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee Wednesday night approved a plan by Andrew Stafford to add a third unit to a duplex at 188 Tunstead Avenue.

The city council rejected an earlier plan because sufficient off-street parking was not available. The new plan provides parking for four cars, with one space at the property's rear.

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee also:

LANDSCAPING — Asked St. Nicholas Church at 102 Ross Avenue to resubmit at the 8 p.m. meeting Jan. 8 at city hall a landscaping application showing less outdoor concrete worked.

SIDEWALK — Approved smooth-finish sidewalks for an 11-unit apartment building owned by John Komo at 166 Tunstead Avenue.

SIGNS — Approved a directional free-standing sign for Sunny Hills at Sonoma Avenue and Sir Francisco Drake Boulevard, but took under study an application by Essex properties for two free-standing signs at 412 Red Hill Avenue.

141 Hijacked Passengers Fly Back To States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker who said he had nitroglycerin forced an Eastern Airlines jet with 151 persons aboard to fly him to Cuba late yesterday. He apologized as he left the plane.

"I'm sorry, captain," the tall, slender hijacker said on arrival in Havana where six soldiers escorted him off the aircraft. "I wouldn't have hurt anybody."

It was the fifth consecutive week that an airliner had been hijacked to Cuba. Six commercial planes have been hijacked to Cuba during that time and 20 this year.

NO HESITANCY

Capt. Orris F. Firth, 56, a veteran of 30 years with the airline, said he had no hesitancy about flying to Cuba when the man listed as "C. Washington" on a nonstop flight from Philadelphia to Miami handed a note to a stewardess to divert the plane.

"The threat was enough for me," Firth said after returning to Miami with his crew of seven. "I had 142 (other) people on board."

"I was in the galley when this man came to me," said Uta B. Risse, 23-year-old German-born stewardess. "He asked what time we would get to Miami.

"He threw down a note and said, 'Tell the captain we won't get there. Tell him we're going.' "

SOMETHING IN BAG

Miss Risse said the man occupied a seat in the last row with his daughter, Jennifer, aged 20.

"He had something in a bag and held it in his hand. He said it was a cap pistol," Miss Risse said. "I asked him to come to the cockpit. He said he wasn't moving. The note said he had a bottle of nitroglycerin."

Miss Risse said the hijacker never exposed the gun and she sat with an empty seat between them.

"He was shaking and once he cried and said he was doing it for his daughter," the stewardess said. "The girl was crying and I cried and she used some tissue I'd given her to wipe my tears."

The 141 remaining passengers went by bus from Havana to Varadero and returned to Miami today aboard two Electra propjets flown to Cuba by Eastern.

Class Registering During Holidays

Registration will continue during the holiday weeks at College of Marin for winter quarter adult classes scheduled to begin Jan. 6.

Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with offices closed Dec. 24, 25 and 31 and Jan 1.

Mail registrations should be received by Jan. 3, ccording to Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, assistant community education dean.

Brochures listing the complete class schedule are available in the evening college office at Room 2, Harlan Hall.

Cleaver Faces Income Tax Lien Of $59,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The federal government filed a $59,715.12 income tax lien yesterday against Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, who has been sought since Nov. 27 for failing to surrender as a parole violator.

The lien, filed in the county recorder's office by Internal Revenue agent Virgil Harvey, indicated that the militant author of "Soul on Ice" earned $100,000 or more this year.

Charles E. Kingman, acting district director of the IRS, said the lien was filed long before the national income tax deadline of April 15 because Cleaver is a federal fugitive and the IRS wants to determine what assets he has here to insure payment of taxes.

The FBI concluded last week that Cleaver has left California. The federal agency said his wife, Kathleen, flew to New York City with some $33,000 she withdrew from the couple's joint bank account.

Cleaver was ordered to surrender on Nov. 27 for return to San Quentin Prison as a parole violator. He became involved in a shootout between Black Panthers and Oakland police while on parole after serving nine years of a 13-year sentence for assault with intent to commit rape.

The Black Panther is scheduled to go on trial in Oakland next Monday on charges of assault to commit murder and assault on police officers in connection with the April 6 shootout, during which he was wounded and a young panther was killed.

If Cleaver fails to appear in court Monday, his bail of $50,000 would be forfeited.

AEC Claims Nevada Test Not So Bad

PAHUTE MESA, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says its one-megaton test yesterday demonstrated the tests "aren't so bad after all when proper precautions are taken."

The underground blast, equal to a million tons of TNT, had been opposed by several groups on the grounds that it might cause property damage contaminate water supplies or trigger large earthquakes.

Newsmen at the control point 12 miles from ground zero had trouble keeping their footing as ground swells raced outward from the explosion in ocean like waves. The floor rocked for five to six seconds.

But no significant damage was reported anywhere.

A 15-ton boulder, jarred from a stony ridge, bounced toward the instrumented trailers at the control point but stopped short of a fence.

An AEC spokesman who observed the detonation of the hydrogen-type device over closed-circuit television said, "Now you know what it's like. That wasn't so bad was it?"

It was the first time newsmen had been allowed on the test site to observe a detonation since 1958.

Thirty minutes after the shot an official said instruments near ground zero showed no release of radiation. Towering clouds rising from the ground apparently were just surface dust jarred loose as the earth bulged upward 20 to 30 feet.

There have been several tests in the megaton or near megaton range in Nevada. The AEC has declind to say which was biggest.

Seismographs recorded the explosion as a moderately strong earthquake with a magnitude of 6.5, about the same as a similar blast last April.

Bats sing for their supper, the National Geographic Society says. Their squeaks hit food and echo back, helping them zero in on a morsel.

Teen Is Suspect In Mill Valley Burglary Probe

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of committing seven burglaries in Mill Valley during the past month.

Steven Pope Coleman of 27 West Blithedale Avenue was booked into Juvenile Hall for burglary investigation and on suspicion of marijuana possession.

Mill Valley police said marijuana was found on the youth when he was arrested.

Police said physical evidence found at the scene of the burglaries connected Coleman to the crimes.

Burglaries at 26 Woodbine Drive and 424 Eldridge Avenue on Nov. 18, 211 Helens Lane on Nov. 30, 233 Elinor Avenue on Dec. 6, and 740 Summit Avenue on Dec. 9 were cleared by Coleman's arrest, police said.

Police also claimed Coleman committed two other unreported burglaries at 116 and 175 Cascade Drive.

SANTA VISITS HOSPITAL

Scott Spencer, 5-year-old Santa Venetia boy who is recovering from serious burns at Marin General Hospital, smiles wistfully for Santa Claus, who had just presented him with a gift. Hospital volunteers held a Christmas party yesterday for Scott and other patients in the pediatrics ward. Scott was injured in a fire in his backyard Oct. 23. (Independent-Journal photo)

Santa To Pay Visit Sunday To Children

Santa Claus will visit homes in Gallinas Village Sunday to distribute candy canes to children, community services district directors announced last night.

On Sunday at 3:30 p.m., a large community Christmas tree will be lighted at Cliff Cameron's Chevron station at North San Pedro Road and La Pasada Way, and a program of Christmas carols and dancing will be presented.

The CSD will supply the tree, which will be decorated by the Junior Improvement Association members, who have been knocking on doors to collect outdoor lights.

Director John Miller presided last night in the absence of David Banfield, chairman.

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board also:

NEW CHAIRMAN — Elected Walter Rudolph as chairman for 1969.

HEADQUARTERS — Decided to explore the possibility of using the Presbyterian Church property on Adrian Way near Littleman's market as headquarters for the district. The CSD, having no office, has been meeting at Mac Phail School.

PARKS — Heard from William Toba, park maintenance supervisor, that a tree had been broken at Rosal-Adrian Park, some tree bracings pulled out at Pueblo Park and a camphor tree toppled by winds on La Pasada Way.

Some Diabetes Blamed On Virus

BURLINGTON, Vt. (SS) — A virus that causes lesions in the insulin-secreting cells in the pancreas, induces diabetes mellitus in mice.

Infection has never been established as a cause of diabetes, though cases have been described in man after mumps and in cattle after hoof-and-mouth disease. Drs. John E. Craighead and Mary Frances McLane of the University of Vermont report that a variant of encephalomyocarditis (EMC) virus caused diabetes in experimentally infected mice.

The EMC virus apparently acts on the insulin-secreting islets, reducing the mass of functional cells. Because the affected cells no longer secreted insulin normally, levels of blood sugar rose markedly, and remained high for periods ranging from a few days to several months after the animals recovered from the virus infection.

Marinwood Employees Voted 5 Pct. Raise

Marinwood's firemen and recreation employees will get a 5 per cent salary raise and other fringe benefits next year.

Community services district directors granted the pay hike Wednesday night.

Raises were: acting fire chief Harvey Rapp, from $680 to $714; Fireman Ronald Christiansen, from $631 to $663; Fireman Kenneth Fowler, from $601 to $631; Fireman James Jackson, from $572 to $631 (including step raise); Recreation Director William A. Gordon, from $808 to $849; Alan Horobin, park maintenance supervisor, from $697 to $732; David Williams, park caretaker, from $572 to $586; and Genevieve Bolding, business manager-secretary, from $318 to $362.

Fringe benefits approved included eight paid holidays per year for firement, and a revised vacation allowance, with one week of vacation permitted to be carried over from one year to the next.

A total of 32 applications have been received for the fire chief's job, Mrs. Bolding reported.

The applications will be screened by Donald A. Duerr, chairman of the Marinwood CSD, and Larry D. Newman, chairman of the fire commission, during January. Oral interviews have not been set. Among the applicants are acting chief Rapp and Fireman Christiansen.

The Marinwood CSD Directors also:

CITIZENS — Appointed three more representatives to a citizens committee studying joint use of park and school facilities. They are John Hodge of the Marinwood Association, Charles Wolter of Little League, and Raymond Riley, principal of Miller Creek School.

SALARY — Set 7:30 p.m. Dec. 30 as the time for the salary and fringe benefits committee to meet with employees to discuss the raises approved Wednesday night.

COST — Decided that Lucas Valley will pay 40 per cent and Marinwood 60 per cent of the cost of employees' salaries and group insurance. Under the present contract, Lucas Valley pays $19,318 to Marinwood for services provided, but under the revised allocation, the cost will go up to about $22,000, Mrs. Bolding reported.

New Treatment Averts Surgery

EUGENE, Ore. (SS) — Dilating clogged arteries led to improvement in about 80 per cent of patients treated for narrowing of leg arteries in the general area of thighs and knees, a University of Oregon professor reports.

Dr. Charles T. Dotter, chairman of the department of radiology, worked with approximately 175 patients since Jan. 16, 1964. His youngest patient was 42; the oldest 87.

Dotter puts his patients under local anesthesia and uses a needle to enter the grion area of the artery. The putty-like core of the clogged vessel is entered with a tightly wound coilspring guide about three feet long and the width of a pencil. The guide is manipulated downstream through the narrowing core to the clear arterial passageway beyond.

Farm Income Up In India

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's current agricultural boom is expected to raise this country's national income in 1967-1968 by 8 per cent.

Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai, who also is finance minister, told Parliament the industrial sector's contribution to this rise would be nil.

Nerly 14 differtent units of the industrial sector showed a significant decline in production, he said.

Four-Minute Session By Councilmen

In what was believed to be the shortest meeting in the Larkspur City Council's history — a four-minute session — an ordinance was adopted Wednesday night to prezone 69.5 acres of the Hutchinson quarry as a prelude to annexation of the land.

The vote was 3-0, with Councilmen Neil R. Brixon and William G. Fleckles absent.

The parcel, prezoned light industrial, is located east of Highway 101 and is also being sought for annexation by the Town of Corte Madera. The Corte Madera Town Council Monday agreed to contest any petition Larkspur may file with the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission for annexation.

The Larkspur council last night also adopted a resolution accepting the deed to a small parcel at Magnolia Avenue and College Court for the Magnolia widening project. The land was purchased Dec. 4 from Mrs. Betsy Michelson for $2,200.

A public hearing scheduled last night on a zoning ordinance amendment to allow cluster housing development was continued until the next council meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 8.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Uncle Vayna' Has Clarity Of Lines

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — Anton Chekhov's subtle use of rambling, seemingly disjointed speeches, which forces both actors and audience to grope for his meaning, can destroy a production, and often does.

So it is delightful to report that Henry Stein's Playhouse Repertory Theater at the Encore, 422 Mason Street, makes the great Russian's intent in "Uncle Vanya" quite clear in its current production, despite a tendency to uneven acting. And for some reason, Doctor Astroff's passion for conservation made me realize for the first time how terribly concerned Chehkov was (in 1899) with man's prodigal destruction of forests and wildlife.

Jim Stewart has designed sets built minimally around furniture pieces. I am told to understand that they have been minimized since the opening, and they are quite effective as now used. Daphe Shaull's costumes are authentic and pleasing, aside from a plastique-appearing gown which does nothing for Stefani Priest's considerable charm in the first act. Dale Altvater lights the show with taste, and Stein has an obvious affinity for Chekhov, directing with simple understanding, and an eye to the undercurrents.

In spite of finding fault with almost all the cast, I enjoyed the show hugely, and Billie Jo Burns brought me to tears with the closing speech, a little gem that can either wring your heart or evoke memories of Pollyanna, depending upon the caliber of the actress. Miss Burns tops an almost flawlwss performance with it. She is warm and involved as Sonia, literally brimming with passion for Astroff and compassion for Vanya.

Miss Priest's Elena is properly troubled with boredom and dawning desire for Astroff, but tends to use eyes and Rs a bit too dramatically at times. Astroff as played by Barry Meehan is often boring, as he falls into a repetitious and mannered speech pattern. In the scene during which he gives Elena an impassioned pitch for conservation (and should arouse her latent interest in him as a man) he is such a bore that we fully believe her when she says, "I didn't really have my mind on it," or words to that effect.

Frederick Romagnolo makes a handsome and appealing Vanya until he allows the character to drown in a sea of petulance and loses sympathy thereby. Tom Kelly as the ailing and very petulant Alexander gives us an intriguing portrait, but slides in and out of an accent and plays in a style totally different from the rest of the cast.

The rest of the company is excellent, topped by Joyce Lancaster as Vanya's mother and Keith Reagan's pitiful Telegin. Florence Larios deserves mention for her easy portrayal of the nurse.

This is certainly not a stylish production, but Stein has given it honesty. And in a theatrical age when many are struggling with wholly new forms and concepts in their efforts to be honest, it's good to see that honesty can still be achieved without removing any clothing.

"Uncle Vanya" is scheduled for an indefinite run, playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Mobil Abandons Economy Race

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Mobil Oil Co. has discontinued its annual Mobil Economy Run, a transcontinental road test of fuel consumption of stock American passenger cars.

The company announced yesterday the cancellation of the run was due to changes in emphasis on automotive performance factors, in the attitude of motorists and in Mobil's advertising strategy.

The Gilmore Oil Co. began the run as a two-day affair in 1936. Mobil took over sponsorship in 1950 and expanded it to a cross-country competition.

IKE'S HOLIDAY GREETING

Convalescing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower uses this huge sign to convey his holiday wishes from Washington's Walter Reed Hospital. Ike was to make an appearance yesterday at his window, but canceled it due to the death of his brother, Earl. He was also to have pushed a button to light the Christmas tree in front of the hospital. Judge Places Restrictions On Kaiser Picket Lines

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New restrictions were imposed on picketing at strike-bound Kaiser Foundation hospitals and clinics in Northern California after a clash in which two policemen were roughed up.

The order was obtained from Santa Clara County Superior Court Judge Stanley R. Evans yesterday following a scuffle between pickets and police in San Francisco and activity at Santa Clara where Kaiser claimed an administrator was intimidated.

It restrains the 3,400 member AFL-CIO Hospital and Institutional Workers Union Local 150 —which went on strike last Sunday—from putting more than two pickets at any exit or entrance of the 26 affected Kaiser medical facilities.

The court directed they must walk single file at intervals of at least 20 feet. It also set the number of pickets permitted at each facility—with a maximum of 14 at San Francisco and Oakland hospitals.

The San Rafael hospital may have no more than six pickets and the clinic at 1930 Fourth Street was limited to four pickets.

Four persons were arrested as the result of the trouble at San Francisco. Police said pickets smashed windows of a laundry truck attempting to pick up a load of dirty linen.

Police said Capt. Mortimer McInerney, in plain clothes, and Patrolman Thomas O'Flanagan were roughed up, with the patrolman requiring hospital treatment.

Arrested on charges of felony assault on an officer were: Victor Theusen, 27, union business agent from Berkeley; Vincent Davis, 28, a union business agent from Burlingame; Marcario Sarmiento, 28, of San Francisco, and Margorie Cesh, 43, San Francisco.

The wage dispute involves 15 Kaiser clinic sand 11 hospitals. Kaiser spokesmen say the facilities are providing medical care to all who need it emmediately.

The union wants 50 cent an hour increases in their average $2.10 to $2.97 hourly pay. The non-professional striking workers earlier rejected an average 30 cent raise which their leaders had suggested be approved.

Representatives of 170 union locals arranged a meeting in Oakland to consider means of putting a financial squeeze on Kaiser.

However, Einar Mohn, director of the Western Conference of Teamsters, sent telegrams to 15 Teamster locals who have contracts with employers doing business with Kaiser hospitals.

It said: "All contracts with our employers must be fully observed. We do not desire to share any responsibilities for any patient's being denied any services or procedures necessary for their health or well being."

The secretary of the hospital workers local, Tim Twomey, said pickets would be sent out in the near future to 60 industrial plants and other nonmedical and medical facilities operated by Kaiser.

Kaiser attorneys called the plan to elicit support from the 23,000 other workers illegal, but union spokesmen said their attorneys say it's legal.

Union officials are considering urging other unions to hold up their payments to Kaiser from union health and welfare funds because of curtailed services.

Kaiser estimates that 50 per cent of its 850,000 health plan members are union members and their families.

Mother Is Not Surprised Son Is Being Kept

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The mother of a wounded GI left behind in Cambodia while 11 fellow prisoners were freed in time for Christmas with their families said today she was disappointed but not surprised.

Mrs. Leroy Gurnsey had hoped S/p 4 Earl F. Gurnsey, 20, a helicopter crewman captured by Cambodians last month when his aircraft crashed, would be home for Christmas.

Diplomatic sources indicated Gurnsey remained in Phnom Penh because his wounds needed additional treatment at a hospital there.

Teacher Reports Narcotics Suspect

A 17-year-old Novato High School student was cited to juvenile authorities yesterday for possession of dangerous drugs for sale after his shop teacher found a plastic bag containing a white powder in his possession.

Cited was Rodger Gregory Cooper of 20 Balra Drive. The powder, thought to be some type of stimulant, was found by his shop teacher. Christopher Radovan, according to police.

Violence Panel Hits TV's Diet Of Murder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of a presidential commission raked television executives over the coals today for what they said is a steady stream of murder, rape, mayhem and sadism in TV entertainment programs.

"Your reply is totally inadequate," Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., told Leonard H. Goldenson president of American Broadcasting Companies Inc., who said his network is trying to reduce the number of violent programs.

"There has been no change at all," Boggs said, citing figures showing numerous incidents of violence in almost every hour of television programming.

Goldenson said ABC is planning to switch from some of Saturday morning's adventure cartoons for children to comedy shows.

Goldenson said ABC has been working to cut down on gory TV shows because the public has become oversensitive to violence since the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The testimony was before the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence in a series of hearings on the impact of mass media portrayals of violence on the public.

Boggs, a commission member said youngsters, including his own grandchildren, are exposed to a steady diet of violence, aggression and sadism on television.

Commission member Walter W. Menninger, a psychiatrist, said TV networks should study the effect of the programs on the public, much as drug companies are obligated to know the impact of their products.

"Is there any reason your industry cannot do the same thing?" he said.

Goldenson said such a study by ABC would be suspect but pledged cooperation in any such research project set up by the White House commission for a similar responsible group.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., criticized the reluctance of Goldenson and Elmer St. Lower, president of ABC News, to concede that the presence of television news cameras have a sometimes dramatic effect on how people act.

"When those things (cameras) move in, everybody acts different, including me," Hart said.

"That camera influences me tremdously. Why don't you admit it?"

Hart added he was not advocating the elimination of TV coverage but was urging wiser handling by network newsmen and executives.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said neither the commission nor any other government agency should interfere with TV news handling because it would violate a constitutional guarantee of a free press.

As to violence in entertainment programs, "Television must not pander to a taste of violence" but "must reflect the often violent and disjointed character of the contemporary world."

Kuchel Offers Help To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., winding up 16 years in the Senate and 10 years as the chamber's assistant Republican leader, said he has offered to do all he can to help assure the success of the incoming Nixon administration.

Kuchel conferred with President-elect Nixon in New York yesterday at Nixon's invitation.

The senator, defeated for renomination in California's primary last June, said he prepared for Nixon a memorandum dealing with Interior Department problems and appropriations, and that his conversation with the president-elect dealt with these and other subjects.

Petaluman Faces Novato Charges

A Petaluma resident was arrested yesterday for failure to show his driver's license and resisting arrest when Novato police said they stopped him on Davidson Street for not having a brake light on his car.

Free on $625 bail was Christian Gingher, 25, of 219 Vallejo Street. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that, when stopped, at 3:15 p.m., Gingher was very belligerant and refused to show his license. It took force to arrest him, police said. Police said Gingher's license had expired 11 months ago.

Girl Booked In Drowning Death

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A 15-year-old girl is in San Diego Juvenile Hall in connection with the 1967 drowning of a 19-month-old child.

Booked on suspicion of murder yesterday was Jo Ann Deville, who had been attending the Santa Rosa Girls School. Her parents whereabouts was not known.

Oceanside police say they arrested the girl Wednesday after she allegedly told officials at the school she had drowned Kathleen Connelly in the San Luis Rey River nearly two years ago.

Dr. Mead Urges Congress To Remold Hunger Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anthropologist Margaret Mead, claiming that federal food assistance programs are geared to financial rather than human needs, urged Congress to offer the nation's poor something better than the current surplus food distribution system.

Dr. Mead, professor of anthropology at Columbia University, said millions of Americans "on the verge of starvation" need a new aid program — one divorced from the Agriculture Department and "concerned with people rather than products."

"It is hopeless to expect the solution to come from the distribution of surplus commodities when the details and politics of a financial program are put above the needs of living men, women and children," she said.

Dr. Mead, who is also curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, expressed her views in testimony before a special congressional committee that is investigating hunger in the United States. The committee adjourned yesterday after three days of hearings until Jan. 8.

The anthropologist testified that there are almost 10 million Americans getting inadequate nourishment every day and that the problem is most acute for persons with little education who live in poverty areas. "Their need is urgent," she said.

Noting that 30 years ago the nation was able to tackle a malnutrition problem affecting about one-third of the population, Dr. Mead deplored present-day efforts to feed the hungry.

"Today we seem unable to deal with a 20th of the nation in spite of our greatly increased productivity and far greater technical resources," she said.

While Dr. Mead testified on Capitol Hill, a private nonpartisan organization formed to fight hunger in the United States announced yesterday that it would "monitor" government programs to make sure the needy get fed.

Dr. Jean Mayer, a professor at Harvard University, was named chairman of the new National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition. Among the board members of the organization are Rev. Ralph Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers of America.

Mayer held a news conference to say he had talked with some representatives of the Nixon administration and found them "very responsive to the food problem."

Portugal's Birth Rate Still High But Declining

LISBON (AP) — The annual number of births in Catholic Portugal has been steadily declining in this decade, but the birth rate remains one of the highest in Europe.

In 1961, there were 217,916 live births in continental Portugal. In 1965, the figure was 210,290. During last year live births dropped to 202,061. That was roughly the figure 20 years ago, when Portugal had 1.2 million fewer inhabitants than the nearly 10 million it has today.

But the birth rate, at 21.4 per thousand, trails in Europe only those of Albania — 34 per thousand — and Ireland — 21.6 per thousand.

Specialists attribute the drop in births to continuing heavy emigration abroad and the rising cost of living.

The easternmost city in the United States is Lubec, Maine.

Crash Program Going To Produce Flu Shots

ATLANTA (UPI)—Six drug manufacturers are on an around the clock "crash program" to produce vaccine to meet the nation's Hong Kong flu epidemic, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association said yesterday.

The association said the firms are working their employees 24 hours a day and will stay open through the Christmas holidays to produce 20.8 million doses of vaccine by Feb. 1.

The Hong Kong flu, meanwhile, apparently has spread from the United States to Britain.

In Atlanta, the National Communicable Disease Center said it was checking health departments in all 50 states to determine exactly how much of the nation was experiencing influenza, and how much of it was the Hong Kong strain.

"We want to find out if it has spread any more than we have reports on, how much of it is the Hong Kong strain and how much is flu-like illness," a spokesman said,

The symptoms of the Hong Kong flu are similar to those of the Asian flu, a common ailment in the United States, and it can only be determined if the illness is the Hong Kong flu after tests are run. Results are reported to state authorities.

According to the NCDC's latest report, influenza activity has been reported in 40 states, outbreaks of the Hong Kong variety have been reported in 23 states, while seven states have recorded isolated cases of the Hong Kong flu, and another 10 reported flu-like illnesses.

Dr. Robert Sharrar, an epidermiologist with the NCD warned against letting the body get chilled, noting that the best defense against the illness was keeping the body in good condition.

Cook County Hospital in Chicago today began enforcing an order that no visitors would be allowed, except to see seriously ill patients or children because of the Windy City's flu outbreak.

Baltimore health officials reported that nearly 20 per cent of the population was affected by its flu epidemic.

The Colorado Health Department, in one of the first states hit by the Hong Kong flu, said the epidemic there was beginning to slacken.

Pack Of Boys Hits Woman In Rob Try

A group of 10 boys, the oldest about 14 years, attacked a Stinson Beach woman and her three small children in Marin City last night, pelting them and their car with rocks and bottles, sheriff's officers said today.

Mrs. Madeline R. Kreuter, 27, told officers she and her three children, all under age 4, were leaving a Project Head Start party at the Marin City Community Center at 9:30 p.m., when the attack occurred.

The pack of Negro boys surrounded her car. Sone of them opened the doors and demanded money, she said.

Mrs. Kreuter told deputies she replied she had no money and pulled the doors shut. The boys then moved out in a circle and started bombing the car with rocks and bottles, she said.

Some of the boys started lifting the front wheels of the small foreign vehicle off the ground, she added.

Mrs. Kreuter said she then climbed from the car and tried to make her way into the building for help and to draw the attackers away from her children, who stayed in the car with a friend, Mrs. Virginia Malcher.

The boys surrounded her, she said, pelting her with more rocks. As one of them struck her with a board, she said, she noticed a man standing under a nearby tree, watching the beating but not helping.

As the barrage continued, Mrs. Kreuter told deputies, she felt her knees begin to buckle and thought she was going to faint. She ran back to the car and drove off, out of range of the thrown objects.

Deputies who examined her said she had bruises on her arm and back and a black eye. She said she would see her own doctor.

Civil Defense Sirens Blamed On A Short

Mechanical difficulties caused most of San Rafael's civil defense sirens to whine at 10:29 a.m. today and frightened citizens flooded the police department and city hall with telephone calls.

San Rafael police said they thought an electrical short caused the sirens to go off. The main one at the courthouse did not sound, however. The sirens were turned off after about 15 minutes.

Enrollment Dilemma For Fall Transfers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some junior college students may not be able to transfer to the state college of their choice next spring.

The California Community College Board of Governors was so advised yesterday by the system's chancellor, Dr. Sidney Brossman.

Despite assurance that junior college students will be given priority in admission, he said, they may not be able to go to a school in their own areas.

"A person at a junior college in San Diego may be told that he can go to Stanislaus State College in Turlock in the north, he said.

Twelve state colleges said recently they are so crowded they would not take new students in spring.

Brossman said he fears high caliber students will no longer enroll in junior college if they think they can't transfer to a four-year school.

He added: "We've been telling students who are eligible to go to a four-year school to attend junior college first, then transfer. Many who were eligible did that and now they cannot transfer. What do you think will happen?"

Several board members criticized colleges that admit pre-enrolled high school graduates before admitting transfers. The board voted to have representatives of the junior colleges and colleges meet to try to find a solution.

Better Teacher Education Urged In Easing Racism

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — The methods used today in the nation's classrooms to eradicate racial prejudice will fail if they concentrate on presenting Negroes as "Tan Dick and Janes," says the head of a team which has a new curriculum to combat discrimination.

"Unless immediate attention is given to preparing teachers in American schools to confront the sensitive issues of racial prejudice in the classroom, little progress can be made through such programs as busing, decentralization, desegregation, and new school facilities in the ghettoes," Dr. John S. Gibson said yesterday.

Gibson, director of the Lincoln Feline Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University, wrote a report containing the new Intergroup Relations Curriculum.

The curriculum was drawn up after a five-year study with 350 teachers and 9,000 pupils in a federally-sponsored, $200,000 research project. It is used in 21 communities in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and goes into New Jersey's public schools in February.

"Even well-integrated classrooms will not be able to fulfill their promises if the children are exposed to bigoted teachers, al material an inflexible curriculum," Gibson said.

An example of the new method, he said, is a student who says, "My father says that all blacks are lazy." The teacher trained to the center's institute might reply, "Is Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics lazy?" and then let the students discuss it, Gibson said.

51 Arrested In Narcotic Raids

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Fifty-one persons have been arrested in a narcotics roundup that began with a series of pre-dawn raids yesterday in San Diego County.

Police say 43 adults and eight juveniles were arrested Thursday, including 24 persons indicted by the grand jury after a seven-week investigation.

Lt. Darrell La Motte, head of the police narcotics bureau, said 30 of 45 grand jury indictments have been served. He said six persons already were in jail when the indictments were issued.

Officers say one of those arrested insisted he could not be prosecuted because he sold baking soda instead of narcotics to an undercover agent. But police say selling baking soda in lieu of a narcotic is a law violation.

Students Bid To Conclave On Violence

SACRAMENTO AP) — Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, today invited leaders of the California Association of Student Councils to meet with him in San Francisco in March to discuss violence on high school campuses.

Rafferty made the invitation in a letter to Don Segerstrom of Sonora High School, president of the association.

He said the object would be to find ways in which the state Board of Education might be able to prevent "the type of violence on our high school campuses which has been so distressingly frequent of late on our college campuses and which is now apparent in our California high schools."

"The state board and I both feel that we should get the advice and counsel of the only group of students in our state who are responsible through the elective process to many thousands of high school undergraduates," he said.

He proposed the meeting for San Francisco March 12, when the association is scheduled to meet with the state board.

Fire Cuts Into Bolinas Classes

Three classes at Bolinas School got a half-day holiday today when an electrical fire broke out at 9:17 a.m., Supt. Clarence B. Larison reported.

The fire, which started in connections to a portable unit housing fourth and fifth grades, was limited to the electrical system. Larison had no estimate of damage.

Larison said seventh grade pupil Fritz Meyer was the hero of the event, seizing the proper extinguisher for electrical fires and wielding it until the Bolinas Fire Department arrived.

The fire knocked out electricity for third, fourth and fifth grades and those students were sent home at 10 a.m., Larison said.

Today was the last class day before holiday vacation, so the district has until Jan. 6 to make repairs.

Baba Santa On Scene In Detroit

YELLOW-ROBED SANTA — Despite the fact he's not wearing a red suit, it's Santa anyway — that is Baba Santa. In his African robes of yellow, black and gold Henri Umbaji King of Detroit — who calls himself Baba Santa — is holding court in Detroit. Sharing her Christmas secrets with the new version Santa is 4-year-old Trina Arrington of Detroit. (AP Wirephoto)

DETROIT (AP) — There's a new Christmas vision being presented to black children in Detroit — giraffes not elves; tigers instead of reindeer. He's a Santa in a yellow robe with a black and gold shirt and he calls himself Baba Santa.

There's even some fanciful talk of moving the North Pole to Nigeria.

Baba Santa, otherwise known as Henri Umbaji King of Detroit, shares ownership with his brother of an Afro clothing shop in downtown Detroit.

King has been greeting children on his throne, set up in the front of the store. But if his line is classical Santa Claus — 'What is your name?" "What do you want for Christmas?"—his language and Christmas objects are vastly different. Swahili, Yoruba and occasional English fill the air.

King tells children that they will get lions and tigers for Christmas, and that presents will be delivered by giraffes.

Like the guy who wears a red suit, Baba Santa takes the children on his knee and communicates... but differently:

"Would you like a tiger to bring the doll to your house?" he asked.

She nodded yes.

"Well, if you hear scratching on the door, that'll be my tiger," Baba Santa stated. "You let him in and be good to him. And then let him go to sleep under your bed."

King says, it's "telling it like it is" to black children.

He said that so many blacks reject their African heritage that he was amazed recently when a little girl specified that she wanted a black doll.

Detroit area stores have reported wide pre-Christmas sales of black dolls to whites as well as Negroes. One white customer said she hoped a doll with a black face would avert or overcome any prejudice her child might be exposed to.

King says that there are Christmas symbols in the African tradition and "We've been studying part of our past heritage and we'd like to pass it along."

Richmond Seeks Court Nod To Mix Schools By Busing

RICHMOND (AP) — A plan to integrate the 44,000-pupil Richmond public school system through busing will go to Superior Court Judge Richard Arnason Monday for consideration.

The Richmond Board of Education voted for the plan 3-2 Wednesday night before an audience of nearly 3,000 who mixed applause and boos during the lengthy debate.

The board action followed an earlier ruling by Judge Arnason that a plan of integration should be proposed by Monday for the Verde school, which has 100 per cent Negro enrollment.

A suit by the Contra Costa Legal Services Foundation last month attacked de facto segregation at Verde school.

The plan for integration by busing calls for limiting enrollment in each school to 700, with no more than 38 per cent Negro pupils. For the system as a whole. The Negro pupils make up 23 per cent.

Beginning with Verde, Dover and Broadway schools next September, the integration would be carried out over a three-year period.

New-fangled Hours Hard On Farmers?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While vacationing in Alabama, during Daylight Saving Time, Carl Owen stopped at a roadside vegetable stand to buy tomatoes.

"Ain't got no tomatoes," the farmer told him, "that extra hour of daylight done burned up every garden in this country."

S.F. State Teachers, Trustees Eye Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State college trustees met with mediators and teachers' union representatives in preliminary efforts to avert a teachers' strike at San Francisco State College.

The three groups discussed an agenda for a planned grievance session between administration officials and the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers Local 1352, representing about 300 of the college's 1,100 instructors.

"We'll be discussing what's legally permissable for the trustees to talk about and, within that, what the union specifically wants to discuss," said Herman Epstein, general counsel for the trustees.

The teachers threaten to strike Jan. 6—the day classes are to resume after holiday vacation—unless there are "meaningful negotiations" about their demands for higher pay, shorter hours and more control over their workload.

Another demand is that the violence-spawning strike by militant students be settled by the time school reopens.

The Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front, representing the leadership of the student activists, have repeatedly stated their demands are non-negotiable. There appeared to be no developments on that front.

In the background, the Academic Senate's presidential selection committee continued interviews of nominees for permanent president to take over from acting President S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley.

San Mateo College Closes Early To Avoid Turbulence

SAN MATEO (AP)—A Christmas pause has been invoked in efforts to quell turbulence on the College of San Mateo campus.

With a community march on the embattled junior college arranged for today, officials canceled all classes yesterday afternoon until after the holidays.

The march was planned by Negroes to protest an alleged downgrading of financial and tutorial aid to minority students.

Another controversial point was the recent removal of Robert Hoover, a Negro, as director of the project—called the College Readiness Program—along with his assistant.

The dismissal, ordered by college president Robert Weiglebein, came after two days of violent outbreaks on the hilltop campus.

The disturbances were climaxed by a rampage last Friday in which a mob of 150 ran across the campus swinging steel pipes, injuring a dozen of students and professors.

Wilson Cancels Try To Negotiate Peace

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson offered to fly to Lagos to make a personal bid for a Christmas cease-fire in Nigeria's civil war but gave up the idea when told he had little chance of success, the prime minister's office announced today.

A spokesman said Col. Odumedgwu Ojukwu, Biafra's leader, made it clear the rebels would accept a cease-fire only if their independence from the Lagos government was acknowledged. The spokesman added that this and an equally tough reply by Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the former leader, caused Wilson to change his mind about the trip.

New Technique Will Capture Charcoal Art

AMSTERDAM (SS) — A new technique, infrared reflectography, is being used to detect the original charcoal sketches or drawings underneath oil paintings in a way not previously effective with conventional infrared photography.

The new method uses longer infrared wavelengths than those heretofore tried by art historians. The longer wavelengths penetrate the layers of oil paint to make the original design on wooden panels visible.

Dr. J. R. J. van Asperen de Boer, affiliated with the Central Research Laboratory for Objects of Art and Science in Amsterdam, says the method showed that in the famous medieval painting representing the adoration of the Magi in the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam, a camel in the final version replaced the head of a horse in an earlier charcoal drawing.

If you plan to call Long Distance this Christmas

We know how enjoyable it is to call relatives and loved ones at Christmastime. That's why we will have every available Operator on duty and all circuits in operation to handle an expected record number of calls. But just as freeways often become crowded during rush hour traffic, our telephone lines sometimes become overloaded during the Christmas rush and calls may be delayed. To help you avoid the disappointment of a delayed Christmas call, we suggest the following:

DEC 20

CALL EARLY

You'll have a much better chance of getting your call through if you call before Christmas Day. In fact, why not take advantage of the low rates this weekend by placing your out-of-state calls anytime after 7:00 pm Friday.

DIAL DIRECT

Your call will go through faster if you dial it yourself, using the Area Code and number. If you get a busy signal, hang up and try again. Another hint: traffic is usually lighter in the afternoon.

LATE NIGHT-EARLY RISER SPECIAL

Any night from midnight to 7 am, you can dial direct station-to-station anywhere outside of California in the Continental U.S. (except Alaska) for 75¢ or less for the first three minutes. (You can call when it's 6:30 am here, but 8:30 am in Chicago or 9:30 am in New York.)

We will be doing all we can throughout the holidays to help you and your family have the Merriest Christmas ever. We're here to help.

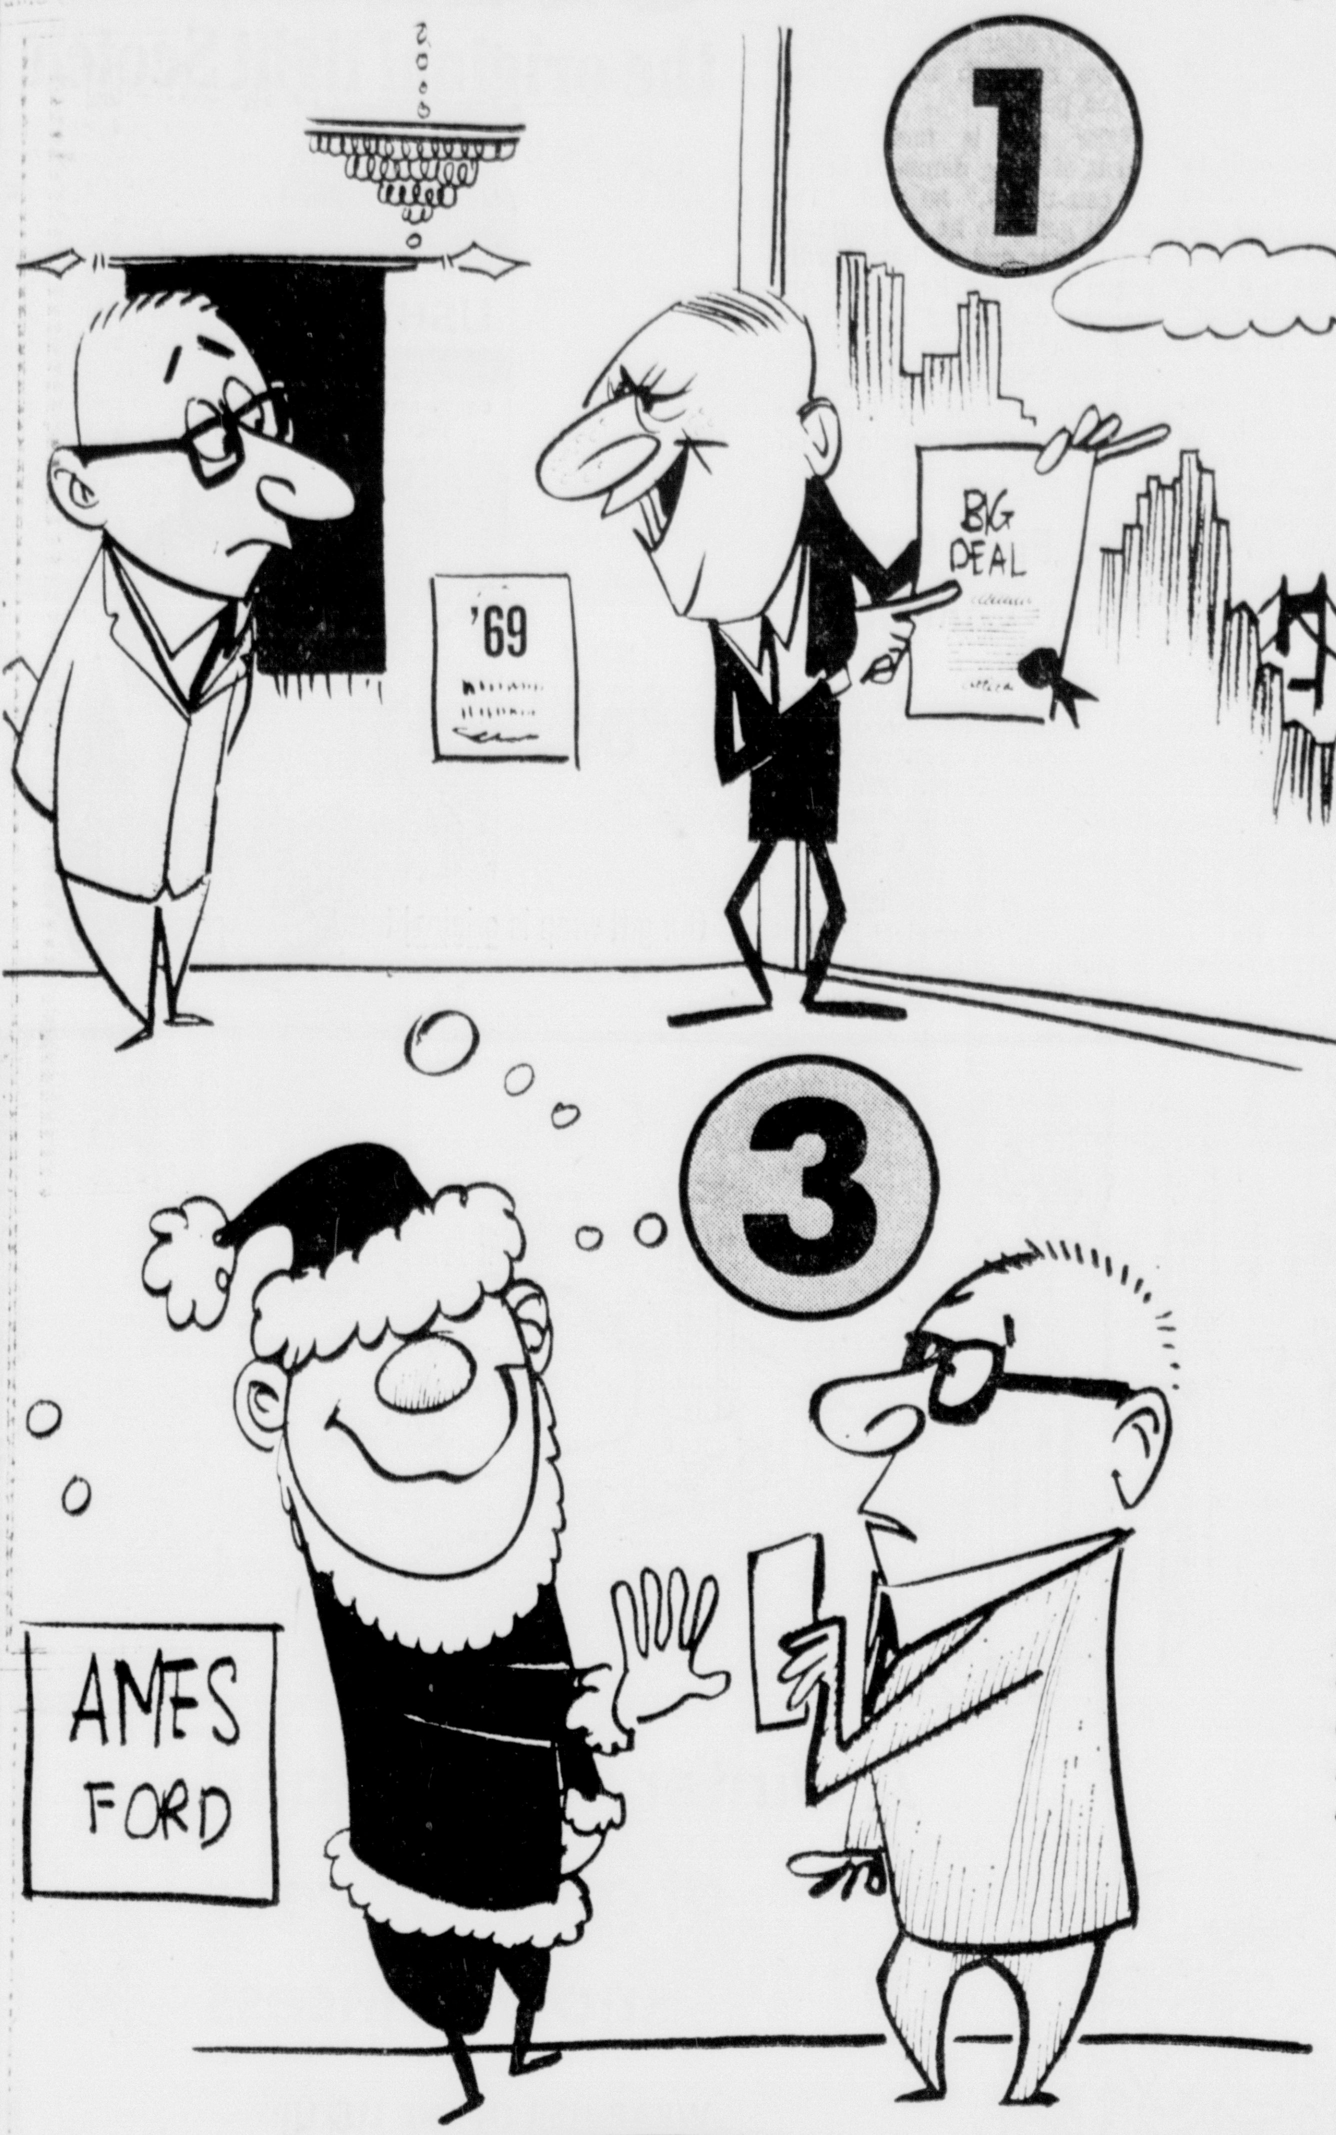
"SAVE YOUR CASH" -- AN AMES FORD PRODUCTION

Or . . . "How to get a new Ford and end up with money in your pocket for Merry Christmas gifting!"



Our Merry Mr. Marin started out with real "visions of Sugar Plums." He had a big Christmas list but figured he was loaded . . . he had his Christmas Club Check, some "mad money" and his old Chev-Fury XVI which had to be worth hundreds of dollars on a trade-in. He secretly wanted a brand new Ford but he knew he had to come back with a new refrigerator for his wife and bikes and toys for the kids . . . or not come back at all! So . . . he went to (No. 1) Bigtown Motors with its plush carpets, gleaming chandeliers (trans. "high overhead") and to (No. 2) Wrongway Motors with its low volume, seedy selection. Both wanted everything he had: Christmas Club check, mad money, trade-in, etc. to finance the high prices they had to get in order to make a profit. He ran like crazy until he stumbled into (No. 3) Ames Ford, where he found that Santa Claus was full of "good cheer" — the Ames' low overhead, high volume deal let him save his cash — his trade-in even put MORE money into his pocket so he left (No. 3) with the brand new Ford of his choice AND enough cash to buy loads of goodies for his wife and family. Why don't YOU check the Ames Deal? Assure yourself a Merry, Merry Christmas.

ABAG Unhappy With Knox Regional Government Idea

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, which would lose all its power under a legislative committee's proposal for regional government in the Bay Area, last night showed it did not like the proposal. (Another ABAG story, page 1.)

The matter came up when Oakland Councilman Felix F. Chialvo suggested that the author of the proposal, Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, discuss it before ABAG's general assembly here on Feb. 28.

The suggestion, however, drew sharp fire from Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, who declared he did not want the semiannual general assembly "used as a forum to destroy us."

Chialvo, reminding committee members that general assembly meetings have a hard time attracting a quorum, noted that inviting Knox "will get us a full house."

Several committee members suggested that Knox be invited to appear, but that he be barred from making a speech, and instead be questioned from the floor.

Finally, it was agreed to invite Knox "and a ringer" to speak. The "ringer," the committee agreed, will have to be a strong proponent of ABAG's own proposal for regional government.

ABAG's favors a regional government to be run by city councilmen and county supervisors appointed to its board of directors by city councils and county supervisors. This is much the way ABAG is run.

Knox is chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization. In the proposal he unveiled Tuesday, he called for a regional government run by directors elected directly by the voters. He did not mention ABAG in his detailed proposal, but did say that all federal funds for reegional planning should go through the new regional government. At present, this is a major function of ABAG.

Electrosleep Success Told By Israelis

TELAVIV (SS) — A group of Israeli doctors reports encouraging results in treating insomnia and asthma with electrosleep therapy.

After 10 to 20 electro sleep treatments — in which a mild current is passed through the brain — 15 of 20 insomniacs regained normal sleep habits and have not relapsed in a year following treatment.

Six scientists at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center are doing the work, and believe their results are promising, though the number of patients was small.

All 20 patients — six men and 14 women, ranging in age from 28 to 71 — were suffering from long-term insomnia. All were resistant to conventional therapy and most were addicted to sleeping pills. Such symptoms as anxiety, depression and agitation diminished with restoration of sleep, according to the Israeli report.

It also states that electrical therapy stopped asthmatic attacks in three of nine children and improved two other.

Electrosleep therapy has not so far won much scientific attention in the United States, but it is popular in the Soviet Union.

ABAG Executive Panel Adopts $918,815 Budget—Slight Drop

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments, attesting to the association's recovery from the theft last year of $511,000 of its money, last night adopted a $918,815 budget for fiscal 1969-70, down $244,316 from the current budget.

Federal grants, which make up about half of ABAG's revenue, were frozen for almost nine months during the past year after the theft was discovered, but the federal government has turned on the faucet again. The money was stolen by ABAG's assistant director, Thomas N. Truax, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to prison.

One of the conditions set by the federal government for renewing its grants, however,' was that all ABAG funds be handled by an outside fiscal agent. Alameda County has taken on this job, and only about $1,200 actually will reach the ABAG office here in the Hotel Claremont, said Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, chairman of ABAG's finance subcommittee.

Turning to ABAG's new executive director, J. Julien Baget of Novato, Bort said, "He never gets his clean hands on the filthy loot."

Bort added "it isn't easy living without that half million dollars," but again predicted chances of recovering the money through negotiations with banks and others were good.

The new budget will go before the association's general assembly for adoption at its next meeting here on Feb. 28. The 17 executive committee members present voted unanimously to adopt the budget.

Dues for the new budget will be about the same as during the current fiscal year, Bort said, except for minor changes to reflect changes in the population in cities and counties in ABAG. Marin County's dues this year are $5,275, and the dues of cities in Marin vary from $81 in Belvedere to $1,068 in San Rafael. Dues will be set next month.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis is a member of Bort's finance subcommittee, which prepared the proposed budget earlier yesterday.

The proposed budget calls for dues totaling $231,306, down slightly from the current $232,875, and federal grants totaling $405,452. This is a drop from the current fiscal year's figure of $641,402, largely because the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, which is funded by the federal government through ABAG, is going out of business. Its current budget is $355,250.

The new budget, however, almost doubles current federal funding of for a regional airport study, which would cost $202,500 in the coming fiscal year, and a community shelter program in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco and San Mateo counties, which would get $29,682.

Legal fees for ABAG's special counsel, Arthur C. Harris of Berkeley, are budgeted at $18,000, a jump over the current budget of $3,000. He is negotiating for ABAG to recover the money stolen by Truax.

Motorist And Dog Are Found Drowned

UKIAH (UPI) — A Eureka man and his dog, missing since Nov. 14, were found drowned in a car yesterday under 12 feet of water is Lake Mendocino.

Sheriff's deputies said the victim, Marvin Olaf Edd ,55, apparently drove his car into the lake accidentally.

Sea Explorer Decries Pollution

LONG BEACH (AP)—Underwater explorer Jacques-Yves Cousteau says pollutants threaten to destroy the sea before man can tap its natural resources.

The French oceanographer addressed a welcoming crowd yesterday after fireboats escorted his research ship Calypso to the port.

"The sea is under great threat of being damaged before we can use it," he said. "The sea is going to be of enormous use to man and we have hardly begun to exploit its riches. But we are destroying it with all kinds of waste — chemicals, oils and biological pollution."

Cousteau plans to film the navy's Sealab III experiment off nearby San Clemente Island.

Bay Firm Gets Plant Contract

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Washington Water Power Co. and Pacific Power and Light Co. announced yesterday that the Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, will do construction work on a power plant being built near Centralia, Wash.

Unit one of the two-unit 1,400,000 kilowatt steam-electric plant is scheduled to be in service by September, 1971, with the second unit scheduled for completion a year later.

The work will include the erection of electrical and mechanical equipment, the formation and placement of concrete, and the erection of a boiler which will rise as high as a 23-story building and contain approximately 260 miles of piping.

Pope Warns Of Perils In Somber Talk

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope Paul VI warned in his annual Christmas message today that peace on earth and the very existence of man are in peril.

In one of the most somber speeches of his pontificate, the Pope voiced sorrow at the spectacle of humanity endangered by the nuclear powers of science, torn by rebellion against the values and institutions of the passed and oppressed by poverty and dictators.

Referring to the wave of student disorders and indirectly to the growing challenge to his own authority within the Roman Catholic Church, the pontiff lamented that "contestation became the fashion with the temptation of degenerating into rebellion, violence and anarchy."

"In this social and ideal field, too," the pontiff said, "human hope is being degraded and extinguished. With sorrow do we see that because of these ill-advised collective confusions historical, cultural, moral values which are still valid and worthy are being lost, with consequent damage to the entire civilized community.

We see with amazement how many sane and honest citizens, even wise and heeded teachers, and responsible public men cannot find in themselves the energy to defend and revive intelligently a patrimony of civilization won by immense sacrifices . . . the energy to save society and especially future generations from the consequences of useless and ruinous material and moral destruction."

In an obvious allusion to political repression under dictatorships in various parts of the world, the pointiff added:

"With regret also de we see that often the presumed remedy for these disorders, real or anticipated, is nothing more than a recourse to heavy-handed repression of lawful freedoms . . ."

New York's deSapio Indicted On Bribery

NEW YORK (AP) — Carmine G. De Sapio, former leader of Tammany Hall and one-time major power in the Democratic Party in New York State, was indicted today with two other men on bribery conspiracy charges.

A federal grand jury charged that De Sapio conspired in the bribing of the city's former water commissioner, James L. Marcus, already jailed in a kickback scandal that rocked the present administration of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Named with De Sapio in the indictment were Antonio (Tony Ducks) Corallo and wealthy contractor Henry Fried.

The three were accused of bribing Marcus, whose department also had control of electricity and gas supplies, to get contracts from the Consolidated Edison Co. for one of Fried's firms.

De Sapio and Corallo were to share in the profits from the contracts, the indictment alleged.

Fried also was involved in the earlier bribe case against Marcus, in which Marcus was accused of taking part of a $40,000 kickback from Fried for an $800,000 reservoir-cleaning contract.

De Sapio, long-time head of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, was deposed in 1961 after a long fight by reform Democrats and lost his seat on the Democratic National Committee in 1964.

Marcus and Herbert Itkin, an attorney who says he has been an FBI informer, were named as co-conspirators in today's indictment, but were not made defendants in the action.

The indictment charges that De Sapio gave Itkin about $5,000 during a meeting Dec. 4, 1967.

It also describes an alleged meeting Nov. 10 that year in a fashionable East Side restaurant, during which De Sapio met with Max Ulrich, a Con Edison vice president, and public relations man Sydney Baron.

Judy's Ex-Spouse Faces Charges

FREEHOLD, N.J. (UPI) — Sid Luft, business manager and former husband of singer Judy Garland, was indicted yesterday on charges of passing more than $3,000 in worthless checks during a summer appearance here by Miss Garland.

The indictment charged Luft, 52, West Los Angeles, with issuing a check for $1,000 on June 25 and another for $2,639.68 on June 29 of this year to the Berkeley Carteret Hotel.

The couple stayed at the hotel while Miss Garland was appearing at the Garden State Arts Center in nearby Holmdel.

Republican Central Committee Cancels

The December meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, scheduled Christmas Eve, has been canceled, chairman Charles Michals reported.

The committee's next meeting, at which new members elected in the June primary will be sworn in, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 6 in the County Courthouse, San Rafael. New officers also will be elected.

State Asks Cash For Steam Buses

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly has applied for a $450,000 federal grant to test four steam-powered buses in the San Francisco, announced today.

Foran, chairman of the Assembly Transportation Committee, said he is confident the application will be approved by the Federal Department of Transportation.

Two of the buses would be in San Francisco and two in the East Bay region, Foran said.

Foran said steam buses would be virtually noiseless, smogless and would be far more efficient than diesel-powered buses.

SPECIAL CLASS

Grooming And Skills For Secretaries

By JOANNE GRANT

A balanced combination of secretarial training and feminine polish have been blended into an unusual course designed to turn Marin City high school girls into competent, attractive secretaries.

The girls, an enthusiastic group of 20 teen-agers, love it — and with reason.

The secretarial courses, held on Tuesday and Thursday nights at San Domenico School for Girls, are aimed directly at providing them with skills they will need on the job.

The auxiliary course, an informal charm class held on Wednesday nights in Marin City, is covering everything from make-up to how to apply for a job, with practical applications highlighting each class.

Joyce Brewer, a member of the Education Corps which helped start the course, volunteered to teach the charm classes as "icing to encourage them to complete their skills."

"Employers have said they've had girls come in that don't know how to apply for a job, and girls who are not well groomed," she explained.

Miss Brewer, a social worker in San Francisco, had definite ideas on what she believes the girls need to be successful on the job, and she combined her ideas with suggestions from the girls.

They are covering how to stand, sit, walk and bend, exercises, hair care and styling, make-up, grooming and proper attire on the job.

But more important, she believes, is attitude — "How to get along with your boss, how to relate to the public, how to carry on your own positive identity," she said.

For these reasons, she does not, for example, encourage the girls to straighten their hair if they prefer the natural look.

To some employers, Miss Brewer said, the natural look suggests militancy or association with the Black Panthers. "This need not be," she said firmly.

The girls who wear the natural look say they do so because they are proud of being black. "It's me. I feel more natural this way," said Sherri Evans.

Miss Brewer is using skits as a teaching tool and the girls are learning fast. Recently, a College of Marin student assisted her with a skit on how to apply for a job.

The next week, she called on

Marin Girl Also To Bow At Cotillion

By MOLLY MARIN

When the 29 girls bow at the Cotillion in San Francisco Monday evening the Edward D. Bullards of Ross will be on hand to see their daughter Elizabeth's presentation. Escorted by Noble Hamilton III, she will actually be making her second bow, as Elizabeth is also among the Marin girls who will be presented at the Marin Debutante Ball Saturday.

Two of the Cotillion debs are students at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow — Tess Kok and Dee Dee Wilson, both of San Francisco. The Cotillion, of course, will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel as always, while the Marin Ball will be given for the first time at the St. Francis Hotel two nights before.

A NUMBER of those attending the champagne Christmas party at San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere tonight are planning to stay on for dinner.

Hosting large tables will be the Irving Sugarmans, Thomas Woodwards, Don Carlbergs, E. M. Witzels and C. M. Petersons. Dr. and Mrs. H. Corwin Hinshaw will share a table with Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Millzner. The Robert Davieses, Russell Dicksons, and G. D. Arntzes have also made reservations.

Serving canapes in Christmas red aprons will be hostesses from the women's auxiliary, the Mmes. William Healy, Paul Duggan, John De Witt, J. E. Madrigali, Herbert-Ross, Dorothy Shemanski, Benjamin Ballard and L. W. Colby.

A LARGE dinner dance at the World Trade Club in San Francisco will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Levison of Belvedere on Dec. 28. About 150 guests have been invited to the black tie holiday party.

RESIDENTS OF Florence Avenue in San Anselmo have their homes decorated and are planning a Christmas celebration to begin at sundown tomorrow.

Santa Claus will visit with gifts for the children; carols will be sung and refreshments served.

This will be the 14th annual Florence Avenue block party.

MARY ANN Schubert became the bride of Randolph Scott Keller in a ceremony Nov. 27 in the Epworth Methodist Church in Tacoma, Wash. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Schubert of Tacoma, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Keller Jr. of Ross.

TWO MARIN families are aboard the Lurline on their way to Hawaii. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moresco and their children of Corte Madera and Mrs. Maidie O. Kane of Kentfield and her children.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Stearns are planning a buffet supper at 6 p.m. Sunday following the final performance of the Nutcracker Suite ballet for members of the cast, their parents and others who have worked on the ballet.

MMES. JOHN A. Wilson, Walker K. Langer and Robert L. Holman of San Rafael had lunch at Oreste's Restaurant Thursday before attending the matinee performance of the San Francisco Symphony.

ANTHONY RICCI, commodore of the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club, and Mrs. Ricci will entertain at a cocktail party at their home tonight for the executive board of the yacht club. Messrs. and Mmes. William Gnoss and Theron Newell, who will be judges for the Christmas lighting contests, both on the lagoon side of the homes and on the street side, will also be guests at the party.

THE BEL MARIN Keys Yacht Club will have a New Years' Eve party beginning at 9 p.m. in the pavilion with dancing to be followed by a champagne toast at midnight and a hot buffet supper. Mmes. Ben Kump and Jack Sarin are co-chairmen for the party.

Marin Debutante Ball Set Tomorrow In San Francisco

Twenty girls will make their bows tomorrow at the seventh Marin Debutante Ball at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, with the Marin Charitable Foundation as the sponsor. Some 500 family members and guests have been invited to the presentation, which will be held in the Mural Room. Judge Jordan Martinelli will introduce each girl.

The 1968 Marin debutantes are:

MARGARET AIROLA, daughter of Mrs. Maccoun Airola of Carmichael and Dr. Virgil Airola of Sacramento.

LORI BARSOCCHINI, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Kentfield.

ELIZABETH BULLARD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bullard Jr. of Ross.

JOANNE CIERI, daughter of Mrs. Salvatore Cieri of Larkspur and the late Dr. Cieri.

ROBIN CLUTE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Clute of Belvedere.

D'ARCY DETTNER, daughter of Mrs. David Zec of Kentfield and Arthur Dettner Jr. of San Francisco.

KATHLEEN ENGLISH, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. English of Kentfield.

NANCY LEE EVANS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans of Mill Valley.

CARLYN SUE FARRELL, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Carl Farrell of Ross.

ELIZABETH HAY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Hay of Petaluma.

HILARY JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Jones Jr. of Santa Rosa.

LINDA JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones of Kentfield.

ELIZABETH ANN MANWARING, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Manwaring of Ross.

MARY ELLEN MERRYMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Merryman of San Francisco, formerly of San Rafael.

SUSAN MARCHANT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Marchant of Kentfield.

JULIET MESSIMER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilbert Messimer of Greenbrae.

ANN MELISSA RASKOB, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raskob of Belvedere.

ELEANOR ROGERS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bland Rogers of Kentfield.

MADGE TUFTS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tufts of Kentfield.

MAUDEE WILLCUTT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Willcutt of Kentfield.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Are Fairy Tales More Grim Than Nightly Grim Television Shows?

DEAR HELEN:

I wanted to get our grandchildren a book of fairy tales for Christmas, but my daughter-in-law had a fit. She says they are filled with sex and violence, as in "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Hansel and Gretel," — and think of the hidden meaning in "Little Red Riding Hood." Nursery Rhymes? Also out. Mother Hubbard starves. The Old Woman in the shoe is mean to her children. Those poor little blind mice with their tails chopped off; and Cock Robin killed.

I crept away, feeling like a sadist, through a crowd of kids in front of the television set. They were watching a biff, bam, zowie cartoon that mowed down people right and left.

Which is worse? Grimms' Fairy Tales, or grim TV? — GRAMMA

DEAR GRAMMA:

About the same — and a little of each won't hurt. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a bachelor going steady with a married woman. For almost three years, she has said she'd leave her husband for me, but now she tells me she loves us both.

I have given her many things, including my time. I want to give her my name, but she prefers this arrangement. Her husband has considerable money. She spends it freely, on me as well as herself.

My father always said women are not to be trusted, but my mother told me that women are never the takers.

Tell me, Helen, is it possible I am being taken? — STANLEY

DEAR STANLEY:

You're being "kept." The husband is being taken. Break the leash now, before you become known as the available pet for bored married women. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please tell me why a boy of almost 20 would take a bath, then put back on the same dirty clothes he has worn all day? He works in a factory, so they're anything but clean. Then about two hours later, he puts on pajamas, and when he's asleep, I sneak out the clothes and put them in the wash. — HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER:

Why don't you put clean clothes in the bathroom? And tell him why? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My problem concerns my girl friend. When just the two of us are together, she is wonderful, but as soon as our husbands come on the scene, she seems to hate me. If he directs a question at me, she freezes. She watches every move I make around him.

I can't believe she is jealous of me as I have a very happy home, and I am not a flirt.

I have stopped talking to him almost entirely, but this makes a very strained atmosphere. What should I do? —HURT

DEAR HURT:

Your friend might appreciate a frank discussion of jealousy, woman to woman. —H.

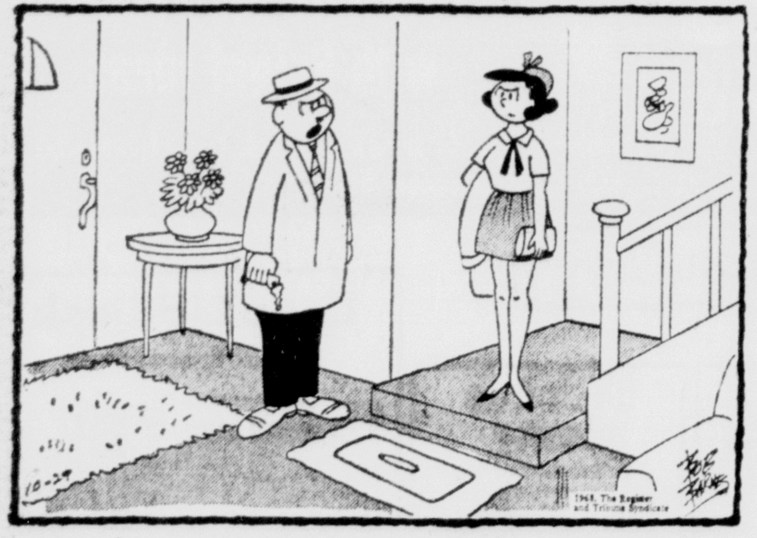
THE BETTER HALF

By Bob Barnes



"You forgot your lollipop and Shirley Temple doll!"

CHIN UP — Miss Joyce Brewer, director of the charm course, works on posture with Debbie Perry, left, and Sherri Evans. Miss Brewer and the students have designed the course to cover everything from posture to proper dress to attitude.

Secretarial Training Class

Debbie Perry to pretend she was applying for a job and the Tamalpais High School junior played her part well.

Debbie said she finds practicing valuable. She said she had applied for a job in September and hadn't known just what to expect. "I was embarrassed to ask some of those questions" such as what the pay would be, she said.

She said she has also learned what information the prospective employer will expect.

It was just two months ago that the idea of the school was suggested at a meeting of county human rights groups. It gained so much momentum that first night it was ready to open three weeks later.

The charm class was added last month, in the same spontaneous way.

Instrumental in the program were the Education Corps, a group of Greenbrae women, mostly housewives, who wanted "to do something besides sit around and talk:" San Domenico School and Horace White, human rights department youth worker who acts as coordinator.

White, a 20-year-old San Francisco State College student who lives in Marin City, was present at the first meeting and quashed the initial suggestion of getting donations to start the secretarial school in Marin City.

Calling the idea "ridiculous" White pointed out there are many schools in Marin County which were already well equipped.

Sister Dorothea, dean of San Domenico, was also present and volunteered use of the school's facilities.

White agreed to find students and transportation and came up with about 20 young people and a bus.

Volunteering as teachers were Joseph Scott and Mrs. Carol Ellis of the Dixie School District, Mrs. Dorothy Kinkade of College of Marin, Miss Sally Nious of Marin Catholic High School and Mrs. Shirley Wilkerson, a business woman. Mrs. Judy Shillinger and two nuns from San Domenico serve as teachers aides.

The transportation is being furnished by Herbert Wade's Marin City bus company. The only funds involved in the project so far have gone to Wade for expenses. A special fund raising project, planned by the students and the Education Corps, and held Sunday, provided about $100.

Why are the girls willing to give up three nights a week for extra study?

Debbie, who has taken business courses since she was a freshman, said simply "to improve my skills." She explained the night courses are more oriented to actually becoming a secretary.

Vivian Adams, a Tam High Senior, tried typing when she was a freshman and didn't do so well. She still wanted to learn, however, and enrolled in the night course. She said it is much easier now, due primarily to the individual help given by the teachers.

Planned as supplements to the training are talks by businessmen on what they expect in a secretary and by working secretaries on what is expected of them.

The girls' job chances look bright.

Already, two employers have indicated interest in hiring girls when they finish the course. The human rights commission employment committee, Miss Brewer and members of the Education Corps are also working on job prospects for the girls.

Last Minute Gift Ideas For The Teen-agers On Your List

By GRACE HENDERSON

With Christmas shopping days down to the last few, there are those who are yet struggling with the problem of what to buy for teen-agers. It is easy to shop for clothing, records, cosmetics, auto accessories, toiletries or jewelry but what if you would like to give something a bit different this year?

In hopes of assisting mothers, dads, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, grandparents and friends, ideas were found for the teen crowd.

Some unusual gift items were discovered, nothing completely new and unknown but some novel. These are not for those with unlimited amounts to spend for gifts but for those suffering the Christmas pinch. All items are under $20, many under $10.

For the girls there are new photo albums, antique replica pins, jewelry travel folders, pinking shears or plain sewing scissors for the budding seamstress, a mod watch band or one of the outsize wrist watches, and as one suggestion was made: Take a suit or dress box and fill it with an assortment of small items pertaining to that person's particular interest.

For the artistically inclined there could be acrylic crayons, glue, sketch pad, etc.; for the seamstress, pattern, material, thread, book of sewing hints, etc.; for the outdoor girl it could be a head scarf, colorful gloves, carryall pouch, etc.;

and for the social butterfly the box might contain a pass to the movies, a kooky calendar, etc. and a note pad complete with a promissory note stating "mother will keep all incoming telephone messages accurately."

Young men on your list might like a groovy gong alarm clock, false mustache, paperback books, travel shoe shine kit that is of fake fur for polishing shoes and inside has a pocket for storing the polish, a small chess set, a soldering iron, hi-intensity desk lamp, ship or patio bell for his room, a microscope, pet monkey or reptile or fish or bird, a movie pass, sports equipment, psychodelic switch plate cover or paisley car mats.

For either, there are luggage tags with special eye-catching windows, stuffed animals, puzzles that are small and easily carried, new wide ties, and posters. In fact, posters were suggested as a substitute for greeting cards throughout the year giving the receiver a complete collection in all.

There are numerous new designs in key ring-flashlight combinations that would come in handy plus many small items to be used in connection with their favorite hobby.

And if all else seems not quite the thing, how about a one of the new piggy banks — just in hopes they will save their pennies for college?

Leanne Bertram Bride In Larkspur Ceremony

Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur was the setting Wednesday for the marriage of Leanne Bertram and Donald Lee Bly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George August Bertram of Kentfield. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Bly of Menlo Park, formerly of Greenbrae, are the bridegroom's parents.

Carole Bertram was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Ed Bauche of Sacramento and Elene Johnstone of Pasadena were bridesmaids.

Thomas J. Bly of Los Angeles was his brother's best man, and the bride's brother, George Bertram, and Nick Kerry of Greenbrae ushered.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Leanne and Donald are both graduates of Redwood High School. Leanne was graduated from Scripps College in Claremont, and Donald was graduated from Harvey Mudd College, also in Claremont. He is in graduate school at Stanford University.

The bride is also the sister of Bonnie and Sarah Bertram, and Mrs. H. A. Norman of San Francisco is her grandmother. She is employed as a programmer with Fireman's Fund Insurance Company.

The couple's first home is Palo Alto.

Silent Auction Is New Feature Of Sunny Hills Bargain Box

A new feature of the Sunny Hills Bargain Box has been the silent auctions, held the last Saturday of each month. These enable the public to view, for a week in advance, some of the articles for sale. Many are collector's items, antiques from older homes and beautiful hand made articles. There is a wide variety suitable for Christmas gifts.

This innovation is the brain child of Mrs. Douglas Dwyer, assistant manager, who loves antiques and takes these articles home to clean and mend before each sale.

For the convenience of Christmas shoppers, this month the sale will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at 607 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

Items are a large, completely decorated Christmas tree, an old wicker cradle, two bisque head dolls, a hand made black lace mantilla, some old daguerreotypes, a bamboo book case, and a wide variety of other articles.

Mrs. Cecil Norton is manager of the Bargain Box, and Mrs. Edward Boero is president of the Bargain Box Council.

THE SAUSALITO Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary is preparing for the ninth annual Christmas children's party to be held Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Sausalito Yacht Club. Highlight will be the arrival by boat of Father Christmas, Bob Miller, at the yacht club dock.

Santa's elves, who will distribute gifts to the children and refreshments to yacht club members, will be Stacy and Brad Thomson, Virginia and Roseanne Sargent and Kent Delahay.

Chairman Mrs. Frederick Delahay has named Mrs. R. W. Whitaker mistress of ceremonies. She will introduce Lewis Mahlmann, director of the Puppet Theatre at the Children's Fairyland in Oakland. Twice president of the Puppeteers of America and vice president of the International Puppet organization, Mahlmann has a puppet in the largest collection of puppets in the world in the Munich Museum in Germany.

Mrs. George Bock will distribute children's prizes. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Jerome Vaeth, Howard Harker, S.C. Stapp and J. David Mauerman.

A GROUP from St. Stephens Church, Belvedere, will be singing Christmas carols throughout the Tiburon Peninsula from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Refreshments for the carolers will be served by St. Stephens Guild in Whitaker Hall.

CHAIRMEN FOR the Marin Civic Ballet Association's performances of "The Nutcracker" have been announced by the group. Mrs. Caesar Taverna is general chairman for the three performances, set for tomorrow and Sunday at College of Marin Theater.

Mrs. Lloyd Gill is chairman for backstage activity, and Mrs. Luciano Sabella is hospitality chairman. Mrs. Mac Thelen, president, and Mrs. Kirk Frederick will design the posters and program. Mrs. Alan Gizzi and Mrs. T. E. McCormick have sent pamphlets to the Marin schools on the production.

Mrs. Gizzi is a chairman for group ticket sales and Mrs. Paul Lucas is box office chairman from the performances. Mrs. Louis Prysetak is ticket chairman.

The ballet will be given at 2:30 p.m. both days and at 8 p.m. Dec. 21.

THE GERMAN Language School of Marin will have its Christmas party for students, parents and friends tomorrow from 11:15 to 12:15 at the Santa Venetia Middle School on San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

A program, presented by the students, ages 3 through 15, will include action stories, poems, songs and an original play written by Dr. Martha Bruckner, faculty member. German carol singing will be led by Mrs. F. M. Sorensen, vice president, and Santa Claus will make an appearance.

Home-made Linzer Tortes, traditional German Christmas cakes, will be sold to raise funds for the non-profit organization.

TAMAR CHAPTER B'nai B'rith Women will hold their fourth annual children's Hanukah party Sunday at the Terra Linda Recreation Center beginning at 2:30 p.m. Each Jewish child is asked to bring a non-Jewish child is his guest.

To celebrate the holiday, also known as the Festival of Lights, the children will witness the traditional blessing and lighting of the Hanukah menorah.

MRS. FRANK SAMPIETRO of San Rafael, chairman of the Marin County Orphans of Italy, announced $462 was realized from a dinner dance at the Marin Golf and Country Club for that group. Father William Porter Corbani is associated with the project in Italy and visited in Marin County earlier this year.

Assisting with the project were Burt Mollo, Dismo Scatena, Ed Bettini, Frank Carbone, Frank Sampietro, Jim Regalia, Sil De Maestri, Hector Rubini and the Nave brothers.

Iran gave women the vote in 1963.

Mrs. John McBeath To Head Sunny Hills Guild

Bridge, sewing, gardening, camping, hiking and fishing are among the varied interests and pasttimes of Mrs. John K. McBeath, president of Novato Guild I of Sunny Hills.

MRS. JOHN K. McBEATH

The wife of a teacher at Novato High School, Awilda McBeath, or Willy as she is called, has served as vice president, secretary, candy chairman, Grape Festival chairman, walnut chairman and rummage sale co-chairman, during her seven years membership in the guild.

Projects for the year include a rummage sale in the spring, sale of shelled walnuts and participation in the grape festival.

The new president and her husband have four children. They are Mrs. John Howard of Arlington, Va., Robbie, 19, and Christine, 18, both students at College of Marin, and Carolyn 16.

She was graduated from Walla Walla, Wash. High School and attended the University of Washington in Seattle. She is presently taking courses at San Francisco State College and College of Marin.

A resident of Marin County for 17 years, Willy is also a member of the Novato Presbyterian Church and the Novato Community Ambassadors.

Officers to serve with Mrs. McBeath are Mmes. Chester Kiesel, vice president; Stanley Ormond, secretary; and Robert Weber, treasurer.

Miss Sparrow Is Married

The San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere was the setting for the reception following the wedding of Barbara Susan Sparrow and Johnny Van Youngs, both of Novato, yesterday.

The couple were married at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sparrow chose as her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Timothy Gallagher of Sacramento and as maid of honor, Carol Kokjer of Oakland. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne A. Russell and Barbara Weber of Novato and Mrs. William Call of Corte Madera.

Robert Youngs of Las Vegas was best man for his brother, and ushers were Tom Corder, Everett Fritze, Bob Saunders and Wayne Lint, all of Novato.

The couple will reside in Corvallis, Ore. following a wedding trip to Southern California and Lake Tahoe.

Barbara was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Louis B. Sparrow of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Healey of Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Youngs of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is also the brother of Mrs. Douglas Anderson of Fairfield. The bridegroom was graduated from Novato High School and is a junior at Oregon State University.

ALAN KENNETH Burton wed Nancy Jeanne Purvis Saturday at Mission San Rafael Arcangel. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Purvis of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burton of Hampshire, England. (Faulkner photo)

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Children, says Marin Magazine editor Don Keown, aren't the only age group for whom Christmas has special significance. Its observance can also have great meaning for senior citizens. In tomorrow's pre-Christmas issue of the I-J's weekend supplement, he tells you why. And how one Marin County home for elderly persons makes certain that the holidays are a time of joy rather than a time of loneliness for its resident guests.
Thousands of Christmas cards and parcels Marinites have been placing in the mails bear colorful little seals that are a symbol of man's fight against one of his most dreaded foes, tuberculosis. There's a Marin man, Dr. Corwin Hinshaw, who has played a special role in that conflict. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine reports on Dr. Hinshaw's contribution, and offers his views on how man stands today in that still continuing war against TB.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

Don't Raise the Bridge, Lower the River — Made in England. Jerry Lewis in a refreshingly straight comic role as an irresponsible wheeler-dealer.

Dr. Dolittle — A beguiling excursion into a delectable world of fantasy. He is a Victorian physician who communicates better with animals than with people.

Head — Adventure of the musical group "The Monkies."

Magnificent Men and Their Flying Machines — Planes of 1910 vintage are stars in this humorous, farcical adventure, comedy extravaganza.

Mrs. Brown, You've Got a Lovely Daughter — Lighthearted comedy with music by Herman's Hermits. Mrs. Brown is a prize greyhound.

Shakiest Gun in the West — Amusing western comedy about a timid young dentist who heads west (1880) to seek his fortune.

Sound of Music — A joyous happy film filled with breathtaking beauty and music and the enchantment of Julie Andrews.

BORDERLINE

Rough Night in Jericho — Into slim plot is woven much sadistic violence — a very brutal western.

ADULTS ONLY

Blue Max — Exploits of famous World War I German Ace. Photography is magnificent, spectacular and dramatic. Intimate sex scenes make film unsuitable for youth.

Stay Away, Joe — A wild-eyed, tasteless comedy which caricatures the Indian community as a group of drunken delinquents. Film is an insult to the American Indians.

Valley of the Dolls — Word "dolls" in the title refers not to girls but to the pills to which they are addicted. A corny soap opera.

Traffic Light Not In Time At Bad Spot

An accident-prone intersection in Lucas Valley was the scene of another wreck Wednesday while a traffic light was being installed to make the intersection safer.

Cars driven by Tressa R. Kern, 26, of 94 Glen Drive, Sausalito, and Ruth P. Kilby, 47, of 1085 Las Ovejas, Terra Linda, collided at the intersection of Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Kern's car flipped into the air and overturned and then damaged a pickup truck owned by the L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael, parked near the intersection while the firm installed a traffic light, the patrol said.

Miss Kern was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple bruises. Mrs. Kilby, unhurt, was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Installation of the traffic lights is expected to be completed within two weeks if good weather remains, according to the county public works department.

Unification Timetables To Be Drawn

Time schedules to study unification of elementary school districts in the San Rafael and Tamalpais high school districts were asked Wednesday night by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee is studying the possible unifications only informally, and its members felt they were not ready to act, said Robert E. Spain, administrative services director for the county schools office and the committee's assistant secretary.

Chairman Rachel Conner and two committee members are to draw up a time schedule for the committee's study of the two high school districts. They are to present their schedule to the committee's next meeting at 8 p.m. on Jan. 15 in the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Spain explained that state law requires the committee to adopt such a schedule before it begins to study a proposed unification.

Tentative Date Is Selected For Chamber Awards

March 1 has been set as the tentative date for the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce "man and woman of the year dinner."

Chamber directors asked residents Wednesday to submit nominations. Selected as co-chairmen of the selection committee were Leslie Rosen and Bart C. Mitchell. Committee members are Maurice Fredericks, John Henman and Dr. Lauren D. Anderson, chamber president.

Rohnert Park Chamber directors also:

ELECTED — Chose John Kauffman to fill the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of High Codding.

UNITED FUND — Reported that teams soliciting for the United Fund had reached their goals. Participating were Mrs. Reba Roberts, Richard Day, Edward Capocy, R. Allan Forsyth, Harry Cummings, Maurice Fredericks, John Kauffman, Bart C. Mitchell, John Henman and Anderson.

LEGISLATIVE — Appointed Richard Day to report on state legislative activities.

MEETING — Voted to cancel the Jan. 1 meeting and to hold the Jan. 15 meeting at the Sonoma State College cafeteria to promote discussions with students.

Black Panther Photo Display

"The Black Panthers: A Photographic Essay," by a Mill Valley couple, is on display in the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco through Jan. 19.

The essay, of the Black Panther Party in the Bay Area, is by Ruth-Marion Baruch and her husband, Pirkle Jones, of 663 Lovell Avenue.

A total of 123 photographs, taken from July to October, are included in the exhibit.

Clay's Farmhouse Inn At Olema In Line For Ownership Change

There is a change of ownership coming up for the popular Clay's Farmhouse Inn at Olema some time after the first of the year.

Clay and Emma Wright plan to sell out to Jerry and Agnes Bunce, who previously had Jerry's Cafe at Point Reyes Station. The Bunces are already working at the Farmhouse to get acquainted with the operation. Eventually the name will be changed to Jerry's Farmhouse Inn.

Meanwhile the day of closing has been changed from Tuesday to Monday, and the restaurant is open Tuesdays through Sundays for lunches and dinners from noon to 10 p.m. It will be closed Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but reservations are now being taken for New Year's Eve dinner.

After the transfer, Clay and Emma will take a vacation. Later plans are still to be made. I am glad to hear that he is out of the hospital after being attacked at the restaurant.

And at Point Reyes Station, Jerry's Cafe has been taken over by Mrs. Edna Ball. The name here will probably be changed after the first of the year.

A NEW CHINESE RESTAURANT, that was to open at 306 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo yesterday, is called the Golden Palace.

Owner Hing Lung, formerly an interior decorator, will serve both Chinese and American food for lunches and dinners. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. He will be open six days a week but has not yet decided on his day of closing.

CHRISTMAS DAY does not ordinarily find many restaurants open for business. Most people prefer to eat at home or with relatives. The total business would be "poorpickings" if there were no shutdowns, so the majority of restaurant owners take advantage of the occasion to spend their own time at home with their families.

There are exceptions, but so few out of so many around the county that we do not make a complete survey. Some let us know ahead of time and in such cases we pass along the information.

ONE WHO HAS REPORTED in the affirmative, is Matts Mattson of the Old Viking in Lagunitas. He and his wife Phyllis plan to serve Christmas Day from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. This Swedish restaurant will also be open on New Year's Eve and on New Year's Day with its full menu. Make reservations for all three times.

LAST WEEK I reported Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate Shopping Center as planning to open Christmas Day. This was wrong. It will be open Christmas Eve but will close the next day.

IN TIBURON, El Borro Restaurant plans to be open Monday, Dec. 23 — its usual day of closing. It will then close Tuesday and Christmas Day, but be open every day after that through the balance of the month. Make reservations for the New Year's Eve celebrations here.

El Borro will close during the first three days in January.

LA PETITE AUBERGE in San Rafael will close Monday through Thursday next week, opening again Friday evening, Dec. 27.

There will be a New Year's Eve celebration but I believe reservations have closed for the late dinner. There may be some space for the early dinner period, but phone to be certain.

YOUNG RON BISSON has completed Christmas decorations and lighting at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, and it's a pretty sight to see.

This restaurant will be open Christmas Eve, but not on Christmas Day. On New Year's Eve there will be two separate dinner periods, with the big party starting at 10 p.m. Reservations will be needed for both periods.

THE GROTTO in San Rafael, which has become very popular for its seafood specialties, will close on Christmas Day. It will be open New Year's Eve but probably close well before the midnight hour. On New Year's Day it will be open from 4 p.m.

There will be another period of closing there after Sunday, Jan. 5, for vacation and redecorating the restaurant. A reopening is planned for Jan. 23.

ONE OF THE FEW OCCASIONS on which the San Geronimo National Country Club throws open its dining room for something besides a large group affair for dinner is New Year's Eve. This New Year's is no exception and the club has already picked up a number of reservations. It should be quite an affair, with Bob Olney's Orchestra supplying the music for dancing. Reserve your table as far ahead of time as possible.

ALSO IN SAN GERONIMO, the Oak Tree Inn is taking reservations for New Years Eve dinner and merriment. Price is $15 per couple.

ANNUAL CHAMPAGNE DINNER on New Year's Eve at Rubini's in Fairfax is slated for 10 p.m. As in bygone years, Lowell Hawk at the piano and Frank Stitt at the organ will team up for the musical program. Make reservations early.

ENTERTAINMENT at San Francisco's Kuo Wah Restaurant in Chinatown is now featuring vocalist Cora Beloy with organist and pianist Alan Cheng.

She is the winner of a talent search two months ago for someone to sing in the restaurant's Flower Drum Lounge. Quite versatile, she sings in English, Japanese, Tagalog, Spanish and Malayan. Alan is teaching her Chinese.

She is a recording star on the Tri-World label and has appeared at a number of top night spots as well as aboard the President Rooesvelt and President Cleveland. She and Alan perform nightly from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. except on Sundays.

FOUR NEW RESTAURANTS are planned to open at Playland-at-the-Beach in San Francisco by the first of the year. One will be a German-style hof brau with its entrance on the Great Highway.

THE MIDORI ROOM, new addition to Suehiro Restaurant in San Francisco's Japanese Cultural and Trade Center at Post and Laguna Streets, is now open for banquets, private parties and luncheon and dinner meetings.

The new room accommodates up to 100 persons. Movable partitions allow it to be divided for smaller groups. Seating can be arranged for either western or Japanese-style tables. Make bookings with sales manager Yoshimi Akuhara. Suehiro is open daily for lunch and dinner.

THOSE BIG restaurant-style gas ranges are becoming more and more popular in homes.

Gourmet hosts like these features: Two extra-large ovens, six burners, a large griddle and a broiler with heavy radiant ceramics. If you do a large amount of entertaining you might look them over.

Models are available at dealers today with oven doors colored avocado, coppertone, yellow or turquoise. Other exterior surfaces are light gray, blue gray or dark gray to simulate the appearance of stainless steel. Some models cost little more than many deluxe residential units.

Citizen's Flying Tackle Stops Theft Suspect

A 24-year-old man was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of entering a San Rafael house after a breaking window aroused neighbors, police said.

The suspect, William E. Hutton of 55 Upper Fremont Drive, San Rafael, was clad only in shorts about 1:30 p.m. when he entered the 1536-A Third Street home of Josephine Lake just after telling a neighbor he had to get into the house to reclaim his clothes, police said.

Several minutes later, Hutton was wearing dungarees and a sweater when he was seized on Third Street with a flying tackle by Charles A. Dickinson of 11 Miramar Avenue, San Rafael, a passerby who heard the breaking glass, encountered the suspect in the Lake house and pursued the fleeing Hutton into the street.

Police took the suspect to Marin General Hospital for treatment of a cut hand before booking him at County Jail on bail of $1,250.

Nothing was missing from the Lake home, police said.

Petaluma Has Bad Year In Fire Losses

Petaluma suffered its worst year in history in fire loss during 1967-68, fire officials reported.

Fires destroyed $644,043 in building and contents and took one life. Lillian Yochim, 47, of 300 Sixth Street, died Feb. 9 when fire destroyed the apartment house in which she was living.

Chief Roscoe A. Benton said two major fires caused damage totals to run high. They were at the Golden Eagle Milling Co., which was destroyed on July 4, 1967, at a loss of $417,000 and the Continental Hotel, which was wrecked on May 5, 1968, at a loss of $121,276.

Loss during 1966-67 was estimated at $49,417. In recent years, loss has been kept at that level, except for 1963-64, when the total was estimated at $380,810.

Petaluma firemen answered 225 fire calls last year, with 39 of them false. The ambulances answered 1,001 calls, of which 328 were emergencies.

High Tide Hits Building Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Excavation for a 45-story office building, part of the planned $150-million Rockefeller Center West, has been halted by the appearance of a small lake.

Engineers said yesterday the large pool was the result of high tides and the fact that the construction site is on the waterfront land scantily filled in over the bay many years ago.

A tide reached seven feet yesterday, the highest in several years and the bay moved into the construction site through pipes of the city's combined sewer and storm drain system.

Produce Seller Gets Nixon Wedding Invite

REDONDO BEACH (AP) — Johnnie Musante, who's been delivering produce to Los Angeles families for 20 years, says he's "humbled, flattered and happy" to have been remembered by his most distinguished customers — the Richard M. Nixons.

Musante, 49, received one of the scarce invitations to Sunday's wedding of the President-elect's daughter Julie and David Eisenhower in New York.

His delivery route runs from Beverly Hills to Malibu. He delivered his vegetables to the Nixons for about three years—from 1960 when Nixon was defeated by John F. Kennedy for the presidency, until the Nixons moved to New York City.

"I was referred to Mrs. Nixon by Nancy Reagan, Gov. Ronald Reagan's wife," Musante recalled. "The Reagans have been my customers since they were first married, about 15 years ago. In fact, they still are."

Musante said when he first started servicing the Nixons, they lived on Bundy Avenue in Brentwood. When the family moved to Beverly Hills, that too fell along the vegetable man's route.

Musante said members of the Nixon family, especially Julie, came out to meet him when he'd bring the vegetables by.

"They were all so nice," he said, "really wonderful people."

What kind of vegetables did the Nixons order? "All kinds," said Musante. "Mostly California produce, everything from tomatoes to avocados. They eat very, very well."

He said he was "completely surprised" when he received the invitation to the wedding, which will be a private ceremony restricted to friends of the Nixons and Eisenhowers.

"The only contact I've had with the family since they moved to New York," he said, "was a Christmas card each year."

Musante plans to leave for New York late Saturday. A widower, he will leave his two boys at home.

Carnival Site Is Explored

Lions Park at Stafford Dam will be the site of the carnival and booths for Western Weekend, if the City of Novato and adjoining property owners agree, directors of the event have decided.

The board, at a meeting Wednesday night, voted to call it the Western Weekend Country Fair and abolish the parade.

Dorothy Merla was named to the board and elected secretary. She replaced Gae MacPherson, who resigned.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Jan 20 at Cloud Five.

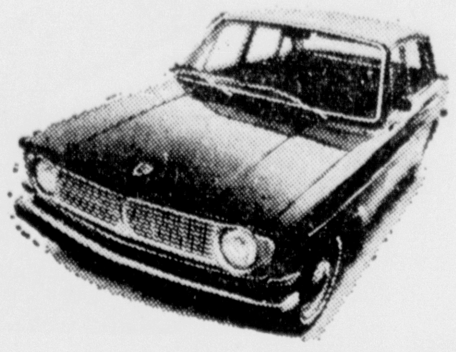
THANK YOU FOR A VERY

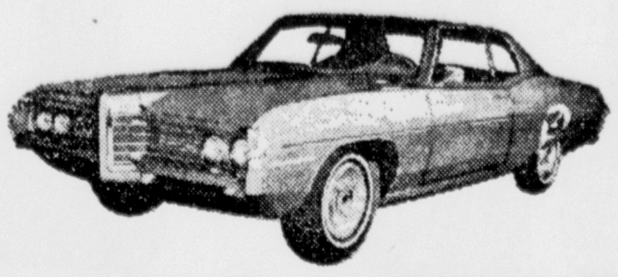
MERRY CHRISTMAS

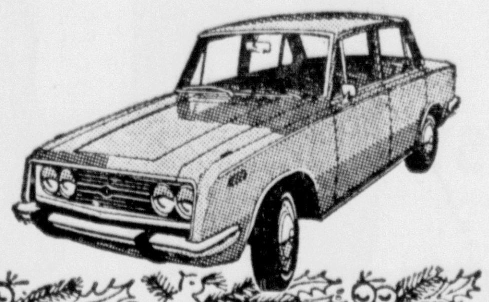
GEORGE DEXTER

AND A PROSPEROUS 1968

We owe a lot to the people of Marin . . . and we want you to know that we appreciate it. This year we expanded our operation extensively, to include the finest cars (we thought) in the American and Import market, and to sell them to you in a responsible, neighborly manner—never stinting on service and assistance. Apparently you agree with us for this past year has been most rewarding. We thank you and we want you to know that we will try even more in the coming year to give you the best of everything when you buy an automobile at any of our agencies.







WE WISH YOU A

MERRY CHRISTMAS

ACCIDENT VICTIM — William F. Brandt, 14, is carried from the scene of a five-car accident in San Rafael last night. Six others also were injured. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Rafael Chain Crash Hurts Seven

Seven persons were injured last night in a five-car crash triggered when a motorist hit the accelerator of her car while counting some change in her possession, police said.

Police said a car driven by Carol M. Brandt of 16 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, lurched forward on Fourth Street and rammed a car stopped for a red light at Irwin Street and driven by Thomas King, 49, of 23 Rollingwood Drive.

That set off a chain reaction crash involving cars driven by Melanie A. Brusati, 24, of 218 Forbes Street; Michael L. Peele, 24, of 44 Alta Vista Way, and Pauline M. Scott, 38, of 524 Las Colindas Avenue, all San Rafael.

Miss Brandt's brother, William, 14, suffered scalp and face cuts and was admitted to Marin General Hospital. His condition was reported as fair today.

King and his wife, Lavonne, 46, were released after treatment at the hospital, and Mrs. Scott, Carolyn J. Majliulo, 24, of 132 Solano Street, and Diane L. Pratt, 22, of 11 Laurel Place, also San Rafael, told police they would see their physicians.

Ex-Convict Is Given Jail Time

Lee Allen Miller, 32, of San Rafael, was given a suspended state prison sentence yesterday in Marin Superior Court for forging a check in San Rafael in April.

Judge Harold J. Haley placed the ex-convict on five years of probation and ordered him to serve a year in jail in lieu of the prison sentence.

He also ordered Miller to stay away from liquor and persons of ill repute and to follow programs, suggested by the probation department, of treatment for an alcoholic problem and of psychological treatment.

Study To Increase Novato College Classes Wins Nod

Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved a study of the feasibility of offering more classes in Novato prior to the opening of the north campus there.

Acting college president Louis H. Herkenhoff reported that the district's service in the area is now restricted to evening classes at Novato High School.

Among the possibilities that could be studied would be the use of portable buildings at the north campus site or use of a commercial building in downtown Novato, Herkenhoff said.

The study will determine the education soundness and economic feasibility of expansion in the Novato area, and the eventual recommendation may be that nothing more be done, Herkenhoff explained.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested that there be similar studies covering other areas of Marin, but the board agreed to limit the study to the Novato area at this time.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said the district may find it necessary to expand in Novato to accommodate student enrollment "before we have another campus."

The current timetable is for the north campus to open in the fall of 1972.

Trustees approved preliminary plans for site development at the Kentfield campus next year including demolition of the campus landmark, Harlan Hall, and demolition of the Austin Science Building, Communications Center and old boiler plant.

The proposed projects include relocation of utilities, rerouting of the gas line, new sanitation lines expanded electrical distribution system, new storm drain lines and new water lines, landscaping, walkways, and paving.

The total cost was estimated at $243,900.

Marin Junior College District Board Also:

TEMPORARY — Advised Dale Fleming, planning director, to investigate all possibilities of acquiring temporary space for faculty, administration and health office during construction at the Kentfield campus, including lease-purchase of the Ross Valley Medical Clinic or nearby apartments or purchasing portable buildings of trailers.

STUDENTS — Received a report that students from other districts attending the College of Marin number 408 while students from the district attending other junior colleges number 262, and agreed to consider placing restrictions on out-of-district enrollment.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Katherine Loveland, counselor, effective Jan. 31, because her husband has been transferred to Rhode Island.

CALENDAR — Adopted the college calendar for the 1969-70 school year with 175 teaching days from Sept. 18 to June 18.

POLICY — Approved a revision to the Board Policies and Administrative Procedures Manual, which would "under very special and unusual circumstances" allow a student to enter a building without the presence of an employee or faculty member if he had authorization from a faculty member and the dean of students. Another revision would permit soliciting on campus by students or staff.

POLICE — Authorized purchase of a patrol car for campus police through the state at a cost of $2,062.

LABELING — Authorized purchase of a labeling machine from the Avery Label Co. of San Francisco, the only bidder, at a cost of $4,719.

NEW JOB — Hired Robert Clark as student personnel assistant, vocational information and placement, a newly created job, effective Jan. 1 at a salary of $644 a month.

MINORITY — Received a letter from the Redwood Presbyterian Church of Larkspur urging the district to recruit and employ Negro teachers.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Jan. 16 at the physical education building.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy was absent because of illness.

Key Witness Has Remarks Tossed Out

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The testimony of a key witness was thrown out yesterday in the trial of two men accused of killing a labor leader.

Carl Black, 48, an Oakland accountant, and Thomas Hanley, 51, former head of the Gaming Union, are charged with shooting to death Plumbers' Union boss Ralph Alsup Jan. 19, 1966. Also charged is Norman Call of Sacramento, who is serving two life sentences in California.

Alphonse Bass, the only witness the prosecution said could place Hanley and Black in Las Vegas on the day of the slaying, testified yesterday at Black's preliminary hearing.

Justice of the Peace Herman Fisher said there were inconsistencies in Bass' statements and "the testimony is untrustworthy and I am not going to accept it."

Hanley's lawyer, Harry Claiborne, said he would seek a writ to free Hanley of the murder charge.

Trustees Worried By Cars, Crowding

A plan to create more parking spaces at the College of Marin campus came under fire last night from a Marin Junior College District trustee.

Trustees were discussing whether the campus should be designed for a maximum enrollment og 5,000 daytime credit students, when Trustee Charles W. Gray challenged proposed parking space allocations.

A report by Management and Economics Research Inc. of Palo Alto said an enrollment of 5,000 would require a minimum of 1,977 parking spaces. The campus now has 1,305 spaces.

" This is dedicating an immense amount of valuable land to the concept that the privately owned automobile is a sacred kind of cow," Gray said. "Land use should be dedicated to concerns of education rather than parking cars."

He asked whether the district is obligated to provide parking for students.

Planning Director Dale A. Fleming said "parking is secondary," and could be kept to a minimum, but there is a point where lack of parking has a negative effect.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman said the surrounding community has to be considered and merchants and residents have complained about students parking throughout the area.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers said perhaps cars could be parked out of the campus area and a shuttle bus system started.

Wellman said when campus land is needed for the educational program, there could be multilevel parking. "One of the problems is that there is no good public transportation. If we had a good one we wouldn't have to worry about so much parking."

Gray mentioned the proposal to apply for federal matching funds to acquire land primarily for parking at a cost of $300,000. "It suggests $300,000 to get land, destroy houses, remove people and offend neighbors," he said.

"We're in the parking business and the proposal is to expand our investment in the parking business," he said. "I think it's a self-defeating kind of thing. I really don't know what addiction to the automobile does to the community college concept."

Trustee Harry Moore said the proposed 5,000 student maximum was too high, and other choices should be considered, such as building in Southern Marin.

"The people that live here are congested," and a 5,000 enrollment "would jam this one corner of the area tremendously," Moore contended. "I think if we go to 5,000 it would be detrimental to the college district."

Trustee Robert E. Oliver said, "We can plan less, but they'll be here. Let's say the best we can do is to limit to 5,000."

Wellman noted that the present enrollment is 4,355 and is expected to exceed 5,000 before the district can opens its north campus in Novato, scheduled for the fall of 1972.

"It's too large now, let's not enlarge it," Moore commented.

"I look at this as a resolution not to impose anymore on the community, and I don't see how we can do anything less," said Oliver.

Wellman said "students want a place to go. My great concern is that we aren't going to be able to take care of all students who come here."

Trustees agreed to continue the discussion on enrollment maximum and accompanying campus design at later sessions.

They are scheduled to act at their next session Jan. 16 on applying for federal matching funds for construction projects during the 1970-71 school year at both the Kentfield and north campus.

Stab Death Suspect Is Denied Bail

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday denied a request for bail by David Vaughn Busdieker, 19-year-old Corte Madera youth accused of stabbing his father death early Wednesday.

Busdieker, through is attorney Roger Garety of San Rafael argued he should be released on bail because facts of the case indicate he should be charged with manslaughter, not first degree murder.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued against releasing the youth, saying he still does not know enough about the case to tell if he will seek the death penalty.

Garety told the judge young Busdieker graduated from Redwood High School in 1967 and has been working for a Corte Madera rastaurant.

He has one misdemeanor conviction as an adult and once was in the California Youth Authority for juvenile offenses, Garety said.

His father was drunk and assaulted him before the stabbing, Garety said.

Busdieker was to return to court today to plead to the murder charge.

Guilty Plea Entered On Marijuana Count

Ronnie M. Almada, 21, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to being in a place where marijuana was used Aug. 17.

Almada, who originally faced a felony charge of marijuana possession, was told to return to court Jan. 17 for sentencing.

Hearing Set On Worker's Rehire Plea

William Yahraes, a road maintenance worker, complained to the Marin County Personnel Commission yesterday that he had been fired without justification and wants a hearing for reinstatement.

Yahrae's letter of appeal was presented by Randall M. Prevo, manager of the Marin County Employees Association.

Bella Aaron, chairman of the personnel commission, set 7:30 p.m. Jan. 8 to hear Yahraes' appeal.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported that Yahraes, a county employee since August 1967, was dismissed because of several unauthorized absences and his inability to get along with his supervisors.

The Marin County Personnel Commission also:

RULES — Received a draft of new rules and regulations to govern commission operations. Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott explained that existing rules were adopted in 1951, long before the personnel staff was set up, and many provisions no longer apply. Commissioners decided to review the new rules before approving them.

REDUCTION — Got a report from Elliott that the board of supervisors had agreed to give employee organizations six calendar weeks' notice and individual employees four calendar weeks' notice in case the county decides to lay off personnel because of cutbacks.

Drunken Driving

Sam Edward Hall Jr., 49, of 1 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, was fined $150 and placed on a year of probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving Dec. 10 and Highway 101.

TEACHER-TRUSTEE RIFT SMOOTHED?

Tam Board Agrees To Talk With Faculty Regularly On District Controversies

A momentary truce was declared yesterday in the rift between the Tamalpais District Teachers Association, unhappy over recent policy decisions, and the district board.

Association president William D. Wilkinson said that a "positive note" came out of a meeting yesterday among 240 of the distrrict's teachers and two board members, as well as Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Board members Frank L. Miller and Bette Wallace agreed that a "lack of communication" and appointment of two new members on the board (David D. Ring and Miller) had caused problems to arise.

It was agreed that representatives of the teachers association, staff members and board representatives would plan regular meetings to hash out differences, but no dates were set.

The teachers had called an "emergency" session yesterday, angered over a number of recent decisions as well as the board majority's reportedly hostile attitude against Carlisle.

Monday night's board meeting, at which the board reacted with disfavor to reports on an opportunity school and sensitivity training, "was the crowning blow," according to teachers.

The meeting yesterday, which was preceded by marathon sessions between teachers, staff and board members, turned into a "love fest," according to one observer.

Although teachers held firm on their demands that the board stay out of policy-making on curriculum, the atmosphere was one of cooperation, he added.

In addition to the board's attitude toward Carlisle and toward curriculum, the teachers have said they are disturbed by reports that some of the board favors a splitting of the Tamalpais district into three parts, with the elementary districts in each attendance area unified with a high school district.

Market Holdup Suspects Held

Two Marin City men were arrested today on suspicion of robbing about $50 from a clerk at the Short Stop Market, 141 Bellum Boulevard, San Rafael, police said.

Booked into Marin County Jail were Mac H. Page, 20, of 26 Eureka Street, and Terry A. Thompson, 18, of Apt. 21, 69 Cole Drive.

Rodney W. Genter of Novato, a Short Stop employee, telephoned police reporting that the men, one of them armed with a short-barrel, 22-caliber semi-automatic pistol, took cash and fled in a black and white Lincoln Continental about 2:24 a.m. a.m.

Police spotted the car outside an apartment building at 45 Woodland Avenue about 6:30 a.m. While police were checking the building, the suspects were arrested while fleeing from an apartment.

Welfare Youngsters' Clothing Plea Vetoed

A request for extra money for children's winter clothes, being made in a statewide campaign of the Welfare Rights Organization, is neither legally nor fiscally possible, according to John C. Montgomery, head of the state Department of Social Welfare.

Montgomery, in a prepared statement, pointed out that money for clothing is already included in assistance to families with dependent children, Betty Presley, director of the Marin department of social services, reported.

The Marin chapter of the Welfare Rights Organization joined the statewide campaign and sent messages to Montgomery, Miss Presley and the board of supervisors, Mrs. Mary Brooks, president, reported.

She said the group is asking a one-time extra payment of $35 per child to buy warm clothes for them.

If the request is not granted, she said, WRO members plan to keep their children home from school beginning Jan. 2.

Mrs. Brooks said regular clothing allotments are not sufficient to cover all neeeds. Current allotments include $10.85 per month for females 13 and over; $12.85 a month for males 13 and over; $9.70 for children 7 through 12; and $6.75 for infants through 6 year olds, according to Miss Presley.

Miss Presley said Montgomery reported that the special need provision of the state welfare and institutions code is for use on an individual basis and for emergencies only and cannot be applied on a general basis.

The Welfare Rights Organization is a national pressure group advocating basics such as adequate income, dignity and justice for persons receiving public assistance.

Ex-Nazis Given Prison Terms

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A court today convicted two former Nazi officials of helping send 100,000 mentally and physically handicapped persons to "mercy killing" deaths and sentenced them to prison at hard labor.

Reinhold Vorberg, 64, a Bonn businessman, was sentenced to 10 years and Dietrich Allers, 58, a Hamburg lawyer, to eight years.

Both were officials of the secret T4 agency attached directly to Nazi dictator Adolf Hitler's office. The agency operated a program to rid Nazi Germany of people Hitler considered "unworthy of life and useless mouths to feed."

BART Pay Raise To All But Three

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District —beset with financial woes —voted pay increases averaging about 5 per cent to all employees except the top three executives.

Excluded by yesterday's action were: General Manager B. R. Stokes, who gets $38,808 annually; William Goelz, who on Jan. 1 will advance from assistant finance director to treasurer at $21,612, and R. W. Nelson, controller, who gets $27,576.

Secretary Richard J. Shephard was given an increase from $17,772 to $19,500.

The raises will add $13,163 per month to he payroll of $232,806 for 240 employees.

The district has a $146 million deficit.

State Camps Set For Reservations

SACRAMENTO (AP) —The State Parks and Recreation Department will begin taking reservations Jan. 1 for camp spots in most state parks, Director William Penn Mott Jr. said today.

The department took more than 50,000 reservations last year, the first year of the program. Easter week camp spots in one park were all reserved by Jan. 7 last year, Mott noted.

Reservation forms and information can be obtained by writing to the department's offices in either Sacramento or Los Angeles.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order . . . since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" . . . delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

Tokyo Students Go On Rampage

TOKYO (AP) — Fifty leftist students armed with steel pipes vandalized temporary buildings of Nihon University, 20 miles west of Tokyo today to back up their demand for a say in the administration of the university.

The students broke 700 window panes and damaged telephones and lighting fixtures after arriving in a bus and two automobiles, police said. Ten professors and university officials on the scene were unable to stop the rampaging students.

Nihon, Japan's biggest university with an enrollment of 100,000 students, set up temporary prefabricated classrooms in Kawasaki after the college's buildings in Tokyo were barricaded following student demonstrations and riots.

Five Inducted Into Service

Five present or former Marin County residents were inducted into the Army in December by the Marin Selective Service Board.

Drafted were Ronald Dean Hahne of Santa Cruz; Barney Francis Hope of Elk Creek; Joseph Boyde McBride of Richmond; Sammie Homer Raygor of Santa Rosa, and Robert Paul Storrs of Novato.

The county draft call quota for January is 23, the local board reported.

KGO (7), 9 p.m. — Don Rickles, as a reluctant Santa Claus, goes to Hollywood to pay a Yuletide visit to Agnes Moorehead, Don Adams, Carl Betz, Rosey Grier, Bob Newhart, Louis Nye and Mickey Rooney.

KPIX (5), 10:45 p.m. — CBS News offers a special on "The Flight of Apollo 8," a pre-launch report on Apollo 8 by Walter Cronkite.

NEARLY 36 YEARS

Don McNeil To Bid Farewell To Radio

CHICAGO (AP) — Don McNeill got his last call for breakfast on radio today.

He arranged to tape the final "Breakfast Club" show for broadcast Dec. 27 on ABC.

McNeill and the show have been going for 35 and one-half years, and they have staked a claim to a record for a continual Monday-through-Friday daytime network feature.

It lived to an extraordinary age on a plain diet of lively band music, homespun humor, songs, chats with folks from the audience and a silent prayer, "each in his own words, each in his own way."

How did they do it?

"We try to have a program like a Sunday newspaper," McNeill once said. "Something in it for everybody."

Why is McNeill stepping out now at the age of 61? "Why not quit when you're ahead," he said.

The show started on NBC at "The Pepper Pot." It switched later to ABC.

The premier was June 23, 1933.

On the air then were James Melton, Stoopnagle & Bud, Jack Benny (Friday nights), Captain Henry's Showboat, and Arthur Tracy, the street singer.

On grocery shelves: a pound of coffee, 37 cents.

On "Breakfast Club's" 20th anniversary a reported asked master of ceremonies McNeill how it kept going.

"Each morning we have a new show," he replied. "We have no script. It's a challenge each day."

That, he theorized, sustained the interest of audience and cast.

Raiders Don't Mind Being Underdogs Sunday

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders don't mind being the underdogs for their big Western Division American Football League playoff against Kansas City Sunday in a jam-packed Oakland Coliseum.

"It takes the pressure off us," says big Ben Davidson, the mustachioed defensive end.

The game will determine who represents the division against Eastern champ New York at Shea Stadium Dec. 29. The winner of that one meets the National Football League's best in the Super Bowl.

Sunday's game will go into sudden death should it wind up in a tie. Everybody will be paid 1-14th of his salary for the extra Sunday of effort.

Oakland is about a one field goal underdog after staggering through three cliff-hangers in a row to join Kansas City atop the standings with a 12-2 mark. The Raiders hit a clunker Thanksgiving in beating lowly Buffalo, winner of the O. J. Simpson derby, by a 13-10 count. Things didn't go much better against Denver or San Diego as the Raiders staggered to 33-27 and 34-27 wins.

But the Raiders still have the league's best offense—one that has averaged 407 yards and 33 points per game.

Rookie Charlie Smith carried the running load when guys like Hewritt Dixon, Pete Banaszak and Larry Todd came up hurt. Big fullback Dixon, at least, is back at full speed to join Smith in a good one-two running backfield.

And quarterback Daryle Lamonica has found a new blue chip receiver to throw to in Kansas City castoff Warren Wells, who has caught 53 passes for 12 touchdowns. He caught four for 113 yards and one tally in last Sunday's key conquest of San Diego.

The Raiders also hold a decisive win over the Chiefs in their last meeting. They lost a strange 24-10 affair at Kansas City as the Chiefs went to a full-house T attack and threw only three passes. But the Chiefs played it more conventional at Oakland and the Raiders took the 38-21 verdict.

But Kansas City has shown it is ready for Sunday's game by splattering San Diego 40-3 and Denver 30-7 over the last two weeks in marked contrast to Oakland's squeakers over the same two teams.

Kansas City boasts the league's best defense—one that has yielded only 170 points to 14 foes.

Davidson sees the key to the game how well Oakland's defenders can contain the running of rookie flash Bob Holmes, number two ground gainer in the league, and veterans such as Mike Garrett, Curtis McClinton and Bert Coan.

Kansas City quarterback Lennie Dawson is the league's number one passer, but Oakland's secondary feels it can stifle any air attack when there is no running to counterbalance it.

Oakland defensive backs Willie Brown, Rodger Bird, and league interception leader Dave Grayson have all earned post-season honors. If injured Kent McCloughan, another all-star performer, can't start, rookie George Atkinson will go at cornerback. Enemy passers have been trying to complete in his area for three straight weeks and have gotten nowhere. He could turn out to be the best Raider defender of the bunch.

SMILES ALL AROUND — One big smile deserves another as East offensive guard George Kunz of Notre Dame draws a pleased smile from Laurie.

ENGROSSING TOY — East center Jack Rudney of Northwestern and 7-year-old Vicky seem engrossed in a toy Rudney gave Vicky yesterday.

Raiders Boosters Club Feeling Pretty Smug

JIM SHORTS:

Members of the Marin County Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club are feeling pretty smug today.

While the average fan of the American Football League club is having one heckuva time getting tickets to Sunday's championship playoff with the Kansas City Chiefs, Marin Boosters President Shaun Wiltshire has come up with 60 of the precious pasteboards for his members. Shaun also has the tremendous traffic problem licked as he will transport his "Solvent Sixty" to the Coliseum aboard his double-decker London bus.

"So, next time," said Shaun, "join the Raiders Boosters Club, take the double-decker bus and leave the driving to us, by jove.

PAUL HARTMAN and Mike Dolan of General Travel Service, San Rafael, have put together a tour for duffers, football fans, sun worshippers and just plain sports buffs.

Super Bowl, Then Golf

Scheduled Jan. 10-18, it will take in the Super Bowl at Miami Jan. 12, thence to the King's Inn and Country Club on Grand Bahama Island where former Marinite Harry "Jake" Obitz will host the group for five days of golf and relaxation. Obitz is director of golf at the King's Inn. Several Marinites already have signed for the tour, according to Hartman.

COLLEGE OF MARIN'S team of basketball yell leaders is up against a financial hurdle. Head yell leader Chuck Maltzahn reports the executive council of the Student Government has cut off all funds for his group. Which means, if the Tar Tonsils are to follow their team on the road, they have to pay their own way — which is pretty tough on some college kids.

Anyone who'd like to help out can mail contributions to Maltzahn at his home, 143 Riviera Circle, Larkspur. "Any amount, large or small, will be greatly appreciated," said the head yeller feller.

They'll Pay For A Coach

SPEAKING OF FINANCES, the Student Council of Novato High School was dipped into its treasury for $180 to pay for the services of a water polo coach. Mentors for all other sports are paid by the school district, but water polo wasn't included in the budget, although the sport has gained in popularity up there in the wilds of northern Marin. Congrats to the kids for keeping it alive.

SEVEN MARIN COUNTY netters have been listed in the tentative adult rankings announced today by the Northern California Tennis Association, including: Mike Machette, Belvedere, 16th, and John Zwieg, Kentfield, 18th in men's singles; Pete Werner, Mill Valley, 9th in men's 35 singles; Bob Seymour, Mill Valley, 9th in senior 45 singles; Earl Kissinger, Corte Madera, 9th, senior 55 singles; Zwieg and Roy Orlando of Stockton 8th in men's doubles; Howard Morehouse of San Rafael and Bill Hoogs of Berkeley 2nd in senior 45 doubles; and Howard Blethan of Tiburon and Terry Masterson of San Mateo 3rd in senior 55 doubles.

Gridders Say Hello To Kids

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "All season long I'm taking care of these big monsters," said Stanford University trainer Dick Melhart, "then I come in here and choke up."

His gaze swept around a ward filled with chattering football players and children at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children—the institution partially supported by football's finest hour, the annual East-West Classic on Dec. 28.

"This really grabs me," Melhart said as he watched Leroy Keyes, Purdue's All-American halfback, talk with Dottie, 10.

"Will you score a touchdown for me?" she asked, wiggling her legs under a blanket.

Keyes looked down at her a moment, then glanced out a window.

"I'll sure try," he murmured.

Northwestern center Jack Rudnay found himself with a tough mechanical problem. Vickie, 7, wanted to know about the workings of the battery-driven boats the players had brought as presents.

Cheerfully, Rudnay borrowed a penknife from a newsman and took the gadget apart quickly. He made slower progress, however, getting it back together.

"Your hands are too big," Vickie taunted, giggling.

Army tight end Gary Steele, found a genuine fan in Patricia, 10.

"I watched you on television in the Army-Navy game," she chirped. "You were wonderful."

Negro Grant-In-Aid, A South Carolina First

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The University of South Carolina signed its first Negro scholarship athlete to a football grant-in-aid yesterday.

Carlton Hayood, a 6-1, 174-pound halfback from Lanier High School in Macon, Ga., was signed by Gamecock assistant coach Jackie Powers.

SURPRISE MOVE

Three Saints' Coaches Resign

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Coach Tom Fears' assistants—Three of New Orleans Saints' including his two top lieutenants—have resigned unexpectedly.

Jack Faulkner, the team's chief defensive coach, announced the resignations yesterday in telephone calls to sportswriters and sportscasters from the home of General Manager Vic Schwenk.

Joining Faulkner were Bob Dickson, the chief offensive coach, and Bob Shaw, coach of the receivers. A fourth assistant, Walt Yowarsky, previously told Fears and Schwenk that he would quit at the end of the season.

FOUR OF SEVEN

It means Fears is losing four of his seven assistants from a staff which won four games this season, equalling the best second-year performance for any NFL expansion team.

Faulkner sounded extremely distressed when he announced the decision in a telephone call to The Associated Press. He said he didn't want to elaborate but might have something more to say later.

"I'm just sorry as hell about this because I really like it down here," said the husky Faulkner, a onetime Sid Gillprotege who was the American Football League Coach of the Year in 1962 after guiding the Denver Broncos to their only winning season.

OPTIMISTIC

Faulkner was talking optimistically about next season with the Saints on Monday, the day after New Orleans beat Pittsburgh 24-14 in the season finale. Faulkner master-minded the sophisticated defense alignments which gave New Orleans the pass defense title in the NFL this season.

Fears would not talk to newsmen nor return any telephone calls made to his home or office.

Schwenk was upset by the sudden resignations and said he was "personally distressed." He said he didn't want to elaborate and would have publicity man Ed Staton make an official announcement later.

Staton's announcement merely said: "It is true three assistant coaches have tendered their resignations effective today."

Playboy millionaire John W. Mecom Jr., the 29-year-old owner of the team who has distressed the proprietors of other NFL clubs by frolicking around the sidelines with his players during games, was reported en route from New York to Houston, Tex., his home.

Ten days ago Mecom, apparently upset when his team lost to the lowly Philadelphia Eagles sent an emissary to Green Bay, Wis., to try to lure Vince Lombardi here as head coach and general manager, it was learned. Lombardi turned down the offer.

Sources close to the coaching staff say Mecom's failure to either deny the report about Lombardi or to publicly give his coaching staff a vote of confidence was one of the prime reasons behind the unexpected resignations.

More may be in the offing, the sources said.

Grid Writer Picks Cowboys, Colts, Chiefs To Triumph

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — If everything goes according to form the Dallas Cowboys will be playing the Baltimore Colts for the National Football League title Dec. 29 and the Kansas City Chiefs will be playing the New York Jets for the American Football League crown.

Form has a way of flip-flopping in these playoff games and it could very well do a somersault tomorrow at Cleveland or Sunday at Baltimore or Oakland.

The NFL weekend program calls for Dallas (12-2) at Cleveland (10-4) for the Eastern Conference championships tomorrow and Minnesota (8-6) at Baltimore (13-1) Sunday for the Western Conference title.

In the AFL it will be Kansas City (12-2) at Oakland (12-2), Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title and the right to play the Jets in New York the following Sunday.

NFL

Dallas 24, Cleveland 20 (Saturday)—The Cowboys beat the Browns in September 28-7 when Frank Ryan was pitching for Cleveland and Dan Reeves still was healthy and running for Dallas. When they met last year for the Eastern title in Dallas, the Cowboys really poured it on, 52-14 with Boy Hayes running wild on punt returns.

Both teams have explosive attacks but Dallas has the sounder defense, giving up only two touchdowns on the ground all year. If Jethro Pugh is sub par from last Sunday's knee injury in New York, watch the Browns send Leroy Kelly into Dallas' left side.

Both were dull last week, the Cowboys in a 28-10 win over New York, the Browns in a 27-16 defeat by St. Louis.

Baltimore 20, Minnesota 16 (Sunday)—Colts held off the flu-stricken Vikings 21-9 on Nov. 24 after opening up 21-3 halftime lead.

The Vikes really took out after Earl Morrall in the second half, intercepting two and forcing a fumble but Baltimore dug in and stopped Bill Brown twice on the one-yard line in a tense goal line stand.

Minnesota offense can't compare with Colts, especially in air, where erratic Joe Kapp will oppose Morrall.

Baltimore probably will try for the bomb early because injury to Terry Cole and doubtful condition of Jerry Hill hurts their ground game. Return of Dave Osborn in last two games after knee surgery gives Vikings big plus.

This can be a real war, perhaps the best game of the season.

AFL

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 (Sunday)—The past performance book is confusing. The Chiefs went to the old tight-T and whipped the Raiders 24-10 on Oct. 20 and two weeks later were bombed by Daryle Lamonica 38-21. In a pre-season game Kansas City won 31-21.

Hank Stram's club closed strong and Oakland has won last eight.

Against common foes in last two weeks, Chiefs bombed San Diego, 40-3, Raiders squeaked home 34-27. Chiefs clubbed Denver 30-7, Raiders rallied for 33-27 edge.

Oakland has better running but Lamonica passed them Silly Nov. 3. No love lost on either side in this one.

Redwood Cagers Win Tournament Opener

I-J Special Report

YUBA CITY — Redwood High School's little Giants socked it to Vacaville High School at the Yuba City Invitational Christmas Basketball Tournament yesterday, grabbing a 69-61 opening round victory.

The double whammy of guards Jerry Piro and Roger Smith combined for 43 points on great outside shooting as the Giants of Larkspur rolled to a 42-25 halftime lead before the reserves gave up 26 points in the final period to account for the deceptive close score.

Piro pumped in 23 points and Smith had 20 while Jim Peters added 12 for the Giants, now 6-2 on the season.

Redwood meets Livermore High School, a 50-26 winner over Oroville, tonight at 8 o'clock. In other games yesterday, Mission San Jose topped Marysville, 65-55, and host Yuba City clipped Mira Loma, 39-36.

Redwood	20	22	10	17—69
Vacaville	11	14	11	26—61

Redwood Scoring — Corsini, 4-1-9; Piro, 9-5-23; Smith, 8-4-20; Carewe 1-0-2; Peters, 5-2-12; Simpson, 1-1-3. Totals: 28-13-69.

Ref Stops The Fight On Old Jess Willard

Well, I see where the referee stopped the fight on old Jess Willard the other day. As usual, he was still on his feet and groping for his opponent at the time.

I don't know whether Dempsey loaded the gloves on poor old Jess, but history did. History kicked him, gouged him, held on the break, hit him when he was down — and then, whenever he won, yelled "Fake!"

Jess had a role in history you wouldn't give to John Wilkes Booth. He was the most pathetic of athletic figures — he was, God help him, "The White Hope." When Dempsey got through with him he was the white heap.

THEY HAULED old Jess off a wheat thresher in Kansas when he was almost 30 years old and told him it was his patriotic duty to restore the heavyweight championship to the white race. Jess was an amiable giant at the time who hated no one and the only man he ever hit hard, he killed. A gentle troglodyte, he never made that mistake again.

Jack Johnson sort of deeded the title over to him in a peculiar minstrel in Havana where the fight was held since Johnson's sexual exploits had been saluted by the Congress of the United States, no less, which passed a law in his honor, forbidding interstate traffic in women.

THE MOTION pictures of that fight, banned in this country as suitable for mature audiences only (none of which were available at the time, presumably), were recently uncovered in Australia. They show that the overweight, dissipated Johnson was soundly thrashed by the stronger, better-conditioned Willard. Unlike L'il Arthur, Jess never needed but one woman, or one suit at a time, and the only thing he took on long trips with him was his Bible.

When Jess beat Frank Moran in the Old Garden in New York shortly thereafter, the state promptly banned boxing. His life was like that. Society was constantly tying a can to his tail, and poor Jess, who was part Cherokee, ran off with a cowboy-and-Indian show for a few years, where he rode out, waved his hat, then went back and helped with the shoveling.

HE LOST his title on the banks of Maumee Bay on an Independence Day so hot (112 degrees at ringside) that the lumber in the arena smouldered, ice cream stocks melted, and musicians on the rim blistered their lips on white-hot metal of cornets.

I caught up with Jess 42 years later in a bar in Montrose, at a meeting arranged by a mutual friend, the newspaperman, Bevo Means. Jess was still bitter about that hot afternoon in Toledo. "Here," he said, snatching my hand and putting it in a dynamite-sized hole in his left temple. "Does that look to you like it was made by a gloved fist? Dempsey put that hole there with the first punch of the fight."

FLOORED EIGHT times in the first round, his cheekbone crushed, his ribs caved in, unconscious at the bell, Willard, nevertheless, never again went down in the two succeeding rounds. He had to quit when his bruised ribs threatened to puncture his lungs. He couldn't breathe. His seconds and his manager had deserted him by that time, and his eyes were swollen so shut a spectator had to lead him to the dressing room.

Willard bitterly assailed Dempsey's manager, Doc Kearns, the day I met him. Kearns, he said, kept pulling false fire alarms outside his training quarters in Toledo at all hours of the night, awakened him with phony phone calls, bribed his handlers, and even tried to doctor his food.

NO GESTURE of appeasement ever abated his wrath. Dempsey even hired him once to push Dempsey's brand of liquor in a series of Florida bars. After Jess would set up a round for the house (on Jack), he would then proceed to denounce his boss and rehash the story of the loaded glove.

He never forgave nor forgot. He died as he had lived. Stubborn, fierce, suspicious — an orphan of sports. Dying, he broke out of the hospital, doubtless feeling the medics were loading their punches.

They're saluting Jack Johnson on Broadway in a play sardonically called "The Great White Hope." Even posthumously, old Jess still gets to play the antihero, a man betrayed by history, caught between two legends, a man who didn't know life loaded the gloves.

DAVE DE BUSSCHERE
To Knicks

Pistons, Knicks In Trade

DETROIT (AP) — The Pistons traded an institution yesterday in a National Basketball Association move designed to get the Pistons back on the winning track.

The Pistons announced 6-foot-6 Dave DeBusschere, a college star at the University of Detroit and a Piston since 1962, had been traded to the New York Knicks for Howard Komives and the big man the Pistons have needed, 6-foot-11 Walt Bellamy.

DeBusschere served at one point as player-coach for nearly three seasons before giving way to recently replaced Coach Donnis Butcher.

The players will face each other tonight when the Knicks and Pistons tangle in Detroit.

"It's not the end of the world," DeBusschere, 28, noted after learning of the trade. "I knew the Pistons would have to do something to start winning.

"I knew they'd have to give up (Dave) Bing or me to get a big man, so I wasn't particularly surprised.'

Detroit Coach Paul Seymour explained, "I know we gave up a lot, but the name of the game is win and we weren't winning. I don't know if I'll start Bellamy (tonight), but I imagine that I will."

The Pistons dropped eight straight contests after Seymour took over from Donnis Butscher about two weeks ago.

Komives, 27, a relative midget in the NBA at 6-foot-1, is not expected to start with the Pistons as he did with the Knicks. But Seymour said, "He (Komives) gets the ball moving, and not moving the ball has been one of our big problems."

Komives, a native of Toledo, Ohio, was a college player at Bowling Green.

Bellamy, 29, a standout at Indiana, has been averaging about 24 points per game this season. He had his best year as a rookie in 1961 with the now defunct Chicago Packers when he carried a 31.6 points-per-game average.

Alcindor May Be Sidelined

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lew Alcindor, college basketball's most famous player, has suffered a pulled tendon in his left foot and may not play for UCLA against Minnesota in Los Angeles tonight when the national champions return to action after a layoff of nearly two weeks.

The towering 7-foot-2 All-American suffered the injury in the Ohio State game at Columbus, Ohio, on Dec. 6, a team spokesman said, but it did not become public until late last night.

The mishap recalled the eye injury Alcindor suffered last season, leading to his sub-par game against Houston in the Astrodome Jan. 20, 1968 when UCLA's 47-game winning streak was broken 71-69.

"His foot is better now than it was earlier in the week," said Johnny Wooden, UCLA coach. "But we've told him to let us know if it begins hurting again."

Alcindor has been excused from practice early to have his foot treated and Wooden disclosed he planned to keep his star out of action until the Pacific—8 Conference games next month unless the injury healed.

That would mean Alcindor would miss not only tonight's Minnesota game, but also the West Virginia game Saturday and the Holiday Festival games in New York next week.

Disclosure of Alcindor's pulled tendon overshadowed last night's action on the courts in which 14th-ranked New Mexico State, the only team in the Associated Press Top 20 to play, made it seven in a row by whipping Evansville 98-64 at Las Cruces, N.M.

Calvin Murphy, the nation's second leading scorer, ran his season total to 231 points in six games with 31 points for Niagara as the Purple Eagles rallied to beat Bowling Green at Cleveland 100-92.

Big Bob Lienhard tossed in 36 points and grabbed 25 rebounds to lead Georgia over Furman 97-71 at Athens, Ga. Illinois crushed Tulane 105-71 at Champaign and Clemson downed Alabama at Tuscaloosa 96-74.

Wisconsin-Milwaukee upset Creighton 79-74 while, in other home court triumphs, Tulsa downed San Jose 89-84, Iowa whipped North Dakota 91-59, Northwestern took Ohio U. 89-80, Colorado edged Arizona 70-69, Utah upended Oregon State 86-54 and Seattle beat Denver 84-64.

On the road, Drake defeated Iowa State 81-71, Boston College beat Fairfield 81-69, Southern California edged Oklahoma 48-46 and Oklahoma State nipped Trinity, Tex., 65-63.

Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 1 in the AP small college poll, won its 28th straight by crushing San Diego State 86-63 at Owensboro, Ky.

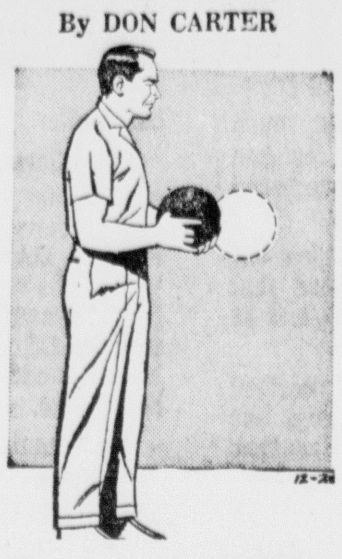
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Your push-away should be a fairly slow movement, just as your first step should be. Never merely shove the ball out and start galloping to the foul line. The delivery should be a graceful, easy action from start to finish, with your speed building up as you get closer to the foul line.

Marin Cage Teams Take To Road

It's a mass exodus.

All but two of Marin County's basketball teams are heading away from home and hearth in a heavy basketball schedule tonight and tomorrow.

San Marin High School, in a 3:30 p.m. game against St. Patrick's of Vallejo at Novato, and Novato High School, in a 7 p.m. battle against the College of Marin frosh team, are today's stay at homes.

College of Marin's varsity seeks to break a three-game losing streak at Yuba Junior College at 8 p.m. today. The Tars are 2-5 on the season. They'll go to Santa Cruz tomorrow to battle Cabrillo at 8 p.m.

Redwood High School, with an opening-round victory over Vacaville under its belt, goes into the second round of the Yuba City Tournament tonight against Livermore at eight o'clock.

Tamalpais, looking for its second win of the season, gets two cracks at it in San Mateo with games against Jefferson High (Daly City) tonight at seven o'clock and Cabrillo High School tomorrow at 7 p.m.

In other 7 o'clock games tonight, San Rafael High School is at Vallejo High, Drake travels to Richmond to meet highly-rated Salesian High School, winless Marin Catholid goes to San Francisco to meet the Catholic Athletic League's Riordan High School, and Terra Linda is at Rancho Cotate in Rohnert Park.

FISHIN' FOOL

Happy Camp: Latest Reports

By RALPH STEVENS

Jim Roads, Klamath River Guide Service at Happy Camp reports: "Fishing has been on the slow side this past week. A recent warm rain muddied up the river for several days. This could encourage new runs of fish to enter from the ocean. However, I have produced good results on two and three-day trips for my parties. River in fine shape now. But a call to me will get you the latest information."

The above report was written and posted on Friday, Dec. 13th. So it is advisable to make that phone call. We have had a couple stormy days since.

FROM NOW until the end of the season weather and water will control matters. I suggest you make contact with someone on the scene before jumping in the car and hightailing it for your favorite hole on your favorite stream. As of right now, the only news of steelhead fishing is mainly bad news. "Dirty water!" is the common phrase at present. Prospects are poor on most streams. But remember, it is the consensus of old-timers that very seldom in steelhead fishing is it really good until after the new year begins. There have been periods of clear, clean water, in late December in the coastal waters, but such periods are extremely rare.

Mike Crean of Spanish Flat, Lake Berryessa reports: "Lake Berryessa continues to provide good topline trout action. The trout are on the move due to the rains and the ganging up of the threadfin shad.

"The creeks and streams are beginning to receive rain runoff, and the lake has risen about two feet. The action spots for successful trolling have been Capell Creek, Steel Canyon, Spanish Flat Harbor area and Putah Creek. Trollers are still picking up trout on the surface and letting out around 140 feet of line. Both trophy trout and native trout have been taken. The native trout are hitting larger lures then the trophy trout. For example: the No. 6 Okiedokie, X-4, and U20 Flatfish, while trophy trout are hitting one-quarter ounces Kastmaster, No. 2½ Rebel and numbers 20 and 21 Oakiedokie. Trollers are sticking around 35 feet off shore and concentrating on mouths of all creeks, harbors and major stream inlets, as well as the steep shorelines leading into them. Average size — 3 to 5 pounds per fish."

No Solution To Golf Problem

SUNOL, Calif. (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association failed yesterday to come up with a solution to the problem created by the scheduling of conflicting golf tournaments Jan. 9-12.

The PGA had set up a $50,000 tournament at a course here for those dates to compete with the $100,000 Los Angeles Open, which had been scheduled by a rival players group, the American Professional Golfers.

The two groups have since settled their dispute, but both tournaments are still scheduled.

Yesterday, local PGA officials Lyle Wehrman had a conference call with Bill Rogers, a PGA attorney, and Sam Gates, of the defunct APG.

Wehrman suggested that some top name golfers be assigned to the Sunol tournament and that the PGA donate $50,000 to the prize money. The PGA rejected both offers. Further meetings have been scheduled.

Two Kids From Brooklyn Make Oaks Interesting

OAKLAND — Unable to resist temptation, I joined two thousand other secretive souls the other night to watch two kids from Brooklyn via North Carolina play basketball for a guy who used to be with Oshkosh in an Oakland arena against several fellows from New Orleans.

PLACE DROPPING, Aside, I was curious about the abilities of the Oakland Oaks, specifically their Larry Brown and Doug Moe, the Brooklyn sorts.

The Oaks, as yours truly indicated weeks ago, are destroying the American Basketball Association. After the game I witnessed against New Orleans, Oakland had been defeated only four times in 26 games. They may come around eventually.

COULD, ONE wondered, the Oaks be this good? I mean a real team, not just the best of a ragged lot. A good team, not yet. An interesting one, definitely. Not to mention an awfully, awfully expensive organization.

Forgetting for a moment Rick Barry's salary of 75 grand, I was stunned to learn the Oaks' poorest basket maker earns $13,000. Stunned I tell you.

IN BETWEEN Barry and Mr. 13 thou, are Brooklynites Larry Brown and Doug Moe. Between them, they take about $50,000 from owners Ken Davidson (insurance) and Pat Boone (chords).

Brown is my favorite kind of basketball player, not solely because he wears a mezuzah inside his tunic while at play. Larry is a little guard — really little, like 5-9. He doesn't, ever, make mistakes. At least not important one.

THIS NIGHT the Oaks were protecting a slim lead in the final moments. G.M.-coach Alex Hannum (erstwhile Oshkosher) shouted to Brown, "Keep it out(side). Take your time."

So Larry called a time out.

"I thought," said Larry upon arrival at the bench, "you wished a time out." Hannum smiled, patiently, at what might be a good idea anyway.

Alex needs much patience for this raw team, and indulges it. Far more than Barry, who, of course, has been around. At the far end of the court, a technical foul had been called against New Orleans — so Barry ran down quickly to take the free throw.

HANNUM, AND a few Oaks on the bench, hadn't noticed the technical. Someone asked Barry what he was doing at what seemed to be the wrong end of the court. "It's our free throw line, isn't it?" peacocked SuperJunior, who made his usual underhanded free throw.

With this, too, Hannum is patient.

Brown and the larger (6-5), older (30 to 28) Moe played together at North Carolina for a season, although not at the same Brooklyn High School. But their Flatbush roots give them obvious camaraderie.

BROWN IS driving down the middle, seeking a mate. And Moe streaks down the left side, shouting, "Much later, Larry, much later." In Brooklynese, this meant Larry should lob, softly, a pass to Doug under the bucket. Brown led Moe perfectly for two points.

And several Oaks on the bench laughed aloud over the "much later" dictum.

"THOSE TWO guys played by themselves for New Orleans last year; that's why they were traded to the Oaks," said someone who seemed to know the ABA.

After the game, I asked New Orleans coach Babe McCarthy if his player personnel budget were eased by the trade.

"By half," he smiled. "But I'm not sorry."

Neither, one should add, are the Oaks.

Seals To Get Another Shot At St. Louis

OAKLAND (UPI) — Whoever gave the St. Louis hockey team the nickname of the Blues must have had the Oakland Seals' attitued toward them in mind.

Oakland has been singing the blues over their games with St. Louis for two seasons. The Seals were 0-7-3 last season and are 0-2-0 this time around against the Blues, finest team in the Western Division.

St. Louis comes to call tonight, 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena, with their great one-two goalie punch of Glenn Hall and Jacques Plante. The Seals would like to win one against St. Louis at least, but will probably wind up singing the blues again.

Novato, Tam Soccermen Tie

The unbeaten soccer teams of Tamalpais and Novato high schools battled to a 1-1 tie at Novato yestereday, keeping Novato on top of the Marin County Athletic League standings.

Novato has two victories and a tie for five points under soccer scoring while Tamalpais of Mill Valley is 1-0-1 for three points. Marin Catholic is 1-1 for two points and Redwood is 0-1 and Drake 0-2. Two points are given for a win and one point for a tie.

Forward Mark Costello scored for Tamalpais on a yard goal while Novato tied it up with a 20-yard angle shot by the school's student body president, Kevin McDowell.

Coach Finds Way To Snap Loss Streak

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) — Want to break a basketball losing streak?

Simple. Just have your players carry a basketball around. Everywhere.

That's what Pfeiffer College Coach Francis Essie did recently after his Carolinas Conference Falcons dropped three of their first four games.

After they'd lost their third straight, to Campbell, Essie called a late night practice session.

He explained later, "We weren't doing many things right that night and lacked teamwork. So, after practice I ordered each player to take a basketball with him.

"I thought if they carried a basketball around for awhile they would be reminded they were basketball players."

Eleven players toted basketballs everywhere — to class, meals—even to bed.

They were embarrassed by the kidding of classmates, but they followed Essie's orders.

Their next game, two days after the therapy, they beat Appalachian. Then came victories over Carson-Newman, Guilford and Presbyterian.

Now the record is 5-3 and the Falcons are free to enjoy the holidays before resuming play Jan. 6 at Atlantic Christian.

Warriors Vs. Lakers In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers and San Francisco Warriors renew their National Basketball Association feud tonight and both teams will have stars moving in and out of the lineup.

Elgin Baylor of the Lakers, who missed two games with a groin muscle pull, is scheduled to return. Jim King of the Warriors, whose stomach problems have kept him out nearly a whole season, is also set to play.

But Tom Hawkins of the Lakers has the flu and probably won't suit up. And San Francisco's Nate Thurmond reinjured a thigh muscle last week and might not play.

BOWLING NOTES

Red-Hot Scores In 905 Classic

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Bowlers in the 905 Classic League Tuesday night at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael really had the hot hands.

Twenty of the 60 bowlers in the league had series scores of 600 or better, with Dick White leading the way with a 693, games of 219, 248 and 226.

Among the other high scorers in that league were Mike Weddell, 692; Lou Eastland, 660; Ray Miller, 647; Jack Lundahl, 644; Ron Reagan, 643, and Ron Baccei, 634.

Franchini's team in the 905 Classic had games of 1,055, 1,082 and 979 for a 3,116 series.

WELCOME WAGON — Dick Helmold is the new manager and Ebb McAdam the assistant manager at Greenbrae Lanes after Brunswick Corp. transferred manager Fred Riesenman to Pueblo, Colo. Helmold was assistant manager at Land Park Bowl in Sacramento before his move to Marin, while McAdam comes from Lido Lanes in Newark.

THIS AND THAT — Nancy Wurz, 150 average, rolled a 231 game in the Wednesday Blue Chip League at Country Club Bowl. . . Togetherness was the theme of the Perry's Delicatessen team in the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes, Dave Gottlieb, Vern Chaon, Jack Lagomarsino and Ernie Moeckel each rolling 504 series — And Chaon did it the hard way, three 168s for a dandy triplicate. . . In the Novato Unified Bowlers League at Nave Lanes, Don Clifford rolled a 242, high game of that league. . . Also in the Novato Unified Bowlers, Karma Raymond converted the difficult 3-4-7-10 split. . . In the Marin County Mixed Travel League at Nave's, Lil Scotto missed a 158 triplicate by just one pin, and Dave Moorehouse had high score, 243. . . In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Club, it was Carl Adams with a 621 series and Bonnie Bradford with her first 200, a 203.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Marilee May, 126 avg., rolled a 204 game and 520 series in the Toppers at Country Club. . . First time over the 600 mark were Larry Alpert of the Mixed Mates, 619, and Mitch Mitchell of the Twilite Twirlers, 600 even, both at Country Club Bowl. . . Tom Williams of the TGIF League at Country Club has a 150 average, but it didn't stop him from rolling a 601 series and 244 line. . . Other big scores came from Will Harris (158 avg.), 615 in the Toppers; Milt Larsen (150 avg.), 621 in the Lutheran Late, and Chris Kirk, (160 avg.), 626 in the 670 Scratch. . . But high score in the 670 Scratch came from Mike Curry, manager at Country Club Bowl who has really been hitting the pins this season. This time it was a 643 series.

JUNIORS — Top scores among the younger generation at Country Club Bowl came from Rich McPherson, 554 in the Juniors and 564 in the North Bay Junior Travel; Ron Paul, 184 game in the Bantams; Nancy McPherson, 151-158 games in the Bantams, and Mike Piver, 120 and 107 lines in the PeeWees.

Raiders Dominate UPI Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Quarterback Joe Namath who led the New York Jets to the Eastern Division title was named today for the first time on the 1968 United Press International's American Football League All-Star team.

Namath, elected the Jets' captain on offense, completed 187 of 380 passes for a 49.2 percentage and overcame the public razzing which followed his failure to throw a touchdown pass during a six-game stretch.

Two other New York players were named to the 1968 AFL's first team All-Stars. George Sauer gained recognition at one of the wide receiver berths and Gerry Philbin drew two-thirds of the 30 votes cast by a panel of league experts to secure a defensive end post.

Oakland, the 1967 AFL champion, placed seven players on the 22 man squad to dominate the elite selections. The Raiders, who meet the Kansas City Chiefs Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title, have three men on the offensive squad and four on defense.

Jim Otto, at center, guard Gene Upshaw and hard driving back Hewritt Dixon collected the most votes for their positions. On defense, the writers picked tackle Dan Birdwell, middle linebacker Dan Connors, cornerback Willie Brown and safety Dave Grayson.

Also chosen for the first team offense were San Diego's Ron Mix at tackle and Lance Alworth as a wide receiver, Jim Tyrer of Kansas City at tackle, Jim Whalen of Boston at tight end and fabulous rookie Paul Robinson of Cincinnati at a running back slot. Robinson rushed for over a thousand yards, only the second AFL freshman to accomplish this ground gaining milestone.

Three Kansas City defenders were elected to the team—tackle Buck Buchanan, linebacker Bobby Bell and safety John Robinson. Others were end Rich Jackson of Denver and Houston's George Webster at linebacker and Miller Farr at cornerback.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Response To One No-Trump Sometimes Flounders Player

Most players flounder after partner's opening bid of one notrump. A response of two of a suit is weak, inviting partner to pass. A jump to three of a suit usually stirs the notrumper to trot out the Blackwood Convention. How then can the responder force to game without getting too high?

FIRST MOVE

The opening no-trumper should not get beyond game unless the responder makes the first move toward slam. In today's hand, for example, after South's jump to three hearts, North may not bid anything higher than four hearts.

If North had 18 points (maximum for his opening bid) he might bid four clubs or four diamonds at his second turn. This would confirm heart support (in this position, any bid except three notrump promises heart support) and shows about 18 points with the ace of the suit he bids.

In the actual hand North can raise only to four hearts since he has only 16 points. Moves toward slam must come from South.

BEST CHANCE

South's best chance is to take the first trick with the ace of clubs and draw three rounds of trumps, ending in the dummy. He then ruffs a low club to see if the king drops, a slim chance but not to be neglected.

South may lead another trump to encourage a diamond discard, but must then tackle the diamonds himself.

TAKE ACE

Declarer should take the ace and then the king of diamonds, planning to lead a third diamond toward dummy if the queen does not drop. This develops a third diamond trick not only when West has the queen but also when the suit breaks 3-3 and when East has the doubleton queen.

Since the queen of diamonds drops, South has no problem. If South had taken an ordinary diamond finesse, he would have gone down.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ Q J 8 3
♥ 5 3 2
♦ Q 5
♣ K 7 6 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he can.

If partner bids two spades, you will raise to three spades; otherwise your next bid will be two notrump.

The average height of a Revolutionary War soldier was just over 5 feet, 2 inches.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 20, the 355th day of 1968 with 11 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1803 the American government officially took over from France the land bought in the Louisiana Purchase.

In 1864 Gen. William Sherman completed his march to the sea and arrived in Savannah, Ga.

In 1922 the 14 Russian republics combined to form the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

In 1952 an Air Force Globemaster crashed at Moses Lake, in Washington, killing 87 servicemen.

A Thought for the Day: Walt Whitman said, "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

About 71 per cent of Texas' population resides in the state's 23 metropolitan areas.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Read Tax Book, Consult Your Tax Adviser For Best Returns

Wikel

These columns are intended to help you in a general way with the questions about your income and deductions and to give information of a general nature so you will be aware of the savings that may be open to you. Each taxpayer has individual circumstances and individual problems.

Get a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax 1968 Edition for Individuals from your office of the Internal Revenue Service and look up every item of income and expense you had in 1968. You may have an unexpected deduction.

If you have a specific problem you should consult your tax man as early as possible so that he will have plenty of time to prepare your tax return properly.

MANY AREAS

You are taxed on wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses, tips and fees for services, including director's fees. If you are paid in goods or services, the fair market value of the goods or services is taxed.

Amounts deducted from your pay for union dues, taxes, insurance, vacation, contributions, etc., are taxed to you in the year deducted.

Vacation allowances paid to employees from a vacation fund are taxed.

Amounts paid by your employer for a reconditioning, health restoring or executive rehabilitation program for you are taxed.

Serverance pay is compensation for services and is taxable.

CONTRACT TAX

A lumpsum payment for cancellation of an employment contract is taxed.

Practically everything you receive is taxable income, with few exceptions.

If your income was from self-employment and was $400 or more you are required to file a federal income tax return and report and pay your self-employment tax even though you do not owe income tax.

You must file a federal income tax return for 1968 if you are under 65 and had gross income of $600 or more, or over 65 and had gross income of $1.200 or more.

MUST FILE

If you meet the above conditions, then you must file a federal income tax return regardless of whether you owe tax or not, and it does not matter whether you are a man, woman or child; you are required to file a return by Tuesday, April 15, 1969.

It may be that you had income of less than $400 or $600 or $1.200 and income tax was withheld from you paychecks. In this case, you should file a tax return and Uncle Sam will refund the withheld tax.

You are required to file a California income tax return if you are:

Single and have a gross income of $6.000 or more or an adjusted gross income of $2.750 or more; or married and have a gross income of $6.000 or more or an adjusted gross income of $5,500 or more.

SEVERE PENALTIES

The law imposes severe penalties for failing to make a return, or for making a false or fraudulent return, or for failing to file a return on time.

If you are required to file, it is better to file the return even though no tax may be due. Then you are sure.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Two Sales Can Balance Widow's Good Portfolio

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a working widow, two years away from retirement. My pension will be adequate so I am interested in growth stocks. Three years ago I inherited shares of 15 listed issues. I have since purchased six OTC and American Exchange issues and have taken a $1,000 loss. Do you have any advice on my holdings? — H.H.

A. I have very few changes to suggest; your list is unusually well suited to your investment goals. Since you have a rather extended list to follow, capital from sales could be used to build up your position in selected issues. I would also prefer to see your overinvestment in the health-care field reduced.

Genovese Drug Store, which has doubled since it was issued last June, has probably expended its near-term potential. I would accept the fine profit now available.

Costs, competition and a sizeable dilution factor will continue to restrict Trans World Airlines' earnings. Sale is advised.

Shares of International Telephone should be added to, as should those of Mobil Oil.

Air Milage Up

NEW YORK (BW)—Pan American Airways flew 943 million revenue passenger miles during November, up 13.4 per cent over the same month last year.

Market On Low Side At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today after erasing an early advance. Trading was active.

Profits were taken on gains of many blue chips in Thursday's turbulent, up-and-down market.

Prices near the close included:

Pan American World Airways, up 1⅛ at 29¼; Continental Air Lines, off 1½ at 24⅜; INA Corp., up 1½ at 53; American Telephone, off ⅜ at 54¼; Xerox, off 4¾ at 275¼; IBM, off 4¼ at 321¾; Republic Steel, up 1⅛ at 51; Eastern Air Lines, off 1⅞ at 29½; and Johns-Manville, up 2 at 84.

A million-share trade of Pan American World Airways pushed that stock far ahead as the most-active stock. Pan Am held a gain of about a point, backing away from its rise of 1⅞ on the block. The company was one of the chief beneficiaries of the transpacific air route awards.

Another, Northwest Airlines, held a 2-point gain. Profits were taken on advances of other airline stocks made Thursday in advance of the route news. American and Eastern airlines each dropped 2 in disappointment that no action was taken helping them on domestic routes.

Steels were mostly higher. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel rose more than a point each.

BUSINESS WEEK

Columbia Eyes Marin Cable Firms

Clear View Cable Systems, Inc. and Marin Cable Television, Inc., both operating in Marin, may become part of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

Columbia has reported reaching a tentative agreement to acquire all the outstanding stock of the two companies. Terms have also been discussed by Columbia and Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., which operates community antenna television systems in California and Washington.

INTERNATIONAL INDUSTRIES, INC. reported a 62 per cent increase in net earnings and a 50 per cent increase in earnings per share for the first quarter of its 1969 fiscal year. Revenues for the first three months ended Dec. 1 were up 40 per cent over the comparable period a year ago. First quarter earnings totaled $1.425,500; per share earnings were 33 cents; revenues amounted to $11.720.000.

BANK OF AMERICA shareholders have approved increasing the bank's capital stock by the declaration of a 20 per cent stock dividend, payable Dec. 30. The number of authorized bank shares will be increased from 28.98 million to 35 million. Authorized capital will increase from $181.125.000 to $218.750.000, based on a par value of $6.25.

Population Pressures Blamed For Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mass media does not cause violence in society, a psychiatrist has told the President's commission on violence, but its portrayal of violent behavior tends to increase tendencies toward criminal behavior.

Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie told the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence yesterday that "the twin evils of population explosion and population density" are main causes leading to violence.

"When real estate interests are allowed to make more and more money by crowding more and more hapless human beings on the head of a pin, they are cannibalizing our society," he said.

"The media did not create this," he went on, "but they accelerate the pace in this direction, giving us less time to find any solutions as they turn the power to destroy over to the least mature elements in the population . . . to those who are most compulsively driven, most noisy and clamorous in their demands for immediate gratification of the need for raw sex and murder."

Dr. Kubie said the media, which he defined as ranging from comic books to newspapers to television, does this by its portrayal of "diseased and uncontrolled sexual behavior, bodily mutilation, torture, hate and destruction."

"If this skillful technology were used in a different way, it could be health-giving," he told the commission.

More Reds Killed

SEOUL (UPI)—South Korean troops killed 10 more North Korean commandos who landed on South Korea's east coast Oct. 30, military spokesmen said today. The announcement said the latest were killed yesterday and brought to 89 the number slain.

Plane Crash Kills Pilot, Student

FREMONT (AP) — A flight instructor and his student were killed then their Cessna 150 crashed into shallow water just south of the Dumbarton Bridge yesterday afternoon.

The dead were Philip M. Benson, 27, and Michael M. Milewski, 18, a student at Foothill College. Both were from Mountain View.

Benson was an instructor for San Jose Flight School.

Apprentice Force: 5 Per Cent Negro

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Negroes make up 5 per cent of all new apprentices in the California labor force between January and September, according to the state Department of Industrial Relations.

The department announced on yesterday that a survey, the first conducted under a 1967 state law requiring the department to maintain ethnic date on registered apprentices, showed Mexican and Spanish Americans comprised 8.2 per cent.

Shotgun Killer Is Latest On FBI's 'Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The FBI added the name of Richard Lee Tingler Jr., 28, charged with six gunshot murders in Ohio, to the list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" today.

Tingler has been charged with murder in the deaths of three men and a woman in Cleveland, Ohio. The bodies of the victims were found in a park there last Sept. 16.

Tingler also has been charged in the deaths of two teen-age employees of a Columbus, Ohio, dairy store during an armed robbery Oct. 20, 1968.

A federal warrant charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and armed robbery was issued at Columbus Oct. 24.

On the most wanted list Tingler replaces Levi Washington, who was wanted for bank robbery and was located in local custody at Jackson, Mich., on Dec. 9.

Tingler was described as a white American, 5 feet 8 inches tall, 145 pounds in weight, with blue eyes, blond hair and a slender build.

He has a tattoo "RT" on his left forearm. The FBI said he could be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

To Leave Hospital

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Ex-Prime Minister Antonio Salazar will leave a hospital for home in three or four days, his personal physician said today.

31 Killed In Flaming Crash

IGUALA, Mexico (UPI)—A bus carrying 48 persons sideswiped a car yesterday, hurtled 1,000 feet over a mountain cliff and burst into flames.

The government said at least 31 persons were killed.

A survivor of the wreck of the Mexico City to Acapulco bus told police the car apparently righted itself and sped away.

The bus swerved from side to side along the narrow mountain highway and finally burst through a guard rail and over the edge, the passenger said.

India Bureaucrats Try Speed-up Idea

PATIALA, India (AP) — Employees of a state government department have decided to work with top efficiency for one week. They will dispose of any business referred to them in 10 minutes during that week.

They feel this would be a better way to earn public sympathy for their grievances than the usual go-slow methods.

Nixon Buys A $127,000 Hideaway

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon has purchased a $127,000 home on this island retreat off Miami that has become Nixon's favorite vacation hideaway.

The deed to the home at 516 Bay Lane was signed and recorded yesterday.

Nixon's purchase of the home further increased local speculation that the president-elect intends to make Key Biscayne his "Little White House."

Since his election in November, the president-elect has made several trips to Key Biscayne, a small island of fashionable homes in Biscayne Bay south of dowtown Miami.

Thomas Wakefield of the Miami law firm of Wakefield and Underwood represented the president-elect at the closing.

The home was purchased from Emanuel Arca Jr.

The warranty deed on Nixon's new home carried $383.43 worth of Florida documentary stamps, which are sold at the rate of $3 per $1,000 value of property.

Policemen Face Trial On Shooting

OAKLAND (UPI) — Alameda County Superior Court Judge Folger Emerson ruled yesterday two white police officers must face trial on charges of shooting up the Black Panther headquarters.

Officers Robert Farrell, 26, and Richard Williams, 28, wert accused of firing "into an occupied building" last September —24 hours after Black Panther Huey Newton was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of a policeman.

No one was injured in the gunfire, which shattered the main window and shot up a huge photo of Newton.

Defense attorney Alfred Chiantelli argued Thursday for dismissal of charges on grounds the headquarters of the militant black organization was not occupied. Asst. Dist. Atty Lowell Jensen said the storefront office was situated below apartments, and therefore was technically occupied.

Chiantelli immediately filed a denial of the charge. Judge Emerson said he would rule on the demurer Jan. 17, and if the court denies it, will require the arraignment of the two officers.

Congressman To Aid Pentagon Transition

NEW YORK (AP) —Rep. Glenard P. Lipscomb, R-Calif., will be chief transition officer for President-elect Nixon's designate as secretary of defense.

Lipscomb will continue in the post until Melvin Laird is confirmed as secretary of defense by the Senate, Laird said last night. Lipscomb, 53, is ranking minority member of the House Defense Appropriation Subcommittee and has represented Los Angeles County in Congress since 1953.

Baar, Jensen Both Right On Golf Course Project

We find ourselves in agreement today with two members of the San Rafael City Council who differed Tuesday night.

Before the council was a proposal to contract with San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a non-profit organization, for city lease-purchase of an 18-hole golf course on the Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Louis H. Baar, sitting for the last time as a city councilman, urged that no contract be signed until an independent study of the financial aspects of the venture had been made by a consultant firm with no vested interest.

We agree.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, however, declared no pact should be entered into until the proposal is put to a vote of the people.

We agree — although Councilman Baar did not.

BAAR'S PROPOSAL for an independent study won unanimous council approval. Jensen was alone in urging the people vote on the project. But we think both proposals are correct.

The golf course plan sounds very enticing, as presented. Figures worked out for the non-profit corporation promise a return to the city which will enable it to acquire the golf course without dipping into tax funds, and to realize a profit for benefit of the taxpayers after the 40-year lease-purchase is completed.

The city council should not act on the basis of these figures alone, however. A study by a disinterested and reliable consultant firm is called for, as protection to the taxpayers. The council did right in authorizing it.

After such a study has been made, its findings should be thoroughly publicized and the issue then placed before the voters. There is time enough to put it on next April's municipal election ballot, so no special election need be involved.

Financing such projects by the non-profit corporation lease-purchase route is too often only a dodge to keep from putting an unpopular bond issue before the people.

If the golf course fails to produce enough revenue to make the lease payments plus its own maintenance costs, the tax payers will have to make up the loss — exactly the same as they would if it were financed by a bond issue. They therefore are entitled to the same control over whether the money is committed.

The city council should not use the device of lease-back from a corporation which is in effect its own creation to thwart the control of the people over possible commitment of tax funds for 40 years to come.

WE ARE REMINDED, in this connection, of another city project which was approved by the people but never came into being.

Several years ago, at urging of then-Councilman Charles W. Aby, the council agreed to build city-owned housing for the elderly on property the city already owned. In an excess of caution quite in contrast to their eagerness (except for Jensen) regarding the golf course, councilmen put this on the ballot. A majority of voters approved.

But the housing was never built. The money earmarked for it out of the city's surplus eventually went to other uses.

A golf course may be a better revenue producer than housing for the elderly. Whether it is more needed is certainly questionable. There is no observable shortage of golf courses in Marin, and there certainly is a shortage of low-rent housing. Besides, the housing project would not have committed future tax revenues.

Christmas Gifts For Campuses Call For Special Buying List

By JAMES K. WOODWORTH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Christmas is a time for giving and receiving. It might be well to note some of the "special gifts" which some members of our society are hoping they will get this year.

Some of those who participated in the Chicago and San Francisco riots may be singing that old refrain, "All I want for Christmas is my two front teeth."

Top sales might have been realized had someone thought of a boomerang type of rock, which, when thrown at a college window, would return to the tosser, thus saving him the trouble of having to look for another.

Militants, and possibly the police, might find some use for a handy-dandy soft rubber billy club, completely equipped with self-breaking blood capsules. Thus when the police whacked a rioter over the noggin with the club, the capsules would break and a blood colored, washable, substance would trickle down the face of the injured party and the TV cameramen would have a field day.

SUGGESTED GIFTS for TV cameramen include such items as hard hats, with identifying station call letters, complete with mobile first aid kit and camera repair kit. Also enclosed should be simple instructions for temporary repair of cracked skulls and smashed noses, as well as a small mirror so the injured party can practice facial expressions including terror, the hurt look, and deadly determination, before the camera is swung around to him.

College presidents and university officials could find use for a pocket-sized four-letter word dictionary, so they would know what the militants were calling them. Also suggested would be a quickly attached jet-rocket jacket, capable of propelling the pilot out of mob scenes at the touch of a trigger. Landing might create a problem.

For legislators who find it advantageous to mix with the demonstrators, we suggest a "duck-call" contraption, which, if blown loud enough, will bring all TV cameramen running on the double. Each of these packages should contain real, life-like photos of injured participants (shot previously in a studio for the best lighting) and torn shirts, trampled hats and other necessary items to show what has occurred on campus.

GIFTS ESPECIALLY for the riot policemen create a little more of a problem since, according to the militants, they have everything. Perhaps individual squirt gun weapons, which they can take home to their youngsters, with diluted mace, or perhaps special leather jackets, much like the Hell's Angels wear, with a large target painted on the back and the words "I am a COP" painted in the center target area.

Of special interest might be the Hayakawa dolls, which, when stuck with pins, screech out a screaming "Banzai." Thus the militants can play with something equal to their intelligence and still make their point.

Special American Flags, made of gasoline-saturated paper ready to burn, would find a wide acceptance, and could be offered at a cut-rate price to those who could not afford the real thing.

Blue Ribbon Boost For S. I. Hayakawa

Wouldn't it be nice to show this brave man, S. I. Hayakawa, that we are solidly behind him here in Marin County, by wearing a blue ribbon on our right sleeves? I think he really deserves this, and for his Merry Christmas here in Mill Valley I'd like to suggest for us older folks who can't go to college a wave of hundreds of blue ribbons.

Let's show we are behind him. Speaking for myself, I think he's a very brave man and a wise one.

Sensitivity Training Industry's 'Baby'

Games indeed! How did Synanon get into your Dec. 16 editorial on the proposed sensitivity training in our local high schools?

At a talk given recently in Mill Valley by Dr. Walter Lee, on the subject, the information which impressed me the most was that industry had pioneered the field of sensitivity training and encounter groups. Top executives in many of our major corporations are given such training as a matter of company policy, the intent being to free them from personal hangups so that they may more objectively deal with the problems they will encounter in the business community. It apparently pays off.

If ever a lack of communication existed it would appear to be here, between the school district "team" advocating such training and the parent group opposing it. Could this be where the experiment should begin?

Has Bombing Halt Cost Us In Lives?

A widely-published cartoon during World War II showed a dead American soldier on a battlefield in Europe. The caption was "The Price of a Third Term."

You should now publish a picture of a jungle trail in Vietnam, littered with the bodies of American boys. The caption should be "The Price of a Democrat Victory — It Almost Worked."

How many of those dead would now be living if the bombing of North Vietnam had continued to inhibit the transport of men and weapons to the south?

Campus Militants Resort To Ugly Blackmail

(Reprinted from Chico Enterprise-Record)

Prominent among the weapons being used by lawbreaking black militants in their efforts to destroy California's higher education system is one of history's oldest and dirtiest instruments of evil — blakmail.

Taking advantage of the sensitive nature of people in general — and of top educators and public officials in specific — the black militants have created a circumstance under which they have twisted wholesome and positive trends toward "equality for all" into a sorry and negative system of "special treatment" for blacks. Here is how they work their blackmail:

MOST CITIZENS and educators and public officials honestly believe that all races should be treated alike and that all should be accorded equal educational opportunity. These attitudes are manifested in the tremendous strides forward which have been made in California's state college and university systems in the making of education available to Negroes and other ethnic minorities, even to the extent of establishing reduced qualifications. Having approved and participated in these strides forward, the citizens and educators and public officials do not consider themselves as "racists" and do not like to be referred to by that title.

But the black militants stand by with their brush to smear them with the "racist" slur time after time after time.

FOR EXAMPLE, the UC regents were termed "racist pigs" because they oppose they ruled against granting credit for lectures delivered by Black Panther and convicted felon Edridge Cleaver.

The State College trustees are termed "racist pigs" because they called for the suspension of San Francisco State teaching assistant George Murray, Black Panther minister of information who urged Negroes to carry guns on the campus, who participated in the assault and pigs" by the militants because beating of members of the campus newspaper staff and who urges the machine gun killing of white leaders.

The trustees, unsympathetic fellow students, the governor, Speaker Unruh and the people in general are termed "racist campus violence by black militants at SF State and because they disagree with the black militant maneuver of shutting down the college.

IN SHORT, the black militants have established a situation in which every person who does not agree with every black militant goal, tactic or act of violence is by nature a "racist pig."

"If you don't approve of our actions, if you try to stand in our way, you are a racist pig!" That is blackmail, pure and simple; blackmail with a price tag of "special treatment."

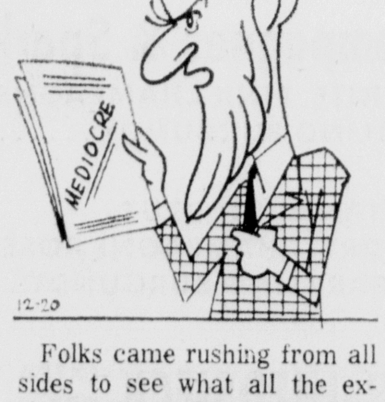
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A BIG LONDON Sunday newspaper announced a contest for aspiring young writers, offering substantial cash prizes for stories submitted. George Bernard Shaw, who considered the judges incompetent, sent in a new story under an assumed name. Sure enough he got it back forthwith, marked, "Mediocre. You will never be a professional writer."

H. Allen Smith tells of the day his Uncle Fred climbed a tall mountain and found a huge rock poised at its crest. He worked with might and main for hours and finally dislodged it. It went hurtling down the mountainside, headed straight for town, crashed through the supermarket and the First National Bank, and finally came to rest against an oak tree in the rear of that institution.



Folks came rushing from all sides to see what all the excitement was about, but Uncle Fred, arriving on the double; pushed them aside to scrutinize the rock carefully through a magnifying glass. Finally he straightened up, and announced, "Nope. No moss."

Voters Want, Deserve Greater Voice In Choosing Candidates

WASHINGTON — If those who want to strengthen our political system, which is government by the consent of the governed, focus wholly on reforming the electoral college, they will, I think, be making a great mistake.

Much more is needed.

What is required is a full-scale reform of the whole process by which the American people participate — or are denied participation — in choosing the delegates to the national party conventions, in influencing the presidential nomination, and in electing the President.

IMPROVEMENT of just the final stage of this process is not enough. Improvement of all three stages is urgent — for two important reasons:

The first is negative. The need is to change the electoral process to remove all possibility of electing a President with the lower popular vote (it has happened) and avert the disaster of the election going into the House of Representatives where an even smaller majority could dictate the choice.

The second and more important reason is positive. The need is to open up to fuller, easier and more visible voter participation the whole decision-making process by which our political parties transact the public business.

It seems to me that only by enabling voters to share more fully, more easily and more visibly in choosing the nominees for elective office can we achieve government by consent of the governed.

THAT IS THE CRUCIAL decision-making process, and Congress and the party leaders better realize that more voters want in — and are going to get in or else.

These are the reasons why a three-front electoral reform should be started now so it can take effect not later than 1972. It could be along these lines:

THE CONVENTION — Since the political parties have their moorings in the state, we should first turn to the states for reform. The crux of the matter is that the delegates to all party conventions — county, state and nation — Should be democratically chosen by the voters of each party. This is where the decision-making process begins. If it doesn't begin there, then democratic, voter-participation politics is stunted at birth.

A uniform statute could be presented to every state legislature and if the states fail to act then Congress has the power to require that the parties observe this process as it affects the Senate, the House and the presidency.

NATIONAL PRIMARY — The national conventions shouldn't be lightly abandoned. A national presidential primary should not be allowed to make the final decision on nominations until we experiment with it to see how well it works. This is why I believe a national advisory primary would be desirable. It would have two great assets:

One, it would enable the American people to show to each party convention the relative voter support which the possible nominees have.

Two, no runoff would be needed because it would not be the final decision.

As a further asset, such a primary could allow voters to vote a second as well as a first choice for for the nomination and this could be especially valuable and revealing. The final choice would be made by the domocratically elected delegates to the national convention and it is a certainty that the conventions would not lightly ignore the advisory primaries.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE — Something needs to be done, that's for sure. I am inclined to favor the view of the American Bar Association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Senate leaders Everett Dirksen and Mike Mansfield and others that the election of President and Vice President by direct popular vote is best. But Congress should study all possibilities — and soon.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Blushing Violet Congress Finds Way To Hike Pay

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Senators and House members, who would not like to take a close look at those executive pay raises to be proposed by President Johnson, can blame their sly and timid colleagues for their present plight.

The expected January quadrille with respect to top-echelon federal pay shapes up as a travesty on the legislative process. Like mischievous little boys (and girls), however, the lawmakers brought this on themselves.

As matters stand, President Johnson will propose large pay raises for cabinet members, the Supreme Court, top federal executives — and Congress — early in January. Unless Congress demurs, by voting to kill the raises, they become effective 30 days later.

THIS REVERSAL of the legislative process is no accident. Congress jiggered it this way when the federal pay act of 1967 was approved.

The raises, for some 2,000 "executives" in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government have been recommended to the President by a 12-member commission headed by Frederick Kappel, former chairman of the A T & T board of directors. The commission was established by the 1967 pay act.

The jiggering came about because the Kappel Commission was charged with recommending congressional pay increases, among others. Members of the House and Senate have always been less than bold about voting to raise their salaries.

The Constitution prevents members of the House and Senate from raising their pay and then collecting the higher salaries during a given Congress. Even so, many lawmakers shy away from all votes to increase congressional pay on grounds that the voters back home won't like it.

SO IT IS NOW the President who can act, in January, and Congress which contents itself with a veto. Under the 1967 law this inverted pay-raise process will be repeated, with the appointment of a new commission, every four years.

The Kappel Commission has marked Congress down for a raise from $30,000-a-year to $50,000 nearly doubling the present salary. Other representative recommendations:

Chief justice — $40,000 to $75,000, up $35,000.

Associate justices — $39,500 to $65,000, up $25,500.

Cabinet members — $35,000 to $60,000, up $25,000.

Though it was not officially directed to do so, the commission has proposed an increase for the President ($100,000 to $150,000), as well as the vice president and speaker of the House ($43,000 to $75,000). Those increases lift the pay ceiling at the very top.

THE CABINET level pay increases would serve to increase a ceiling on the top classified civil service positions, and a variety of bureau chiefs, ambassadors, general counsels and the like in federal agencies would get a smaller pay increase for that reason.

President Johnson could effect changes in the commission recommendations, but there has been no indication that he will do that. He is expected to forward the Kappel recommendations to Congress early in January.

Seeking Unusual Christmas Gift? How About A Hunk Of Trestle?

Christmas is less than a week away and unles you (unlike the rest of us) are superorganized, you, too, are casting desperately about for that last-minute unusual gift idea.

Well, relax. The Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society has a treasure trove of goodies for you and your hard-to-please relatives and friends.

At the top of its holiday list the landmarks society is offering spikes from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle in Tiburon in natural, unpolished chrome or polished chrome shades. The society managed to salvage only 250 of the spikes, so the rush is on.

ALSO OFFERED by the society is Old St. Hilary's note paper with a black line drawing of the historic church by Marin artist Hazel Stitt and the historical photo album of the peninsula, "glimpses of Belvedere and Tiburon, the Early Decades," containing 50 photographs of the early Tiburon-Belvedere days.

Books for sale include "Tiburon Peninsula Wildflower Handbook" for wildflower enthusiasts or those seeking a new diversion. The society is also offering rare books, including 18 copies of "Godey's Lady's Book" from 1850 to 1876 and "The Perennial Adventure, a Tribute ot Alice Eastwood, 1859 to 1953" by Susanna Bryant Dakin.

For those of you who are newcomers and have to ask, as I do, who Alice Eastwood was —well, she was a famous lady botanist and wildflower enthusiast.

NOT TO BE outdone by the prestigious landmarks society, the new and very active Belveron Association has also latched onto the trestle which for many years was its close and beloved neighbor.

New association members now receive a polished piece of the trestle as a memento of the organization. And members are busily building a long-awaited bus shelter for the area out of old trestle lumber.

OVERHEARD at a recent Mill Valley City Countil meeting: While city fathers and civic leaders were debating the shipping of bay mud overland to the ocean at Tennesse Cove (Saucelito Canal dredging project), Supervisor-Elect Michael Wornum suggested that the city make a community project of the mud and have everyone in Marin County take home two cubic yards of the stuff.

According to Wornum, you could dispose of it gradually down the bathtub and while you're waiting it might make a great body and mud pack, or children would use it for mud huts in the backyard, or you could dry it out in your oven and take some to San Francisco each day, where it could be deposited in trash cans for shipment to garbage country up north in Lassen County.

Thus, no unsightly fill, no expensive barging of the spoils to the ocean's depths and a lovely deep water channel for Mill Valley's yacht harbor.

It's ideas like that that won Wornum the election.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Administrator Enters Territory Reserved For Grand Jury

Fusselman

This is not the best time of year to write the type of column I offer each Friday. Our thoughts are just naturally on the holidays now, and there is a tendency to sort of skip over any consideration of things economic or politic, that can just wait until after the next two weeks.

Nevertheless, as my underlying objective is to, perhaps, induce more concern about our county affairs, I will put down some thoughts that may catch the eye, even though fleetingly.

In the I-J on the 12th of this month, after the heading, "Supervisors Salary Hike Is Due Study," comes this first paragraph: "Should the salaries of Marin County supervisors, now $9,600 per year, be raised to $15,286 in 1971?" This was one of the things to be discussed last Monday with our state legislators. It was stated that it had been included in a list of proposed legislation for 1969, compiled by the county administrator.

Any discussion of this was kept very quiet. I saw nothing of it in the paper. You know the grand jury has recommended a raise of just $100 a month. I have seen nothing of this being discussed last Monday either.

WHAT A GALL this fellow has to insolently presume, with a recommendation for an increase of any sort, much less one that exceeds the one of the grand jury for his bosses — or are they? I have been calling attention, for some time, to who is making policy and who is rubber stamping.

This is not the first time he has moved into the field occupied by grand juries. One year he was brazen ehough to recommend a course of action the current body should follow. He had his pants burned for that one. They didn't like his nerve even a little bit and wrote him an open letter telling how much so. Did this cause him to take it easy? Not a bit. He is reported to be determined to run this county and that he doesn't want anyone to forget it.

I guess there is something more in a name than remoteness. Brasilia and all of Brazil has a dictator, too, now. A correction of the local situation would be a mighty fine start for the new upcoming board of supervisors.

THAT $100 MILLION Marin Transit Center proposal, reported by Paul Peterzell on page 10 of the Wednesday issue, could be the answer to a maiden's prayer. San Rafael architect David Elliott Stovel's plan is a very attractive concept, I think you will agree. If you didn't have time at the moment to go over it on Wednesday, you owe it to yourself to save the issue or get another for a careful reading the first thing next year.

There could be a pulling of hair and a gnashing of teeth over it though. More on that later.

Now, go and have yourselves a good Christmas, you hear.

Ninth Victim Of Crash Dies

HOLTVILLE (AP) —A ninth person died last night of injuries suffered in a highway collision involving two cars taking farm workers to their jobs.

Juan Vasquez, 19, of Mexicali, Mexico, succumbed in Brawley Pioneers Memorial Hospital. He was the seventh person in a car bound for Blythe from Mexicali in which all were injured fatally Wednesday.

The only survivor of the accident, Vernon Schaffer, 19, of Fremont, was listed in fair condition in the Brawley hospital. Two other youths died in his car, bound for Yuma agriculture fields.

Thieves Too Noisy

MANILA (UPI)—Thieves who worked with more energy than stealth dug a tunnel beneath a warehouse in attempt to steal $3.2 million worth of merchandise but they made so much noise guards foiled the plot, police said today. They were 11 inches from the warehouse wall when a guard heard the clink of tools and frightened them away.

Is Childhood Leukemia A Disease More Common To The Wealthy?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The latest of many scientific efforts to understand acute childhood leukemia showed the children of the poor were less susceptible than the children of the well-to-do.

Factually, it applied to Cuyahoga County in Ohio, which includes Cleveland and its economically and socially variegated suburbs. But to the extent it is typical of American metropolitan complexes, (on the surface it appears representative), it has wide implications.

Drs. Diane Browning and Samuel Gross of Cleveland's Case Western Reserve University gathered the Cuyahoga County facts. The base ones were 168 cases of acute leukemia in children 14 years old or younger in a 10-year period and among 489,240 children in that age group. Fortunately, this fatal blood cancer has a low incidence everywhere.

Each case was pinpointed on a county map at the precise place it occurred. This map was then overlaid with a census tract map which assigned each trace to one of four economic groups on a basis of home value and the annual incomes of their occupants.

Group "A" tracts, economically and socially the richest, had a statistically significant higher incidence of acute childhood leukemia than group "D" tracts, economically and socially the poorest. This defied easy explanation and Drs. Browning and Gross said they could only speculate.

The well-to-do seek and so get better medical care than the poor, both in prevention and treatment of illness, they said in reporting to a technical journal of the American Medical Association. Then could it be "good medical care may leave the well-protected host more vulnerable in other as yet poorly defined areas"?

That could be only if leukemia is caused by a virus or viruses. The medically "well-protected" do not in general build up natural immunities to viruses as the medically unprotected do, and so they can have greater susceptibility to a specific virus.

There is no proof that human leukemia is caused by virus although a viral cause is widely suspected in cancer science. The Cuyahoga County cases did not "cluster" either in places of occurrence or in time, as they would be expected to if viruses were involved. However, Drs. Browning and Gross said this finding was inconclusive.

They also found a statistically significant higher incidence among white children than among Negro children, and a higher incidence among suburban children than city children. Statistically they demonstrated that the differences were not entirely due to the generally lower economic and social status of Negroes and of city dwellers. But they couldn't explain them.
